According to schedule, Judge Reynolds and Fritz Thompson hooked up in another joint debate over at Centerville last Saturday afternoon in the Bibb County court house. There was a good sized audience of Bibb County citizens there to witness the contest, and great interest was manifested in the discussion.

Mr. Thompson spoke first, employing thirty-five minutes in presenting the arguments with which he supported the Democratic party and its ideals. A very forceful comparison was made by him of the record of the two parties in the past history of our country. Of course he made it look like the Democratic party had given the country every thing that was worth while, and that the Republicans were responsible for all the iniquities under the sun. During the whole of his address Fritz made a fine display of that superb ability of his to make a mountain of a mole hill. For any body who would undertake the task of defending the Democratic record of the past eight years must first of all be able to make something of nothing. Mr. Thompson concluded the first part of his speech with the challenge to Judge Reynolds to show anything constructive that the Republicans had ever done for the country in any of their administrations.

The speech of Judge Reynolds occupied forty-five minutes, all the time that was allotted to him. He went directly into a discussion of the sins of the Democratic party in Alabama in the past years of its dominance here. His treatment of national issues was directed at the League of Nations, in which he bitterly condemned the Democratic party for its efforts to entangle our country with the European nations and nullify our constitution by obligating us to the terms of the international instrument.

All the time of Judge Reynolds was consumed in telling of the utter failure made in our government by the Democratic party. Just as he was getting ready to tell of the good things that have been done by the Republicans his time was called. Then when Mr. Thompson came back with ten minutes rebuttal he was delighted to call the attention of the audience that Reynolds could not tell him one single thing worth while that had been done for the country by the Republicans.

After the speaking was concluded, a great number of those present, including a number of ladies, personally assured Judge Reynolds of their support on November 2nd in his candidacy for the U. S. Senate.

Saturday night the two speakers engaged each other again at Blocton in one of the most pleasant and interesting joint discussions we ever listened to. Judge Reynolds spoke first, taking forty-five minutes. He made one of the most forceful presentations of the Republican cause in our country at present. Mr. Thompson followed with one hour devoted to clearing the Democratic party of all that Judge Reynolds had charged. In addition he heaped up some rather burning coals on the heads of the Republicans. But all was set right in Judge Reynolds's fifteen minutes closing speech.

It was a mighty pleasant discussion and was highly enjoyed by a number of people of both political parties. There were no ladies at the Blocton meeting.

Judge Reynolds will have the support of several voters in the city of Blocton and West Blocton.

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you please allow me a short space in your paper?

People are getting along fine gathering their crops here and are very proud of the beautiful weather.

We had quite a revival sermon at Pilgrim's Rest Sunday. Messrs Martin Chandler, Wildon Frith, Misses Gladys Henley and Rula Cooper attended preaching there Sunday.

There was a singing at J. S. Kendrick's Home Saturday night and we had a nice crowd there. I think everybody enjoyed themselves.

There were thirty people visited the home of S. S. Chandler Sunday.

Mr. Elton Ousley is learning to operate his new Dort car.

Misses Martha and Ethel Chandler have just returned from the fair at Birmingham and say they enjoyed themselves fine.

COUNY REGISTRARS APPOINTED

J. W. E. Gulledge of Clanton, J. R. Parnell of Thorsby and H. B. Oliver of Verbena, have been appointed as the Board of Registrars of Chilton County. They have already announced their round over the county and have begun their work. Elsewhere in this paper will be found a complete list of their appointments. Mr. Gulledge is the Chairman of the Board. Mr. Parnell is the same man who has been our county registrar for years past. Judge Gulledge says: "In spite of the fact that the Board of Registrars are all Democrats, I want to assure all the people that the business of registration shall be conducted in a fair and impartial manner with due regard for every person's politics, and without any discimination against any one." We believe all the members of the Board are good men, each of whom will gladly join the chairman in his declaration of fairness to all.

SHOULTS

The people here are all very anxious to see a good rain.

There will be a school meeting at Shoults School House next Friday night. All the people in this district should attend, for all should be interested in a school. There are several things to look after and discuss.

Mr. Howard Oden and Mrs. Bessie Garner attended the institute at Clanton last Thursday and Friday. They are expected to teach the coming season at this place.

Mrs. Oscar Shoults left last week on a visit to relatives in Selma.

Mr. Ernest Hamrick has resigned his position in Texas.

Mr. Byrd Lawrence visited his brother last week in Selma.

Mr. Tom Sewell visited his mother, Mrs. Sallie Sewell.

Mr. and Mrs. William Williams from near Maplesville spent Sunday with mother and father of the latter, Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ellis one day last week a fine baby girl. The friends of this couple congratulate them on the new arrival to their home.

On last Sunday afternoon the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Manly Smith was buried at Pleasant Grove Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Smith reside above Maplesville. Their baby was seven months old.

The many friends of Miss Pearl Kelly will be delighted to know that she is now improving.

We regret to say Mr. Ed Hall is still sick and doesn't improve much.

Mrs. Alice Johnson and children from Lawley spent Sunday here with her father, Mr. Dolby Atkinson. Her daughter, Pearl spent the day with her cousin, Miss Drucilla Lawrence.

Mrs. Lillie Mitchell spent Sunday with relatives at Lawley.

Not many at Sunday School last Sunday. We miss the bright faces of those that were absent. Come every Sunday.

No sense of shame nor of guilt possessed me. I was aware of having done wrong to no one. A clear conscience kept assuring me that it was misfortune and not error on my part that had brought me here. At every point in the strange chain of circumstances I felt that I had acted as a man of honor should have acted. My sense of innocence upheld me even though the deliberate malicious plotting of evil men might make it appear to the judge, to the jurors, to the whole world that I was a murderer. Even though I should be sentenced to death for killing a woman I never had seen the knowledge that at every point I had done what I still believed to have been right, brought me strong comfort and filled me with new courage.

Yet it was with lack of interest that I listened to the monotonous questioning that formed a part of the selection of a jury.

"So far as I am concerned," I had said to my counsel in our last chat, "any sort of a jury will do. Unless we succeed in upsetting the evidence against me with a crash that all the world can hear it makes no difference."

"I guess you are right," he answered, despondently, it seemed to me, "and if the worst happens, we always can take an appeal."

His reply convinced me that he, too, was anticipating the result, which I long ago had decided to be the only outcome, unless something unforeseen happened—a verdict against me of murder in the first degree.

I heard, almost with amusement, the district attorney, with eloquent oratory, tell the jury the crimes he expected to prove against me, even smiling a little at the picture he painted of a gangster seeking employment in an apartment occupied by families of wealth that he might find opportunities for plundering them, and when he was surprised in the midst of his burglarizing, brutally choking the unprotected woman whose home he was despoiling and then as she lay there, helpless and insensible, shooting her through the heart.

In fact, I quite agreed with all he said, even to his most strenuous adjectives—except for the one fact—that I knew I was not the man he was talking about. It had been a brutal, cowardly murder, and I was fully as anxious as the district attorney could possibly be to see the miscreant who had killed Miss Lutan brought to book.

The testimony that was to come, I devoutly hoped, would give some clue that would lead to the unmasking of the real murderer. The first witness called was one of the detectives who had arrested me. He told concisely, as though repeating a well rehearsed story, of having been summoned to the Granddeck and finding there the body of Daisy Lutan. He said that she had been shot through the heart.

"Was there anyone in the apartment when you arrived?"

"Yes, a doctor."

"Anyone else?"

"Yes, Mr. Wick, the superintendent of the apartment, and the prisoner."

"What did they say? How did they explain their presence there?"

"They said they had heard a shot and had come in to investigate."

He told of examining the body, questioning the physician and of making a search of the apartment for the murderer, but finding no one else there.

"What did you do then?"

"My partner and I followed the prisoner to his apartment and placed him under arrest. We searched his room and in the dresser I found a revolver with one chamber recently discharged."

"What made you suspect Nelson? Why did you arrest him?"

"My partner and I talked it over, and we both were of the opinion that it was an inside job. A burglar would have no chance to get into a building like the Granddeck and make his getaway. It was between the superintendent of the building, who was a man of responsibility, and this young fellow—who was only a caretaker."

"Had anything in Nelson's actions made you suspicious of him?"

"I noticed that he was greatly excited."

"Anything else?"

"After Nelson had gone upstairs to his own apartment, I questioned Mr. Wick. He said he had been in the elevator when he heard the shot. He had gotten out at the fifth floor, where it seemed to have come from. At the door of Miss Lutan's apartment he had found the prisoner."

"That's all," said the district attorney triumphantly.

My attorney waived cross-examination. The second detective was put on the stand and corroborated his partner's evidence in every respect. Both of them told of finding blood on my cuff. The physician [illegible] gave a [illegible] medical description of the bullet wound, and the prosecution put in evidence the bullet extracted from the body and the revolver the detectives had found, pointing out that they were of the same caliber.

"Call Mr. Wick," said the district attorney.

I leaned forward to listen to every word of Wick's testimony. In fact from the moment he was brought in I never took my eyes from him. It would be black enough for me if he merely stated the facts as they actually had happened, but I doubted if he would be content with that. If, as I felt certain, Wick was in the employ of the conspirators, it was more than likely that they would seek to clinch the case against me with his testimony.

He gave his name, James Wick, and his occupation as superintendent of the Granddeck.

"How long have you been employed there?"

"Ever since the building was opened."

"Where were you employed previously?"

Wick hesitated. I wondered if Gorman's surmise that he had been in prison were true, what he would say.

"Before that," he stammered, "I was in the employ of Mr. Kent in the West."

"Who is Mr. Kent?"

"He owns the Granddeck. He had known me for years. He brought me on when he built this building."

While his answer seemed to satisfy the district attorney, I was convinced from Wick's nervousness that he was concealing something, that further questioning into his past might lead to unexpected developments.

"Are you acquainted with the defendant?"

"Very slightly."

"How long have you known him?"

I was listening intently. Would he admit knowing that I was a relative of old Rufus Gaston?

"I don't really know him," Wick explained. "I've seen him two or three times. Mr. Gaston, one of my tenants, told me that he was going away and that he had given the key of his apartment to a young man named Nelson whom he had employed as caretaker. He said that the caretaker would arrive at ten o'clock on the Sunday morning that the Gastons went away."

"And did the defendant arrive at that time—at the time he was expected?"

"He did not. What first attracted my attention to him was that he sneaked into the building earlier than he was expected."

"You say he sneaked in," the district attorney's voice expressed a proper horror of such conduct. "Please explain to the jury what you mean by that."

"Instead of announcing his arrival, he watched his chance and waited till one of the tenants was coming in. He slipped in beside her and went up in the elevator without being announced. Naturally the elevator man thought he was a friend of the young lady tenant."

"How do you know he was not a friend of the young woman with whom he entered the building?"

"I asked him if he was acquainted with her, and he said he was. Later that same day she passed him in the hall of the building. I noticed that she did not speak to him or recognize him in any way."

The prosecutor waved his hand to the jury as if to say, "You see, gentlemen," and followed on with another question.

"Was the defendant's conduct in the building in any other way such as to arouse your suspicion?"

"He'd hardly got located before he began hanging the telephone girl, asking her all kinds of questions about the other tenants in the building. [illegible]

"Did she go?"

"Yes, she did. She reported his actions to me, and I suggested that she go with him and try to find out what his name was."

"What else do you know about the defendant?"

"That's all—except—"

"Except what?"

"What I saw on the night Miss Lutan was murdered."

"Tell the circumstances."

"I was in the elevator coming down from the top floor. I heard the sound of a shot. It seemed to come from the fifth floor. I got off there to investigate. As the door of the Lutan apartment stood Mr. Nelson."

"What was he doing there?"

"Just standing there. It looked to me as if he had just been coming out and that when he saw me he had stopped suddenly."

"What was his manner? Describe the position in which he was standing to the jury." Again there was in the district attorney's voice a triumphant ring.

"He was all excited and trembly-like," Mr. Wick went on, "and his eyes seemed to be bulging out of his head."

"What did he say?"

"I asked him if he had heard a shot and he said that he had. I asked if it had not come from the Lutan apartment and he said that it had seemed so to him. I wanted to keep my eye on him, so I took out my pass-key and suggested that we investigate together. He did not seem at all anxious to go back into the apartment with me, but the elevator man was standing there, so he came along and was with me when I found the body. I kept him there until the police came."

"Is That Your Real Name?"

I had expected that my counsel would offer objections to Wick's testimony, especially to his having said that I did not appear anxious to "go back" into the apartment, but McGregor contented himself with two questions.

"Do you not know that Mr. Spalding Nelson is a grand-nephew of Mr. Rufus Gaston? Did not Mr. Gaston tell you of this relationship?"

"He did not," lied Wick calmly.

"How was Mr. Nelson first standing—when you got out of the elevator—when you first saw him?"

I recalled my attitude distinctly. I had been standing facing the door, straining my ears to catch any sound in the apartment. When I heard the elevator stopping, I had looked around over my shoulder as Wick emerged.

"He was standing," said Wick, of his own accord, speaking direct to the jurors, "with his back against the door. One hand—his right hand—was behind him. I thought at first he might have a revolver in it and drew one I always carry, but he had not. It looked as if he had just slipped out of the door and was reaching behind him to close it when I discovered him."

"That will be all," said my counsel, to my great disappointment. Throughout the mixed medley of truth and lies that Wick had been telling, there had been manifest to me his deliberate purpose to discredit me and cast suspicion on me. I felt certain that an abler lawyer could quickly have riddled his testimony, but McGregor showed no disposition to take advantage of his opportunity.

Nellie Kelly was called. Briefly she told of her job—switchboard operator at the Granddeck. She corroborated Wick's story of my first arrival at the Granddeck and bore out his statements about my having chatted with her and also told of having gone to dinner with me. When I had begun questioning her about other tenants, she said, she excused herself and went to the telephone and called up the Granddeck for advice as to how she should answer. For some reason, she said, when she returned after phoning, the defendant had not questioned her further but had seemed anxious to get away from the restaurant.

"You say," said McGregor, as he began her cross-examination, "that your name is Nellie Kelly. Is that your real name?"

My counsel's unexpected question came as a thunderbolt to the opposition. The whole courtroom seemed to sense that something crucial was about to be brought out. The jurors in a mass leaned forward to listen for her answer. The district attorney plainly gambled, half rose in his seat and then subsided. Wick's face went [illegible]

"Is that your real name?" McGregor repeated, this time a little more emphatically.

"If it—that is—it was," she stammered.

"It was your name," said McGregor sarcastically, "and what might be your name now?"

"My name," the girl hesitated, as if struggling with herself, and then casting a defiant look in Wick's direction, she answered with pride rather than with boldness, "my name is Mrs. Edward Moore."

"The wife of Lefty Moore, the burglar in Sing Sing, you mean, do you not?" sneered McGregor.

"I am," she replied with a proud lifting of her chin and a flash in her eye. "I'm Lefty Moore's wife, and I'm proud that I am—his lawfully wedded wife and I don't care who knows it. I love Lefty Moore."

There was instant consternation in the district attorney's camp. With visions of discredited testimony confronting him, he was on his feet roaring objections. Throughout the whole courtroom there was a sibilant stir, and the judge began rapping for order.

Close behind my counsel my mother had been sitting, accompanied by some woman wearing a heavy veil. I had paid little attention to her hitherto, supposing that it was some hotel maid whom my mother had hired to accompany her to court, for so far as I knew my mother had no women acquaintances in New York. This woman now, to my amazement, reached forward and plucked McGregor by the sleeve. As she pushed back her veil to whisper to him, to my utter surprise and consternation I saw that it was Barbara Bradford.

How had Barbara come to be sitting there in court at my mother's side? Delighted as I was at seeing her, I was puzzled and perplexed. I had sternly forbidden both Gorman and McGregor from making any plans to call her as a witness. I had urged her to keep silent and not become involved in any way in the case. My eyes sought hers for an explanation, but after that one whispered word, that I was unable to hear, she had quickly drawn her veil over her face.

"Your honor," said McGregor, rising, "in view of this unexpected testimony, I should like to request a recess."

"Granted," said the judge. "Adjourned until two o'clock."

CHAPTER XIV.

Impatiently I waited for the recess to be over. I could not understand what was happening. Neither Gorman nor my counsel came near me. Even my mother made no attempt, so far as I could learn, to see me. The one glimpse I had had of Barbara there in the courtroom had fired me again with wild desires to see her. My feelings were equally divided between hoping she would and hoping she would not make any effort to reach me—at least not until my trial was over.

That something was happening to keep them all away—something perhaps vital to my freedom—I was certain. On no other ground could I explain the fact of none of them seeking me for consultation. Yet what it might be I could not possibly conjecture. Eagerly I hurried into the courtroom again as soon as the recess was over, at once turning my eyes to see if the girl I loved was there.

Quickly I located her still sitting beside my mother. Her veil now was boldly thrown back, and as she gazed at me with sparkling eyes and a confident smile, I felt sure that across the distance she was trying to send some message of good tidings. My mother's face, too, I observed, now wore a happier look, and about Gorman and McGregor both was an air of greater confidence than either had manifested before.

What had happened? What had they found out? Eagerly I waited developments.

The telephone girl was recalled to the stand and her cross-examination resumed.

"Mrs. Moore," began McGregor—and I observed curiously that his voice in addressing her no longer was harsh and sarcastic but merely suave and impelling—"you have testified here as a witness against Mr. Spalding Nelson, accused of having murdered Daisy Lutan, have you not?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

I Leaned Forward to Listen to Every Word of Wick's Testimony.

Chautauqua or Circus.

The manager was strolling about the big Chautauqua tent, which had just been set up in a small Missouri town, and the boys were laying the plank seats, when the whir of engines was heard, and two automobiles appeared, racing furiously toward the Chautauqua grounds. They stopped side by side in the dust and smoke of heavily set brakes, and the drivers leaped from their seats and ran at top speed toward the astonished Chautauqua manager.

"I'm a butcher!" gasped the first.

"I'm a butcher!" cried the second.

Then both together they shouted, "I want the contract to furnish meat for the animals!"—Youth's Companion.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 154 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held at the general election in November, 1920; and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election together with the proposed amendment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general election in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Section 93. The State shall not engage in works of internal improvement nor lend money or its credit in aid of such, nor shall the State be interested in any private or corporate enterprises or lend money or its credit to any individual association or corporation, provided that the State may under appropriate laws cause the net proceeds from the convict fund to be applied to the construction, repair and maintenance of public roads in the State, and the legislature may also make additional appropriations for that purpose; and, provided further, that the foregoing prohibitions shall not apply to the promotion, development or operation of harbors or seaports within the State or its jurisdiction, provided, further, that any such work or improvements shall always be and remain under the management and control of the State through its State Harbor Commission or other governing agency and provided further that the adoption of this amendment shall not affect any other amendment to the Constitution which may be adopted pursuant to any resolution of this session of the Legislature."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TEACHING CITIZENSHIP

The newly organized Alabama League of Women Voters is very busy conducting Schools of Citizenship in various sections of the state for the purpose of educating the newly enfranchised women in their rights and duties as citizens. The League, which is a purely non-partisan body, standing for no political party, has for its objects education in good citizenship and the promotion of improved legislation.

Already seven large Citizenship Schools have been held under direction of Mrs. T. T. Cotnam of Arkansas, who is an official of the National League of Women Voters.

In Birmingham, a series of Citizenship Schools is in progress. Two have already been held most successfully. Another begins on Oct 11, in the rooms of the Civic Association, from seven to nine P. M. Mrs. Neil Wallace is also conducting a school at New Castle, and one is planned for Warrior, and another at East Lake. The topics covered in the Schools are: Outlines of the City County, State and National Government, the Courts, Married Women's Property Laws; the Laws particularly affecting women and children; and most interesting of all, a demonstration in voting, using real ballots and ballot boxes.

What The League Stands For.

These are some of the things that the League of Women Voters stands for: Child Welfare, Education, Reduction of the Cost of Living, Protection of Women in Industry, Public Health and the Protection of Public Morals, Independent Citizenship for Married Women. A number of cities and counties have already organized Leagues of Women Voters notably: Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, Gadsden, Huntsville, Selma, Talladega, Jasper, Anniston and others are planning immediate organization.

The chief work of the League at present is urging the qualified women in Alabama to come out and register between now and Oct. 26th. Their slogan is: "Every qualified Alabama Woman—Registered." The headquarters of the League is 1818 Second Avenue, Birmingham, where those who care to, may write for further information and literature, as well as to secure teachers for Citizenship Schools. Mrs. Jack Bowron of Birmingham is State President.

STATEMENT

Of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by the Act of Congress of August 24th, 1912,

Of The Union-Banner, published weekly at Clanton, Ala., for October 1st, 1920:

State of Alabama,
Chilton County.

Before me, Clerk of Circuit Court, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared W. M. Wyatt, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Editor of The Union-Banner, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in Section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:
Publishers, W. M. and T. E. Wyatt, Clanton, Ala.
Editor, W. M. Wyatt, Clanton, Ala.
Business Manager, T. E. Wyatt, Clanton, Ala.

2. That the owners are: W. M. Wyatt, Clanton, Ala.; T. E. Wyatt, Clanton, Ala.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: none.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners stockholders and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

Another Reason Why Alabama Farmers and Merchants are Backing the Seaport Amendment

This is the big cotton warehouse built at the port of New Orleans by the Harbor Commission of Louisiana without any cost to taxpayers of that state. It has a capacity of 275,000 bales of cotton, and is serving cotton growers over a wide area. Its value to the farmers of Louisiana is shown in the fact that additional units, with a capacity of 184,000 bales, are now under construction.

Alabama farmers need a big bonded warehouse at the State's only port, Mobile. A bonded warehouse where cotton can be assembled and prepared for export. A warehouse where cotton can be stored and receipts issued which can be either sold or used as collateral for loans. Cotton growers and dealers recognize as a first step the plan of the American Cotton Association to federalize cotton warehouses throughout the State. The efficient operation of a system of such warehouses will require a publicly owned cotton warehouse at Alabama's seaport to act as a reservoir to the marketing of the crop.

The way to secure this needed facility is to vote YES for the Seaport Amendment, November 2nd. A cotton warehouse, and other needed port facilities, earn enough to pay for themselves and can be built without a cent of cost to taxpayers and without any appropriation from the State's Treasury.

STOP THE NOISE

The Town Council of Clanton is to be commended for its steps in the effort to cut out some of the useless noises on the streets of the town. The following ordinance relative to the subject, will if properly enforced, relieve us from many of the useless noises that seem to be inflicted upon the innocent public with pleasure by some of the truck drivers and autoists:

"That it shall be unlawful for any person to run or operate an automobile or truck, motor cycle, or any motor driven vehicle upon or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, unless said automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle, or motor power driven vehicle is equipped with a standard muffler or device commonly known as a muffler and so attached to same that the exhaust from the motor of same shall go through said muffler in such a manner as to reduce the noise of said motor." A penalty of from $1 to $100 is provided for violations of the ordinance.

To the officers of the town who will have the enforcement of this ordinance in their hands, we respectfully refer those drivers of trucks who persist in running recklessly up and down our streets with the thottle wide open and causing the thing to shoot and pop equal to a major offensive against the Germans. Also there are some of the grass hopper drivers who have got awful noisy whistles on their cars, and they frequently get up a full head of steam on one side of town, turn loose the wild cat, and proceed to paint a red streak clear through to the other limit of the city.

These sportive gentlemen need the above ordinance to teach them some public manners, and the people need it for protection. May the Town give us a rigid enforcement of the same.

AN ORDINANCE

To prohibit the running or operating of automobiles, automobile trucks, motor cycles and motor power driven vehicles on or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, unless same is equipped with a standard muffler or device commonly called a "muffler" to reduce the noise of the exhaust of the motor of same and to make it unlawful to operate any of said vehicles with the "cut-out" open or exhaust pipe open.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, as follows:

1. That it shall be unlawful for any person to run or operate an automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle or any motor power driven vehicle upon or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, unless said automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle of motor power driven vehicle is equipped with a standard "muffler" or device commonly known as a muffler and so attached to same that the exhaust from the motor of same shall go through said muffler in such manner as to reduce the noise of said motor.

2. That it shall be unlawful for any person to operate or run any automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle or motor power driven vehicle of any kind upon or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama with the exhaust pipe of said car open by a "cut-out" or with the cut out open, on said exhaust pipe.

3. That any person violating either of the foregoing sections, upon conviction must be fined not less than $1.00 and not more than $100, and may also be sentenced to hard labor for the Town of Clanton, Alabama, for not more than thirty days.

APPEAL FROM THE SHERIFF

Clanton, Ala., Oct. 12, 1920.

Registration of dogs is from Oct. 1 to 15, 1920. After this date all dogs not registered become delinquent. I will prosecute every person who harbors a dog on his premises not registered. I did not make this law, but it is a law and I think it should be enforced as other laws. All owners of dogs will be governed accordingly. Be sure when you register dogs to put the tag on to stay. The law requires the dog to be tagged. If you lose your tag you will have to register again.

Yours respectfully,
J. L. GORE, Sheriff.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

WOMEN VOTES AND POLITICAL PARTY HOPES.

The enfranchisement of women and their exercise of the ballot represents immensely more than the mere mechanical process of their going to the polls and casting their votes along with their husbands, fathers and brothers. Leaders of the political parties in Chilton County see capital for their political future in the voting of the women. The Democrats, if the thing were managed according to their own plans, would operate the registration and suffrage of women to the undoing of the Republican strength in our county. On the other had, the Republicans have plans which if perfected, would not only hold the present Republican majority but greatly increase it.

It is a dead certainty that the most of the women who register between now and October 26th will vote on November 2nd. No one can tell in advance how they will vote. Many political wise-acres persist that they will just vote like their husbands do, and that will end the argument. But that is not a rule that can always be relied upon. They may do that in party questions but when it comes to moral questions, they will vote their womens instinct. That will frequently go against the grain with some husbands.

Democrats are hustling to register Democratic women. Republicans are hustling to register Republican women. If both parties in this county register their women, there will be no difference in the result on November 2nd than if the women had not voted at all. If the Democrats get the best of the Registration in numbers, they will have the same margin of advantage in the voting. If the Republicans would hold to what they have in Chilton County, their women must be registered now and voted on November 2nd.

The speculation as to what will be the effect on the final result is interesting to those who see any sport in watching political activity.

TO ALABAMA WOMEN:

The books are open for the registration of the new voters, and will be open until October 26. After that date they will close. Alabama women should know that women who fail to register by the date named cannot register till January, 1922, unless the books shall be specially ordered open in July, 1921. That means that if women fail to grasp this opportunity to register they cannot vote in the general election in November and cannot vote in any other elections which may be held in the State. It is therefore the plain duty of Alabama women to register promptly, and thus equip themselves to take part as they should in their State elections.

To vote is a high privilege; to vote righteously is a sacred duty; to vote always, whenever opportunity presents itself, upon all questions, is a long-delayed right. Our women should seek to inform themselves upon all questions relating to good citizenship, that their votes may be for the betterment of their State. They should vote seriously, using their vote like a prayer for the good of future generations.

It is unthinkable that Alabama women will fail to do their duty.

STOP THE NOISE

The Town Council of Clanton is to be commended for its steps in the effort to cut out some of the useless noises on the streets of the town. The following ordinance relative to the subject, will if properly enforced, relieve us from many of the useless noises that seem to be inflicted upon the innocent public with pleasure by some of the truck drivers and autoists:

"That it shall be unlawful for any person to run or operate an automobile or truck, motor cycle, or any motor driven vehicle upon or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, unless said automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle, or motor power driven vehicle is equipped with a standard muffler or device commonly known as a muffler and so attached to same that the exhaust from the motor of same shall go through said muffler in such a manner as to reduce the noise of said motor." A penalty of from $1 to $100 is provided for violations of the ordinance.

To the officers of the town who will have the enforcement of this ordinance in their hands, we respectfully refer those drivers of trucks who persist in running recklessly up and down our streets with the thottle wide open and causing the thing to shoot and pop equal to a major offensive against the Germans. Also there are some of the grass hopper drivers who have got awful noisy whistles on their cars, and they frequently get up a full head of steam on one side of town, turn loose the wild cat, and proceed to paint a red streak clear through to the other limit of the city.

These sportive gentlemen need the above ordinance to teach them some public manners, and the people need it for protection. May the Town give us a rigid enforcement of the same.

AN ORDINANCE

To prohibit the running or operating of automobiles, automobile trucks, motor cycles and motor power driven vehicles on or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, unless same is equipped with a standard muffler or device commonly called a "muffler" to reduce the noise of the exhaust of the motor of same and to make it unlawful to operate any of said vehicles with the "cut-out" open or exhaust pipe open.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, as follows:

1. That it shall be unlawful for any person to run or operate an automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle or any motor power driven vehicle upon or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama, unless said automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle of motor power driven vehicle is equipped with a standard "muffler" or device commonly known as a muffler and so attached to same that the exhaust from the motor of same shall go through said muffler in such manner as to reduce the noise of said motor.

2. That it shall be unlawful for any person to operate or run any automobile, automobile truck, motor cycle or motor power driven vehicle of any kind upon or along the streets and alleys of the Town of Clanton, Alabama with the exhaust pipe of said car open by a "cut-out" or with the cut out open, on said exhaust pipe.

3. That any person violating either of the foregoing sections, upon conviction must be fined not less than $1.00 and not more than $100, and may also be sentenced to hard labor for the Town of Clanton, Alabama, for not more than thirty days.

APPEAL FROM THE SHERIFF

Clanton, Ala., Oct. 12, 1920.

Registration of dogs is from Oct. 1 to 15, 1920. After this date all dogs not registered become delinquent. I will prosecute every person who harbors a dog on his premises not registered. I did not make this law, but it is a law and I think it should be enforced as other laws. All owners of dogs will be governed accordingly. Be sure when you register dogs to put the tag on to stay. The law requires the dog to be tagged. If you lose your tag you will have to register again.

Yours respectfully,
J. L. GORE, Sheriff.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

The price on Standard Phonographs has increased very little since 1914, and since there has been no inflation. We cannot expect any deflation, but, on account of reduction in prices of other commodities, there is a general feeling among the public to look for bargains. And here is a plan decided on by the Pathe Company to stimulate buying and satisfying this feeling.

The Pathe is one of the few standard machines on the market. It is easy to operate---no needles to change---records will not scratch.

ALABAMA WOMEN NOW ENTITLED TO VOTE--SHOULD REGISTER IMMEDIATELY---INSTRUCTIONS TO FOLLOW

Women Voters of Alabama.

You should not fail to register! You should not fail to vote! You owe it to your State! You owe it to yourself!

The Federal Suffrage Amendment, which passed Congress in June, 1919, has been ratified by thirty-seven states, and thus becomes a part of the Constitution of the United States. Under its terms, "the right of Citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged on account of sex."

Thus automatically the qualified women of all the states of the Union are enfranchised. The Amendment having been ratified by the necessary three-fourths of the state becomes in this way the law for Alabama as well as for all the other states. It supercedes and sweeps aside any state laws that prohibit women from voting. It strikes the word "male" out of the Constitution of the State of Alabama, and all Alabama women who are otherwise qualified now possess the right to the ballot.

Women, Register to Vote!

Women of Alabama, you may now vote. The privilege of the franchise is yours, but, in order to exercise it, you must first register. A special session of the Legislature has just been held in order to provide machinery for the registration of the newly enfranchised women. This should have been done at the regular session in 1919; in fact, bills providing for registering the women in case of the ratification of the Suffrage Amendment were introduced, but the legislators, the majority of whom were opposed to giving the vote to women, did not forsee the early ratification of the Amendment, and hence refused to pass these enabling laws. If they had at that time listened to the pleas of the suffrage sympathizers in the House and Senate, no extra session would have been necessary, and the State would have been saved an expense of approximately $50,000.00.

Necessary Qualifications.

Under the registration bill passed last week by the special session of the Legislature, the qualifications of women are the same as those for men, as follows:

1st. A woman must be 21 years of age or over.

2nd. A woman must have lived in the State at least two years, in the county at least one year, and in the precinct or beat at least ninety days.

3rd. A woman must be able to read and write, or must pay taxes on property assessed at $300.00.

Any woman who possesses the above qualifications may register between now and October 26th and vote in the general election on November 2nd, and in all local elections.

What About the Poll Tax?

All women in Alabama between 21 and 45 years of age who wish to vote in future must pay a poll tax of $1.50 per year. This money goes to help support the public schools in which women are most vitally interested. This tax became due on October 1st and will become delinquent on February 1st. It is desirable that every woman voter pay her poll tax as soon as possible. She must pay it to the county tax collector. However, she cannot be kept from voting on November 2nd because she has not paid it. If she has not paid her poll tax by February, 1921, her name will be dropped from the voting list and she will not be allowed to vote after that time until she has paid it. However, it is certain that every loyal and law-abiding woman voter between 21 and 45 will be glad to pay her poll tax for the support of the public schools and will do so before February 1921.

Where and How to Register.

The Governor will appoint registrars for each county in the State. These registrars will sit at the County Court House (or some other designated place) from now until October 26th. You must go before the registrars and register and they will issue you a certificate which will entitle you to vote. You must vote at the same place where the men of your family, your husband or brother or father vote.

It Is Your Duty to Vote.

Women of Alabama, remember that the ballot is a privilege, since it represents a greater measure of freedom than ever enjoyed before by women; that it is a duty, since the vote was given that you might aid in the great work of law-making and building up the State; that it is a benefit, since you who vote attain a definite rank as citizens in return for the service rendered by the casting of your ballots.

Vote for your homes and for your children. Vote honestly, vote intelligently, vote independently, for the most honest, the most able, the most upright candidates.

Register—Vote.

If somebody don't get busy quick and register some dogs in Chilton County the Sheriff is going to have some time killing canines or causing their registration by owners to prevent killing them.

Up to Tuesday morning the Circuit Clerk informed us that he has registered only 131 dogs this time. Friday of this week is the last day that is allowed under the law for registration. All dogs registered after that date will be subject to a fee just double that which is now required.

After Friday it will be the duty of the Sheriff to see that all dogs are registered or else kill them. That duty is made imperative by the law and it is a misdemeanor upon the Sheriff if he fails to carry out that duty.

UNITY BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

The sixty-sixth session of the Unity Baptist Association met at the Verbena Church on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 5th and 6th, and a large delegation of messengers was present from the various churches of the Association. The Introductory Sermon was preached by Rev. W. A. Goss and was well received by all present. The honor as moderator of the association was given to Rev. W. J. Ruddick, who has been the efficient secretary for some thirty one years. Mr. Grady F. Harris of Clanton was elected as the successor to Bro. Ruddick as clerk and Mr. Judson Strock of Verbena as treasurer.

It was a matter for regret that most of the reports furnished for the various interests of our state in the work of missions and other enterprises were not original reports, but such as were furnished from the head quarters of the state. While such reports furnished were good and contained much useful and valuable information they lacked the original and personal touch of the persons appointed to furnish these reports. The reports read however showed much progress and encouragement in the work through the Seventy Five Million Campaign. The need for the prompt payment of pledges now due on the campaign was specially emphasized in order that our Home, Foreign and State Boards may not be embarassed or handicaped in the enlargement of the work they have planned and already undertaken.

Two representatives of our State workers were present. One in the person of Mr. D. F. Green, the Secretary of the State Convention who at considerable sacrifice financially has accepted this responsible position. The address given by him was full of pathos and devotion as he appealed to the people for their co-operation in the great work of the kingdom. Mr. E. G. Moore, the Secretary for our Sunday School work also made good address in the interest of this work, and for the organization of an Associational Sunday School convention.

The report on the Digest of Letters and Documents showed that 180 had been received for baptism during the year, a regrettable decrease of 47. That thirteen only out of the thirty churches reported prayer meetings. Approximately $6,300 had been paid in on the Seventy Five Million Campaign leaving over $4,000 yet unpaid of the apportionment asked for from this association.

During the session of the association spirit of liberality prevailed when the sum of $110 was laid upon the table as voluntary offerings from the people for the following causes: Orphans Home $30; assistance of two ministerial students at Newton College $55; and the roofing of the White Pond Church $25.

A recommendation for the adoption of an honest church letter form showing the proper standing of a church member when transferred to another church, was endorsed by the association, also the alignment of two or more churches, to call and support the same pastor, to give his entire time to the work of the ministry and the development of the churches he is called to serve, was endorsed by the association.

The Asociation will meet next year with the Ebenezer Church and the Introductory Sermon will be preached py Rev. P. G. Carter of Clanton. A very fine spirit of harmony and unity prevailed throughout the meeting, and the entertainment of the Verbena Church and community was all that could be desired.—(Contributed).

VERBENA SCHOOL NEWS

Every effort is being put forth by the people of Verbena in the establishment of a full affiliated high school. They are hoping to have the building erected and everything ready for work by the beginning of the next school session.

The school at present is doing the work of a Junior High School having two teachers doing high school work and two teaching the elementary.

There has been a Parent-Teachers Association organized with Mr. J. C. Patillo as president, Prof. J. D. Griffin as first vice-president, Mrs. D. I. Deramus as second vice-president, Mrs. O. B. Smith secretary, Miss Luna Franklin, treasurer.

The second meeting was held at the school building Monday night, October 11, 1920. Mr. J. M. Graham of Thorsby was there and gave a very interesting speech on the organization and the work of the Parent-Teachers Association. Refreshments were sold by the association, making a sum for the benefit of the association. It will have its next meeting on Monday night, October 25, 1920.

The Literary Society of the Verbena school was organized two weeks ago with the following officers: Miss Gertrude Williams president, Mr. Livingston Strock vice-president, Miss Francis M. Gulledge, secretary, Mr. William Deramus, critic. The members of the program committee elected are Misses Elsie Gardner and Alma Barrett and Mr. Andres Biard. The society had its first program rendered Friday afternoon, October 1, 1920, and the following program was rendered:

1, Song, America; 2, Roll call; 3, Minutes read; 4, Business; 5, Essay, "Life of Longfellow." Janie Allen; 6, Recitation, "The Psalm of Life," Zella Vance; 7, Debate, "Resolved that Reading is more beneficial than traveling." The judges gave their decision in favor of the affirmative.

They will have another meeting next Friday afternoon.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held on the proclamation of the Governor, and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general election in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law. upon the following amendment to the /Constitution of Alabama, viz: The Legislature shall have the power to authorize the counties of Alabama which have or which shall have taxable property in such counties of one hundred millions of dollars annually, or more, according to the assessments by such counties for the year 1918, A. D., or according to any assessment hereafter made, to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease. maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads, by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise or passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilites, in aid of intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce; including the dredging, on both banks of the approaches to the water terminals.

Section 2. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize and empower such counties to issue bonds, lend their credit, grant public money, or other thing of value in aid of the internal improvement as described in Section 1 hereof.

Section 3. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize such counties to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in such counties, in addition to the maximum rate of taxation prescribed in the Constituton of Alabama. The funds thus raised are specifically reserved to be applied only to the creation and support of the internal improvement herein and hereby authorized.

Section 4. That all such counties shall have the right, power and authority to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads —by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise and passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilites, within, across or through its own territory or the territory of adjacent counties.

Section 5. That any enactments of the Legislature of Alabama contingent upon the ratification of this amendment to the Constitution of Alabama by the qualified voters of the State, shall be validated and become a force and effect immediately this amendment is so ratified.

Section 6. All such counties of Alabama are hereby authorized and empowered to increase the limit of county indebtedness from 3½ to 4½ per cent of such taxable property.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY,
(Seal) Governor.

ELECTION NOTICE

The State of Alabama;
Chilton County.

I, J. L. Gore, Sheriff of Chilton County, Ala., in conformity with Section 357, page 329, of the Political Code of Alabama, (1907), hereby give notice that a General Election of the qualified voters of Chilton County, Alabama, will be held in the several precincts of said county, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1920, for the election of:—

Twelve Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States; Representative in Congress from the Fourth District of Alabama; one United States Senator from Alabama; two Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of Alabama; one Justice of the Court of Appeals of Alabama; President of the Alabama Public Service Commission; State Commissioner of Conservation; one Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama; A Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama; a Tax Assessor of Chilton County, Alabama; Commissioner from the Third Dustrict of Chilton County, Alabama; Commissioner from Fourth District of Chilton County, Alabama; two members of the School Board of Chilton County, Alabama; a Justice of the Peace of each precinct in Chilton County, Alabama; a Constable for each precinct in Chilton County, Alabama;

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"Section 93. The State shall not engage in works of internal improvement nor lend money or its credit in aid of such, nor shall the State be interested in any private or corporate enterprises or lend money or its credit to any individual association or corporation, provided that the State may under appropriate laws cause the net proceeds from the convict fund to be applied to the construction, repair and maintenance of public roads in the State, and the legislature may also make additional appropriations for that purpose; and, provided further, that the foregoing prohibitions shall not apply to the promotion, development or operation of harbrs or seaports within the State or its jurisdictions, provided further, that any such work or improvements shall always be and remain under the management and control of the State through its State Harbor Commission or other government agency and provided further that the adoption of this amendment shall not affect any other amendment to the Constitution which may be adopted pursuant to any resolution of this session of the Legislature."

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"Section 1. The several counties in the State shall have power to levy and collect a special county road tax not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties in addition to that now authorized or that may hereafter be authorized for public road purposes; provided, that of such tax the time it is to continue and the purpose thereof shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county, and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election. "Section 2. The funds arising from the special county road and bridge tax levied and collected by any county shall be apportioned and expended by the courts of county commissioners or boards of revenue of such county in the following manner, to-wit: Fifty per cent of said taxes levied and collected shall be used for maintenance of roads and bridges and the remaining part shall be used in constructing roads, bridges, culverts, etc., as such boards of revenue or courts of county commissioners may direct. "Section 2½. Twenty-five per cent. of all moneys derived from property lying within municipalities and arising from the tax proposed herein shall be paid to such municipality and shall by it be expended for upkeep of its streets. "Section 3. That the court of county commissioners boards of revenue, or other governing body of such county may, or upon written petition of ten per centum of the qualified voters of any county shall call and submit said election provided for and authorized by sections one and two hereof to the qualified electors of such county either by the same time of the general election or at a special election called for that purpose; provided, that said election shall be called and held in accordance with the law now or that may hereafter be enacted governing county bond elections and in conformity with the general election laws of the State."

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"The Legislature shall have the power to authorize the counties of Alabama which have or which shall have taxable property in such counties of one hundred millions of dollars annually, or more, according to the assessments by such counties for the year 1918, A.D., or according to any assessment hereafter made, to acquire, construct, purchase, own. lease, maintain, use, control, and operate highways railroads, by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise or passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, in aid of intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce; including the dredging on both banks of the approaches to the water terminals. "Section 2. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize and empower such counties to issue bonds, lend their credit, grant public money, or other thing of value in aid of the internal improvement as described in Section 1 thereof. "Section 3. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize such counties to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties, in addition to the maximum rate of taxation prescribed in the Constitution of Alabama. The funds thus raised are specifically reserved to be applied only to the creation and support of the internal improvement herein and hereby authorized. "Section 4. That all such counties shall have the right, power and authority to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads—by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise and passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, within, across or through its own territory or the territory of adjacent counties. "Section 5. That any enactments of the Legislature of Alabama contingent upon the ratification of this amendment to the Constitution of Alabama by the qualified voters of the State, shall be validated and become in force and effect immediately after this amendment is so ratified. "Section 6. All such counties of Alabama are hereby authorized and empowered to increase the limit of county indebtedness from 3½ to 4½ per cent of such taxable property."

WOMEN VOTERS MUST REGISTER BEFORE OCTOBER 26

Under the new election law which was passed by the Legislature recently in special session, and signed by the governor on October 4th, the time set for registering all voters who have become qualified since Jan. 5, 1920 (which includes all women voters) covers the days from now until midnight of Tuesday, October 26th. It will thus be seen that the time is short. Those women who fail to register during this time will have no further opportunity to do so until 1922, unless, at the discretion of their county Board of Commissioners, the books are open for ten days during the month of July, 1921. This is permitted, but is left entirely to the County Commissioners as to whether or not it shall be done.

Time Is Short.

There is only a little over two weeks left in which women can register this year, to vote in the important November elections. The woman who loses this opportunity will not be able to vote at all for at least one year, and probably two, and cannot cast her vote for president of the United States for four years. Therefore, it behooves every patriotic, home-loving woman to get busy and register. Registering and voting is a very simple matter, although it is a most important duty as well as privilege. If a woman is 21 years old or over, if she can read and write or if she or her husband pays taxes on property assessed at $300.00, and if she has lived in the state at least two years, in the county at least one year, and in the precinct at least ninety days, she is entitled to register. and all that is necessary is for her to present herself before the Board of Registrars betwen now and Oct. 26th.

Board of Registrars.

The Board of Registrars is composed of three members for each county, appointed by the Governor, State Auditor and Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries. They are allowed to meet in different parts of the county at their discretion, except that they must met at the county seat from Oct. 19 to Oct. 26th. They must give notice of their meeting places. and are required to register all qualified persons who present themselves. They will give each person who is rgistered a certificate which will serve as a permit to vote. If any woman is in doubt as to where and when to register, it will be safe for her to come to her county courthouse on any day except Sunday, between Oct. 19th and Oct. 26th, and there she will find the Board of Registrars in session.

Nothing is more important just now than getting the women registered. Wide awake women should inform themselves as to the movements of their Board of Registrars and go to meet them without fail.

CHILTON COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION

The Chilton County Singing Convention will meet in special session the fourth Sunday in October in the Chilton County High School auditorium, Clanton, Ala. All singers and lovers of music are especially invited to attend. Prof. B. W. Merritt of Georgia, Prof. J. D. Patton and daughter, Miss Florence Grey, have promised to be with us. Let every body attend and bring a well filled basket and your 1920 books. Be sure to bring your book, as the success of the singing will depend largely upon a good supply of books.

Tells How Ziron Iron Tonic Helped His Daughter After Operation for Appendicitis.

AFTER any serious illness, the first thing you notice when you begin to get around is your lack of strength and energy—a tired, weak feeling.

The sooner you get your strength back the better. The thing to do is to eat plenty of good, nourishing food, get all the fresh air you can, exercise conservatively, and take Ziron Iron Tonic three times a day.

Your doctor will tell you this is sound advice, and urge you to follow it.

Read this letter from Mr. J. B. Kelly, vice-president of the First National Bank, Graceville, Fla.: "My daughter had been in bad health since last April. She was operated on for appendicitis. She has been taking Ziron for two weeks. Her appetite is better than it has been. Her nerves are better, and she says she feels better . . . I know that Ziron is good for weak and feeble people."

185 audiences tried it this way

MOST people know that the musical enjoyment which they get out of a phonograph depends upon one thing. That thing is the phonograph's realism.

This picture shows the best way to test a phonograph's realism. Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, the famous soprano, is standing beside the New Edison, and singing in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice.

185 audiences, aggregating more than 100,000 people, have actually heard this comparison. None could distinguish between her living voice and its RE-CREATION.

This is one of the phenomenal records of realism. The New Edison holds all other records of realism, too, because no other phonograph attempts this comparison-test—or could sustain it.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You try it this way

—the way we use in our store!—the Realism Test! Test the New Edison's Realism against the pleasure you know music can bring.

Tell us what kind of voice or instrument gives you truest musical enjoyment. Listen while we play your favorite on the New Edison. The Realism Test will enable you to gauge whether the New Edison's RE-CREATION gives you all of this enjoyment.

This is your test! It will help you determine what the New Edison's Realism means, in terms of your own musical enjoyment.

Ask for it! The "Personal Favorites" Realism Test.

Another thing to ask about is our Budget Plan. It disposes of the money question, in a way that will appeal to your common-sense and to your pocketbook.

WHERE TOMMY MADE A POINT

Remarkable That School Teacher Had Never Noticed That Quite Simple Truth Before.

Arithmetic, according to the average small boy, was simply invented in order to give teachers a good excuse for punishing their unhappy pupils. And certainly little Tommy Smith found it the unpleasant feature of his young life.

"Now, Tommy Smith," said the school teacher one morning during the usual hour of torture, "what is the half of eight?"

"Which way, teacher?" asked the youngster cautiously.

"Which way!" replied the astonished lady. "What do you mean?"

"Well, on top or sideways, teacher?" said Tommy.

"What difference does that make?"

"Why," Tommy explained, with a grieving air, "half of the top of eight is nought, but half of it sideways is three."—London Answers.

COMMON ERROR IN GRAMMAR

Words "Begun" and "Began" Are Wrongly Used by Those Careless in Their Speech.

It is quite common to hear some one say, "I begun to do that work yesterday," "the battle begun between the two armies," etc. This use of "begun" to express the past tense (sometimes called the preterit) of "begin" is not incorrect, according to some authorities on the uses of words, but there is a fairly general agreement that the better word to use is "began." If you wish to safeguard yourself against possible criticism, say "I began to do that work yesterday," "The battle began between the two armies," etc., not "begun."

Richard Grant White, in "Words and Their Uses," a high authority, criticizes and condemns the use of "begun" instead of "began" to express the past.

Of course, it is incorrect beyond any doubt to say, "I have began" to express the perfect tense of "begin." Say, "I have begun," never "I have began."—Columbus Dispatch.

IMPROVED HIGHWAYS

INCREASE IN MOTOR TRAFFIC

Statistics Show Increase of 1,418,829 Cars Over 1918—Roads Must Be Maintained.

That the present interest in the construction of new highways should not divert attention from properly maintaining highways already improved is a point which the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture, has had occasion to emphasize many times in recent months, particularly in view of the enormous increase in motor vehicle traffic which is taking place. The bureau recently completed a compilation of statistics from all the states of the Union showing that there were a total of 7,565,446 registered motor cars (including motor cycles and trucks) in the United States in 1919. This is an increase of 23 per cent, or 1,418,829 motor cars over 1918. Such figures indicate that the country's highways are being used far more than in the past, it is pointed out, and in consequence added attention must be given to the repair problem. The increase in the number of cars for 1919 over 1918 represents about 10 per cent more cars than the total number registered in the entire United States for 1913.

Additional use of roads and streets has, of course, been accompanied by additional revenue paid to state and local governments in the form of license fees, which in nearly all states are devoted to highway needs. The registration and license fees for automobiles, trucks, and motor cycles in use in 1919 totaled $64,697,255.58—an increase of 20 per cent over 1918. The total revenues for New York and Pennsylvania the past year were about double the revenues received for all motor vehicle registrations and licenses in the entire United States in 1912.

Certain of the states, notably Maryland, have experienced difficulty in securing road-building materials owing to labor shortage, hampered transportation facilities, etc. Maryland has had to make a special appeal to the interstate commerce commission for aid in getting enough material shipped in to properly care for road repairs.

ALL RECEIVE SOME BENEFIT

Good Roads Are Advantageous Alike to Producer and Consumer—Storage Charges Less.

When the roads of the great producing zones of this country are improved, benefits will accrue not only to producers, but to consumers. When marketing is distributed throughout the year, storage charges must decline. This country is paying at present large storage prices on foodstuffs. The disadvantages of freight congestion in the fall cannot be entirely eliminated in many places, but good roads will certainly have a marked tendency to distribute hauling over longer periods.

It is reasonable to say, therefore, that good roads mean that diversified farming will be encouraged, the area of profitable production increased, the opportunity for favorable marketing improved, and more uniform distribution of farm products secured.

MUCH DEPENDS ON HIGHWAYS

Prospective Purchaser of Farm Is Concerned About Many Things, More Especially Roads.

A prospective purchaser of a farm is concerned about the adaptability of the soil to specific agricultural activities such as general farming, stock raising, dairying or market gardening, and must inquire into conditions affecting such industries. He is also concerned about suitable home life for his family, schools, churches and community social life, all of which are very much dependent upon roads.

COUNTRY'S FIRST CORN MILL

Recent Discoveries Establish Its Site at a Point on the St. Croix River, Eastport, Me.

The site of what undoubtedly was the first tidewater mill on the American continent has been discovered at Red Beach, Me., where Low's brook empties into the St. Croix river at a point nearly opposite the southern end of Dochet's island, where De Monts and his men settled in the year 1604, three years before the settlement of Jamestown. In excavating for a fish pond near his summer home, R. S. McCarter of Cambridge, Mass., unearthed the unmistakable remains of an ancient dam of stone and timbers. Comparing the site with the original map of the island, authorities agreed that it must have been the site of the water mill mentioned in the old records as employed by Sieur De Monts and his men to grind their corn, being the largest stream within an area of several miles on either side of the river.

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor

Study Club Entertained

Mrs. S. E. Stewart delightfully entertained the Study Club on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The living and dining room were made very attractive with golden rod and potted plants.

After a lengthy business meeting a very interesting program followed: Reading Acts III "The Taming of the Shrew," by Club members. Discussion, led by Mrs. V. J. Heard. Paper, a Sketch of Whittier's Life," Mrs. W. P. Splawn. Current Events, Leader, Mrs. Duncan.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. McSwain, served a delightful ice course to the following club members: Mesdames Chandler, Duncan, Hart, Heard, Hayes, Hester, N. S. Johnson, Arthur Johnson, Macy Jones, Maye, McSwain, Pickens, Grady Reynolds, Splawn, J. M. VanDerveer, and Miss Lurline Harper. The guests of the club were Mrs. Will Adams, Misses Curry, Pipes and Collinsworth.

Mrs. Clinton Jones Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roberts delightfully entertained at Bridge on Monday night, complimenting Mrs. Clinton Jones of Ashville, N. C. The reception room and dining room were made very attractive with ferns and crystal vases of roses.

After an exciting game a delicious plate luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Lessie Reynold, to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Heard, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. VanDerveer, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Downs, Mr. and Mrs. John Page, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts, Mrs. Clint Jones, Mrs. Macy Jones, Mrs. John M. Bridges, Mrs. Thad McSwain and Miss Roebrta Curry.

Wednesday Bridge Club Meets

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Bridge Club was held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Simpson on last Wednesday. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion in yellow and white, and quantities of golden rod were noted in the decorations.

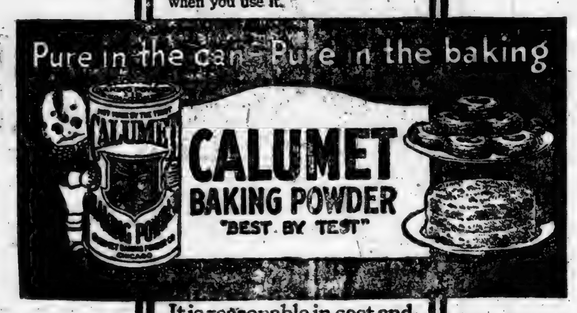
After several hours spent in playing, a delightful salad plate with iced tea was beautifully served, as the hostess is noted for her excellent cuisine.

Besides the club members there were present Mesdames John Page, Macy Jones, Hugh Jones, John Bridges and Arthur Johnson.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.



It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That is what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

Good wholesome baking can be made only of good materials, no other way, so use only good baking powder and good plain flour (not self-rising flour).

Mrs. Guy Higgins' Entertains

Mrs. Guy Higgins proved a delightful hostess on Tuesday evening when she entertained the members of the Tuesday Bridge Club and a few extra tables, as a compliment to Mrs. Clinton Jones. The parlors of the Exchange Hotel, where five tables were arranged, were made attractive with pretty cut flowers and ferns. Before the game a delicious iced grape juice was served and at the conclusion of the game an ice course. The honoree was presented a lovely box of Stationery, while the highest score was held by Mrs. John Bridges and a silver picture frame was given her. The consolation, a bottle of Ozuria Toilet Water, was drawn by Mrs. T. C. McSwain.

Mrs. Clint Jones Honored

One of the prettiest of the weeks social gatherings was a Bridge Party given Saturday evening by Miss Roberta Curry, when she paid a special courtesy of her sister, Mrs. Clinton Jones of Ashville, N. C. The tables were placed in the living room and hall and pink and white carnations lent their fragrance and color to this pretty scene. The score prize, a box of stationery, was won by Mrs. Hugh Simpson, and a dainty piece of lingerie was presented Mrs. Jones.

At the conclusion of the game most tempting refreshments were served Miss Curry being assisted by Miss Leona Pipes.

Embroidery Club Meets.

Mrs. Hugh Jones was hostess to the Embroidery Club on last Thursday. The spacious porch where the guests were entertained was attractive with cut flowers and ferns. After a pleasant hour spent in various kinds of fancy work lovely refreshments were served to about 15 members.

B. Y. P. U. Entertained.

Last Saturday night, October 9th, Miss Jewell Minor entertained quite a large number of the members of the Baptist Young Peoples Union. After enjoying several innocent and amusing games refreshments were served. All who were present had a delightful time and the occasion will be remembered by those present for some time to come.

The B. Y. P. U. expects to have more socials of this kind in the future.

REPORT COTTON GINNED IN CHILTON COUNTY

The report of the census bureau sent out on October 4, 1920 given the following figures relative to the ginning of cotton in Chilton County this season.

Number of bales ginned prior to September 25, 1920 was 843;

Number of bales ginned prior to September 25, 1919 was 2,049.

By comparison of these figures it will be seen that from some cause or other, there are not nearly so many bales ginned this year as there were at the same date last year. There is either a great falling off of production this year, or else the people are not hurrying ginning.

Farm Tractor

Henry Ford is Hand in Hand With the Farmer

Mr. Ford has always shown an unusual interest in the welfare of the farmers, and at this critical time in the history of the world he has shown his deep concern in the prosperity of the farmers by declaring that "War prices are no longer necessary." He has reduced price of Fordson Tractors and all Ford productc back to the pre-war figures, and still offers "SERVICE" to the Fordson owners.

When Mr. Ford set about building the Fordson tractor he had a thorough understanding of just what it should be and what it shohuld do. His early life on the farm gave him a deep insight into the daily life of the farmer; his mechanical genius saw the type of tractor needed. He began work on a farm tractor thirty-five years ago, and for more than twelve years he experimented over more than 7,000 acres of land in different kinds of soil, with different crops.

So he built the Fordson. It is so simple that a schoolboy can operate it. It is low in first cost. It is lowest in operating cost and Fordson parts and Fordson service are always to be had promptly from the dealer.

The Fordson is a profitable investment. It can be used every working day in the year. It is an inexpensive power plant that will lighten your farm work. It has proven its worth on more than one hundred thousand farms not onlyl in operating implements in the fields, but also in belt and pulley work. And it doesn't eat when idle.

Don't delay ordering your Fordson tractor. The demand is greater than the supply.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT SHADY GROVE.

The Sunday School Convention at Shady Grove last Sunday was the best that District 5 has ever had.

All the County officers except the Vice-President and the Elementary Superintendent were present. Our new Adult Superintendent, Mr. J. C. Pattillo, gave us a very interesting and instructive address on the organized adult work.

Our Teen-Age Superintendent, Mr. R. L. Duffey, said some wonderful things on what we owe our young people.

Our County President, Prof. J. L. Johnson, was with us. All who have ever heard him know how well he entertained the convention on "Building the Kingdom of God in Our Own Community."

Rev. J. H. Lembrick, after preaching a splendid sermon, gave us a wonderful address on "Importance of Parental Training."

Everything was of the very best, and we were glad to have visitors from District 4. We were invited to meet with Messer's Chapel next time where we expect another good meeting.

Editor Union-Banner:

You may become worried at me for writing so much from this place, but allow me this space please.

I wish to say that I don't think the Registration Board has treated us fair by not coming to our Beat; but that is all right. We will register just the same. I want to say that anyone in our Beat who can't conveniently get a way to go to Clanton to register if they will let me know by Tuesday morning, October 26th I will see that they get a way to go. We will get a truck load and send them. They may think that because we are in the "sticks" we can't come to town, but what it takes to get our women there we have just even got it. Stick to me boys, and let's see that there is not a single one left out. Take all the boys and girls, young and old, and let's keep old Sixteen in front and let the good work pass on. We want to double our vote in this Beat this time by registering our wives and our girls. If we fail to register them they can't vote in November. Come boys, rain or shine, hot or cold. If it is the Lord's will, we will be right there with the goods.

Yours sincerely,

SHOULTS

Literary school will begin here next Monday, October 25th. Every body should send their children the first day and try not let them miss one single day during the school term. One day missed means that some lessons have been missed that might have been of great benefit to the child. Parents should visit the school. Show your child that you are interested in the teacher. Alwayss praise the teacher before your children, this helps to make the child love and respect the teacher. Mr. Howard Oden is principal, Mrs. Bessie Garner assistant. Both reside in this community. They are enthusiastic workers for the upbuilding of a community, and we feel that this session will be a great success. But the parents must cooperate with them if they expect success.

Mr. Mack Oden received, one day last week, a telegram stating that his son, Lee Roy, who had a position some place in the north, was dead. As yet the body has not been received, tho it is expected this week. The facts concerning the death have not been learned. We will probably know by next week the facts. There are many friends of this young man who are grieved to hear this sad news. He made friends every where he went.

Mr. C. T. Walker reported a nice time at the association last week.

Mr. Davis King, of Camden, Ala., visited Mr. Perry Hicks last Sunday night. Mr. King was en-route from Tuscaloosa to Camden, his home town. He says the roads are in bad condition in some places between Tuscaloosa and Camden.

Mr. George Lawrence and sister, Myrtle from Plantersville spent a few days of last week with their cousins, Mr. Martin, and Miss Drucilla Lawrence.

Miss Myrtle Lawrence spent Friday night with Miss Lucy Walker.

Miss Eva Hall, who has been nurse for Miss Pearl Kelley during her illness, was back to teach her Sunday School class again last Sunday, after being absent for several Sundays. She said Miss Pearl Kelley is doing nicely now. Her friends hope to see her out soon.

Mr. Freeman Sewell is visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Sewell.

Many of the ladies from this community went to Maplesville last Friday and registered. They want to give Judge Reynolds their support in his candidacy for the U. S. Senate, also for Warren G. Harding for President and Calvin Coolidge for Vice President. Women are asked in this campaign to vote for the Democratic candidate for president, because he is pledged to the Treaty of Versailles and the covenant for a league of nations. They are told it is a covenant of peace that will end all war. Four years ago the same party asked for votes for the Democratic president because "He kept us out of War." He got the votes and five months later the United States entered the world war. We will vote the Republican ticket. Let Congress in each case of war decide what to do, without a pledge in advance.

MUSIC RECITAL & HALLOWEEN STUNTS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Friday Night, October 29th.

At 7:45, p.m. Friday, October 29, the music pupils of the Chilton County High School will render a short program. This entertainment will be free and everybody is most cordially invited. Following the program a good time Halloween party will be enjoyed by all present. A genuine Halloween frolic will be indulged in. Come have your fortune told. Try your luck at fishing, comunicate with the uncanny spirits. In this age of enlightenment, of course, no sensible person believes in witches, but still we follow out many old rites and customs merely through a spirit of fun and jollity. Sandwiches, hot chocolate, punch, candies and other confectioneries will also be sold by the high school girls. Come. Let's make this a big get-together and get acquainted meeting.

NO REASON AT ALL.

Our friend Ira Champion of the Governor's office has gone back into the newspaper game, starting up the Citizen-Examiner at Hayneville in Lowndes county. He begins his latest editorial venture with a long exhortation to the people to vote for Cox, setting out as the main reason the promulgation of the Federal Reserve Banking System by the Democrats.

To our way of thinking, it is idle folly to tell the people of the South that they should vote the Democratic ticket because the Democrats have made the Federal Reserve Banks.But if you think the Reserve Banks are such a great thing for the Southern farmers, Ira, just go ahead and tell us how the cotton growers were benefitted this year by the great Reserve Banks. Do you think the cotton growers got enough assistance from the Reserve Banks to cause them to vote the Democratic ticket on the strength of it?

We don't think so.

Now you may say, like the other Democrats who have been put in the nine-hole on this Federal Reserve argument, that it was not within the legal province of the banks to help the farmers with their cotton. Well, if the banks can't help the Southern farmers with their cotton crops, how in the name of high heaven do you figure that the farmers ought to fall over themselves to vote for the daddies of the banks?

Maybe you want them to vote for Cox on the promise that is being published now, saying that the Federal Reserve Banks are going to be revised a little bit so they can help us out with our cotton. But that is all rot. The South is not going to get anything from Washington that is worth anybody's vote, so long as we bear the political stigma of the solid Democratic South.

A LITTLE BIT OF NEWS FROM "THE WILDERNESS"

Mr. J. M. Willis, of the Poplar Springs Community, was in the office last week, and handed us a little item for publication. It follows:

Our school is going along fine with Prof. Davis Principal, and Miss Janie Taylor assistant. We are proud to have Miss Taylor back with us again.

Yours for education,

LIBERTY HILL SINGING

The singing society at this place met Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17. A number of visitors were present whom we were glad to have with us. The singing was opened with a song by Prof. C. C. Parrish.

Directors for the afternoon were Profs. C. C. Parrish, Zack Lowery, Glover Smith, and Misses Grace Foshee Lillian Smith, and Claudie Smith. Organists were C. C. Parrish, Misses Zelma Lowery and Marie Norris. We will not have any Sunday school Sunday morning on account of the singing convention at Clanton.—Sec'y.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

All pupils are busy preparing for the second month examinations.

Foot Ball Team Wins.

On last Friday our Foot Ball Team accompanied by a few students, left for a game with the Wetumpka Aggies.

In the first quarter both teams played hard. Chilton came near to crosssing the goal line, but was held within two feet of the goal on fourth down.

In the first part of the second quarter Gardner came across with a touch down for Chilton, which was the only touch down of the entire game. Reynolds kicked good for Chilton.

The final score was Chilton 7, and Wetumpka 0.

Girls Athletics.

The girls have arranged to order a basket ball this week. Practice will begin Monday, and games will be arranged with other High Schools soon.

Chilton vs. Marbury.

A game between the Chilton team and Marbury has been scheduled for Friday, Oct. 22, on Chilton grounds. It is hoped that a large crowd will be present to back up the Chilton team.

Literary Societies.

Exceptionally good programs were rendered by each society Friday afternoon.

The program for the Tutwiler:

1—Song, "Old Folks at Home."
2—All business.
3—Reading, by Willie Higgins.
4—Current Events, Joe Ben Downs
5—Reading by Joe Hester.
6—Piano Solo, Edna Kemp.
7—Story, Alice Crumpton.
8—Debate, Cox vs. Harding. The side of Cox was represented by Leon Evans and Louise Popwell. Harding by Lera Johnson and Lincoln DeVaughn.
9—Jokes, Jack Hayes.
10—Decision of the judges in the debate was rendered in favor of the affirmative.

Lanierian program:

1—All business.
2—Reading, Charles Moore.
3—Reading, Gladys Kemp.
4—Story, Lena Nelson.
5—Debate, "Resolved that Washington was more use to his country than Lincoln." Affirmative, Lois Ray and Willie Murphy; negative by Claudie Pipes and Louise Connatser.
6—Current events, Stanley Milsap.
7—Jokes, Udauh Curlee.
8—The decision of the judges in the debate was in favor of the negative.

Very interesting programs have been arranged by both societies for Friday, Oct. 22.

"I have," she answered, looking at him steadily in the eye, but speaking with a slight tremor in her tones. I wondered to what it might be due. Was it because she feared the consequences of the revelation as to her identity, or was it that she feared she might be trapped by his questions?

"Now tell me, Mrs. Moore," he shot at her explosively, "who really murdered Daisy Lutan?"

"Henry Kent," she answered quickly, before the district attorney had time to stop her.

"What's this?" exclaimed the judge. "What did you say?"

"Object! object!" vociferated the district attorney, striving in vain to catch the attention of the judge presiding. McGregor, apparently well satisfied with the results of his question, stood there, smiling assurance at me.

"Young woman," directed the judge, "will you kindly repeat your last statement—louder. Who did you say killed Daisy Lutan?"

The girl turned to face the judge. Her lips were set as if she had determined to carry out some fixed plan, cost what it might.

"Daisy Lutan," she repeated, "was murdered by Henry Kent, who owns the Granddeck. He's really Orville Granders, the bank president who got away with eight hundred thousand dollars and was sent up for seventeen years."

There was a commotion in the rear of the courtroom. A dapper little old gentleman with neatly trimmed white whiskers rose hastily and made a dash for the door. Gorman, who had been sitting behind him, sprang after him and pinioned him by the arms:

"Nothing doing, Granders. I've got you."

Wick, sitting up near the counsel table, at the same time showed evidence that he, too, was contemplating hasty flight, but a husky chap whom I suspected of being one of Gorman's aides, seized him, too.

"Your honor," cried my counsel, "I demand the issuance of warrants at once for Orville Granders, alias Henry Kent, and his confederate, James Wilson, alias James Wick and 'Stuffy Jim,' on the charge of having murdered Daisy Lutan and Rufus Gaston. I further urge the immediate release of my client, Mr. Spalding Nelson, in my custody. Testimony that we already have obtained will establish that he was an innocent victim of the dastardly plots of these two ex-convicts."

The reaction that came from this sudden clearing of my name left me in a puzzled daze from which I hardly recovered until late that evening, when, once more free, I found myself in the Gaston apartment. Granders, his tool, Wick, and practically every employee of the Granddeck were under arrest, and warrants were out for other members of the band whose identity had been revealed by the former telephone girl.

And there in the apartment with me were my mother, Gorman, McGregor—and to my surprise and delight, Barbara Bradford. After her sister's wedding, it appeared, Barbara's mother had gone away for a brief rest, leaving her alone in the apartment with the servants. She had welcomed the opportunity to work undisturbed on the mystery that had landed me behind the bars. Thinking that at Rufus Gaston's funeral she might pick up some clue that would be of service in unraveling the tangled skein that held her and me together, she had gone thither, and seeing my mother there, and suspecting at once who she might be, had introduced herself. Quickly they had become good friends and she it was who had informed my mother of my plight.

Present also with us, despite the lateness of the hour, was the district attorney and two of his aides, and Nellie Kelly, or as she much preferred to be called, Mrs. Moore. The girl was technically a prisoner, but her services in bringing the real criminals to book had been so exceptional that she had been released on her own recognizance. Hither she had been brought that the district attorney might check up with her the marvelous tale of criminal conspiracy that she had unfolded to my counsel in the brief recess of the court that day.

Orville Granders, it appeared, had been the master-mind that had directed all the plotting. A score of years before he had been president of one of the metropolis' biggest banks. He had been discovered to have embezzled nearly a million dollars. He had been tried and sentenced to seventeen years' imprisonment, but no one ever had been able to find what he had done with the money, so safely had he hidden it away.

In his long years in prison, associating daily with criminals of the worst sort, and listening to their plans for further crime on their release, his own criminal instincts, already developed, had grown stronger, and he had spent his time planning a new system of crime of which he was to be the head, using as his confederates certain evildoers with whom he had become acquainted in prison. When he had been released he had slipped quietly away to the West and lived in close retirement until he had been forgotten. The white whiskers he had grown so changed his appearance, too, that he had little fear of being recognized. Recovering such part of the stolen money as was left to him, he had come to New York in the guise of a prosperous Western investor and, purchasing a plot of land, had erected the Granddeck apartments, designed for the occupancy of the wealthiest class of tenants.

In this building, sitting like a little white spider in his web, he planned to prey secretly on all who came to live there. Every attendant in the building was either a criminal or an associate of criminals, reporting to him daily all that went on, and obeying his orders implicitly. A special switchboard in his apartment enabled him to listen in at will on all telephone conversations that went on. Every letter delivered at the Granddeck went through his hands before reaching the tenants. For every wall safe in the building he held a master combination and his pass-key would unlock every door there was. And in addition to all this—

HE HAD BUILT A SECRET PASSAGEWAY.

We found it that night and explored it, familiarizing ourselves with all its exits, greatly to the amazement and confounding of Gorman. Connecting with the service elevator by a masked opening, it ran along the hall of each apartment, with entrances concealed in wall panels. It enabled Granders to wander at will through the apartments at night, leaving mysterious notes to terrify his tenants, prying into the secrets hidden in their wall safes, listening when he chose to their most private conversations, examining the contents of their pockets. As he had planned from the beginning, he gained in this way much information that he was able to utilize to his financial profit without arousing suspicion. He had discovered, Mrs. Moore said, secret stock market movements one of his tenants was planning and had made a small fortune out of the advance information. Several injudicious women he had successfully blackmailed, turning over to agents who never came near the Granddeck the secrets he learned from letters he opened and telephone conversations he had listened to.

In the case of Rufus Gaston, he had plotted to steal the Gaston pearls, Mrs. Moore explained, first terrifying the old couple into leaving the apartment, the whispers that had been heard coming of course from the secret passageway.

"But I can't understand," I said, "why, after he had once got hold of the pearls in Mr. Gaston's absence, he should have restored them to their hiding place."

"He had a duplicate made of phony pearls," explained Mrs. Moore. "It was part of his plan not to have any of the tenants discover the thefts for a long time after they occurred."

"If he was so cautious," said the district attorney, "I am puzzled as to why he killed Miss Lutan and Mr. Gaston. He must have realized that both murders would be thoroughly investigated."

"Both were accidents, so to speak," the girl explained. "Each of them surprised him in their apartment, and he had to kill them to make his getaway. I suppose he had been roaming around so much he had got careless."

He Had Built a Secret Passageway.

"How about the revolver?" asked Gorman. "How did he come to plant it in Nelson's room?"

"He was puzzled by Mr. Nelson butting in on the Bradford case, and it made him sore. I heard him and Wick talking about it one day, and he said that he'd teach Mr. Nelson not to interfere. 'How?' asked Wick. 'I'll frame him for the goat if anything happens.'"

"And was it he who had me discharged from my office?" I asked, eagerly.

"Sure it was. He wrote a note on Mr. Gaston's stationery saying that you had forged a check after he had befriended you. He wrote in the letter that he was not going to prosecute you because of your mother, but that he felt that you were unworthy of employment anywhere."

"I believe," said the district attorney, "that that clears everything up, except for one thing—why, Mrs. Moore, did you aid him and Wick in all these crimes?"

"He promised that if I would help him he would get Eddie out," she cried. "I was desperate. I'd do anything to get my husband back."

Gorman and the district attorney exchanged meaning glances. While nothing more was said, I felt sure as they departed that both were thinking that this brave young woman who had solved the mystery for them certainly deserved some reward, and I think we all realized that the only reward life ever could hold for her was the freedom of her husband.

Presently they went and left us alone, Gorman, my mother, Barbara, and I.

"There are still two things I cannot understand," I said, as we sat talking it over. "The first is"—and I turned to Barbara—"what was your sister doing in this apartment on the night of the first murder? When I came up from the Lutan apartment I caught her just coming out of my door. I could not help wondering if they had made her plant the revolver."

Barbara started up, blushing.

"Oh, no," she cried, "it was nothing like that. You remember a few moments before you and I had been in your room, looking at the secret pas-

"If Only I Had Something to Offer You Besides My Love!"

sageway. Claire just then had come into my room looking for me. She was puzzled by my absence, and the only solution that came to her was that I must be in your rooms. Alarmed at what she considered my imprudence, she had slipped out into the hall, and seeing your door open, had investigated. Of course she did not find me, for I had returned by way of the window ledge. She told me about it the night before she was married. I don't wonder, though, that you suspected her."

"I didn't suspect her," I cried. "I just wondered what she had been doing there."

"That's right," said Gorman. "He wouldn't believe for a minute that she had had anything to do with it."

"But what puzzles me most," I went on, "is how you ever persuaded the telephone girl to give Granders away. It must have been done after she had given her first testimony. How did it happen that she changed so suddenly over to our side?"

As I looked from one to the other for an explanation, Gorman burst out laughing.

"You'll have to ask Miss Bradford about that," he said. "She did it all."

I turned again to look at Barbara, expecting her to speak, but she merely blushed and was silent.

"Go on, tell me," I urged her.

"Well," she said hesitatingly, "as I heard her testifying, I had an inspiration. I heard her say that she loved her husband, and that she did not care who knew it—and—and—and—all at once I realized that love was the strongest influence in the world, so I had Mr. McGregor ask for an adjournment, and then—"

She stopped in confusion, the rosy blushes once more mantling her cheeks.

"Go on," I insisted.

"I can't tell it," she cried.

"You must tell," I urged. "I have a right to know it. What did you do?"

"I managed to see her alone."

Again she hesitated.

"What did you say to her?" I demanded.

"I just told her," she faltered, lowering her eyes as she spoke, "that—that I loved you just as much as she loved her husband, and I begged her for love's sake not to help send you to the chair, and she broke down and told everything."

"Oh, Barbara, my Barbara!" I cried, springing up and clasping her in my arms. "If only I had something to offer you besides my love—"

"I wouldn't worry about that just now, Spalding," interrupted my mother's voice. "They found your great-uncle's will today. He made you his sole heir."

But Barbara and I hardly heeded her good news. We were too busy telling each other the world-old story.

[THE END.]

Formation of Asbestos.

Asbestos is found in fissures of rock and it is believed that, when the rock was forming and still hot, water penetrated the fissures, widened them and dissolved some of the silica and magnesia. On drying, these crystallized as a hydrated silicate of magnesia, forming threadlike crystals building up from opposite walls of the fissure and meeting in the middle.

FREEDOM FOR ARAB WOMEN

May Go Forth to Shop in the Business District Like the European Women.

While the Arabs of Algeria, in turbans and gracefully draped burnouses come out from their silently swinging doors, and with their staffs stroll into the European quarter of the city to buy food at some French shop, the Arab women who leave the Kasbah, the native quarter, are now enjoying a newer freedom.

The war has done it. The women are now allowed to go to other places than the baths and the cemeteries, the two traditional rendezvous where their husbands heretofore permitted them to gather. Many sally forth to shop in the downtown district like the European women. Some go to take tea at a fashionable French pastry shop, where they take off their veils, safe from the sight of Mohammedan men, and eat sweet cakes the Christians make. Then they put on their veils again, and, "shrouded in white mystery," go home to their hidden doors. Veiled to the eyelashes in "haicks" as white as snow, they undulate slowly in the billowy, baggy trousers of 1,000 folds, and pass into the heavy wooden doors, brass studded, that swing noiselessly shut.—Century Magazine.

The Best Thing He Did.

A melancholy looking man tetered into the establishment of a photographer.

"I should like to have a picture of myself weeping beside my wife's grave," he explained.

"I fear I have not the necessary accessories here," said the photographer. Then he added, facetiously: "Couldn't we arrange to have the portrait made at the grave itself?"

"No," said the man; "that's in New York state. It would be too expensive to go there. Just you fix up some kind of a grave here in the shop. I could weep on that. It's no trouble for me to weep anywhere."—Everybody's Magazine.

Rubbing It In.

Sternly the prosecuting counsel cross examined the witness for the defense. At last the latter got so confused that instead of replying audibly to one question he nodded his head.

Whereupon the counsel demanded sternly:

"Why don't you answer the question?"

"I did answer it," the witness replied, "I nodded my head."

"Yes," was the retort, "I heard it rattle, but could not tell whether it was up or down or from side to side."

Skin Sufferers Do Not Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and other lo- cal remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritations cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and routs out the germs which cause the trouble.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Ad- viser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlan- ta, Ga.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held at the general election in November, 1920; and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election together with the proposed amend- ment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Ala- bama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general elec- tion in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the quali- fied electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places re- quired by law, upon the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Section 93. The State shall not engage in works of internal improve- ment nor lend money or its credit in aid of such, nor shall the State be interested in any private or corporate enterprises or lend money or its credit to any individual association or corporation, provided that the State may under appropriate laws cause the net proceeds from the con- vict fund to be applied to the con- struction, repair and maintenance of public roads in the State, and the legislature may also make additional appropriations for that purpose; and, provided further, that the foregoing prohibitions shall not apply to the promotion, development or operation of harbors or seaports within the State or its jurisdiction, provided, further, that any such work or im- provements shall always be and re- main under the management and control of the State through its State Harbor Commission or other govern- ing agency and provided further that the adoption of this amendment shall not affect any other amendment to the Constitution which may be adopt- ed pursuant to any resolution of this session of the Legislature."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunton set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

Here are the facts about Amendment Number Two

1. It applies only to Jefferson County.
2. It merely permits her citizens to decide whether they will make permanent the improve- ment of the railroad, loading and shipping facilities on the Warrior-Tombigbee River sys- tem.
3. It adds no burden either on the state treasury or on any tax- payer.
4. It means a 20% saving in freight rates to shippers in nearly ev- ery section of Alabama.

"Section 1. The several counties in the State shall have power to levy and collect a special county road tax not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties in addition to that now authorized or that may hereafter be authorized for public road purposes; provided, that of such tax, the time it is to continue and the purpose thereof shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county, and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election.

"Section 2. The funds arising from the special county road and bridge tax levied and collected by any coun- ty shall be apportioned and expended by the courts of county commission- ers or boards of revenue of such county in the following manner, to- wit: Fifty per cent of said taxes levied and collected shall be used for maintenance of roads and bridges, and the remaining part shall be used in constructing roads, bridges, cul- verts, etc., as such boards of revenue or courts of county commissioners may direct.

"Section 2½. Twenty-five per centum of all moneys derived from property lying within municipalities and aris- ing from the tax proposed herein shall be paid to such municipality and shall by it, be expended for up- keep of its streets.

"Section 3. That the court of coun- ty commissioners, boards of revenue, or other governing body of such county may, or upon written peti- tion of ten per centum of the quali- fied voters of any county shall call and submit said election provided for and authorized by sections one and two hereof to the qualified elec- tors of such county either at the same time of the general election, or at a special election called for that purpose; provided, that said election shall be called and held in accord- ance with the law now or that may hereafter be enacted governing coun- ty bond elections, and in conformity with the general election laws of the State."

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sour stomach, tor- pid liver and feverish colds . ." declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder. I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sick- ness it has saved us."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary O. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

BEAT 16 TO THE FRONT

We are pleased to note the determination that exists in Beat 16 for the registration of their women voters. The people in that Beat have even been conscientious and consistent believers in the Republican party, and their loyalty to same has been attested by a regular expression of their suffrage for the Republican candidates. We are glad to know that the good women of the Beat are going to add their strength to that of the men and increase the percentage of Republicanism in Beat 16.

Our correspondent from there this week says he thinks in fairness to the women of the Beat, the Board of Registrars should have come there on their round of the county. But he does not waste any words arguing that question, proceeding into the expression of a rigid determination to bring the women to Clanton and register them.

The editor of The Union-Banner and Mr. M. D. Foshee likewise thought the registrars ought to go to Beat 16 and offered them every inducement to get them to go, but the board did not see fit to do so. Now, there is no use to argue with them. Beat 16 has decided rightly. The thing to do is to bring the women here and register them.

We are banking on you men and women of Sixteen! We want to see you maintain your ancient prestige as the banner Republican Beat of the County. The men have kept the record up to now. The women will join them here and keep it together in the future.

Come on to Clanton and register. If you can't come, just say the word and there will be a way provided to get you here and carry you back home.

Hurrah for Beat 16!

A DEVIOUS DOCUMENT

President Wilson declares that the people of the country are being deceived regarding the provisions of the league of nations. Well, why don't he make the language so clear that no one could be in doubt as to the meaning? If the covenant is so uncertain that the people of the country can be deceived by Americans, it is uncertain enough to involve us in trouble when foreign nations begin to interpret it in their own interests and try to hold us to its terms.

MARRIED FIVE TIMES

REGISTRARS IN CLANTON.

Beginning on Tuesday of this week the Board of Registrars of Chilton County will sit at the court house for the purpose of registering the women of the county. Any woman from any Beat in the County can register at the court house any day from now, including the 26th. Those women who would vote on November 2 this year must come and register before the night of the 26th, or else they can not vote.

UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

At the Bryce Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Alabama, the Training School for Nurses has been reorganized. The services of a specialy trained lady Superintendent of the School has been secured. Her teaching and that of a trained dietitian have been added to the courses of lecture given by the medical and surgeon staff. A complete course of training in nurse and dietitics, conforming to the standards of the National Association is to be given.

A number of vacancies are now available to ambitious, industrious young women of advanced or moderate education furnishing the required references as to character, reputation, good health, etc.

Pupil nurses get living, laundry and salary while in training, more than any other schools offer.

School opens early in November. We have also a few vacancies for young men attendants. Apply to the Superintendent.

WOMEN REGISTERING

The registration of women has been equal to if not more than that which was expected before the board of registrars began their rounds of the county.

The following are the figures for those who have registered at the various places where the registrars have been:

Thorsby,	197
Providence (Bt. 13)	29
Jemison,	144
Union Grove,	76
Cane Creek,	43
Cooper,	115
Stanton,	7
Enterprise	26
Pletcher,	46
Maplesville,	63
Benson,	21
Verbena,	90
Mt. Creek,	45
Total,	902

These figures include registration up to Monday night. Tuesday there were 43 women who registered at the court house in Clanton.

R. L. Clark of Mt. Creek was a visitor to Clanton on Monday.

UNCLE DOCK WELLS SAYS:

He is in no sense a politician nor does he care to make any attempt to forecast the future either politically or otherwise, but that the experience of his long years as an humble minister of God has thoroughly convinced him that in the Bible can always be found a way bill to guide our footsteps safely here and to land us at last in a happier land to come.

In view of the great and universal unrest and discontent that is presaging calamitous times for our country and the entire world at present, he suggests that every one and especially the rich mercantile, banking and industrial class, read and ponder carefully and prayerfully the Fifth Chapter of Nehemiah and Fifth Chapter of James. Get your Bible, or borrow one, and take time from the counting of your profits to read these two passages fairly and honestly, and then see what you think about it. These words of God will stand when all your silver and gold has been burned up. Let all read the above scriptures and ponder them well, and surely we will exclaim, "My God, my God, is there no help for the poor distressed farmers, and especially the widows and orphans?"

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ORGANIZED AT THORSBY

One of Thorsby's progressive citizens informs the Banner that a live wide-awake Chamber of Commerce has been organized in that little city, and that they "expect to have a strong organization and also expect to do some great things for Thorsby and Chilton County."

There is no doubt but that the possibilities for such an organization at Thorsby are good, and there is much room for the same to reach out and benefit the entire county. We have to admit that Thorsby is about the most wide-awake town in the county, and it would be no surprise to see her walk away with big advantages from the Chamber of Commerce. If Clanton don't wake up we may expect some day to see those Thorsby fellows start a movement to locate the court house there and take it away from us.

The Witches and Wizards will meet at the Chilton County High School on Friday, October 29th, at 7:45, p.m. So, don't be late.

ODD FELLOWS HALL BURNED

Mr. J. S. Headley of Billingsley brings us the information that the Odd Fellows Hall of Mayflower Lodge No. 417 at New Cedron was destroyed by fire at midnight last Tuesday night. There had been meeting of the lodge in the hall that night, and the fire occurred after all the members had gone home. The building was completely destroyed, together with all its contents, and property of the Lodge. The property carried insurance for $1,000, and the loss to the lodge will be about $2500, according to Mr. Headley.

The New Cedron church building nearby was not damaged.

Mr. E. L. Jones of Corinth was a visitor to Clanton last Thursday. He made the Union-Banner a present of some nice Ben Davis apples of his own growing and also a pocket full of chinquapins.

PLEASANT GROVE.

The Singing Society met here Sunday p.m. and showed marked progress in singing. The crowd was not as large as we have had, but the singing was excellent.

Prof. James Franklin led the songs, and Mrs. Eddie Childress was organist for the occasion.

There were no visitors this time, but we hope to have other societies with us next time, which will be the first Sunday afternoon in November. We know that in unity there is strength, and also beauty.

We realize that music makes sad hearts glad, and cheers lonely souls when many other things fail.

We cannot imagine an education of man without music. It is the gymnastics of the affections. In suitable connection with exercises—it is necessary to keep body and soul in a healthy condition. One of the sweetest singers was the Psalmist David. He said "I will sing of the mercies of the Lord forever. With my mouth will I make known my faithfulness to all generations."

The more real singing we have, the more happiness we will have.

Mr. John D. Martin of Wetumpka was a visitor to friends in Clanton Sunday.

A LETTER OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST AND THE REPLY

The Following Correspondence is of Vital Interest to Every Telephone User, Present and Prospective.

"New Orleans, La., October 12, 1920.

Mr. J. Epps Brown, President,
Bell Telephone Co.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—

I have read the advertisements of your Company, but I do not understand why you must raise your rates now, when the prices of every thing else are falling.

Will you please explain this?

Yours truly,

....."

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 16, 1920.

Mr. .....,
New Orleans, La.,

Dear Sir:-

Your letter of October 12th asks a very natural question, and one which demands a full and frank reply, which I am glad to make.

While the prices of a great many things have, apparently, been reduced, these reductions in prices do not apply to articles used by the telephone company, or affect the expenditures necessary to the construction, maintenance and operation of the telephone plant.

The following classes of expenses constitute more than ninety-five per cent of the cost of furnishing telephone service:

Labor.

More than fifty-five per cent of the total expenditures of the company in rendering service are for wages and salaries; less than one-tenth of one per cent. of this being for executive and general salaries.

The wages paid to our employees can not, and should not, be reduced. On the contrary, they must be increased, in many cases, to bring our wage scale on a level with wages paid by unregulated businesses, so that we may retain our skilled employees necessary to give you efficient service.

Material and Apparatus.

Many items of material and apparatus are involved in the current maintenance of the property, entirely apart from the enormous quantities involved in the construction of new property, and this represents a large item of expense.

There has been no reduction, nor any indication of reduction, in the price of these essential articles, in practically all of which the labor, the freight and hauling cost is by far the largest proportion of the total cost.

We know that the manufacturers of telephone equipment and material have orders for two years in advance with a constantly increasing demand, and which in turn makes a reduction in price in the near future most improbable.

Freight and Passenger Costs.

Our annual expense for the transportation of freight and passengers is more than one million dollars. No one expects the railroads to reduce their charges under the level of costs in rendering their service.

Rent.

Except in the larger centers our central offices and stocks of material are housed in rented buildings, and even in the larger centers we rent varying amounts of properties.

Like everyone else, our rents have been greatly increased, with no prospect of any reduction. Even in prewar days all leases for property occupied by us were renewed only at higher charges than for the previous rental period.

Hotels.

The board and lodging bill for our men who must travel in connection with the operation and maintenance of the property, costs many thousands of dollars every year, and we can see no prospects of the hotels lowering their charges. Until they do we must pay the present high charges.

Electric Power and Light; Street Car Fare.

We spend many thousands of dollars every year for these services rendered to employees engaged in the maintenance of the property. Practically every year the rates charged by these companies have been substantially increased, and there is no thought of any reduction. The Telephone Company, like all others, must pay these increased rates.

Paper, Printing and Stationery.

We consume tons of paper for our book-keeping, correspondence and directory purposes, and pay many thousands of dollars for printing annually. This item of expense has increased in percentage, more than the others, and no one has suggested that any reduction in these costs is probable.

Coal Bill.

The Telephone Company purchases coal in large quantities to heat the buildings occupied by its employees in rendering the service.

We, of course, must pay whatever price is necessary to secure coal for this purpose.

Insurance.

Even where the actual rate per one thousand dollars has not been increased, we are compelled to carry a larger amount of insurance than in the prewar days in order to protect ourselves in the reproduction of any of the property which may be destroyed by fire, and this is reflected in a very large increase in the total insurance bill.

Taxes.

This expense, both Federal, State, County and City, has increased every year we have been in business; the increase this year being unusually high. There is no probability of this expense being reduced.

We do not pay any excess profit tax because we have never earned enough to be subject to that tax.

Buildings.

It is common knowledge that the cost of erecting any kind of building now as well as making alterations and repairs, which constantly confront the Telephone Company, and which involve material, labor, freight and hauling, is on an enormously higher plane than ever before. Insofar as the cost of materials may be reduced will this total cost be reduced.

The only way we can furnish adequate facilities for your use from year to year is by constructing the buildings in which to house the central office apparatus in the larger centers; as well as enlarging existing buildings to serve the increased needs and this work must be carried on from year to year without delay. This involves hundreds of thousands of dollars in expense to the Company.

There are of course many other items of expense all of which are now at the highest level in prices, and none of which show any sign of reduction for fundamental reasons.

Until these necessary costs of operation are materially reduced we can not reduce the COSTS of furnishing telephone service.

We have carefully studied and analyzed the advertised reduction in prices and find that they are upon articles of which we make but little, if any use. Applied to the Telephone business, all known reduction in prices would not reduce the cost of furnishing telephone service one-twentieth of one per cent.

This is many times offset by the increase in wages which, in many places, we must make during the current year.

Our present operating revenues are practically equaled by our operating expenses. If the present let down in general business continues for any appreciable time we will lose a material part of the gross revenue now received, which will make a still higher rate necessary if a deficit is to be avoided.

We are not asking higher rates for the SAME SERVICE we furnished one, two or five years ago; but for a MUCH GREATER SERVICE which we now furnish, consisting of facilities to add many additional telephones to our system during the past one, two and five years.

This fact should be considered when comparing the increase in rates we ask with the increase in charges of railroad, epress and other public utilities for the same quantity of service.

We hope, as everyone does, that in the relatively near future, prices and the costs of operation, except labor, will be lower but we see no immediate prospects of this result as far as the Telephone Company is concerned.

The increased rates we are now asking are based, in a measure, upon this hope. If the present level of costs of operation go higher through causes beyond our control, the proposed rates will not yield a fair profit.

It is important to remember that no rate for a public utility is permanent. If conditions and prices so change in the future as to make the rates we are now asking yield too high a return, and if the Telephone Company should not reduce the rates voluntarily, the Public Service Commission would.

Conditions as they are must be met, not as they may or should be.

The highest and best interest of the public is conserved in having the Telephone Company in position to supply facilities adequate to the demand for telephones and service, and in this way be prepared to render at all times an adequate service. No community can expand and grow without adequate telephone service, which in turn means adequate plant facilities.

With inadequate returns upon the bare cost of the physical property already in service,—the Company's credit has disappeared.

With no credit the Company cannot secure the millions of dollars required to provide the additions and extensions to its plant, which must be provided if the public demand for telephones is supplied.

Respectfully yours,

DON'T YOU KNOW WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH YOU

WHEN YOU FEEL OUT OF SORTS AND SEE THINGS WITH A DULL EYE.

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings, Lowered Vitality, Need More Red Blood.—Take Pepto-Mangan.

So many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorow."

And tomorow comes again and again. Still they feel depressed and languid. Scarcely able to gea about.

If you don't feel like yourself you are not yourself. If you are weak and pale your blood needs strengthening. You should know about Pepto-Mangan that famous blood tonic. Physicians recommend and prescribe it because it contains the ingredients needed to make red blood. It renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it to-day. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid. Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name "Gude's Pepto Mangan," is on the package.—Adv.

Only One Thing Now Lacking ---Money

Wednesday Card Club Meets.

On last Wednesday a most enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Macy Jones, when she entertained the Wednesday Card Club and a few extra guests. The apartments were prettily decorated wit hquantities of golden rod. The Halloween idea was conveyed in the score cards.

Ladies Aid Society Meets.

On Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Bowen Jones a most interesting meeting of the Womens Missionary Society was held.

After the business session the Bible study, John 5 and 6 was impressively taught by Mrs. Barney Roberts.

At the conclusioin of the program a lovely salad plate was served to about fifteen guests.

Mrs. Jones was assisted by Mrs. Roper and Mrs. Broadhead.

Pretty Rook Party.

Last Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith was the scene of a pretty party when Mrs. Alverson and Miss Ruth Smith jointly entertained a number of the younger set at a progressive rook party.

The highest score was held by Miss Wesley, who was presented a box of home-made candy.

Late in the afternoon the hostesses served delicious chocolate and cake to a congenial party of young folks.

Tuesday Card Club Meets.

Miss Bettie Mullins delightfully entertained the Tuesday Evening Bridge Club. The reception room was made pretty with crystal vases of white chrysanthemums and ferns. Following the game delicious sandwiches and grape nectar was served.

Miss Ethel Sewell and mother left Saturday for a visit to relatives in Birmingham.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, and Mr. Hal de Van Broadhead, spent last Friday and Saturday in Birmingham.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

Gained Ten Pounds

Before Taking ZIRON, Alabama Man Was Weak, Nervous, Had No Appetite, But is Now Strong.

EVERY man and woman, who is in a run-down, weak condition, with bad complexion and poor appetite, due to lack of iron in their blood, should find Ziron helpful and strength-building.

It is a scientific, reconstructive tonic, composed of ingredients recommended by leading medical authorities.

Describing his experience with Ziron, Mr. George W. S. Lanier writes from Jones, Ala.: "Sometime back, I was in a terrible condition. I was weak and nervous, and had a tired feeling all the time. My skin was muddy. I had no appetite, and at morning I didn't feel like getting up. I was reading of Ziron and decided I would try it . . .

"Will say that Ziron is a good medicine. I have gained ten pounds in four months. Am strong and have a good appetite."

Ziron is a mild iron tonic, good for young and old. It helps to restore the system, when run-down by overwork, under-nourishment, caused by stomach or bowel disorders, or as a result of some weakening illness.

A WAY TO WIN

To the land owners and cotton growers of the South:

The time has come when we should stop, think and figure with the man that has been figuring with us all this time. In the year 1914 the farmers took from 5 to 8 cents for their cotton; they haven't raised a crop since. Farmers, can we stand for that any more? I say no.

Now, the question is, what steps are we going to take?

Didn't we appeal to Mr. Wilson for aid in 1914, and he refused? What shall we do to win the price that we ought to have? Aren't there too many living off our cotton? Stop and think! We got from 30 to 40 cents for our last year's cotton, and did not we turn around and give from $2.50 to $6.00 a pound for cotton goods? You will agree that that is out of reason. What must we do if we want 40 cents for this crop? Shall we not say "We must have it?" I think so. But can we get it? Why yes. I say we can. Will you sign an instrument of writing that you will not plant or suffer anyone else to plant a cotton seed on your premises in 1920? Now we have learned by experience that the boll weevil lives solely on the cotton plant, and if we don't raise any cotton we will get rid of them, which will be worth more than the sacrifice, and then some. Now come on farmers, let's go in to win. Think over this and give your opinion in next week's issue of the Union-Banner.

A COTTON RAISER.

Fordson

TRADE MARK

The Fordson Tractor was made to meet the demands and necessities of the every-...American farmer. It was made with the thought that it was the necessity of the ...n of forty acres as well as the man with one thousand acres. It was made not only ...r plowing, harrowing, discing, drilling, seeding, mowing, reaping, but for all other ...rk on the farm where power is necessary. It was made to bring conveniences to ...e farmer's home as well as for the cultivation of his fields. It was made to furnish ...wer for the cream separator, silo filling, cutting feed, sawing wood, furnishing pow-..., for milking, washing, supplying the house with running water, electric lights, and ...e hundred and one things on the farm. It was made to do all this economically and ...n a reliable way. It was made to be the big profitable servant on the farm.

And it has not failed in any of the expectations had for it. It has been tested as no ...ther Tractor has been tested. It has been proven reliable and can furnish proofs im-...ossible to any other Tractor. It has done these things not only in Ameroca but in ...Europe, Asia, Africa, and in the Islands of the Seas. It has met successfully the de-...mands of farmers in every part of the civilized world.

Therefore, the Fordson Tractor can meet all the conditions of your farm. When you buy a Fordson, you are not buying any experiment—you are buying a servant and a money-maker for you that you can depend upon absolutely from the first day you put ...t to work. It is easy to understand. It possesses all the power you want. It is sim-...le in control. It is more flexible than you imagine. It will help you cultivate every ...foot of ground you have, and every day in the year you will find use for it on the ...farm. Its appeal to the farmer is in its dependable service and the wide variety of ...work it can do.

We'd like every farmer that reads this, if he hasn't a Fordson Tractor already, to ...come to us and let us sell him one. Let us demonstrate its powers, its values, on your ...own farm. Let's get into details—power, reliability, economy. While the sale of a ...Tractor gives us a small profit, the purchase of a Tractor to the farmer means a mon-...ey-making servant every day for years. So the sale of a Fordson means more to the ...purchaser than it does to us. We are arguing for your good, Mr. Farmer. Come in ...and talk it over. Your time against ours. Is it worth it?

And remember, when you buy a Fordson Tractor, we are right here to keep that ...Tractor in reliable running condition every day. You won't have to wait if anything ...should get out of order. We are right here to keep it right, because one of the con-...ditions of the Fordson Dealer is that he must keep on hand always a supply of parts. ...This is a guarantee we don't believe you can get with any other Farm Tractor.

Come in. Let's talk it over together.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held on the proclamation of the Governor, and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general election in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz: The Legislature shall have the power to authorize the counties of Alabama which have or which shall have taxable property in such counties of one hundred millions of dollars annually, or more, according to the assessments by such counties for the year 1918, A. D., or according to any assessment hereafter made, to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads, by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise or passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, in aid of intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce; including the dredging, on both banks of the approaches to the water terminals.

Section 2. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize and empower such counties to issue bonds, lend their credit, grant public money, or other thing of value in aid of the internal improvement as described in Section 1 hereof.

Section 3. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize such counties to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in such counties, in addition to the maximum rate of taxation prescribed in the Constituton of Alabama. The funds thus raised are specifically reserved to be applied only to the creation and support of the internal improvement herein and hereby authorized.

Section 4. That all such counties shall have the right, power and authority to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads—by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise and passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilites, within, across or through its own territory or the territory of adjacent counties.

Section 5. That any enactments of the Legislature of Alabama contingent upon the ratification of this amendment to the Constitution of Alabama by the qualified voters of the State, shall be validated and become a force and effect immediately this amendment is so ratified.

Section 6. All such counties of Alabama are hereby authorized and empowered to increase the limit of county indebtedness from 3½ to 4½ per cent of such taxable property.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY,
(Seal) Governor.

By the Governor:
WM. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

WOMEN VOTERS MUST REGISTER BEFORE OCTOBER 26

Under the new election law which was passed by the Legislature recently in special session, and signed by the governor on October 4th, the time set for registering all voters who have become qualified since Jan. 5, 1920 (which includes all women voters) covers the days from now until midnight of Tuesday, October 26th. It will thus be seen that the time is short. Those women who fail to register during this time will have no further opportunity to do so until 1922, unless, at the discretion of their county Board of Commissioners, the books are open for ten days during the month of July, 1921. This is permitted, but is left entirely to the County Commissioners as to whether or not it shall be done.

Rub-My-Tism is a powerful antiseptic; it kills the poison caused from infected cuts, cures old sores, tetter, etc. 8-19-10t

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

REGISTRATION BOOKS OPEN TO WOMEN TILL OCTOBER 26.

For the information of women over the state who perhaps have given the matter little thought till now, it has been considered best to emphasize the fact that the registration books, opened to all voters, including women who can now vote on equal terms with men, will be closed after October 26. This means that time for considering whether they care to vote in the November elections or not is very brief.

By the provisions of the new laws, the registration will be conducted at the various courthouses from October 19 till October 26, inclusive, because the board of registrars must sit at the courthouses during this period. From October 11, however, to October 19, the board of registrars "may sit at such places in the county as it deems most convenient to the public, and best suited to accomplishing the registration of those entitled to register."

The law also requires that due notice shall be given to the public concerning these matters, both by posters and by means of newspapers, where there are papers which can bring the publicity before the people in time to properly inform them. No person can be registered except in the ward or precinct where he or she claims residence.

Some other provisions of the law which may not be generally known to women are those relating to the residential qualifications of prospect voters, the payment of poll taxes, and number of registrars, etc.

Every citizen of the state and the United States and every resident of foreign birth who, before the ratification of the present constitution of the state shall have legally declared his or her intention to become a citizen of the United States, not laboring under legal disabilities, and who is twenty-one years old or older and who shall have resided in this state at least two years, in the county one year, and in the precinct or ward three months immediately preceding the election at which he or she offers to vote, and who shall have duly registered and paid any poll taxes due legally, shall be an elector and shall be entitled to vote at any election.

Women cannot be required to pay poll taxes before February next, for the reason that poll taxes became due on October 1st, at which time the machinery enabling Alabama women to vote had not been completed and set in motion; and poll taxes do not become delinquent, according to the law, till February 1st. After the first day of February and before the first of October, the Tax Collector has no authority to receive and receipt for poll taxes. Women forty-five years of age and over do not pay poll tax.

The number of registrars in each county is three, and they receive their appointment from the governor. Under the law, women can serve on such boards. Two Alabama women have already been named registrars—one in Birmingham and one in Mobile. The compensation of registrars is seven dollars and fifty cents per day.

Women's Last Opportunity Till January, 1922, For Registering and Voting.

Now, one of the most important facts in connection with the whole matter of women voting, is that under the new law, the registration books are closed after October 26, till January, 1922. As a result, women of the state who do not register before the date named or on that date, will be barred from participation in any local elections which may have to be held, pertaining to educational matters, municipal questions, etc., which questions, to the average women, seem of more importance, because of nearness, than general elections. It is true that a special registration is provided for in Section 7, of House Bill 11. In July, 1921, and each succeeding two years thereafter, the Courts of County Commissioners, Boards of Revenue or other courts of like jurisdiction may make an order requiring the books to be opened for ten working days, but it is to be supposed that only a special emergency would cause such action.

So then, the great opportunity for which women of Alabama have waited for decades cannot be theirs in its completeness unless for the brief number of working days between October 11 and October 26, they appear at the various places designated in the newspapers over the state and register.

According to public announcement of Sunday, October 10, the following questions will be asked all women qualifying to vote:

Do you know any reason why you should not be entitled to vote? Are you generally known under the name that you desire to vote under? What is your occupation? Are you married or single? What is your sex? What is your race? What is the name of your husband? Where have you resided for the past five years? During that time by what name have you been known?

ELECTION NOTICE

The State of Alabama,
Chilton County.

I, J. L. Gore, Sheriff of Chilton County, Ala., in conformity with Section 357, page 329, of the Political Code of Alabama, (1907), hereby give notice that a General Election of the qualified voters of Chilton County, Alabama, will be held in the several precincts of said county, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1920, for the election of:—

Twelve Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States; Representative in Congress from the Fourth District of Alabama; one United States Senator from Alabama; two Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of Alabama; one Justice of the Court of Appeals of Alabama; President of the Alabama Public Service Commission; State Commissioner of Conservation; one Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama; A Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama; a Tax Assessor of Chilton County, Alabama; Commissioner from the Third Dustrict of Chilton County, Alabama; Commissioner from Fourth District of Chilton County, Alabama; two members of the School Board of Chilton County, Alabama; a Justice of the Peace of each precinct in Chilton County, Alabama; a Constable for each precinct in Chilton County, Alabama;

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"Section 93. The State shall not engage in works of internal improvement nor lend money or its credit in aid of such, nor shall the State be interested in any private or corporate enterprises or lend money or its credit to any individual association or corporation, provided that the State may under appropriate laws cause the net proceeds from the convict fund to be applied to the construction, repair and maintenance of public roads in the State, and the legislature may also make additional appropriations for that purpose; and, provided further, that the foregoing prohibitions shall not apply to the promotion, development or operation of harbrs or seaports within the State or its jurisdictions, provided further, that any such work or improvements shall always be and remain under the management and control of the State through its State Harbor Commission or other government agency and provided further that the adoption of this amendment shall not affect any other amendment to the Constitution which may be adopted pursuant to any resolution of this session of the Legislature."

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"Section 1. The several counties in the State shall have power to levy and collect a special county road tax not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties in addition to that now authorized or that may hereafter be authorized for public road purposes; provided, that of such tax the time it is to continue and the purpose thereof shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county, and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election. "Section 2. The funds arising from the special county road and bridge tax levied and collected by any county shall be apportioned and expended by the courts of county commissioners or boards of revenue of such county in the following manner, to-wit: Fifty per cent of said taxes levied and collected shall be used for maintenance of roads and bridges and the remaining part shall be used in constructing roads, bridges, culverts, etc., as such boards of revenue or courts of county commissioners may direct. "Section 2½. Twenty-five per cent. of all moneys derived from property lying within municipalities and arising from the tax proposed herein shall be paid to such municipality and shall by it be expended for upkeep of its streets. "Section 3. That the court of county commissioners, boards of revenue, or other governing body of such county may, or upon written petition of ten per centum of the qualified voters of any county shall call and submit said election provided for and authorzed by sections one and two hereof to the qualified electors of such county either by the same time of the general election or at a special election called for that purpose; provided, that said election shall be called and held in accordance with the law now or that may hereafter be enacted governing county bond elections and in conformity with the general election laws of the State."

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"The Legislature shall have the power to authorize the counties of Alabama which have or which shall have taxable property in such counties of one hundred millions of dollars annually, or more, according to the assessments by such counties for the year 1918, A.D., or according to any assessment hereafter made, to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control, and operate highways railroads, by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise or passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, in aid of intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce; including the dredging on both banks of the approaches to the water terminals. "Section 2. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize and ampower such counties to issue bonds, lend their credit, grant public money, or other things of value in aid of the internal improvement as described in Section 1 thereof. "Section 3. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize such counties to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties, in addition to the maximum rate of taxation prescribed in the Constitution of Alabama. The funds thus raised are specifically reserved to be applied only to the creation and support of the internal improvement herein and hereby authorized. "Section 4. That all such counties shall have the right, power and authority to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads—by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise and passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, within, across or through its own territory or the territory of adjacent counties. "Section 5. That any enactments of the Legislature of Alabama contingent upon the ratification of this amendment to the Constitution of Alabama by the qualified voters of the State, shall be validated and become in force and effect immediately after this amendment is so ratified. "Section 6. All such counties of Alabama are hereby authorized and empowered to increase the limit of county indebtedness from 3½ to 4½ per cent of such taxable property."

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. "IF I only had some Sloan's Liniment!" How often you've said that! And then when the rheumatic twinge subsided—after hours of suffering—you forgot it!

Don't do it again—get a bottle today and keep it handy for possible use tonight! A sudden attack may come on—sciatica, lumbago, sore muscles, backache, stiff joints, neuralgia, the pains and aches resulting from exposure. You'll soon find warmth and relief in Sloan's, the liniment that penetrates without rubbing. Clean, economical. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40

SO WEAK LIFE A MISERY

Florida Lady Would Have Aching Pains in Side, Back and Shoulders.—Took Cardui and Soon Noted Great Improvement.

Odessa, Fla.—"About two years ago," writes Mrs. J. D. Powell, of this place, "I took several bottles of Cardui as a tonic, for I was run-down in health. In fact, I could hardly do anything at all; could only drag around and couldn't do my work.

"Life was miserable to me, and I knew I must have some relief, as I was so very weak. I would suffer from aching pains in my right side, back and shoulders. I would have such terrible nervous spells, which would come on me and I would fall down wherever I was standing . . .

"My friends recommended that I try Cardui . . . I began using it and soon saw and felt a great improvement . . . My appetite became good . . . I could rest well at night, and I got so I could do all my housework in a short time. I praise Cardui to all my friends." If you suffer from ailments peculiar to women, it would be well for you to give Cardui a trial. For more than forty years it has proven beneficial to thousands of suffering women, and what it has done for others, it should do for you.

Quickly made friendships are quickly ended.

"DANDERINE"

Girls: Save Your Hair! Make It Abundant!

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.

A 35-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" freshens your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty-tonic" gives to thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All druggists!—Adv.

There doesn't live a man who objects to having nice things said about him.

CASCARETS

"They Work while you Sleep"

Make it your "hobby" to keep liver and bowels regular. If bilious, constipated, headachy, unstrung, or if you have a cold, an upset stomach, or bad breath, take Cascarets tonight and wake up feeling clear, rosy and fit. No griping—no inconvenience. Children love Cascarets too. 10, 25, 50 cents. —Adv.

One to the Sex.

A lady, having left her umbrella in a car, applied for it at the office. "Oh, you ladies, you ladies," said the official in charge, as he brought about thirty umbrellas for her inspection, "you are so terribly forgetful!" The lady smiled as she kindly pointed out to him that, with the exception of three, they were all gentlemen's umbrellas!

The occasional use of Roman Eye Balsam at night upon retiring will prevent and relieve tired, watery eyes, and eye strain.—Adv.

Begin with an umbrella when you begin to lay up something for a rainy day.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

Poor Marksmanship.

Cub Reporter—Don't you think my articles have a lot of fire?

Proofreader—Yes, considerable fire, but no aim.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

No Cause for Kick.

"Oh, my tooth aches dreadfully. I don't see why we can't be born without teeth." "I think, my dear, that if you look up some authority on that point you will find that most of us are!"

MOTHER!

"California Syrup of Figs" Child's Best Laxative

Accept "California" Syrup of Figs only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its fruity taste. Full directions on each bottle. You must say "California."—Adv.

"Pape's Diapepsin" for Indigestion

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest, surest relief for Indigestion, Gases, Flatulence, Heartburn, Sourness, Fermentation or Stomach Distress caused by acidity. A few tablets give almost immediate stomach relief and shortly the stomach is corrected so you can eat favorite foods without fear. Large case costs only 60 cents at drug store. Absolutely harmless and pleasant. Millions helped annually. Best stomach corrective known—Adv.

No, I Can't.

"I can read my wife like a book," bragged Mr. Naybor.

Cuticura Soothes Itching Scalp

On retiring gently rub spots of dandruff and itching with Cuticura Ointment. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Make them your every-day toilet preparations and have a clear skin and soft, white hands.—Adv.

The Autocrat.

"Do you and your wife talk politics at home?"

"Never," replied Mr. Meekton. "We have a perfectly good cook."

"What has that to do with it?"

"We are afraid she might get into the conversation and tell us both how we'll have to vote to keep her from leaving."

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" is genuine Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for over twenty years. Accept only an unbroken "Bayer package" which contains proper directions to relieve Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Colds and Pain. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer packages." Aspirin is trade mark Bayer Manufacture Monaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

No, Hazel, a civil engineer is never the monarch of all he surveys.

USE "DIAMOND DYES"

Dye right! Don't risk your material in a poor dye. Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can diamond-dye a new, rich, fadeless color into old garments, draperies, coverings, everything, whether wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect results are guaranteed. Druggist has "Diamond Dyes Color Card"—16 rich colors. Adv.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER

A Marvelous Remedy for Indigestion.

Those who suffer from nervous dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, torpid liver, dizziness, headaches, coming up of food, wind on stomach, palpitation and other indications of disorder in the digestive tract will find Green's August Flower a most effective and efficient assistant in the restoration of nature's functions and a return to health and happiness. There could be no better testimony of the value of this remedy for these troubles than the fact that its use for the last fifty-four years has extended into many thousands of households all over the civilized world and no indication of any failure has been obtained in all that time. Very desirable as a gentle laxative. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Some men try to expand their old debts by contracting new ones.

Instead of doing things today, the wise man did them yesterday.

HEALS RUNNING SORES

"I feel it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."—A. C. Gilbrath, 709 Reed St., Erie, Pa.

For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 60 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered. Pimples and nasty blackheads disappear in a week and the distress of chafing goes in a few minutes. Mail orders filled. Peterson Ointment Co. Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Housewifes Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 606 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THE UNION-BANNER

VOL. IX. CLANTON, ALA., OCTOBER 28, 1920 NUMBER 31.

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICES IN COOSA COUNTY, ALA.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties in Coosa County are going to the people on Nov. 2 with tickets containing the names of candidates for all of the county officers. The following are the Republican candidates:

For Tax Collector, O. J. Glenn;
For Tax Assessor, J. J. Green;
For Commissioner, 2nd District, J. R. Blocker;
For Commissioner, 4th District, A. S. Hatchett;
For County School Board, P. P. Bonnett and J. E. Grimes.

The following is the Democratic ticket:

For Tax Collector, J. N. Howard;
For Tax Assessor, T. L. Burks;
For Commissioner, 2nd District, B. B. Killgore;
For Commissioner, 4th District, H. L. Thompson;
For County School Board, J. G. Penson and J. G. Avant.

Four years ago the Republicans elected Geo. Stewart Probate Judge of Coosa County. There is every reason in the world why they should elect their entire ticket this time.

TO WARREN G. HARDING MANY HAPPY RETURNS

November 2nd, 1920.

I

Make him a birthday present—He is fifty-five today,
With only a scrap of paper you can bid him lead the way.
Marion knows and loves him. The nation has learned his worth;
On the day that we name him President we celebrate his birth.

II

Only a single ballot not much that you have to give;
But it says, if it's cast for the man we sing, our country's soul 'll live.
The flag that our fathers flaunted appeals to us now to see
That what it means to the heart of us it means to prosperity.

III

Only a scrap of paper! Who dares to deny its might?
Its power is yours. You vote to-day, and you shall sing tonight.
Aye, you shall chant of freedom from phantoms that haunt and jeer,
Of a future without dishonor that is devoid of fear.

IV

Give him a birthday greeting! The hour and the man are here;
And we, who are heavy-hearted, see our redemption near.
Shall we be doomed by dreamers, shall we be bought and sold;
Or free to decree our destiny as we were free of old?

V

His birthday? Yes, and a nation's. Newborn shall a people be
That lives again in the hope that comes with Harding's victory.
The ocean shall call to ocean, the mountain shall hail the plain,
As we end our fight with a song tonight — for we've found our soul again.

ELECTION RETURNS TO BE RECEIVED BY TELEGRAPH

A number of Clanton persons who are interested in securing the national election returns as quickly as possible on next Tuesday night ,have arranged for a special wire service through the Western Union Telegraph Office in Clanton whereby the figures will come to us hot off the reel from national party headquarters. It is going to be all night long for us, so come to Clanton where you will be able to get all the election news quick

FROM THE STATE CHAIRMAN REPUBLICAN CAMP'N COMM.

Clanton, Ala., Oct. 26, 1920.
To the Editor of the Union-Banner:

As the citizens of this county will, on the second day of November, 1920, cast their ballots for the election of the officers to have charge of the national government and also for the State and County ofifcers, I desire to express through your paper my views on some of the issues involved in this campaign, and which will be determined by the electorate on that date. I am quite sure that each citizen of the county has the interest of this government at heart and is inerested in its best welfare. If so, then the casting of his or her ballot becomes an imperative duty. A duty of such vast importance that the result should be carefully considered before action is taken; the decision in the matter should be arrived at only after careful and mature consideration of the principles involved and the action should be taken without prejudice so that the ultimate result will be the establishing more firmly the great principles upon which this government was established and which have been enunciated and established during the history of our nation.

The paramount issue to be determined by the electorate at this election is the League of Nations question. This issue is clear cut and the two political parties have through their nominees for President and the platforms declared their position as to the League. The Republican party and its nominee for President, Warren G. Harding, have taken the position against the league. The Democratic party and its nominee will, if elected, attempt to have the league as presented by President Wilson, ratified by the United States Senate, without any reservation. For the information of the voters, I wish to quote Article X of the League of Nations, which reads as follows:

"Article 10.

"The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve asagainst external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

Under this article of the league should the United States become a member, as is readily seen from a careful reading of it, undertake to preserve the territorial integrity and existing political independence of the other members of the league, and the council of the league would advise the means by which we would carry out the undertaking. This article was objected to by the United States Senate when the question of ratification was before that body and the following reservation was offered:

Reservation to Article X.

"The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country by the employment of its military or naval forces, its resources, or any form of economic discrimination, or to interfere in any way in controversies between nations, including any controversies relating to territorial integrity or political independence, whether members of the league or not, under the provsions of Article 10, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States, under any article of the treaty for any purpose, unless in any particular case the Congress, which, under the constitution, has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States, shall in the exercise of full liberty and action, by act of point resolution so provide."

President Wilson pressed the adoption of Article 10 of the league and stated that this article was the heart of the league, and that the adoption of the reservation would kill the league entirely. Article 10 of the league was objectionable to the Republican and Democratic Senators when before the Senate because it was in effect a sacrifice to the sovereign rights of this government. The Republican party is against the adoption of the league containing this artcle because it is a mortgage on the manhood, wealth and resources of the American government. In the event Mr. Cox, the Democratic nominee for president, is elected, he will use his power of office and influence to have the league adopted as originally presented by President Wilson, in which case should he be successful, the United States would if called upon by the conucil of the league be required to send her military and naval forces to Europe to fight the battles of the other members of the league. The United States will fulfil her obligation if we join the league, and in doing so I an confident that we may again witness the draft board in operation and our young men being called for service in foreign lands. The adoption of Article 10 above, without any change to say the least gives rise to a probability of the United States having to send against her will the military and naval forces to fight for Europe. If we reject the league, we certainly know that we will not send our army and navy to Europe or any where else unless Congress which is composed of AMERICANS, so provide.

The Republican party asks the voters to join its ranks on November 2nd and elect a Republican ticket composed of men who are against the adoption of this un-American contract; men who hold sacred the principles of American government and who are not willing for the sovereign rights to be sacrificed. The Democratic party asks the voters to take the chance. Will the people of Alabama blind themselves with political prejudice and take the chance or shall they awake to a realization of the conditions confronting them and save America from foreign control?

The Republican party has selected and nominated as its candidates for the several offices to be filled on November 2nd, from President down to and including our county officers, men of business experience, men who have kept pace with the progress of the times and who have demonstrated their ability to perform the duties incident to the office for which each is nominated, men who have pledged themselves to reduce the expense of operating the government thereby reducing the enormous burden of taxation now being thrust upon the people by an extravagant Democratic administration, men who believe in the separation of Church and State and who will not be influenced and controlled by a foreign political organization masquerading in this country as a religous institution.

The people of Chilton County should not overlook the record of the Democratic party when in power of Chilton County's affairs a few years ago when under the guise of road building the county was almost bankrupted. The national government of ours today is confronted with an indebtedness of $24,299,321,467, created during the recent Democratic administration. These figures are taken from the official statement of the Treasury Department of June 30th, 1920, at which time the expenses of the government was $71,879,072, more per year than the receipts, although we are paying more taxes now than ever before in the history of the nation.

In conclusion, may I ask that each voter go to the polls on November 2 and vote for the best interest of the people If this is done I venture to forecast that the Republican ticket will receive an overwhelming majority, which I am confident will be the result. Respectfully,

J. B. ATKINSON,
Chairman Repub. State Cam. Comm.

MRS. SILAS KELLY DEAD

On Sunday morning, Octoer 24th occurred the death of Mrs. Beckie Jane Kelley, wife of Mr. Silas Kelley, near Samaria. Mrs. Kelley had been sick for some five years, being 58 years old. She leaves a husband, four boys and five girls.

Her remains were laid to rest in Samaria Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Carter of Clanton conducting the services.

LETTER FROM OUR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN, HAYS

The Editor of the Union-Banner is in receipt of the following letter from the Chairman of the Republican National Committee, Mr. Will H. Hays, regarding the winding up of the national campaign:

"New York City, October 18, 1920.
My Dear Mr. Wyatt:

We have had a long, hard pull for the last two years in this endeavor, and as we are now coming to what I believe is going to be a successful conclusion, I want again to assure you of my appreciation for all you have done. I know it is not necessary to write you to keep up the work till the very last minute, and I am not writing for that purpose. I want us to do this, of course, and I know you will, because we want to make the victory so big that it will forever make certain that a responsible political party cannot avoid responsibility for maladministration. I hope the time never comes in this country when either party can avoid responsibility.

Through all this I have felt very deeply a sense of personal responsibility, and have taken it all rather seriously because I always felt that it was far more than a party matter. In all of the effort you have carried a large load. I have always believed and certainly know now that the Republican press is not the "right flank of the army," as sometimes suggested,—it is the main division. I have appreciated your co-operation and sympathy more than I can tell you, and I just want to tell you this now.

With very warmest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
WILL H. HAYS."

SHOULTS

Rev. J. D. Martin preached his regular fourth Saturday and Sunday sermons here last Saturday and Sunday. All present enjoyed the good sermons.

We are glad to say the sick of this community are all improving.

Mr. Mack Oden received the dead body of his son, Lee Roy, last Wednesday, one week from the time of the death. The corpse was accompanied by Mr. Thomas Oden, brother of the deceased. Lee Roy had a good position in Milwaukee, Wisconsin as an electrician. His death was accidental, caused by a stroke of electricity, only living a few hours after the stroke. He served in the army during the latter part of the world war as sergeant with the National Guard, was stationed on Mexican Border, until sent to France just a short time before the armistice was signed. He was never in a battle was indeed patriotic and brave.

It is sad to see a young man taken from this world so early in life. He was only 26 years old, a very promising young man. Besides his father, he is survived by six brothers and four sisters. His mother died several years ago, also one sister dead.

The funeral services were held last Thursday at Isabella Church by Rev. Butram of Maplesville.

Mr. Paul Oden, who is attending Howard College at Birmingham was at home last week on account of the death of his brother.

Mrs. Essie Bowden of Birmingham, Mrs. Essie Lea Relley and Mrs. Janie Kelley of Blocton, were a thome last week to attend the funeral of their brother, Lee Roy Oden.

Mr. Hort Walker spent Monday in Selma on business.

Mrs. Oscar Shoults has moved back to Selma.

FROM COUNTY REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Clanton, Ala., October 28, 1920.
To the Republican Voters of Chilton County:

This week brings to a close one of the most important political campaigns in the history of our county, and on next Tuesday the people will not only elect officers from president down to county officials, but will decide some of the greatest issues with which we have ever been confronted and which will determine the future welfare of this country.

Senator Harding, the nominee of the Republican party for President, stands for America first, last and all the time and for a government of, for and by the people. He opposes the league of nations and favors separation of church and state, favors free speech and free press, and if elected, we will have a business administration conducted in a business way in the interest of ALL THE PEOPLE.

Governor Cox, the nominee of the Democratic party for President, favors the league of nations, and is pledged to pursue the policies of the present administration which we feel needs no further comment.

The Republican party of Chilton County has nominated men for the various offices who are fully competent to discharge the duties of their respective offices. They are honest high-toned gentlemen and will administer the affairs of their offices with a credit to themselves and to the entire county. They are worthy of and merit your support on next Tuesday, and we have no doubt that they will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

Just a word to the women who have recently registered and who will on next Tuesday cast their firsst ballot. From the number that have registered we know that they are interested and alert to their new duties. We invite you to consider the principles of the two parties and determine for yourselves the one that stands for the inerests of the common people. After investigating we feel sure that you will cast your vote in the interest of the Republican party and we especially solicit you to do so.

We urge every man and woman in the county who believes in the principles of the Republican party to go to the polls on next Tuesday and cast their vote for that ticket. If you do this we will win by the largest majority ever known in this county.

Again soliciting your vote and influence, we are

Respectfully yours,
HOWARD L. FOSHEE,
H. A. HARRIS,
J. E. LITTLEJOHN,
Republican Campaign Committee for Chilton County.

NEW DRUG STORE

We are pleased to call the attention of our readers to the announcement of the Johnson Drug Co., which appears in this issue of The Banner. This spendidly arranged new store has opened for business, although the arrangement and installation of the fixtures is not all completed.

Dr. Arthur Johnson is the manager of the store, and he will have his offices in the building. He will be assisted by Mr. Leonard Farley, an experienced drug store man. The maximum of efficiency and service is thus assured to those who trade there.

Dr. Johnson has spared no effort to make the Johnson Drug Store the equal of any store of its kind any where. That he has succeeded well in his efforts can be seen readily upon a visit to his new place.

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.

Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held at the general election in November, 1920; and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election together with the proposed amendment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general election in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Section 93. The State shall not engage in works of internal improvement nor lend money or its credit in aid of such, nor shall the State be interested in any private or corporate enterprises or lend money or its credit to any individual association or corporation, provided that the State may under appropriate laws cause the net proceeds from the convict fund to be applied to the construction, repair and maintenance of public roads in the State, and the legislature may also make additional appropriations for that purpose; and, provided further, that the foregoing prohibitions shall not apply to the promotion, development or operation of harbors or seaports within the State or its jurisdiction, provided, further, that any such work or improvements shall always be and remain under the management and control of the State through its State Harbor Commission or other governing agency and provided further that the adoption of this amendment shall not affect any other amendment to the Constitution which may be adopted pursuant to any resolution of this session of the Legislature."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY, Governor.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held at the general election in November, 1920; and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election together with the proposed amendment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general election in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"Section 1. The several counties in the State shall have power to levy and collect a special county road tax not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties in addition to that now authorized or that may hereafter be authorized for public road purposes; provided, that of such tax, the time it is to continue and the purpose thereof shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county, and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election.

"Section 2. The funds arising from the special county road and bridge tax levied and collected by any county shall be apportioned and expended by the courts of county commissioners or boards of revenue of such county in the following manner, to-wit: Fifty per cent of said taxes levied and collected shall be used for maintenance of roads and bridges, and the remaining part shall be used in constructing roads, bridges, culverts, etc., as such boards of revenue or courts of county commissioners may direct.

"Section 2½. Twenty-five per centum of all moneys derived from property lying within municipalities and arising from the tax proposed herein shall be paid to such municipality and shall by it, be expended for upkeep of its streets.

"Section 3. That the court of county commissioners, boards of revenue, or other governing body of such county may, or upon written petition of ten per centum of the qualified voters of any county shall call and submit said election provided for and authorized by sections one and two hereof to the qualified electors of such county either at the same time of the general election, or at a special election called for that purpose; provided, that said election shall be called and held in accordance with the law now or that may hereafter be enacted governing county bond elections, and in conformity with the general election laws of the State."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY, Governor.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me.

"I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

Just make a cross-mark in the little circle right under the elephant. That is the right thing to do, and the easiest.

Now that MacSwiney has died, the headlines of the newspapes stand open and ready to flash the Harding landslide next week.

Hold up a minute! Turn right to the last page of this paper and see what you can find that will interest you.

If you are interested in what is happening at Thorsby, we refer you to the Thorsby page of The Union-Banner. It starts this week and will continue every week hereafter.

Uncle Tom Hubbard of Beat 14 was in Clanton Monday, looking after the interest of the women voters of his Beat. He says every thing is all right over his way this time for a grand turn-out for the Republican ticket.

Thorsby is coming to the front They want representation in the Chilton county newspaper, and we want them to have it. They deserve every bit of it. Those people are a live lot of boosters. They have a commercial club that is going to make things get on the move.

The Republican women of Chilton county are loyal to the cause. They have shown their faith by taking advantage of their opportunity to register. They will further demonstate their loyal allegiance next Tuesday by placing their cross mark under the elephant.

Mr. Z. J. Jones of Beat 14 was in Clanton Saturday. He says the women of his side of Beat 14 are all registered and ready to vote on Nov. 2. Mr. Jones had a letter from his cousin in Ohio that sheds some very valuale light on the race between Mr. Cox and Mr. Harding for president.

Next Tuesday you should put your cross mark in the little circle under the elephant, thereby casting your vote fo Harding, Coolidge, Reynolds, Sam Pate. Tom Rockett. and the whole ticket of Republicans who have declared against the League of Nations, and believe in America for Americans.

You may think Pat Murphy is not good for anything but to chew Brown Mule tobacco and tell jokes. But that is not all there is to him by a long shot. He can write catchy ads for his house when the boss pins right down on him. Look at the page of the Clanton Mercantile Co., in this paper and you will se a sample of what he can do.

Dr. Gragg informs us that the Clanton Infirmary is steadily growing in service to the people of the county. In the past few days he has had patients there who were referred here for treatment by Dr. Mastin, Dr. Eiland of Coopers, and Dr. Wood of Thorsby. We are glad to see the doctors of the county co-operating with this valuable institution.

The people of Georgia have acted mighty funny politically in many instances. They have been noted for voting for men and measures at one time, and then immediately turning face about and voting for other men or measures of different and opposite stripe. But now they have reached the climax, and have declared that they will vote both for and against the same thing at the same time. They say they will vote for Senators and Congressmen who are pledged to do what they can against the League of Nations, and will at the same time vote for Cox for President, who is hell-bent in favor of the League. Can you beat that?

CREELING TO MEXICANS

A short time ago George Creel dined at the White House with the President, and then announced that he was about to enter the campaign in behalf of Cox and the league of nations. Little has been heard from him since, but recently he turned up in Mexico City. Quite likely he is impressing on the Mexican government that the election of Cox means a continuance of "watchful waiting" and that it would be to the advantage of the Mexican administration to aid the American Democratic candidate in every possible way.

Every candidate has the right to appoint a watcher at each voting place to look after his interest. This watcher may be present and see everything that occurs inside the polls. Remember that two managers, one from each political party, will have to be present when tickets are marked for voters that cannot mark their own tickets.

INSTRUCTIONS ON VOTING.

The many newly enfranchised women voters who will take part in the election next Tuesday may in numerous cases experience some inconvenience in properly marking their ballots. And there are yet many of the men votes who will find much help in the proper kind of instructions to voters.

Below we shall try to go over the main problems that will come up, and offer brief instructions as to how they may be properly solved.

The first proposition we shall take up is voting a straight party ticket. The General Election ballot contains five columns representing that number of political parties, the emblem of each party appearing at the top of its individual column. The fist column is the Republican ticket, headed by the elephant, and containing the names of the Republican candidates for the various national, state and county offices corresponding to those offices as printed on the margin of the ballot to the left. The second column contains the Democratic candidates headed by the "rooster." The other columns are the Socialist, Prohibition, and a blank column for the independent candidates. The Socialist and Prohibition tickets have the emblems of those parties at the top. At the top of each column, and immediately under the party emblem is a small circle.

In order to vote a straight Republican ticket a cross-mark should be placed in the circle under the elephant in the first column. And that is all.

In order to vote a straight Democratic ticket a cross-mark should be placed in the cicle under the rooster in the second column. And that is all.

So much for those who wish to take their poison straight

But, for example, we will suppose that a voter wishes to vote for Harding, the Republican candidate for President, and the Democratic candidates for our county and state offices. He or she would secure the ballot and proceed as folows:

It will be found first that the names of Presidential candidates do not appear on the ballot. Instead there are the names of twelve Presidential and Vice-Pesidential electors at the head of each paty ticket. This voter then, who is voting for Harding for President, and for the Democratic county and state offices, would place a cross-mark in the blank space in front of the names of EACH of the twelve Presidential Electors in the first column under the elephant, then go over to the second, or Democatic column unde the rooster, and down that column to the names of the state and county candidates, and place a cross-mark in front of EACH of those whom it is desired to vote for. This would be what is called a split ticket.

In voting a split ticket no cross-mark should be made in ANY circle under any party emblem. Only put cross-marks in front of the names of candidates to be voted for.

Do not scratch out or erase any name from the ballot. This would mutilate your ballot, cancel your vote and subject the voter to a legal penalty.

There are no names of candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable printed on the ballots. There is a blank space for them at the bottom of each party column, but the voters in each Beat will have to write in that space the names of the candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable in that particular Beat.

The above instructions relate only to the General Election. There is a special Senatorial election to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Bankhead, and a special ballot will be given the voter for this election. That ballot also contains the different columns for the candidates of each party, and each column is headed by the party emblems the same as the General Election ballot. Only one candidates's name appears in each column, as there is only one office to be filled by this special election. To vote this ballot it will be correct to either put the cross mark in the circle under the party emblem, or leave the cross out of the circle and place it just before the name of the candidate of your choice. Only one place should be marked, however.

There is another ballot to be voted that which relates to the three constitutional amendments. All three of these proposed amendments are printed on one ballot with the words "for" and "against" printed just below each of the amendments. To vote for all the amendments a cross-mark must be made in the space in front of the word "for" under EACH amendment. To vote against all the amendments the cross must be made in front of the word "against" under EACH amendment. To vote for one amendment and against the others, a cross-mark must be made in front of the word "for" under the one which it is desired to vote for, and in front of the word "against" under the two it is desired to vote against.

Those who are not thoroughly acquainted with how to vote are urged to get all the information possible on the subject, and when you go to vote take your time. Elections like this don't come only every four years, so don't hurry. There is plenty of time. Vote right or you had as well stay at home and not vote at all. If your ballot is not marked correctly it will be thrown out. Ask questions till you know you understand what you want to do.

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

Clanton, Ala., Oct. 26, 1920.

Editor Union-Banner:

I am asking again that you permit me to use your paper to speak to the voters in this county.

The campaign is almost over, and it seems that we are going to have Senator Harding for President, and if we ever needed a presidnt it surly must be now. It seems that President Wilson has forgotten the United States entirely and has had but one idea since the war and that was to sell this country to Europe. I have read every letter he has given the press, and they all speak of the condition of Europe and what that country needs. He never mentions this country, and it seems that he would be willing to forget our needs so that he could help the other countries.

President Wilson is very anxious to have the League of Nations ratified so that he can be president of it. Governor Cox says if he is elected president that he will do as President Wilson would if he were in office, and if he will do this it is hoped that he will not be elected.

I do not see how any southern man can vote the national Democratic ticket this year. The farmers are now facing a great crisis. Their cotton has gone down below the cost of production; they appealed to the Federal Reserve Bank for help but it refused them. Mr. Houston, secretary of the U. S. Treasury and head of the Federal Reserve Bank said in plain words that he is opposed to the farmers getting help from the Federal Reserve Bank, and that he is opposed to the southern farmer having a basis of credit in this country or Europe that would help to maintain the present prices, much less raise prices. (See editorial in Montgomery Advertiser, Sept. 30, 1920.)

Every section in the United States was helped during the recent war except the South. The western wheat farmer got what he asked for, and may I ask, Why? The answer is easy. It was because he is an independent voter and will vote for his interest just as he sees it.

Will we stop for a minute and look at the South under the free trade? Peanut oil is being shipped in here; there was over 600,000,000 pounds of different oils shipped to this country last year. This has ruined the peanut industry in Alabama. Thousands of pounds of beef was shipped here the past year, and look at the price of beef cattle that we have to sell. Also look at the profiteering on beef—beef cattle cheap and beef is high, hides six or seven cents per pound and shoes higher than we have even seen them. Such profiteering has never been seen before.

Farming is the only business on earth that does not figure the cost of production, but the farmer has to take off his hat to the speculator and say "What will you give me?"

This country has never prospered under a low tariff and never will. Of course conditions have not been normal since the war, and we could not see the effects of a low tariff but now the country is getting back normal.

The Republican party has put in its platform to put officials in office that will figure the cost of production and help the farmer get a profit on his products, and as we all believe that Senator Harding will be elected, why not get in line and be able to demand something from the U. S. Government?

We ate the "solid South" and for over fifty years the South has given its electoral votes to the Democratic party, and the Democratic party has come to the conclusion that the South belongs to it regardless of how it is treated. We have paid well for retaining the solid South, for we have been a foot ball for the U. S. for quite a while.

I believe that large majority of the voters in this State realize the necessity of two political parties in Alabama, and they know if we did have two parties that we would have a very much better government. Our State officials have no opposition and can do just as they please.

Look how the people are being taxed! Almost everything has a tax on it—even chickens have been taxed. The law gets tighter every year; practically all exemptions have been taken off. A few years ago the farmer had as exemption from taxation, two oxen, a horse, two cows and two calves. They had their household and kitchen furniture as exemptions; but now it is all taxed. I wonder where taxation will end? Even now the boys' coon dog is taxed. I wonder if the same crowd that has put all these taxes on will take them off? No, indeed; they will not. It will take a new crowd to take them off.

Just a few years ago every tax payer was regarded as being truthful, but it is not that way now. The State says by its law that no tax payer can be relied on to tell the truth and that tax assessors and a "figurehead" who is appointed by the Governor, can raise the tax on property whenever he sees fit, even though the valuation has already been sworn to by the owner. I ask where we have any liberty left? If conditions continue as they have been for the last few years, what will the people do?

The last legislature spent over half of the session trying to devise some way to get more taxes. They have licened every business that they could think of and some have double license on them.

I do not believe there is an intelligent voter in this county but what really believes if there was a strong vote against the Democratic party that it would have a good effect. Now is the best time we have ever had to enter our protest against the treatment we receive. If we could elect two congressmen from Alabama we could get any reasonable thing from the United States government we ask for, because that would put us in the doubtful column. But if we remain with the same old tale, that we are the solid South, the Democrats will say as they have said—"It is no use to pay attention to them, for we already have them." The Republicans will say—"We need not bother ourselves for they will still vote the Democratic ticket." Then we will still drift in the same old rut.

Does anyone believe Secretary Houston would have said that he was opposed to the southern farmer getting help from the Federal Reserve Bank if we had been an independent voter?

I want to say a few words about my race for U. S. Senator. I did not seek this nomination, but was solicited by the Republican party. I consented to make this race at a great sacrifice on my part, but I realized the necessity of two political parties in Alabama and I was willing to do what I could to help build up a Republican party in this State.

I have given two months to this campaign, and have spoken two and three times a day for the last three weeks. I have paid most of the expense, as I have received only small donations from a few of my friends. The state and national committees have not given to my campaign and so far as I can find out, I have practically financed the whole Republican State Campaign.

I regret very much that I have not had time to look after my interest in this county, but you people know me and know what I stand for. I have always been open with the people in public questions and sometimes we have not agreed, but after our party has spoken I have considered it my duty to do is I thought the party wanted.

Every Prohibition Democrat that casts his vote for Senator Underwood knows at the time he is voting that Mr. Underwood has always done all he could against prohibition. If all our legislators had voted as Mr. Underwood has we would have a bar room at every cross-roads; and the women would not be permitted to vote, for he has worked against woman suffrage at every opportunity he has had. When Mr. Underwood was a candidate for U. S. Senator in opposition to Mr. Hobson he said in the court house here that if woman suffrage was forced on us that the women would vote but that the ladies would not.

I have stood for woman suffrage for a long time; was a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1901, and voted then to give the women the right to vote. I have always stood for prohibition and worked for it when it was unpopular. Mr. Underwood has always worked against prohibition.

I appeal to the women to vote your convictions. You are not bound by any convention or to any party in any way. You have just become eligible to vote, and I want to say to you to use your best judgment according to your conscience and let your conscience be your guide.

I suggest to the ladies to take their registration receipts with them to the polls, as the list will have to be made hurriedly and some mistakes might occur. Every woman who registered is a qualified voter.

I have served the people the best I could since I have been in the Probate Office, and I have tried to treat everybody the same regardless of their politics.

I was not present when the managers of the election were appointed, as I was a candidate and this barred me from helping to appoint the officials of the election. It then became the duty of the Register of the Circuit Court in Equity to appoint some one, and Mr. Spigener, the Register, as aforesaid, appointed Mr. Guy Higgins. But I am sure all the managers will do their duty and see that all who are entitled to vote can do so, and that all votes will be counted just as they are cast.

We are going to have a public speaking at the court house Saturday, October 30, at 1 p.m. and I hope everybody that can will come, as many of the public questions will be discussed.

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

The General Election ballot contains five columns representing that number of political parties, the emblem of each party appearing at the top of its individual column. The fist column is the Republican ticket, headed by the elephant, and containing the names of the Republican candidates for the various national, state and county offices corresponding to those offices as printed on the margin of the ballot to the left. The second column contains the Democratic candidates headed by the "rooster." The other columns are the Socialist, Prohibition, and a blank column for the independent candidates. The Socialist and Prohibition tickets have the emblems of those parties at the top. At the top of each column, and immediately under the party emblem is a small circle.

In order to vote a straight Republican ticket a cross-mark should be placed in the circle under the elephant in the first column. And that is all.

In order to vote a straight Democratic ticket a cross-mark should be placed in the cicle under the rooster in the second column. And that is all.

So much for those who wish to take their poison straight

But, for example, we will suppose that a voter wishes to vote for Harding, the Republican candidate for President, and the Democratic candidates for our county and state offices. He or she would secure the ballot and proceed as folows:

It will be found first that the names of Presidential candidates do not appear on the ballot. Instead there are the names of twelve Presidential and Vice-Presidential electors at the head of each paty ticket. This voter then, who is voting for Harding for President, and for the Democratic county and state offices, would place a cross-mark in the blank space in front of the names of EACH of the twelve Presidential Electors in the first column under the elephant, then go over to the second, or Democatic column unde the rooster, and down that column to the names of the state and county candidates, and place a cross-mark in front of EACH of those whom it is desired to vote for. This would be what is called a split ticket.

In voting a split ticket no cross-mark should be made in ANY circle under any party emblem. Only put cross-marks in front of the names of candidates to be voted for.

Do not scratch out or erase any name from the ballot. This would mutilate your ballot, cancel your vote and subject the voter to a legal penalty.

There are no names of candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable printed on the ballots. There is a blank space for them at the bottom of each party column, but the voters in each Beat will have to write in that space the names of the candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable in that particular Beat.

The above instructions relate only to the General Election. There is a special Senatorial election to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Bankhead, and a special ballot will be given the voter for this election. That ballot also contains the different columns for the candidates of each party, and each column is headed by the party emblems the same as the General Election ballot. Only one candidates's name appears in each column, as there is only one office to be filled by this special election. To vote this ballot it will be correct to either put the cross mark in the circle under the party emblem, or leave the cross out of the circle and place it just before the name of the candidate of your choice. Only one place should be marked, however.

There is another ballot to be voted that which relates to the three constitutional amendments. All three of these pronoted amendments are printed on one ballot with the words "for" and "against" printed just below each of the amendments. To vote for all the amendments a cross-mark must be made in the space in front of the word "for" under EACH amendment. To vote against all the amendments the cross must be made in front of the word "against" under EACH amendment. To vote for one amendment and against the others, a cross-mark must be made in front of the word "for" under the one which it is desired to vote for, and in front of the word "against" under the two it is desired to vote against.

Those who are not thoroughly acquainted with how to vote are urged to get all the information possible on the subject, and when you go to vote take your time. Elections like this don't come only every four years, so don't hurry. There is plenty of time. Vote right or you had as well stay at home and not vote at all. If your ballot is not marked correctly it will be thrown out. Ask questions till you know you understand what you want to do.

Clanton, Ala., Oct. 26, 1920.

Editor Union-Banner:

I am asking again that you permit me to use your paper to speak to the voters in this county.

The campaign is almost over, and it seems that we are going to have Senator Harding for President, and if we ever needed a presidnt it surly must be now. It seems that President Wilson has forgotten the United States entirely and has had but one idea since the war and that was to sell this country to Europe. I have read every letter he has given the press, and they all speak of the condition of Europe and what that country needs. He never mentions this country, and it seems that he would be willing to forget our needs so that he could help the other countries.

President Wilson is very anxious to have the League of Nations ratified so that he can be president of it. Governor Cox says if he is elected president that he will do as President Wilson would if he were in office, and if he will do this it is hoped that he will not be elected.

I do not see how any southern man can vote the national Democratic ticket this year. The farmers are now facing a great crisis. Their cotton has gone down below the cost of production; they appealed to the Federal Reserve Bank for help but it refused them. Mr. Houston, secretary of the U. S. Treasury and head of the Federal Reserve Bank said in plain words that he is opposed to the farmers getting help from the Federal Reserve Bank, and that he is opposed to the southern farmer having a basis of credit in this country or Europe that would help to maintain the present prices, much less raise prices. (See editorial in Montgomery Advertiser, Sept. 30, 1920.)

Every section in the United States was helped during the recent war except the South. The western wheat farmer got what he asked for, and may I ask, Why? The answer is easy. It was because he is an independent voter and will vote for his interest just as he sees it.

Will we stop for a minute and look at the South under the free trade? Peanut oil is being shipped in here; there was over 600,000,000 pounds of different oils shipped to this country last year. This has ruined the peanut industry in Alabama. Thousands of pounds of beef was shipped here the past year, and look at the price of beef cattle that we have to sell. Also look at the profiteering on beef—beef cattle cheap and beef is high, hides six or seven cents per pound and shoes higher than we have even seen them. Such profiteering has never been seen before.

Farming is the only business on earth that does not figure the cost of production, but the farmer has to take off his hat to the speculator and say, "What will you give me?"

This country has never prospered under a low tariff and never will. Of course conditions have not been normal since the war, and we could not see the effects of a low tariff but now the country is getting back noimal.

The Republican party has put in its platform to put officials in office that will figure the cost of production and help the farmer get a profit on his products, and as we all believe that Senator Harding will be elected, why not get in line and be able to demand something from the U. S. Government?

We are the "solid South" and for over fifty years the South has given its electoral votes to the Democratic party, and the Democratic party has come to the conclusion that the South belongs to it regardless of how it is treated. We have paid well for retaining the solid South, for we have been a foot ball for the U. S. for quite a while.

I believe that large majority of the voters in this State realize the necessity of two political parties in Alabama, and they know if we did have two parties that we would have a very much better government. Our State officials have no opposition and can do just as they please.

Look how the people are being taxed! Almost everything has a tax on it—even chickens have been taxed. The law gets tighter every year; practically all exemptions have been taken off. A few years ago the farmer had as exemption from taxation, two oxen, a horse, two cows and two calves. They had their household and kitchen furniture as exemptions; but now it is all taxed. I wonder where taxation will end? Even now the boys' coon dog is taxed. I wonder if the same crowd that has put all these taxes on will take them off? No, indeed; they will not. It will take a new crowd to take them off.

Just a few years ago every tax payer was regarded as being truthful, but it is not that way now. The State says by its law that no tax payer can be relied on to tell the truth and that tax assessors and a "figurehead" who is appointed by the Governor, can raise the tax on property whenever he sees fit, even though the valuation has already been sworn to by the owner. I ask where we have any liberty left? If conditions continue as they have been for the last few years, what will the people do?

The last legislature spent over half of the session trying to devise some way to get more taxes. They have licened every business that they could think of and some have double license on them.

I do not believe there is an intelligent voter in this county but what really believes if there was a strong vote against the Democratic party that it would have a good effect. Now is the best time we have ever had to enter our protest against the treatment we receive. If we could elect two congressmen from Alabama we could get any reasonable thing from the United States government we ask for, because that would put us in the doubtful column. But if we remain with the same old tale, that we are the solid South, the Democrats will say as they have said—"It is no use to pay attention to them, for we already have them." The Republicans will say—"We need not bother ourselves for they will still vote the Democratic ticket." Then we will still drift in the same old rut.

Does anyone believe Secretary Houston would have said that he was opposed to the southern farmer getting help from the Federal Reserve Bank if we had been an independent voter?

I want to say a few words about my race for U. S. Senator. I did not seek this nomination, but was solicited by the Republican party. I consented to make this race at a great sacrifice on my part, but I realized the necessity of two political parties in Alabama and I was willing to do what I could to help build up a Republican party in this State.

I have given two months to this campaign, and have spoken two and three times a day for the last three weeks. I have paid most of the expense, as I have received only small donations from a few of my friends. The state and national committees have not given to my campaign and so far as I can find out, I have practically financed the whole Republican State Campaign.

I regret very much that I have not had time to look after my interest in this county, but you people know me and know what I stand for. I have always been open with the people in public questions and sometimes we have not agreed, but after our party has spoken I have considered it my duty to do is I thought the party wanted.

Every Prohibition Democrat that casts his vote for Senator Underwood knows at the time he is voting that Mr. Underwood has always done all he could against prohibition. If all our legislators had voted as Mr. Underwood has we would have a bar room at every cross-reads; and the women would not be permitted to vote, for he has worked against woman suffrage at every opportunity he has had. When Mr. Underwood was a candidate for U. S. Senator in opposition to Mr. Hobson he said in the court house here that if woman suffrage was forced on us that the women would vote but that the ladies would not.

I have stood for woman suffrage for a long time; was a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1901, and voted then to give the women the right to vote. I have always stood for prohibition and worked for it when it was unpopular. Mr. Underwood has always worked against prohibition.

I appeal to the women to vote your convictions. You are not bound by any convention or to any party in any way. You have just become eligible to vote, and I want to say to you to use your best judgment according to your conscience and let your conscience be your guide.

I suggest to the ladies to take their registration receipts with them to the polls, as the list will have to be made hurriedly and some mistakes might occur. Every woman who registered is a qualified voter.

I have served the people the best I could since I have been in the Probate Office, and I have tried to treat everybody the same regardless of their politics.

I was not present when the managers of the election were appointed, as I was a candidate and this barred me from helping to appoint the officials of the election. It then became the duty of the Register of the Circuit Court in Equity to appoint some one, and Mr. Spigener, the Register, as aforesaid, appointed Mr. Guy Higgins. But I am sure all the managers will do their duty and see that all who are entitled to vote can do so, and that all votes will be counted just as they are cast.

We are going to have a public speaking at the court house Saturday, October 30, at 1 p.m. and I hope everybody that can will come, as many of the public questions will be discussed.

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

ELECTION NOTICE

The State of Alabama,
Chilton County.

I, J. L. Gore, Sheriff of Chilton County, Ala., in conformity with Section 357, page 329, of the Political Code of Alabama, (1907), hereby give notice that a General Election of the qualified voters of Chilton County, Alabama, will be held in the several precincts of said county, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1920, for the election of:—

Twelve Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States; Representative in Congress from the Fourth District of Alabama; one United States Senator from Alabama; two Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of Alabama; one Justice of the Court of Appeals of Alabama; President of the Alabama Public Service Commission; State Commissioner of Conservation; one Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama; A Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama; a Tax Assessor of Chilton County, Alabama; Commissioner from the Third Dustrict of Chilton County, Alabama; Commissioner from Fourth District of Chilton County, Alabama; two members of the School Board of Chilton County, Alabama; a Justice of the Peace of each precinct in Chilton County, Alabama; a Constable for each precinct in Chilton County, Alabama;

And whether the [illegible] amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"Section 1. The several counties in the State shall have power to levy and collect a special county road tax not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties in addition to that now authorized or that may hereafter be authorized for public road purposes; provided, that of such tax the time it is to continue and the purpose thereof shall have been first submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the county, and voted for by a majority of those voting at such election. "Section 2. The funds arising from the special county road and bridge tax levied and collected by any county shall be apportioned and expended by the courts of county commissioners or boards of revenue of such county in the following manner, to-wit: Fifty per cent of said taxes levied and collected shall be used for maintenance of roads and bridges and the remaining part shall be used in constructing roads, bridges, culverts, etc., as such boards of revenue or courts of county commissioners may direct. "Section 2½. Twenty-five per cent. of all moneys derived from property lying within municipalities and arising from the tax proposed herein shall be paid to such municipality and shall by it be expended for upkeep of its streets. "Section 3. That the court of county commissioners, boards of revenue, or other governing body of such county may, or upon written petition of ten per centum of the qualified voters of any county shall call and submit said election provided for and authorzed by sections one and two hereof to the qualified electors of such county either by the same time of the general election or at a special election called for that purpose; provided, that said election shall be called and held in accordance with the law now or that may hereafter be enacted governing county bond elections and in conformity with the general election laws of the State."

Also whether the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama shall be adopted, viz:

"The Legislature shall have the power to authorize the counties of Alabama which have or which shall have taxable property in such counties of one hundred millions of dollars annually, or more, according to the assessments by such counties for the year 1918, A.D., or according to any assessment hereafter made, to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control, and operate highways railroads, by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise or passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, in aid of intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce; including the dredging on both banks of the approaches to the water terminals. "Section 2. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize and ampower such counties to issue bonds, lend their credit, grant public money, or other thing of value in aid of the internal improvement as described in Section 1 thereof. "Section 3. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize such counties to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property in such counties, in addition to the maximum rate of taxation prescribed in the Constitution of Alabama. The funds thus raised are specifically reserved to be applied only to the creation and support of the internal improvement herein and hereby authorized. "Section 4. That all such counties shall have the right, power and authority to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads—by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise and passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, within, across or through its own territory or the territory of adjacent counties. "Section 5. That any enactments of the Legislature of Alabama contingent upon the ratification of this amendment to the Constitution of Alabama by the qualified voters of the State, shall be validated and become in force and effect immediately after this amendment is so ratified. "Section 6. All such counties of Alabama are hereby authorized and empowered to increase the limit of county indebtedness from 3½ to 4½ per cent of such taxable property."

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at its regular session in the year 1919, ordered an election by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be held on the proclamation of the Governor, and,

WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that at the general election in November, 1920, an election will be held for the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following amendment to the /Constitution of Alabama, viz: The Legislature shall have the power to authorize the counties of Alabama which have or which shall have taxable property in such counties of one hundred millions of dollars annually, or more, according to the assessments by such counties for the year 1918, A. D., or according to any assessment hereafter made, to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads, by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise or passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, in aid of intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce; including the dredging, on both banks of the approaches to the water terminals.

Section 2. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize and empower such counties to issue bonds, lend their credit, grant public money, or other thing of value in aid of the internal improvement as described in Section 1 hereof.

Section 3. The Legislature shall have the power to authorize such counties to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in such counties, in addition to the maximum rate of taxation prescribed in the Constituton of Alabama. The funds thus raised are specifically reserved to be applied only to the creation and support of the internal improvement herein and hereby authorized.

Section 4. That all such counties shall have the right, power and authority to acquire, construct, purchase, own, lease, maintain, use, control and operate highways, railroads—by any kind of motive power conveyance or appliance; freight stations; passenger stations; wharves; piers; docks; warehouses; grain elevators; storage tanks; team trucks, and all other facilities and structures appurtenant thereto, for the purpose of receiving, carrying, delivering, reducing in bulk, storing or preparing for shipment of goods, wares and merchandise and passengers over such railroads or in or through such terminal facilities, within, across or through its own territory or the territory of adjacent counties.

Section 5. That any enactments of the Legislature of Alabama contingent upon the ratification of this amendment to the Constitution of Alabama by the qualified voters of the State, shall be validated and become a force and effect immediately this amendment is so ratified.

Section 6. All such counties of Alabama are hereby authorized and empowered to increase the limit of county indebtedness from 3½ to 4½ per cent of such taxable property.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 27th day of August, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY,
(Seal) Governor.

Secretary of State.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

We are glad to say that everyone here is well at present—no one to go on the sick list this week.

Last Sunday was our regular preaching day. We had a very large crowd and everybody seemed to enjoy the services, both Sunday and Sunday night.

Before preaching Sunday night the singing class organized itself into a singing society. We cordially invite every singer and lover of music to come and be with us; we need your help. The following officers were elected: Mr. W. O. Rich, President; Mr. T. G. Wyatt, Vice-President; Miss Mary Duke, Secretary & Treasurer; for Committee on Arrangement and By-Laws, J. D. Collins, Sr., W. J. Minor and T. E. Wyatt.

We have a large enrollment to start with, and hope to succeed, which we can do if we only stay together and try. The society will meet at 9:30 next Sunday morning, and discuss some matters of business.

There will be preaching here the 3rd Sunday night. Bro. J. D. Hughes will preach at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited to come.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10:00 o'clock. Prayer meeting every Sunday night at 6:30 o'clock. We are always glad to welcome visitors at any of our services.

Mr. Lonza Parrish and Mr. Chester Mims of Clanton attended service here Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Thompson, and Mrs. Burns Goodgame came out to preaching Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Vinson of near Lomax attended preaching service on Sunday night.

Mr. Tom Foshee was among the attendants at church Sunday night.

Now, we give one and all an invitation to our Sunday School, Singing and prayer service.

REMOVE SHACKLES FROM JEFFERSON

Purpose of River Amendment—If Necessity Arises, County Can Lend Credit To Provide Adequate Railroad and Terminal Facilities for the Port of Birmingham.

Birmingham.—"The county river amendment, which will be the second on the ballot in the general election to be held November 2, cannot cost the people of Alabama outside of Jefferson county one cent," declared Judge William E. Fort, state campaign manager today. "The only purpose of this amendment is to remove the shackles placed on Jefferson County by the Constitution, so that, in case there arises a need, this county can lend its credit to provide adequate railroad transportation and terminal facilities at the port of Birmingham on the Warrior river.

"Since the amendment provides that it can apply only to counties having more than $100,000,000 assessed property, it will be readily seen that no other county in the state is involved. And even if the amendment should carry, it does not necessarily follow that Jefferson county will be called upon to lend its credit to the river project.

"Should the river transportation grow until the present facilities (which were provided by the people of Birmingham) proved insufficient and should the railroads fail to provide the necessary transportation to the river, Jefferson county can hold an election and vote on the matter. It is purely a question of local self government."

It is expected that there will be a considerable increase in traffic on the Warrior river and through the Port of Birmingham as soon as all the boats and barges which the government is now building are completed and placed in the service. And when the proposed developments at the port of Mobile, which are provided for in amendment number one are finished, still further increase in the traffic is declared to be inevitable.

With this increase, it is stated by the advocates of the river amendment, added facilities will become necessary. Proper railroad transportation between the river and Birmingham must be provided, and in case the railroads will not construct them, the people of Jefferson county will have the right to hold an election to decide whether the credit of the county shall be used to build these facilities. It is believed that if the credit is available, the railroads will voluntarily construct this railroad rather than see one built by the people.

The use of the Warrior river is of great advantage to the people of Alabama in the matter of relieving freight congestion and the car shortage.

But the principal advantage of the use of the river to the people is the saving of 20 per cent. in freight rates which it makes possible. The government has put into effect a reduction of 20 per cent. on all freight for all river traffic or for traffic which travels by both rail and the river. This saving applies directly to north and central Alabama and part of south Alabama, and indirectly to all the rest of the state on any commodities which may be purchased through firms which are located in the territory affected.

It has been announced by the government that a trial is being made on the Warrior river, of the river transportation system in Alabama. If the people make proper use of the Warrior and the traffic justifies the expenditure, similar improvements will be made by the government on the other navigable streams of the State which will then give directly to every part of the State the benefit of the reduction of 20 per cent. If the people do not provide proper facilities at Mobile, the port of Birmingham and other points along the river to enable the freight to be moved expeditiously, the government has announced there will be no similar effort made to develop the other streams of the State.

Should the use of the credit of Jefferson county be authorized by a vote of the people of the county, the money and the entire project will be in absolute control of a commission of 11 representative men, non-partisian politically, who will be appointed by the governor. The term of one man will expire each year, thus giving the chief executive the right to add any man who had displayed unusual fitness for the work of the commission. The powers of the commission would be similar to the Jefferson county sewer commission which made such a splendid record about 22 years ago in constructing the sewer system of Jefferson county.

The county river amendment is the second on the ballot and will be voted on in the general election November 2.

Man and Wife, All Run-Down from Farm Work, Were Greatly Helped by Ziron.

"MY WIFE and I, after a hard spring on the farm, were tired and run-down," says Mr. E. B. Mulkey, of Route 1, Acworth, Ga. "We neither felt well. I knew my blood was bad, as I had little boils on the back of my neck.

"We felt we needed a builder. We had heard of Ziron and thought it must be what we needed. It certainly was. We took it faithfully, and after a week or such a matter we began to feel better. My wife felt like cooking, and I sure felt like eating.

"Ziron sure did us good. It made us both feel stronger and better for the fall work, which everyone knows is 'some work' on a farm. My boils began to dry up, though just at first they seemed worse.

"We are much better and can highly recommend Ziron, and gladly do so for it sure did us good."

Ziron is a safe, reliable, tonic medicine, good for men, women and children, when an iron tonic is indicated. It is easy to take and contains no habit-forming drugs.

COTTON

WHY?

There are a number of reasons, but the outstanding one is the fact that the Farmers of the South are not organized. The American Cotton Association is perfecting its organization in the 14 Cotton Growing States and Alabama already has a strong membership in nearly every county in the State. But our membership is not strong enough to accomplish our full purposes, therefore beginning November 1st and continuing for 15 days a

50,000

Membership Drive

will be conducted. Has YOUR COUNTY COMPLETED ITS ORGANIZATION FOR THIS WORK? If not, it is your duty to see some officer of your County Association and start the work.

Read the following 12 objects and purposes of the association:

1. To improve and enlarge the warehousing facilities so that cotton shall not be damaged by standing in the open, and so that the producer may carry the crop with a minimum of expense, practically without physical damage, and with a maximum of security and financial ability.

2. To bring about a more equitable rule regarding tare, which rule should be that the tare is the actual weight of the bagging and ties, and should be subtracted from the actual weight of the bale of cotton in order to obtain the net weight of the raw cotton in the bale.

3. To assist the farmer in so organizing that he may know before the sale of his cotton the length of the staple, the grade of the cotton and the market price of that length of staple and grade at the principal markets, on the day when he offers it for sale.

4. To encourage the establishing of gin compressing and better baling and wrapping of American cotton.

5. To so regulate and systematize the sampling of cotton that indiscriminate and often useless sampling of cotton may be reduced to a minimum, and the American cotton bale may reach its ultimate market looking like a respectable and valuable package of material to be woven into cloth instead of like a bedraggled and disreputable bundle of rags.

6. To collect information regarding domestic and foreign consumption, the state of the trade, extent of acreage, supply and condition of cotton, prices at all markets, and all other information regarding the cotton industry, and to desseminate this information widely and place it specially in the hands of cotton producers and their organizations.

7. To broaden the market for raw cotton, to enlarge the use of cotton goods, and to educate those outside as well as inside the cotton area to understand the cotton problem in all its phases.

8. To improve transportation and distribution facilities.

9. To promote the intelligent growing of standard varieties of cotton and the improvement and standardization of the quality in each community as a basis for better marketing.

10. To promote diversification of crops and a safe and well-balanced agriculture as the sound basis for a thrifty rural people.

11. To protect the interests of the cotton producer and to improve his condition generally.

12. To encourage, by all proper means, the gradual marketing of cotton throughout the year, and the intelligent production of cotton on the basis of supply and demand in order that unintelligent and wasteful fluctuation in acreage and production and ruinous and rapid changes in prices, due to no other reason than speculative, may be avoided.

THE CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Chilton County and Unity Associations will be held in this church beginning on Saturday morning at 9:30 continuing through Saturday afternoon and Sunday. An interesting program has been arranged for and we hope that as many as can will make an effort to attend the meetings on Saturday as well as on Sunday. Visiting preachers have been asked to have a part on the program both days, as announced elsewhere in this paper.

Sunday at 11 A. M. Rev. D.D. Head Head of Marbury will preach.

Sunday at 2:30, p.m. an ordination service will be held, at which time Brethren W. A. Kemp, and J. W. P. Murphy will be ordained as deacons of the church, an office to which they were elected last year. This will be an impressive service, and we trust all the members of the church will make an effort to attend.

Sunday at 7:15 p.m. the pastor will preach. Please note the change of time for the evening service.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 5:30, p.m.

The most important meeting of the church is held on Wednesday night, but it is the neglected one. The pastor invites all the membership of the church and others who may desire to attend to the mid-week service every week. Come thou with us and we will do thee good.

We cordially invite the public to all our services.

JEMISON LOCALS.

The Community Club gave a chicken supper Saturday night, Oct. 23. A large crowd attended and seemed to enjoy themselves very much. The proceeds were thirty five dollars, which was for the school piano fund.

After having supper, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cissel, Misses Inez Harris, Juanita Atkinson, Wilma Webb, Oak Shaw, Ralph Glass and Pink Cooper motored over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Robinson where they joyously celebrated the sixteenth birthday of their daughter, Retha. After playing a number of games chocolate and cake was served to the guests. All seemed to have a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris and Mr. Galand Morgan of Birmingham spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Collum.

Miss Clara Webb entertained Mr. Howard Wheeler of Birmingham last Sunday.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Leland Robinson is still on the sick list.

Miss Ruth Williams was the guest of Miss Ellen Glasss Saturday night and Sunday last.

School Items.

All the pupils are wearing a long face this week, and we can't account for it unless it is on account of this being test week.

We were glad to have Mr. Bowling Cooper, Misses Eula Shaw and Estell Webb visit our school Monday afternoon.

R. B. Johnson—Oh! Inez, what pretty pearls you have around your neck! Where did you get them, at Kress?

Inez Harris—No, I'll have you to understand I don't trade at Kress.

R. B.—Oh, I forgot. You trade at Woolworth's.

LADIES URGED TO VOTE

Mr. W. Y. Nix of Maplesville appeals to the ladies of Chilton county to go to the polls on next Tuesday and cast their votes in behalf of the best interests of our county, state and nation. He believes those interests are fostered by the Republican candidates and urges them to vote in that way. He sees a chance for the women to help the country regain the rights that have been lost to us under the Wilson administration of the past eight years.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AT CLANTON NEXT SATURDAY.

There have been a great number of people from all parts of the county to ask Judge Reynolds to speak at the court house in Clanton next Saturday closing the present campaign, and he has consented to do so.. It is desired by him to have a joint discussion with someone representing the Democratic party. The invitation has been sent to Judge Leon McCord of Montgomery. If he or anyone else appears on the scene to defend the Democratic party it will be a joint discussion. If not, Judge Reynolds will address the voters himself.

This will be the last meeting of the campaign, and all voters are urged to come. The women voters are especially urged to come, as the speaking will deal with matters valuable to them in casting their first ballots. Everybody tell your friends about it and be here at one o'clock next Saturday to see the finishing touchesss put on.

FOR SALE—At Once, for less than one-half the price of a Ford, less one-half its actual worth. Almost every one knows the superior qualities of the Buick automobile. CANDY MADE IN CLANTON.

We tried the temper of our editorial tooth on a few bites sof Mr. Wall's home-made candy the other day, and Ca Boy! You tell 'em ,old foot ball; you've got the kick. That was some sweet'nin. If we could make candy like that, we would never stick another type. It would be a candy factory for us, right off the reel.

Candy like that will sell, because a taste of it will mean a come-back every time. Even a look at it will make you realize that it is something fine. But a look will not satisfy you. When you see it, you must eat.

Drop around at Fox's Auction House and sample it. You will be surprised that there is somebody in Clanton who can make such really delicious candy.

WELLS - MANNING

On last Sunday, Octob.r 24th, 1920 a pretty wedding was witnessed in Mulberry Baptist Church, near Maplesville, when Mrs. Ava Tucker, as bridesmaid, led her sister, Miss Flossie Manning up to be joined in happy wedlock to Mr. Joe H. Wells of Ensley. Mr. Earl Tucker of Birmingham was best man.

After the ceremony Bro. B. Lawrence, the pastor, preached an interesting sermon to a house full of hearers. After preaching the happy young couple left for the bride's parents home, where dinner was waiting for them. At 3:00 p.m. they left for their future home in Ensley.

JEMISON ROUTE 1

Mr. Editor:

Please give me a little space in your paper to say a few words in regard to Uncle Dock Wells's letter and the scriptures that he gave us to read last week. We think those scriptures, especially the 5th chapter of James, there is lots of scriptures that we have to wait until they are fulfilled to understand them, and surely this chapter is coming to a focus. The fourth verse refers to the laborers that reaped down the fields which is of you kept back by fraud is crying out, and their cries have gone up before the Lord and they will be heard some way. Coal field strikes and railroad strikes will not bring the cries from the rich man that has heaped up treasures in the last days as the cries will go up from the farmers. The laborers that reap down the fields will bring it all to a focus, so we know now the cries is going up. The world is paralyzed to some extent, not knowing what to do and which way to pursue to satisfy the uprising of the labor element.

The fire of the Lord is now melting some of the refused parts of his kingdom and will continue until all the dross is consumed. So the Titanic has now hit the ice burg and thank God it won't be long until the world will begin to sing "Nearer My God to Thee."

So I will close before I write too much, saying it won't be long until we all see the silver lining of love from our Savior in the world's trouble. So be careful and have a life boat to get in when the Titanic goes down.

So hurrah for Uncle Dock Wells. We will add a little more scripture to his subjects: Zeph. 1, 14th verse to the end; Malachi 4th chapter.

RECITAL

The music pupils of Mrs. C. B. Norrell gave a very interesting recital at her home last Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Preceding the program Mrs. Norrell gave a sketch of the history of music, why it ante-dates all other arts, its many uses and abuses.

The pupils showed remarkable skill and progress for so short a time of study and this is the first of a series of recitals to be given by them, which will add much to the social life of the community.

MR. F. A. GULLEDGE TELLS OF HIS TRIP TO HOUSTON, TEXAS

Verbena, Ala., Oct. 18, 1920.

Editor Union-Banner:

On the 3rd inst., I left for the Confederate Reunion at Houston, Texas, where I remained until its close on the 9th. Each moment was a feast to the forty thousand visitors from all southern and some of the northern states. It was indeed and in truth a real old fashioned methodist love feast. Not a word of discord, not a man under influence of liquor in sight.

While visiting Galveston I met a friend who took me and my party of four to his home, and gave us real Virginia hospitality. Guess you, Mr. Editor, know what this is. The first I had had in a year.

At Houston I met many ex-Alabamians. They and all others looked and evidently were, prosperous. Men and women from 15 to 85, spry as larks, never saw half dozen pinched (sad) faces. Youngest to oldest really willing to and did dance, shout and make merry. The music in the lobby of the hotels was of the 20 to 50 years ago sort that would make "a preacher lay his bible down." Four of these players wore medals as antebellum musicians. A son held medal over all. The pieces were same as they played at Tulsa, Oklahoma, two years ago, viz: "Patroller," "Mississippi Sawyer," "Turkey in the Straw," "Tennessee Wagoner," "White Lady" "Frik Trowler," "Ricketts Hornpipe," "Forked Ear," "Dusty Miller," and just such. Not a note of the contemptible "jazz" which has set the world wild and brought the change from decent to indecent dancing, God forbid.

One of the most unique figures was old Uncle William Lee, once the slave of Robert E. Lee, now an educated minister, said he was freed by Mrs. Robert Lee ten years before the Civil War, was given $800 by General Lee for finishing his education. His constant lingo was his praise of the people of the South, his loyalty to the Lees and Custis's. He constantly sang "Dixie."

Another old negro who always carries in the parade a rooster, reminding his comrades of '61 to '65, that he is still "wid 'em."

Many men and women of note in their county, state and country, were familiar figures at each reunion. It is a wonder even the young do not attend. One much admired French lady, of Lake Charles, La., Mrs. C. M. Richards, chief chaperone of the United Confederate Veterans, was there with all her glory. A grand, attractive woman, and I heard it intimated she is being groomed for mayor of Lake Charles. If so I predict the transgressors will at once quit or break for the tall timber.

Mrs. C. M. Richards.

Another noted woman there is Mrs. McKinney, of Paducah, Ky., president of United Daughters of the Confederacy, a very attractive and beautiful woman—unassuming, yet a look into or from her flashing eyes always brings the house to order. Another wonderful character I chanced to meet by intuition was Col. W. G. Shelton of Baston, La., to which place he moved with his father from near Prattville, Ala., in 1884, 72 years ago, or a year before I was born. With him were a lot of his neighbors and kinsfolk. In the bunch were three red (sandy) headed pretty portly near-young women. My first sweet heart being red-headed, you can imagine how easy it was for me to "join inspiration to all about him. He is the uncle of our noble trio of west Chilton, Billie and Misses Margret and Sallie Walker, than whom there are no finer people in all Alabama.

Houston is a fine city, the largest inland cotton port in the world, and second in the United States for shipment of cotton, New York leading. Houston is 48 miles from Galveston, reached by trolley car every hour, and by railroad, by boat and ship canal. the angel band." The Colonel, while 85 years "young" was ready for the question and as a real honest-to-goodness bachelor, he was there with the goods on all occasions. He was an Houston has 135,000 population, fine stores, streets, terminals, and last but not least, a fine citizenship who did themselves white toward all. Many of the old veterans were taken up in cars and carried to the private houses and entertained without money or price, and by all was pronounced the second best Reunion ever held, Tulsa, Oklahoma leading in 1918.

Let your eyes dwell upon the clean and shapely design of the DORT.

You will note there are no distressing angles, no harsh corners.

All lines are smooth lines that give a flowing graceful effect to the general appearance.

No less effort was expended by the DORT engineers in seeking attractive appearance than was put forth toward achieving for the motor and mechanism mechanical excellence.

The satisfaction that you feel in the smooth, competent, trouble-free performance of the DORT is further supplemented and strengthened by your justifiable pride in its outward beauty.
Closer inspection serves to confirm the very first impression.

Painstaking care has been lavished upon even the the smallest details.

The doors are wide to permit easy egress and entrance. Yet they close tightly and firmly.
The instrument board is compactly and conveniently arranged.

The seats are comfortable and leg space ample.

And beneath these exterior charms, hidden to the eye, is the rugged simply designed DORT chasis upon which the DORT reputation is solidly based.

Right now we can make immediate guarantee deliveries. But we can't guarantee that for long. Come in—or phone us at once—about your DORT.

Help Your Moulters Moult

THINK of the amount of [illegible] and red blood required to grow a [illegible] plumage! A moulting hen needs [illegible] good digestion.

Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a helps poultry through the moult and starts pullets and moulted hens to laying. It contains tonics for the appetite, tonics to aid digestion. It tones up the [illegible] egg organs. It contains iron that gives a moulting hen rich, red blood and a red comb. No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed. By all means feed your moulting hens Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

THORSBY INSTITUTE

The Helen Keller Literary Society of Thorsby Institute, held its regular fortnightly meeting on Saturday evening, October 23rd. The program consisted of: "Essay on Columbus" by Mae Ward; "The Spanish Kingdom during the 15th Century," by Ena Grenn; recitation "Columbus" by Joaquin Miller, recited by Chester Maddox; Recitation "Autumn," recited by Thomas Giles; discussion "Resolved that the new world should be called "Columbus" instead of "America," Yancey Kelly, affirmative, Clayton Sharp, negative; Current Events:"foreign" by Birdie Hall, "domestic" by Lois Hughes; Pantomine; "Vision of Columbus" by Inga Erdahl;"October" by Palma Dahl; Boys' Chorus—"October."

The Pantomine, presented by Miss Inga Erdahl, of the Crescents, was extremely interesting, the scenes representing Columbus entrusting the care of his small son to the Monks; Columbus arguing his cause with the learned Doctors of Salamanca; return of Columbus to the Court of Ferdinand and Isabella, bringing treasures of gold, jewels, skins, Indian Corn, and fruits and Indian captives. The improvised costumes were very picturesque and striking and the 'tribute' included a stack of corn stalks and a six-pound sweet potato, ostensibly from Santa Domingo and actually raised by Mr. Thompson of Thorsby.

"October" presented by Miss Palma Dahl, of the Stars, was a charming dramatization of the poem, "October" beginning with the line "October gave a party," acted by six girls accompanied by the "wind's orchestra" behind the scenes, while the poem "October" was recited by Mrs. Loveland. The Boys' chorus in the song "October" trained by Miss Fox, was particularly good.

SOCIAL

Mr. Walter Johnson, a student of Auburn, is here visiting his parents. He attended Auburn-Vanderbilt Foot ball game while here.

Mrs. James E. Biggs has just returned from Florence, Ala., where she has been spending several days with her husband, who travels for the firm of Butler Bros. of St. Louis.

Mrs. Sereno E. Norton returned Saturday evening from a trip to Chattanooga, where she went as a substitute delegate for Mrs. W. T. Callen of Clanton, to the Near East Relief Conference. She reports that the conference was most interesting and inspiring.

We are pleased to have with us Mr. A. C. Legg and family, who have recently moved to Thorsby from Birmingham. Mr. Legg is actively connected with the meat packing plant that is being built here. We wish him every success.

The faculty of Thorsby Institute enjoyed the Tea Hour with Mrs. May Hastings Nottage, matron of the Boys Dormitory, Friday, October 22nd. A delightful time was reported by all present.

Dr. Sterling C. Wood entertained a number of friends at his home in honor of his wife's birthday on last Friday evening. A delightful time was reported with games and refreshments. At the close of the evening a cake was sold, the proceeds of which was given to the Baptist Church, for the purpose of purchasing a lamp.

An enjoyable social event was that given by Mrs. C. R. Foss at her home last Saturday night, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Sereno G. Norton of New Jersey, who are here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton.

Various forms of amusements were indulged in after which delightful refreshments were served.

The guests present were, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Horn, W. M. Parnell, Misses May Stoddard, Helen C. Jenkins, Marjorie Fox, Ethel Loveland, Emily Ellsworth and Naemi Turnquist.

PARENT TEACHERS ASSOCIAT'N

The Parent Teachers Association, recently organized, held a very enthusiastic meeting at Bates Hall on Tuesday, October 19th, attended by a large crowd. A splendid program was rendered consisting of talks by Rev. J. M. Graham, and Prof. C. M. Williams, recitations and songs by the pupils of the city school, also music by the orchestra.

Rev. Graham gave an interesting outline of the work to be done by this association and the need of the hearty co-operation of the people of the community to better the school conditions as regards grounds for recreation and better sanitation.

At this meeting, by-laws were read and adopted, new members were received and other matters of business were transacted.

It is hoped that all the citizens of Thorsby will join this organization, in that through it we can make our city school a model place for our children to attend.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

There will be services at the Lutheran Church Sunday, October 31st, when Rev. Benson of Silverhill also Rev. J. P. Leaf of Tennessee Ridge, will be with us. The services in the a.m. will be in the Swedish Language and English in the evening.

The Luther League will meet at the usual hour.

******

The usual services will take place at the Congregational Church next Sunday at 11 o'clock in the morning, and the Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30 p.m.

******

******

The Ladies Guild will hold its monthly meeting with Mrs. J. P. Sorensen, Thursday, November 28th.

******

On Thursday evening, October 28th at the request of Prof. Bean, Rev. Graham and Prof. C. M. Williams will give an address on community organization, at the Mineral Springs School House. It will be of interest to all the people of that community to hear them, as they have something worth listening to.

LYCEUM COURSE

The first number of the Lyceum Course will be given Wednesday evening, Novemer 17th, when the Kahulaui Hawaiian Quartette will render an unusually fine musical entertainment, bringing to us that fascinating wierd music of the Hawaiian Islands. These native Hawaiian boys have been together for several seasons and their work has been of high quality. They know how to interpret the songs of their native land and present a pretty picture of life in the South Sea Islands with their melodious vocal numbers and their work on the ukelele and steel guitar and other native instruments.

The Athletic Association of Thorsby Institute will give a Halloween party next Saturday night, October 30th, for the benefit of the Athletic fund. General admission 15c; admission to side shows and special attractions, extra. Come and help the boys and girls.

ALABAMA RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE

Believing the Chilton County readers of the Union Banner will be pleased to know something of the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute, and to know also that we have been so fortunate as to get the headquaters of this new and valuable institution located in this county, we are glad to give them here a brief note of the purposes of the above named institution.

The Alabama Religious and Educational Institute was formed July 16, at Thorsby, Ala., with the following directors and officers: Board of Directors:- Rev. Lewis H. Keller, D. D., Atlanta, Georgia; Rev. Frank E. Jenkins, D. D., Demorest, Georgia; Rev. Chas. L. Fisk, Cleveland, Ohio; Rev. Elmer W. Butler, Thorsby, Ala.; Rev. Chas. T. Rogers, Hackleburg, Alabama. The government of the work is in the hands of the Directors. Their regular meetings are held quarterly.

Rev. J. M. Graham, B. D., formerly Executive Secretary of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association, and a man of several years of training and experience in religio-social and educational work in Alabama, was elected Superintendent, and Mr. C. R. Foss an experienced business man and banker of Thorsby, was elected treasurer.

The purposes of the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute are as follows:

1. To help communities, churches schools, and other organizations, to see and to grasp the larger opportunities for service to all types and conditions of humam life.

2. To encourage and develop a friendly relation, social intercourse, and community pride among the people of given communities and cause communities to develop unity of purpose and action for the good of all.

3. To help the churches to reach that great number of people not now being reached by organized Christian forces.

4. To assist churches, schools, fraternal organizations and other religious, educational, social and welfare agencies, in the making and working out of programs of community development.

5. To promote the expression of the true Christian spirit in all life relations.

The A. R. & E. I. is ready to serve when its services are called for and when it is not otherwise engaged. No charge is made for service, but it is expected that communities receiving service contribute to the work. Of course every communty will do that. For full information and dates, write Rev. J. M. Graham, Supt., Thorsby, Alabama.

THORSBY HAS NEW ENTERPRISE

Doubtless the farmers of Chilton and adjoining counties will find it to their interest to visit Thorsby and investigate the conditions upon which they may do business with the new meat packing plant which is being located there and will be in operation in a few days.

It is necessary for the hog grower to acquaint himself with the grades as distinguished by meat concerns in order that the best prices may be obtained. To this end the packing company desires to co-operate with the farmers and hog growers through hog clubs which it will assist in organizing. The object being to improve the stock of hogs by infusing new blood and to work out a basis for feeding which will grow them rapidly and profitably.

At present there are few good hogs in Chilton County, for the reason that the price has been low and feed stuff high. No system having been worked out to market them at a profit. Now that cotton is almost a failure in this section due to the ever increasing boll weevil, it behooves the land owner to divide his attention with better paying investments..

Chas. Lucas and A. C. Legg are promoting the enterprise and invite you to come to Thorsby and talk over the situation.

Republicans in U. S. By H

Republican Senate and tion to Overwhelmi and

WITH THE PRESIDENCY AND C DEMOCRATS OF GOVERNO OTHER STATE AND

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—One of the most sweeping Republican victories party history to-day stood record for Senator Warern G. Harding President, and a Republican Congress.

Tremendous and unparalleled Republican pluralities, beginning with the first count of ballots cast yesterday's election, continued mounting higher levels to-day. Defeat in the fight both for the Presidency and Congress was conceded early by Democratic leaders on the basis of crushing Republican votes piled up the absence early to-day of full official figures.

With the Presidency and Congress went the loss to the Democrats of governors, state legislatures and other state and local candidates. The break even threatened to extend to the border states and the so-called "solid South," with Republican gains in some Southern states larger than any since the Civil War.

Senator Harding's victory over his opponent and other Democratic leaders and many prominent Republicans hailed as the "solemn referendum" upon the League of Nations was impressive. In the absence of official figures, the swelling tide of Republican pluralities early to-day gave Harding a balance of 329 electoral votes, against 127 for Cox, with 75 doubtful, exclusive of states where the Republican tide was running strong.

The unofficial results indicate a larger majority in the electoral college for Senator Harding and his running mate, than any since 1904, when alone the vote of 435 for Roosevelt Wilson in 1912, during the Republican split.

The Republican Congressional swing was as strong, in relation to parties in both Senate and House, as marked up. Early to-day returns virtually all 15 Republican Senators for re-election was specially in the returns, while about a half dozen of 19 Democratic candidates were trailing against Republican leads.

The first trial of woman suffrage contributed largely to the Republican majorities, and also was a factor in delaying the count in many states.

None of the minor parties, the Socialist, Farmer-Laborer, nor Prohibition figured in the Presidential result.

Ohio the home of both Harding and Cox, New York, Illinois and Pennsylvania furnished the largest Republican pluralities. That of New York was close to the million mark. Ohio was around 150,000, Illinois 800,000, and Pennsylvania 400,000.

In California where Senator Phelan Democrat, was trailing Samuel Shortridge, Republican with Senator Harding was far ahead on the ticket, adoption of the alien land law relating to Japanese land tenure, had a wide majority.

Republicans Win Election in U. S. By Big Majorities

Republican Senate and House Assured in Addition to Overwhelming Election of Harding and Coolidge.

WITH THE PRESIDENCY AND CONGRESS GO THE LOSS TO THE DEMOCRATS OF GOVERNORS, STATE LEGISLATURES AND OTHER STATE AND LOCAL CANDIDATES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3—One of the most sweeping Republican victories in party history to-day stood recorded for Senator Warern G. Harding for President, and a Republican Congress.

Tremendous and unparallelled Republican pluralities, beginning with the first count of ballots in yesterday's election, continued mounting to higher levels to-day. Defeat in their fight both for the Presidency and for Congress was conceded early by the Democratic leaders on the basis of the crushing Republican vote, and despite the absence early to-day of final and official figures.

With the Presidency and Congress went the loss to the Democrats of governors, state legislatures and other state and local candidates. The break even threatened to extend into the border states and the hitherto "solid South," with Republican gains in some Southern states larger than any since the Civil War.

Senator Harding's victory, in what his opponent and other Democratic leaders and many prominent Republicans hailed as the "solemn referendum" upon the League of Nations, was impressive. In the absence of final figures, the swelling tide of huge pluralities early to-day gave him assurance of 329 electoral votes, as against 127 for Cox, with 75 doubtful, inclusive of states where the Republican tide was running strong.

The unofficial results presaged a larger majority in the electoral college for Senator Harding and his running mate, than any since 1888 except alone the vote of 435 for President Wilson in 1912, during the Republican split.

The Republican Congressional swing was as strong, increased majorities in both Senate and House being marked up. Early to-day victory for virtually all 15 Republican Senators for re-election was spelled by the returns, while about a half dozen of the 19 Democratic candidates were batting against Republican leads.

The first trial of woman suffrage contributed largely to the Republican majorities, and also was a factor in delaying the count in many states.

None of the minor parties, the Socialist, Farmer-Laborer, nor Prohibition figured in the Presidential result.

Ohio the home of both Harding and Cox, New York, Illinois and Pennsylvania furnished the largest Republican pluralities, That of New York was close to the million mark, Ohio was around 150,000, Illinois about 800,000, and Pennsylvania about 400,000.

In California where Senator Phelan Democrat, was trailing far behind Samuel Shortridge, Republican, and with Senator Harding even further ahead on the ticket, adoption of the alien land law relating to Japanese land tenure, had a wide majority.

Republican Governors in Connecticut and Illinois—where former Senator Ham Lewis was defeated by Len Small—Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, and New Hampshire were successful. And in Tennessee Governor Roberts was behind Alf Taylor, Republican.

The Republican ticket, Presidential and Senatorial, was leading in Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Missouri, Montana, and South Dakota. In the Oklahoma the race was said to be the closest in history with the Democrats a little ahead.

TENNESSEE DOUBTFUL.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 3—At ten o'clock this morning reports from 66 counties out of 95 in the state, gave Harding a lead of 268 over Cox in the state. The figures include a report that Shelby County (Memphis) had gone for Cox by 4,000 votes.

Later figures have increased the lead of Alf Taylor, Republican candidate for Governor over Governor Roberts, Democrat, to over 15,000. Shelby county is reported to have gone for Taylor by 500 majority.

The Republicans piled up heavy majorities in East Tennessee, while the Democratic majorities in middle Tennessee in many cases fell below normal. Some Democratic counties in this section even went Republican.

Tennessee has never gone Republican in a presidential race since the days of reconstruction.

Miss Armstrong Celebrates Birthday.

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Armstrong, a birthday party was given Friday evening by Miss Jewell Armstrong celebrating her fifteenth birthday anniversary. Games were enjoyed till late. A linen handkerchief was presented Miss Maud Wagoner and Mr. Julius Burnett also, who won in the contest for carrying the most peas across the room on a knife.

Much amusement was afforded as the cutting of the birthday cake took place, and there were numerous gifts for the young hostess.

The young folks who enjoyed the hospitality and to whom hot chocolate and cake were served included: Misses Sophia Mullins, Willie Higgins, Lorene Parrish, Rubye Williams, Gerte Mae Davis, Sara Cox, Clara Vines, Jewell Davis, Jewell Miner, Pauline Wagoner, Sara Jones, Estell Littlejohn, Lola Sanford, Maud Wagoner, Mary Popwell, Tommie Parrish; Messrs. Julius Burnett, Raymond Roberts, L. C. Henley, Kenneth Smith, Norman Roberts, Jack Hayes, Ferman Gore, Burton Mullins, Elmer Harris, Howard Vinson, Arthur Littlejohn, Leonard Parrish.

SAMARIA NEWS

Farmers of this community have been very busy gathering their crops this beautiful weather.

Our Sunday School is moving along nicely. Mr. Grady Harris is Superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Armstrong, Mr. Zeb Mims, Mrs. Grady Harris and Miss Pearl Wood are the teachers.

Our literary school began here October 6th, Mr. J. W. Moore of West Clanton as principal and Miss Jessie Holley the assistant.

Mrs. Silas Kelly was buried at Samaria Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith visited relatives in Birmingham last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and daughter, Pearl, attended the wedding of their nephew, Joe Wells, last Sunday.

Mrs. Florence Thomas of Birmingham is visiting her parents here.

Mrs. Nora Cogins spent Saturday at Mrs. J. D. Smith's.

JEMISON LOCALS

The Community Club gave a Halloween party at the school building on Saturday night, October 30. A large crowd attended and seemed to have a nice time. After cake, chocolate and candy were served to the guests, Miss Wilma Webb received a cake for being the prettiest girl in town.

Miss Beryl Langston, who is in Birmingham taking a business course spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Langston.

We were all surprised to hear the chimes of wedding bells again so soon in our little town, as Mr. Jasper N. Dennis and Mrs. Ola Martin were married Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Their many friends of Jemison extend to them their hand of congratulation and wish them much success in life.

Mr. Pink Cooper is now out of town He is teachnig school at New Hope about nine miles east of Jemison. We wish him the greatest of success in his work.

School Items

We are glad to say school is still moving along nicely and no one is wearing a long face this week, as our monthly tests are over, and everyone made splendid grades.

We are glad to enroll several new pupils and hope to continue to do so.

Jokes.

Prof. Harris:—Charles, would it do for a perfume manufacturer to become a director of a mint?

Charles:—No, Sir.

Prof. Harris:—Why not?

Charles:—Because he coins dollars by making scents.

Rubye:—Retha, what is liberty—is it not a license?

Retha:—But isn't a license to get married the liberty to do so?

Republican Victory in the County Breaks All Record

Women Add Their Votes to Regular Republican Strength, Rolling up the Record Majority of 1,323 Over the Democrats.

RAINEY, DEMOCRAT RECEIVES 2,000 MAJORITY IN SEVENTH DISTRICT OVER KENNEMAR, REPUBLICAN

GUNTERSVILLE, Ala., Nov. 3—Incomplete returns from yesterday's election indicate that Rainey has carried Marshal County by a majority of 200 to 300 over Kennemar ,Republican, in their race for Congress.

Kennemar states that the election in the Seventh District will be contested on the grounds that Democratic voters were illegally registered and that the election in Etowah, Blount and Cherokee counties was deliberately stolen.

Rainey's majorities by counties is reported as follows: Etowah, 2,300, Cherokee 450, Blount 175, Marshal 326.

Kennemar's majorities are announced as DeKalb 640, Cullman 350, St.Clair 300.

Rainey's majority in Gadsden is reported as 2,315. The vote in Gadsden was Rainey, 2,746, Kennemar 431

SHELBY COUNTY REPUBLICAN

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 3—A. P. Longshore, Republican candidate for Congress in the Fourth District has carried Shelby county by a majority of 500 to 800 over Fred Blackmon. Judge Reynolds received the same majority in Shelby over Underwood.

Republican candidates were elected to all the county offices except one member of the county Board of Revenue.

W. L. Longshore, Republican, is elected Judge of the eighteenth Judicial Circuit, including the counties of Shelby, Coosa and Clay.

DENNIS-MARTIN WEDDING.

Owing to the prominence and popularity of the contracting parties, the marriage of Mr. Jasper N. Dennis and Mrs. Ola Murrah Martin at Jemison last Sunday will be learned with much interest.

Mrs. Martin was the widow of the late Mr. Nunally Martin of Jemison, and is the daughter of Mrs. W. P. Murrah, also of Jemison. She is a lady of the finest qualities who enjoys the highest esteem of a large number of friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Dennis a man of sterling worth, who has enjoyed many years of successful public service to the people of Chilton County. He began his career when a young man, as a teacher in the public schools of the county, and rapidly climbed to a position of confidence among the people with whom he came into contact. He was elected as Tax Collector of the County in , serving one term in that office in 1912 he was elected Tax Assessor, in which office he is now concluding his second term. In all his public service, as well as in his private affairs, Mr. Dennis has conducted himself in the most honorable way, and has thereby grown into the highest confidence of the people of the county.

The Union-Banner, together with the many other friends of these two popular people, extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for a life of happines for them.

The Republicans on Tuesday set a new high record for victory in Chilton county. The unofficial tabulation of the vote gives the Republicans a total in the county of 2,226, and the Democrats a total of 943.

The Republican majority in the county four years ago was 535, and two years ago it was something like 600.

The County Candidates which are swept into office by this tremendous majority are as folows:

J. Tom Rockett of Coopers, for Tax Collector.

Sam M. Pate of Thorsby ,for Tax Assessor.

J. Wiley Littlejohn of Clanton for Commissioner of the Fourth District of Chilton County, and Charley T. Walker of Lawley for Commissioner of the Third District.

J. L. Vines of Thorsby, and L. A. Calloway of Calera, for Members of the County Board of Education.

On Tuesday Beat 11, Cane Creek, took the Republican championship of Chilton County away from Beat 16. The vote in Beat 11 was 84 Republican and 1 Democrat; in Beat 16 it was 96 Republican and 11 Democrats.

The Democratic Beats.

Beat 5, Verbena and Mt. Creek, gave the Democrats 191 and the Republicans 85, a majority of 106 for the Democrats.

Beat 7, Maplesville and Shoults, voted 69 for the Democrats and 59 for the Republicans, giving the small margin of 10 to the Democrats.

Beat 8, Stanton and Riderville, gave the Democrats 40 and the Republicans 23, a majority of 17 for the Democrats.

Beat 3, Benson, was a tie, with each party voting 37.

The following table shows the unofficial returns from the different voting places of the county. The figures may not be exact, but they are as nearly correct as is possible to get until the official count, which will be published in full next week.

This Xmas let it be a Furniture Aristocrat

Get this Xmas guide-book to Period Furniture

Come in and let us give you a copy of "Edison and Music". Tells about the chief period designs—what they look like, what they stand for. Pithy descriptions. Beautiful illustrations. Just the information you want.

Period Furniture is the world's most exquisite development of furniture. It originated in the 16th, 17th, and 18th Centuries. Europe was ruled by a Gorgeous Aristocracy. Fine living was the ideal of the day. An unparalleled race of artists, architects, and designers built palatial living-places for kings and nobles, and furnished them. The palaces of the nobility became treasure-houses of fine furniture. It was called the "Golden Age of Furniture."

So Mr. Edison had his designers go back into the manor houses of England, the chateaux of France and the castles of Italy. They adapted 17 designs from historic masterpieces. They preserved entire "the character and feeling of the best periods" in these superb phonograph cases for the modern American home.

No matter which Edison cabinet you choose, you get both the arts that make your house a cultured home—music perfectly RE-CREATED and furniture of purest period source. What finer gift for all the family?

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Womans Missionary Meets.

A delightful bible study and social meeting of the Methodist Ladies was held Monday evening with Mrs. Clyde Jones at three o'clock. Mrs. N. A. Kicker conducted the Bible study. After the Study period a social hour was enjoyed when delicious ice cream and cake were served. The chairman of the circles reported a box sent to the Polish Relief funds valued at $100. Plans were made to observe next week as week of prayer and will be held on Monday at 3:30 at the Methodist Parsonage; Tuesday at the same time at the residence of Mrs. R. E. Luckie and only through Wednesday with Mrs. Harvey Chandler. All ladies are especially invited to come.

Pretty Birthday Party.

Among the pretty parties of the past week was a birthday party given by Mrs. Grady Reynolds, when she entertained, celebrating her son, Grady, Jr.'s fourth birthday.

The little folks first enjoyed a fishing trip when each little girl received dainty dolls dressed in yelow crepe paper and the boys each got whistles. After visiting the fish pond they were invited into the dining room which was beautifully decorated in flowers and yellow crepe paper. Here the white embossed birthday cake held four tiny yellow lighted tapers. The little guests were then served ice cream, cake, bon bons and mints. About 25 guests responded to Master Grady's kind invitations.

Assisting Mrs. Reynolds were Mrs. N. A. Kicker and Mrs. John Bridges.

Pretty Party at High School.

On last Friday night at the C. C. High School was given one of the most enjoyable social afafir of the season, when the faculty entertained for the school benefit.

The decorations transformed the entire building into a realm where witches and spints held high revelry, the occasion being a signal for much good natured merriment. An interesting feature of the evening was a musical program by Mrs. Alverson. A neat little sum was realized.

Polly Anna Club Entertained

One of the prettiest of the weeks parties was given by Mrs. R. C. McDavid when she was hostess to the Polly Anna Club on last Wednesday evening at the Wilson Hotel parlors.

For the occasion the reception room was elaborately decorated in Autumn leaves and other yellow daisies, which emphasized the Halloween spirit. The afternoon was spent in playing "42" at three tables. The napkins and score cards further suggested the idea of Halloween. At the close of the evening's game a lovely ice course was served by Mrs. McDavid, assisted by Mrs. Elmore. Favors of the occasion were tiny yellow boxes filled with nuts.

CALLEN-CALLEN WEDDING

Mr. Lafavette Alexander Callen announces the marriage of his daughter, Amy Frances to Mr. Frank Jackson Callen Monday the first day of November, 1920, Montevallo, Ala.

Tuesday Card Club Entertained

Mrs. Carry Mullins was hostess to the Tuesday Card Club this week.

After a couple of hours playing of Bridge the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Birthday Party Given.

The birthday of little Miss Helen Roberts was the occasion of a beautiful childrens party given at the home of her grand parents on last Thursday. After several games the children enjoyed a fishing trip where each received cute souvenirs of the occasion, after which delicious ice cream and cake was served.

In the dining room, which was made attractive with pink and white crepe and other decorations a large birthday cake holding three lighted candles made a pretty ornament for the center table decoration.

Mrs. Roberts was assisted by Misses Mary McSwain, Pauline Lawrence and Mattie May Fiquette.

Civic League Entertained

On Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. P. Hayes the Civic L eague held one of the most interesting meetings of the year. This being art week, a most enjoyable program was enjoyed. Roll call was answered with a definition of art. Reading on the same subject were persented by Mesdames W. T. Callen, T. A. Curry, J. J. Pickens. A motion was put before the league and voted to have a "Story Telling Hour"o n two Saturdays out of the month from 2 till 3 o'clock for the young folks.

Later in afternoon delicious sandwiches and tea were served. The Civic is doing good work in the town and wants new members. They will enter into the contest next year at clean-up week and compete for the $50 prize.

Mrs. Hinkle Hostess

The Polly Anna Club was delightfuly entertained by Mrs. Hinke on last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. M. L. White. The spacious living room made attractive by vases of pretty roses, where three tables were arranged for the game of "42." The Edison funished music throughout the afternoon.

Fruit jello and cakes were served to about 16 members, the cake having been embossed in minute dominoes, added much to the daintiness of the refreshments. Mrs. J. Q. Wade, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Misses Wesley and Mayme Rogers were added as new members to this club.

Mr. Guy Higgins visited Mr. Burton Higgins in Maplesville this week.

Mrs. Downs Entertains.

Of many pretty parties of the week Mrs. Hosea Downs was numbered among the most enjoyable, when she entertained the Tuesday Bridge Club on Monday night. The reception rooms were made attractive by stately palms and ferns. After a few hours playing the game, a delicious salad plate with hot chocolate was served. This being the time to award the prize to the Card Cub, Mrs. Guy Higgins, holding the highest score, won a card table.

Wednesday Bridge Club.

Mrs. John M. Bridges was a gracious hostess last Wednesday when she entertained the Wednesday Evening Bridge Club at the home of her parents.

The house was beautifully decorated in cut flowers and ferns. After couple of hours playing bridge a tempting salad plate with coffee was served. Mrs. Hugh Simpson held highest score and prize pie plate was presented her and Mrs. Hosea Downs cut high for the consolation and won a similar gift.

Mrs. John VanDerveer Entertains.

Mrs. John VanDerveer complimented a number of her friends Friday evening at a pretty Halloween Bridge party. The reception rooms were prettily decorated in orange and black black cats, spooks and witches lending the necessary Halloween effect.

Mrs. Guy Higgins held the highest score and was presented a lovely box of stationery, while the consolation, a pretty handkerchief, fell to Mrs. W. Q. Stoddard. After the game tempting refreshments were served to twenty guests.

Davis-Kelly Wedding

The marriage of Mr. J. E. Kelly and Miss Kate Davis was quietly solemnized Thursday afternoon at five o'clock at the Methodist Parsonage in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left for Cantonment, Fla., where he is a successful lumber man at that place.

Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Neighbors Joint Hostesses.

Mrs. Herbert Neighbors and Mrs. Barney Roberts delightfully entertained their respective Sunday School classes at a Halloween party on last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Roberts. The decorations were in keeping with the time honored occasion. After contests and a number of games delicious sandwiches and tea were served to a large number of guests.

The favors of the evening being the famous Halloween cats and witches.

Mr. Will Stoddard and mother of Selma motored over to Clanton for the week-end.

Mrs. Will Stoddard, after a week's visit to relatives here will accompany them back to Selma.

Mrs. Watts Moore made a trip to Birmingham Sunday.

E. C. Maye S. S. Class Entertained

An enjoyable meeting of the E. C. Maye S. S. Class was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Thomas. The meeting was opened with a song, "Onword Christian Soldiers." The program being on "Service," several instructive papers were read by Mrs. Maye, Mrs. McSwain, Mrs. Jones, and Miss French Evans.

After the program a social interval was enjoyed, during which lovely refreshments were served. The house was prettily decorated with red dahlias and cosmos. Miss Thomas was assisted by Misses Timmerman and Selman.

Mr. Hugh Simpson left Tuesday for a visit to relatives in Montgomery.

It is recorded of the primitive American Indian women that child-birth with them was entirely painless.

Modern dress and manners!

Exacting social duties that wreck so many women of today, and quantity in their lives; and so it is that the weaker sex becomes a prey to suffering when maternity nears the crisis.

But this is unnecessary—because —the expectant mother can find comfort in Mother's Friend. This external lubricant that spreads its influence over the abdomen penetrates to the broad, flat abdominal muscles and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practically painless delivery.

Many doctors and nurses recommend Mother's Friend. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

Wonder if Mr. Wilson is now convinced that this country don't want the League of Nations?

If every county in Alabama was like Chilton county, what kind of a State would our State be? Ask some of your Democratic friends.

We are sorry to see Beat 16 lose its championship. Beat 11 took it away from her this time, voting the Republican ticket to the tune of 84 to 1.

According to the Democratic newspapers in their pre-election talks, the United States will go to the demnition bow-wows now in a very shhort time.

What has become of all the women who regisetred in Chilton county? It looks like they have done like the women of Maine—all joined the Republican party.

"What Wilson has promised, I will endeavor to give."—Cox. Well, now who are you going to give it to, Jim? The people of the United States don't want it.

The people of the United States prefer to stay out of the League of Nations with Harding, rather than to go into it with Cox. We think it is a wise decision.

A CHALLENGE TO CLANTON.

Mr. A. C. Legg of Thorsby, a live and hustling business man of that Town, and Secretary and Manager of the Thorsby Chamber of Commerce, was in Clanton Monday in the interest of that organization. From hearing Mr. Legg talk over the Thorsby situation we are convinced that those people up there are determnied to make their commercial organization a real and active factor in developing the Thorsby District. Now Mr. Legg is not the only one we have heard talking "Thorsby" here of late. The other people there have also got the germ of progress and push thoroughly inoculated into their systems, and you can find signs of it talking to just anybody from Thorsby.

Mr. Legg says: "We are going to put money into signs and advertising matter so that a tourist on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway or a passenger on the trains through the town cannot pass without knowing that he has passed through Thorsby; and further, he will know that he has an invitation to stop his automobile, or get right off the train and spend a while and look over our town and the surrounding community."

"In this connection," Mr. Legg further stated, "we are assured that in a short time we shall see the erection of a modern brick hotel in our little city. This will of course make it possible for us to invite strangers to come to see us, and enable us to entertain them properly while here."

Mr. Legg stated to the Banner that Thorsby, through her Chamber of Commerce, challenges Clanton to get into the race with them and match our pulling powers with theirs in the drawing of business men and industrial enterprises to Chilton county.

Now it is up to Clanton to say what we shall do with Thorsby's challenge. She has drawn the dead line so to speak. She says to Clanton, "If you have any life and fight in your old dried up hull, and wish to contend with us in a real commercial contest, just step up to the line and we shall see who can put up the gamest fight." What will Clanton say?

This of course does not mean bitterness and strife between the two towns for Thorsby entertains nothing of that sort toward Clanton, nor Clanton towards Thorsby. But it means a friendly rivalry for commercial and industrial growth.

It is as Mr. Legg stated to us. If Clanton or Thorsby should lose to the other in a race for a business enterprise, it would in either case mean that Chilton county would be the ultimate benefactor just the same. And after all it is the progress and development of Chilton county that both towns should be seeking.

Shall Clanton send back Thorsby's challenge, and be able to match their commercial organization with one of our own? Thorsby is waiting for our answer.

Mr. T. A. Curry and Miss Roberta Curry went down to Montgomery to attend the grand opera given by Geraldine Farrar.

Mr. L. F. Gerald spent Tuesday in Montgomery.

When you buy silk you figure its worth by feel—beauty and the "yard."
But—how do you arrive at the value of baking powder? You can't tell by appearances — by weight — bulk doesn't mean quality.
There's only one way—and that is an oven test.
By that test—Calumet always proves itself the best.

Never Fails - Never permits waste of baking materials

It is the most economical of all leaveners. Its price is moderate —you save when you buy it.
It has more than the ordinary leavening strength—you use less and save when you use it.
It never fails. There is no loss of baking ingredients.
So, don't guess at Baking Powder value any longer. Measure it by results.
The body needs gluten. Be sure you get it. Use only plain wheat flour and pure baking powder. Mix them yourself. No ready prepared substitute or mixture (self-rising flour) will answer the purpose.

Calumet Griddle Cake Recipe
4 cups flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 cups milk. Then mix in regular way.

A SYSTEM-BUILDER

People who have been sick, need a tonic to help them regain their strength. After severe illness, you know the tired, weak, no-account feeling that hangs on, after you get up and begin to go about. The sooner you get your strength back the better, and you should derive valuable assistance, in enriching your blood, renewing your appetite, helping you to digest your food, and to build up your system, by taking

ZIRON

The Scientific Iron Tonic

Mr. Ervin Horton, a prominent citizen of Horton, Ala., writes: "I have been taking Ziron, and it is a wonderful medicine. It helped me more than anything else, after I had the influenza. It is a great system-builder. I appreciate what Ziron has done for me." The merit of Ziron has been proved by the good results obtained by thousands of men and women who have taken it. You should try Ziron. Your money will be refunded if the first bottle of Ziron fails to help you.

SHOULTS NEWS.

People here are almost through gathering their crops. The trouble now is that they can't get any price for what they have made, and have to pay such high prices for clothing, and shoes and other things.

We regret very much to say that Mr. Ed Hall is at this time very sick.

Mr. Tom Wallace, his wife and Miss Nora Wallace, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Walker.

Mrs. Virgil Kelley and Mrs. Clint McGee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hicks.

Mr. Sam Shoults spent Saturday in Selma visiting relatives.

Mr. Hinton Lawrence and wife of Selma are visiting relatives here.

Mr. Homer Sewell from near Burnsville is now moving to this community and he and his family are heartily welcomed by the neighbors.

The literary school began last Monday with a large attendance for the first week. The parents are showing much interest in the school this year.

We miss from our Sunday school Mr. Clinton Sewell, who now has a position at Lomax. Mr. Clifton was a live Sunday school worker and we hope he will soon be back.

Mr. Silas Oden, who had a good position in Texas, and was called home on account of the death of his brother some few days ago, has decided to remain at home for the present.

Mr. Johnnie McAffee from Selma visited home folks here Sunday.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Regular preaching services will be held next Sunday at the Baptist Church. Morning at 11 a.m. and evening at 7:15 p.m. The Sunbeam Band will meet at 3 p.m. and the Junior B. Y. P. U. at 4 p.m. The Senior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:30 p.m. These are all interesting bands of young people and the parents are respectfully urged to cooperate with the leaders of the bands by sending their young people to these services.

We cordially invite everybody to these services of the church.

How it Pays us—and YOU.

PHILADELPHIA DIAMOND GRID BATTERY

OF COURSE we're in business to make money. You have probably wondered why we mention the expense of free inspections for batteries & starting-lighting systems. We have two reasons:

1. It enables us to get acquainted with auto owners.

2. It gives us a chance to demonstrate our exceptional ability to care for and repair batteries.

In a word, this free inspection is the best advertising we can possibly do.

It pays you to avail yourself of this service, because it will help you to get longer life from your battery; and prevent battery troubles on the road.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

A united and successful Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Chilton County and Unity Baptist Associations was held at Clanton last Saturday and Sunday. Brethren T. J. Deason and P. G. Carter were elected Chairman and Secretary of the meeting respectively.

The subjects discussed at the meeting on Saturday morning were the Needs of the Church, and Mission Work in Our Associations. The discussions were opened by Bro. S. M. Adams, and entered into by others of the Brethren who were present. The needs of the Church were conceded to be great and numerous, some of them in particular being more spirituality, loyalty to the Bible as our standard of Christian living, trained workers and leaders. The need of employing a regular Missionary for the Chilton County Association being very manifest, after considerable discussion the following motion, moved by P. G. Carter and seconded by S. M. Adams, was accepted by the meeting: That the Pastors of the Association be asked to lay the matter of engaging a missionary for the Association, and see what each of their churches would be willing to contribute towards his support, and to report the same to the executive meeting within the next thirty days. It was felt that if each church would contribute from $2.00 to $5.00 per month each, the State Board would supplement the amount raised and make it possible to engage such a man for this very needy work.

At the afternoon meeting on Saturday the subject of Religion in the Home was introduced by Rev. W. A. Goss, also the matter of our Enlistment Work, by Bro. W. H. Connell, and the subjects were interestingly and profitably discussed by the brethren present.

The program on Sunday was of a varied nature. At the Sunday school hour a splendid talk was made by Prof. J. L. Johnson on the B. Y. P. U. Work, and the sermon at the regular preaching hour was delivered by Rev. D. D. Head af Marbury.

In the afternoon the ordination service of Brother W. A. Kemp as a Deacon of the church was held and it was quite an impressive service. The following brethren constituted the council: Fev. P. G. Carter, Moderator, Rev. D. D. Head, Chief Examiner, Rev. W. H. Connell delivered the charge to the candidate and to the Church, Rev. W. P. Lowery, the presentation of the Bible, and Rev. E. A. Norris delivered the ordaining prayer, these with Deacons M. D. Foshee and E. E. Upchurch, constituted the Presbytery.

The examination of the candidate in the Articles of Faith of the Baptist Church, the charge delivered, and the laying on of hands, must have impressed not only the deacon appointed, but also all of those present, of the sacrednesss and great importance of the office.

By agreement of the meeting and subject to ratification of the churches named, two meetings will be held on the next fifth Sunday, one at Sardis and one at Corinth.

P. G. CARTER, Secretary.

NEWS OF VERBENA.

School News.

The Verbena School is progressing under the supervision of its Principal, Mr. J. D. Griffin.

The Literary Society met as usual last Friday afternoon and the following program was rendered: (1) Song by all. (2) Roll call by Secretary. (3) Reading of minutes. (4) Business. (5) Dialogue, "An Abandoned Baby." (6) Duet by Sarah Maude Pattillo and Frances Gulledge. (7) Dialogue "Buying Eggs." (8) Recitation, "Who Am I?" by Earnest Hammell. (9) Song by all. (10) Adjournment.

Several visitors were present. The society meets every other Friday afternoon. Visitors are cordially invited.

The Sophomores organized their class with the following officers: President, Frances Gulledge; Secretary, Thelma Retherford; Vice-President, Alma Barrett. The colors are purple and gold. The flowers are buttercups and violets. Motto: "Self-effort Educates."

The Freshmen also organized with the following officers: President, William Deramus; Secretary, Jean Gardner. A committee was appointed to choose motto and colors.

The Parent-Teachers Association meets at the school building once a month.

The Athletic Club has succeeded in getting the basket ball equipment.

The Athletic Club gave a Halloween party at the home of the President, Frances Gulledge, last Friday evening at seven o'clock. Each girl invited a boy, and all had a great time.

The house was decorated with black and orange as the color scheme. They used black and orange crepe paper, black cats, corn stalks and pumpkins. The girls proposed to the boys, and a prize was awarded for the best proposal. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Church News.

Prayer meeting at the Methodist Church every Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

The young people of Verbena Methodist Church organized a Christian Endeavor last Sunday. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Lena Yeargan; Vice-President, Sarah Maude Pattillo; Secretary, Fannie Jo Scott. Other committees were appointed. There are three kinds of members, active, associate, and honorary. They will meet every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are invited to come.

The young people of the Verbena Baptist Church met last Sunday night and organized a B. Y. P. U. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Cora Lett; Vice-President Mrs. Amie Robinson; Secretary and Treasurer, Alma Barrett; Organist, Mrs. Amie Robinson. A good many other officers and committees were elected. Everyone is invited to come.

Party.

Miss Rosalee Norman entertained her Sunday school class last Saturday afternoon. All had a very fine time.

Birthday Party.

Little Cordelia Gulledge celebrated her ninth birthday last Wednesday with a birthday party. A number of her little friends were invited. She used Halloween decorations. Refreshments were served, and all had a nice time.

NEW SODA FOUNT.

Dr. Arthur Johnson has completed the installation of the new soda fount in the Johnson Drug Company's new store, and it is surely a very fine outfit for the dispensing of soft drinks. This completes the fixtures and arrangement of Clanton's newest drug store, which, by the way, is up to the very last minute in neatness and attractiveness.

Dr. Johnson invites all his friends to come to see him at this new place. His surgical offices are in the same building with the drug store.

Mr. E. H. Smith, a Confederate Veteran who lives at Siluria, was in Clanton Tuesday to put the cross under the elephant. Mr. Smith holds to his citizenship in Chilton county, although for several years past he has lived with his son in law at Siluria.

Mr. and Mrs. George Curlee of Birmingham were in Clanton Sunday and Monday visiting the family of Mr. J. M. Curlee.

Miss Naemi Turnquist of Thorsby is at work in the Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton this week. Miss Turnquist is regularly employed in the Bank of Thorsby, where she will continue her work after this week.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.

Since some misunderstanding has arisen over the time of meeting for the Reading Circle and Extension Course, I will say that the Maplesville Group will meet Friday, Nov. 5th, Jemisan Group, Friday, Nov. 12, and Clanton Group, Nov. 19.

HOWARD L. FOSHEE,
County Superintendent of Education.

Rev. Henry T. Crumpton of Brewton was in Clanton last Sunday and Monday. He brought with him his usual broad smile and hearty handshake, which, by the way, was mighty pleasant for his many old friends in Clanton.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

Falling Leaves

Autumn's falling leaves make a gloomy picture if we did not know that nature's all-wise plan provides for the return of foliage.

Have you provided for next year, and the years thereafter, with the same wisdom that nature displays?

If a season of misfortune came upon you, if you were nipped by the frosts of adversity, as the tree's foliage is nipped, could you come back again as do the trees?

The answer lies in what you have laid up. If you are using up every day what you earn that day you could never recover from misfortune. But if you are making every day provide for itself and part of a future day by steady deposits in bank, then you can weather any storm that comes.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Thorsby Lyceum and Entertainment Bureau takes pleasure in further announcing the date of the second number of its course This will be an exceptionally strong entertainment in the form of a stereoptican lecture on New Zealand, given by Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of the Baptist Church of Clanton, who has spent over eight years in travels abroad, and especially in this country which he shall portray to us. He will illustrate his lecture with about 100 views, which will be projected on the screen during the course of the lecture. This number will be given on Thursday, November 25th. You cannot afford to miss this lecture, which will prove both interesting and instructive from start to finish.

The regular services at the Baptist Church will be held on the thhird Sunday in the month at eleven o'clock A. M., and at 7:30 P. M. Sunday cshool at 9:45 A. M. and B. Y. P. U. at 7:15 P. M. every Sunday.

The W. M. U. meets every Monday after the third Sunday in the month.

Lovers of good music and singing are invited to join with Collins Chapel and Thorsby in a joint singing program to be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist Church of Thorsby, Nov. 7th. Everybody is urged to attend.

The Sweedish Ladies Aid will meet on Nov. 11th at the home of Mrs. A. E. Reagan.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Saturday night, Oct. 30th, a Halloween Party was given at Bates Hall for the benefit of the Athletic Association of Thorsby Institute. For one hour the audience wes entertained in the assembly hall by various performers. After the program the side shows were opened, among them being "The Chamber of Horrors," "The Freak Room." "The Fortune Teller," and "The Elizir of Life." Refreshments including cake, sandwiches and cocoa, also candy and peanuts, were sold. About $53 was cleared.

Miss Esther Berlin, who is training at St. Vincent's Hospital, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Berlin.

The many friends of Mrs. B. K. Forsman will be glad to learn that she is back with us again and intends to stay for some time. She would be glad to have her friends call on her at Mrs. C. H. Thomsen's.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Norton left on Wednesday morning for their home in New Jersey. They have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton.

Mrs. T. W. Robinson took a trip to Birmingham Wednesday.

Mrs. John A .Carlson entertained a number of ladies on the afternoon of Oct. 27th, in honor of her sister in law from Chicago, Mrs. Eric Carlson, who is visiting her. About 25 guests were included in Mrs. Carlson's hospitality, and late in the afternoon a delicious salad course was served. A most delightful time was enjoyed by all present.

The Thorsby Lyceum Bureau has decided to let the young ladies entertain the Hawaiian Quartet, when the honored gentlemen arrive, and just leave it to them, they will surely be there with the goods. So come on girls, let's show these visitors what wonderful hospitality we have in the Town of Thorsby.

* * *

Rev. W. P. Lowery, together with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Billingsley, attended the Fifth Sunday Meeting at Clanton. They report a good meeting.

On last Thursday, Oct. 28th, the Ladies Guild met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Sorensen, at which meeting there was an unusually large number of the ladies present. It was estimated that between sixty and seventy were in attendance. They had their usual business meeting after which Mrs. Eric Carlson of Chicago gave an instructive lecture on how to vote. At the conclusion of the program delightful refreshments were served.

On Friday night, Oct. 29th, a small number of friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan, honoring her sister, Miss Naemi Turnquist, on her birthday. Cards were played, after which the guests were ushered into the dining room, which was decorated in Halloween colors, and where refreshments were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard, Mrs. J. E. Beggs and Mr. W. M. Parnell.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

On last Tuesday evening, Oct. 26th, the Thorsby Chamber of Commerce met again for the second meeting for enrollment of members.

At this meeting the new members added brought the total number enrolled up to thirty. The following directors were elected to take charge of the work of the organization for the coming year: J. M. Graham, A. C. Legg, E. R. Piper, Sterling C. Wood, A. E. Reagan, Wm. Parnell, C. H. Thomsen, C. M. Williams, C. R. Foss.

Following this, By-Laws were adopted and general discussion on civic work was taken up.

On the 27th, the day following, the directors assembled and elected officers as follows: President, J. M. Graham, First Vice-President, C. R. Foss, Second Vice-President, C. H. Thomsen, Treasurer, Wm. Parnell, Sec.-Mgr., A. C. Legg.

Matters of organization, publicity, etc., were also taken up. Another meeting of the directors was held on Monday evening, Nov. 1. General business was takeu up. Arrangements are being made for permanent quarters for this organization, and as soon as secured they will be announced.

The Baptist Church of Thorsby will soon have completed its improvements on the building that have been under way for the past weeks. The inside room, as well as the Sunday School rooms, have been repapered white. The outside has been given several new coats of paint.

They are looking forward to the meeting of the Chilton County Association to be held at the church next year. This Association was organized at Thorsby in 1901. It has grown until it now has a membership of 28 churchces on its roll. The coming meeting promises to be the best that the body has ever held.

It is interesting to note that fifteen houses have recently been built, or are now under construction in the Town of Thorsby. Yet we understand that all are spoken for, with more people on the waiting list for somewhere to move. Those who own vacant lots in town should take immediate steps to build on them.

Mr P. Gustafson met with a serious and painful accident last week while blowing stumps on his farm. Though he stood a great distance from the stump, about to be blown, a large fragment was hurled toward him, and struck his left arm, breaking it in a number of places.

The holding of cotton in and near Thorsby is very general. Only in cases of necessitw has any been sold. The farmers here realize that in holding the cotton off the market for the present will help bring the price up.

There is one thing Thorsby should be proud of, and that is the Goodgame Planing Mill, which seems to be running full time. This enterprise has greatly added to the activity of the town through the efficient management of Mr. Goodgame. We understand that you can get anything you wish of finished lumber for inside work, in building your home. Mr. Goodgame also has charge of the cotton gin and warehouse. It is interesting to note that the cotton warehouse carries a cheaper insurance rate because it is better built than most other warehouses in our territory, which means that the farmers may safely warehouse their cotton here, knowing that it will be well taken care of.

KNOCKERS—TAKE NOTICE!

At the last meeting held by the Directors of the Thorsby Chamber of Commerce, a motion was passed that this organization place on the public bulletin board in front of the post office a challenge to KNOCKERS to form themselves into an organization, and accept an invitation from us into a public discusssion on the merits and demerits of Thorsby. NOW GET BUSY!

WE NEED A HOTEL

The evident need of a Hotel in Thorsby is shown by the fact that so many of the business salesmen, and even visitors, are compelled to go to Clanton, eight miles south of us or to Jemison, three miles north of us, for sleeping accommodations. It is high time the citizens of this town wake up to this fact, and see that in some way the situation may be remedied. We have a good restaurant, but let us also have a good hotel.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY BUILD NEW DAM AT DUNCAN RIFFLE ON THE COOSA RIVE

Plant Will Have Initial Capacity 50,000 Horsepower — Eventua Capacity Will be 120,000

The Alabama Power Company build a power dam at Duncan's Rifle, 12 miles below Lock 12, Coosa River, in Chilton County planned to have this new plant ration by January 1st, 1923.

Application for permission to struct the dam has been filed with Federal Water Power Comm Washington. This application mere formality under the new power bill, and it is promised promptly approved.

The new project is to be Mitchell Dam in honor of president of the Co., James ell. It will have an initial capac 50,000 horse power, with an ul capacity of 120,000 horse power will make it slightly larger tha Lock 12 plant, which, with the unit now being installed, h city of 115,000 horse power.

The power company has Duncan's Riffle as a site for exploitation because the erection of a dam there means that much toward the removal of the Coosa ids, and enabling the navigation Gulf of Mexico, a distance miles.

Chilton County will find a degree of interest in this announcement of renewed activity of the bama Power Company in this It means much in an industrial and we are proud to see another hydro-electric plant rise up part of the Coosa.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY TO BUILD NEW DAM AT DUNCAN'S RIFFLE ON THE COOSA RIVER.

Plant Will Have Initial Capacity of 50,000 Horsepower — Eventual Capacity Will be 120,000

The Alabama Power Company will build a power dam at Duncan's Riffle, 12 miles below Lock 12, on the Coosa River, in Chilton County. It is planned to have this new plant in operation by January 1st, 1923.

Application for permission to construct the dam has been filed with the Federal Water Power Commission at Washington. This application is a mere formality under the new water power bill, and it is expected to be promptly approved.

The new project is to be named Mitchell Dam in honor of the late president of the Co., James Mitchell. It will have an initial capacity of 50,000 horse power, with an ultimate capacity of 120,000 horse power. This will make it slightly larger than the Lock 12 plant, which, with the sixth unit now being installed, has a capacity of 115,000 horse power.

The power company has slected Duncan's Riffle as its next point of exploitation because the construction of a dam there means that much more toward the removal of the Coosa Rapids, and enabling the navigation to the Gulf of Mexico, a distance of 841 miles.

Chilton County will find a great degree of interest in this announcement of renewed activity of the Alabama Power Compay in this county. It means much in an industrial way, and we are proud to see another giant hydro-electric plant rise up on our part of the Coosa.

Chilton	2213	1020
Tuscaloosa	543	3339
Jefferson	7655	23919
Walker	5006

CAUGHT WITH WHISKEY.

Last Saturday morning Sheriff J. L. Gore and Deputy W. G. Culp, arrested Van Ness Mims and Leonard Easterling just on this side of the river at Higgins Ferry with a small cargo of whiskey which they were supposedly transporting from Coosa County to Clanton. When the Sheriff halted the car which was driven by Mims, the boys began a hurried effort to break their jugs and bottles before the officers could seize any of the liquor. This they succeeded in doing. But the officers received the evidence to warrant the arrest of the two boys.

REPUBLICANS MADE A CLEAN SWEEP IN CULLMAN.

Elected Practically All County Officials; 2,000 Women Voted in the Election.

CULLMAN, Nov. 7—Six thousand votes were cast in this county during the recent election, about two thousand of these being women. All the Republican candidates for county offices were successful.

The ranging majorities of Republican candidates over their Democratic opponents was over six hundred.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Marcus of Montgomery spent Sunday in Clanton visiting the family of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Marcus.

MARS HILL LOCALS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please permit me a small space in your valuable paper to say a few words from this place.

Health of this community is fine; everybody enjoying these beautiful sun shiny days. Gathering is all the go now.

Preaching at this place Sunday was grand. Everyone seemed to realize the importance of the service.

Rev. Bailey delivered a very interesting sermon. Also Bro. Littlejohn from Lawley was with us. We were sure glad to say that Rev. Bailey was welcomed to preach here at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Scott spent the week end with friends and relatives near Mars Hill.

Mrs. Willie Scott from Birmingham is visiting parents at ths place.

Rev. Bailey will be at Union Springs the fourth Sunday to have a few days meeting with Rev. Littlejohn as his helper.

On next first Saturday and Sunday Bro. Littlejohn will be here to deliver us a good sermon. We have changed our services from the second Sunday to the first.

Mr. T. C. Cofer and family have gone near Birmingham to reside for a few weeks.

Mr. C. W. Scott, who is our leader in singing was not out Sunday. Hope he will be able to attend on our next preaching day. Come everybody and bring some one with you. Let's build up old Mars Hill Church once more.

Wishing the Banner much success.

PINE DALE NEWS

Health here is good at present.

Our literary school is progressing nicely with Mr. J. M. Parrish principal and Miss Blanch Thomas of Good Water, assistant teacher.

Misses Fido and Katie Driver visited Misses Emma Lee and Florence Mims Sunday.

Misses Blanch Thomas and Jewel Littleton visited Miss Emma Lee Mims Sunday afternoon and all went off for a chestnut hunt; had a nice time but didn't find very many nuts.

Misses Viola Thomas Thompson, Leila Ellison took dinner with Miss Martha Rhodes Sunday.

Mr. Sam Thompson spent last week in Birmingham.

The protracted meeting will begin here Sunday and will run for several days, or weeks. So every body is invited to come and take part in the meeting.

With best wishes to the Banner and its many readers.

TO THE HOG RAISERS OF CHILTON COUNTY

More than a year ago we were elected as a committee to try to create some interest in growing hogs. At that time corn was high, cotton 30 to 40 cents and hogs 12 to 14 cents per pound. No one would talk about raising hogs. Now hogs are worth 12 to 14 cents, cotton worth 18 cents, and corn less than $1 per bushel. We believe now is the time to grow some hogs, as they are the best thing on the market. We would like to know how many people will agree to raise two or more hogs for the next fall market. We would like to hear from all that are willing to try this. We feel sure we can make more out of hogs than cotton. If there is enough interest we will call the people together soon. Write either of us.

J. D. COLLINS,
W. I. MULLINS,
J. N. DENNIS.

THANKS TO VOTERS

On behalf of Tom Rockett and Sam Pate, we wish to state to the voters of Chilton County, and especially the ladies, that you have the thanks of these two gentlemen for electing them to the offices of Tax Collector and Assessor on Nov. 2, by such handsome majorities. We extend this little expression of thanks because we didn't want the paper to go out without some kind of message of gratitude to the voters for the splendid victory recorded for the Republican ticket on November 2nd. Tom and Sam didn't write up a letter of thanks to the voters very probably for the reason that they are so glad they were elected that they did not think about writing it. Any way, we know they are glad you voted for them, and we are glad too, and so are all the other candidates.

B. E. Collum, Merchant, of Jemison, was a business visitor to Clanton Monday.

Losing Franklin and Winston counties by heavy majorities, and Fayette by a small majority, Representative Wm. B. Bankhead has been returned to Congress from the Tenth District by a plurality of 721 votes over his Republican opponent, Chenault.

With the interest of the state centered chiefly in the congressional fight being waged in the seventh between L. B. Rainey and C. B. Kennemar, little attention had been paid by either party to the Tenth, and as the reports were first received from the District it was thought that Mr. Chenault, the Republican, had won. The returns from Pickens county put the Democratic candidate ahead.

Bankhead carried Walker, his home county, by only 363 votes, and the fact that Pickens county gave him a majority of 1220 is the only thing that saved his hide. The vote by the counties of the district was as follows:

Winston—Chenault 2,340, Bankhead 1,244.

Franklin—Chenault 2,862, Bankhead 2,159.

Fayette—Chenault 1,688, Bankhead 1,562.

Walker—Chenault 4,333, Bankhead 4,696.

Lamar—Chenault 4,333, Bankhead 4,849.

Marion—Bankhead a majority of 577.

Pickens— Chenault 240, Bankhead 1,460.

In Walker county Senator Underwood trailed behind Reynolds, the Republican candidate, by 340 votes. Franklin, Winston and Fayette gave majorities for the Republicans, and in Winston every officer elected was a Republican.

FRIENDSHIP

Prayer service was conducted by Mr. Joe Baker last Sunday night. Quite a large crowd attended the service, which we were glad to see. We had some good singing both Sunday and Sunday night.

We want to announce that our singing society will meet next Sunday afternoon at 1:30. We invite every one who will help us to come, and those who will not help come and listen.

On next fourth Sunday we will have with us the noted singer, Mr. James Franklin. We will have singing both in the morning and afternoon of that day. We cordially invite every singer and lover of music to be with us on that day.

There will be Sunday school next Sunday at the usual hour, 10 o'clock, and the singing society will meet at 1:30 in the afternoon. It will meet at this hour every second and fourth Sunday afternoon.

There will be preaching here on the third Sunday night. Rev. J. D. Hughes will preach. We hope a large crowd will be out to hear his message.

Hereafter prayer meeting will be held only on the first and third Sunday nights.

There were several visitors last Sunday night, and we want to thank those who so generously helped us in our singing. We want you to come again.

Next Monday morning is the date set for the men to start re-covering the church house; and we want to say that any help in this work will be appreciated.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10 o'clock, prayer meeting every first and third Sunday night at 7:30, singing every second and fourth Sunday afternoons at 1:30, and preaching every fourth Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30, p.m.

Thanking the editor for this space, will close for this time.

SHOULTS

On last Saturday at about 11:00 o'clock, Mr. Ed Hall died at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. T. Walker. He had been sick for about six or more weeks. Everything was done in effort to save him, but God knew best and took him from his relatives and friends which were numerous.

Mr. Hall was near 60 years of age, a member of Pleasant Hill Methodist Church and he was a man that looked after his own affairs and left the other fellow's alone; everyone who knew him was his intimate friend.

He leaves one brother, two sisters, one half brother and two half sisters.

The funeral services were held from Pleasant Hill Methodist Church Sunday morning, by Rev. Butram of Maplesville.

Mrs. C. T. Walker wishes to express her thanks and gratitude to the people of this community for their help and kindness during the illness and death of her brother, Mr. Ed Hall. It is good to live in a community where the people are so kind hearted and generous.

Mrs. T. C. Snead of Centerville was here to atend the funeral of her uncle last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Williams were here Sunday from near Maplesville attending the funeral of Mr. Ed Hall, their uncle.

Mrs. Bessie Garner and Mr. Howard Oden attended the reading circle at Maplesville last Friday.

There was no Sunday School at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church last Sunday on account of the funeral services.

The people here are all so well pleased with the results of the election last week.

Mrs. George Hamrick is at this time very sick. Her friends are sorry and hope that she will soon be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hicks motored to Lawley Sunday on a visit to their mother, Mrs. Fannie Hicks.

Mr. Fred McGee spent Sunday night with father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McGee.

WILL CONTEST ELECTION

The latest announcement from Republican headquarters in the Seventh Alabama District says that it has been definitely decided to contest the election of L. B. Rainey, Democratic candidate for congress by C. B. Kennemar, his Republican opponent.

Kennemar's friends contend that Rainey's majority of about 700 votes was obtained by illegal registration of voters and other irregularities in the election machinery. The contest will be watched with interest.

BOX SUPPER AT POPLAR

There will be a Box Supper at Poplar Springs Schoolhouse Saturday night, November 13. Proceeds will go to school. All are invited to come and take part.

THANKS TO FRIENDS

We thank our friends and relatives for the many acts of kindness and sympathy extended during our recent bereavement.

Attorney L. F. Gerald was in the city of Birmingham last Friday on business with the Alabama Power Co., relative to the beginning of work on the new power plant to be built at Duncan's Riffles. It is practically assured that work on this project will begin at once, although Mr. Gerald would state nothing definitely in regard to the plans and purposes of the Power Company.

FROM OUR COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL SECRETARY

Letters received from our State president show that the Alabama Sunday School Association is suffering very much financially. Our allotment has been reduced from $240 to $180. We have about 80 schools in Chilton County. Last year we did not pay the state more than $60, but this year we are going to try to pay the $180, which is about $2.25 a school. We have only a few that contribute, that is why we fail in the finances. To make our county a gold star county we must pay our allotment, each school attend at least one convention or be visited by county or district officer, and fill out the statistical report blank and send to your county secretary. Last year only 24 schools sent reports.

Statistics show 22,270 people in Chilton County; 1,711 in Sunday School; 20,559 out of Sunday School. We know that we have many more in Sunday School, but failed to get the reports, and this is why Chilton County stands at the very bottom in S. S. work. Let's get busy and pay at least one-half of our allotment by November 15th, and make Chliton County a gold star county. We have as good people in our county as any where else. Let's prove it. Send all reports and contributions to your county treasurer.

BLACKMON HAS MAJORITY OVER LONGSHORE IN FOURTH.

ANNISTON, Nov. 6—Revised figures on the official count of the Congressional election in the Fourth District show Congressman Fred L. Blackmon's majority over A. P. Longshore 4,150 votes. This is larger than the friends of Congressman Blackmon had estimated from the first reports of the official count, and they show the largest majority ever given Mr. Blackmon in a Congressional race. Longshore's friends counted upon Republican women's votes to make a good showing for him, but the Democratic women voted in greater numbers for Blackmon, as well as the Democratic men.

POULTRY NOT TO BE TAXABLE

County Tax Assessor, J. N. Dennis, is in receipt of the following Act from the State Legislature:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:—

Section 1. That in addition to the property now exempt by law from taxation there shall be exempt from taxation and from assessment for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1st, 1920 and each fiscal year thereafter, poultry not to exceed one hundred in number to each householder resident in the State of Alabama.

Approved October 6, 1920.

Mr. Dennis announces that there will be no charges on poultry assessed by him for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1st, 1920, unless the tax payer has more than 100 head assessed.

And no one could tell the difference!

This test of direct comparison was made by Anna Case, world-famous soprano, before 2500 people, at Carnegie Hall, New York City, on March 10, 1920. See the three diagram sketches below:

First—
Miss Case stood beside the New Edison and sang.

Suddenly—the lights went out, but Miss Case's voice went smoothly on.

Then—
the lights went on again. Miss Case was gone. The audience gasped with surprise to find that her voice had been coming from the New Edison.

Mr. Santa Claus! Come in and hear the phonograph that did it

We want you to see it, listen to it, test it for yourself. This marvelous phonograph can give the family more pleasure than any other instrument you can buy them for Christmas.

Here is why:

This phonograph has actually proved that it can match the performance of the living artist,—and match it so perfectly that no one can tell its RE-CREATION from the living performance.

It did this on March 10, 1920 before 2500 people at Carnegie Hall, New York City—with Anna Case, the world-famed soprano. It did this on September 30th, 1919, before 2500 people at Carnegie Hall, Pittsburgh—with Marie Rappold, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company. It did this on November 5th, 1919, before 6500 teachers at the State Armory, Albany—with Mario Laurenti of the Metropolitan Opera Company. It did this over 4000 other times, with more than fifty great vocalists and instrumentalists.

You can read the facts of these amazing achievements in the leading newspapers of the United States and Canada. They are the talk of the music and scientific world.

And the phonograph? It's the Official Laboratory Model of the New Edison, "the phonograph with a soul." Every Official Laboratory Model in our store is an exact duplicate of the famous original Official Laboratory Model which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars to perfect. It is capable of sustaining the test of direct comparison; we guarantee this.

Get an Official Laboratory Model for Christmas. You will have the one phonograph which brings you the living performances of great artists exactly as those artists have given them. You know this is so! The proof has been given! The absolute, scientific proof!

Say the word,—and we'll save an Official Laboratory Model for you, and deliver it in time for Christmas.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Test It Yourself
You'll be able to recognize its superiority with your own ears—in every kind of vocal and instrumental music. Come in and see whether this isn't so. We'll gladly give you Mr. Edison's famous Realism Test.

Money Help
Ask about our Budget Plan. It shows you how to make best use of your Christmas money. It brings your New Edison for Christmas, and makes 1921 help pay. Careful, systematic spending always makes money go farther.

Prices
There is no inflation in Edison Prices. "Edison stood the Gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

"Felt Like Eating"

Man and Wife, All Run-Down from Farm Work, Were Greatly Helped by Ziron.

"MY WIFE and I, after a hard spring on the farm, were tired and run-down," says Mr. E. B. Mulkey, of Route 1, Acworth, Ga. "We neither felt well. I knew my blood was bad, as I had little boils on the back of my neck.

"We felt we needed a builder. We had heard of Ziron and thought it must be what we needed. It certainly was. We took it faithfully, and after a week or such a matter we began to feel better. My wife felt like cooking, and I sure felt like eating.

"Ziron sure did us good. It made us both feel stronger and better for the fall work, which everyone knows is 'some work' on a farm. My boils began to dry up, though just at first they seemed worse.

"We are much better and can highly recommend Ziron, and gladly do so for it sure did us good."

Ziron is a safe, reliable, tonic medicine, good for men, women and children, when an iron tonic is indicated. It is easy to take and contains no habit-forming drugs.

Will Rheumatism Again Bind You Hand and Foot?

If you had Rheumatism last year and treated only the pains of the disease by rubbing with liniments and lotions, you can be sure that soon again you will be in the shackles of this relentless foe. You may get some slight temporary relief from the pains of the disease by the use of these local remedies, but Rheumatism is too real and relentless a disease to be rubbed away.

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny germ in the blood, that you should try a remedy that has proven so thoroughly satisfactory in these cases. S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy cleanses the blood of all impurities, and removes all disease germs that may creep into the blood. Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. POOR WOMAN MAKES SACRIFICE

"For years I have doctored for indigestion and severe bloating with gas, all my money has gone for doctors and medicine which did me no good. I had lost all faith in medicines and as I have to work hard for the few dollars I earn, was afraid to risk any more money. A year ago my neighbor told me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I have found it to be the best medicine in the world and I am glad I made the sacrifice." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal track and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Republicans have already announced plans whereby the number of government employees at Washington is to be reduced just one-half. This means that 237,500 job holders of the government will be turned off and their names taken off the payroll. This is one of the first economies that will be undertaken by the new Republican administration.

The Democratic National Committee has "blacklisted" a group of prominent Democrats whom they blame for their recent party defeat, owing to the fact that they did not co-operate and directly assist in the campaign. We don't blame the committee for wanting to put the responsibility off on somebody else. The Democrats made such a poor showing at the game of getting votes that nobody could be proud of the outcome for them.

Imagine a poet for Secretary of Labor in the Cabinet of the President of the U.S.A. No wonder Wilson has made a mess of this government. He himself is first of all a dreamer and follower of altogether unpractical ideas of statesmanship. Then to add to the dilemma, he surrounds himself with a cabinet composed of men whose business has been studying out idle poetic stuff of the pink cloud variety. Secretary of Labor, Wilson, plans to return to his former occupation of verse writing.

"IN MEMORIAM"

The day is at last upon us when we hear ascending from many and varied places to the sacred altar of traditional Democracy, the solemn requiem as it is being breathed by a sad and dejected group of faithful followers over the prostrated and vanquished form of their broken and demolished idol, for many long years hallowed and worshipped as the "solid Democratic South."

Tennessee and Oklahoma, and other border states of Missouri and Maryland have yielded up their former blind allegiance to the idol and set their feet out upon the new pathway that leads to a participation in and exercise of political rights for reasons better and more fruitful to the people than those of the weary and footsore years that have been spent in the barren waste and monotonous ways of traditional Democracy; an allegiance that has been clinging to this Democracy, not because is was Democracy, but because it was traditional.

The justly famous donkey in many states and counties has been starved to death on account of his uselessness, and the well-known "rooster" is no longer perched upon the lofty places shouting his defiant challenge of political supremacy across Bill Brandon's "verdant hills and placid valleys," and some other Southern orator's fancied land where "by night the cotton whitens beneath the stars and by day the wheat locks the sunshine in his bearded sheaf."

The prejudices of the Civil War have been removed from the minds of the people in many places throughout the South, and they marched forth on last Tuesday with a vision of their broadest duties as American citizens, ready to wield their ballot in the interest of the one common cause of the whole United States, free from the erstwhile sectional prejudices.

The victorious elephant in his mad stampede of the country on Nov. 2nd did not stop at the traditional political fence that hes heretofore bound the land of Dixie to Democracy. As a result of his wild rampage of the country his tracks are left indelibly stamped in many places over the land of cotton. In more than one instance he, as Harper, the cartoonist says, carried whole states away with him "and he didn't even need them."

Great, therefore, are the wails and groans of the routed legions of "solid Democracy" in the South. But their prayers ascend to a political god that is void, and unable to answer with cheer and comfort. Verily their "son of man" himself hath not a place in all the United States to rest his weary head without being terrified by the horrible tracks of the elephant.

We are sorry for the upset and vanishing forces of this "solid" political army. But in our sympathy we can find no trace of comfort for them. We have told them in the past that the day was coming when the solid South would be solid no more. But they laughed at us and believed us not.

Now that the day of trials and tribulations is at hand, we can but commit them again into the hands of their own confused leaders whom they have followed to despair. And these leaders appear to be in the most hopeless condition of all, out of which to cheer the clamoring hosts of a traditional Democracy that has lost its tradition, and of a solid South that has lost its solidity.

Wrecked Hopes of the "Solid South."

Wrecked hopes and thwarted ambitions mark the course of last Tuesday's election as far as the South is concerned. All that is left to the Democratic party is a Solid South no longer solid, with a huge breach in its center and its upper bastions crumbling to ruin. From the bloc of Southern States, true to the cause of Democracy for half a century, Tennesse departed. Of the border States, the outer rim of the Southern compact, Kentucky alone rested in the Democratic column and that by a pitifully narrow margin. All the rest of the nation, 37 states, casting an electoral vote of 404 out of 531, voted Republican.

Political analysis may probe for the causes, but the South can only shudder at the result. There was scarcely a thinking man in America who did not realize that 1920 was a Republican year; that the nominee of the San Francisco Convention was doomed to defeat ere his name was acclaimed in the convention hall. But no one expected so overwhelming a reversal of fortunes as has occurred. Not Will Hays himself looked for it, not the most ardent Republican dared hope for it.

The South alone was left to the Democratic party. The West, the Middle West, the East, the border states, all alike deserted a Democracy that had held the rains of power for eight years. For more than a half century the South has voted the Democratic ticket, its electoral vote being cast in one solid mass for the Democratic nominee, regardless of where he was born, what were his ideas, how pleasing or unpleasing his personality. In all that time not a single Southern man has been named by the Democratic party for President or Vice-President. The nearest approach to it was Woodrow Wilson, born in the South, but nominated while serving as Governor of an Eastern state far removed by geography, history and tradition from Mason and Dixon's line.

Year after year the voters of the South have trudged across their hills and valleys, have left their farms and plows, have quitted their offices and stores to vote for men who bore the Democratic label, though hailing from a region for removed from the Land of Cotton. A few feeble voices have been raised now and then in behalf of a Southern man for one of the high honors of the party, but only once in sixty years has such a cry been taken seriously. In 1912 a few more than 100 delegates cast their ballots for a Southern man whose whole life had been spent in the South and among the Southern people. And be it said to their credit, they stayed true to their colors to the last momet until the great-hearted Underwood, in order to end a hopeless deadlock and send a thousand weary delegates back to their homes with something accomplished, something done, ordered his name withdrawn.

With that sole exception, the cry of party expediency has been too strong for serious consideration of the name of a Southerner. It has been said that a Southerner could not draw the votes in the North, the East, the West, or the Middle West, and candidates who came from states ranging geographically all the way from Nebraska to Maine, and, mentally, all the way from William Jennings Bryan to Alton Brooks Parker, have borne the standard of Democracy. And all this time a man who hailed from that part of the country where "by night the cotton whitens beneath the stars and by day the wheat locks the sunshine in his bearded sheaf," was barred from any chance at the highest honors his party might confer.

That day is ended. The day has come when the South must rise and assert itself, must demand its rights, must insist upon the reward of six decades of faithful allegiance to a party that has always gone elsewhere for its commanders. The Solid South shows danger of crumbling. For the first time since the bloc came into being, it has been broken, for the first time all of the border states but one have deserted.

Expediency has ruled, and once more expediency has failed. Had a Southern man been nominated at San Francisco, it is not conceivable that he would have lost Tennessee. It is certain that he could have held Maryland and Oklahoma. In other words, he would have drawn to the Democratic fold all the electoral votes cast for Cox and could have added at a minimum thirty more, and probably Missouri and other states in addition. And with him he would have brought at least three United States Senators that were lost and doubtless a score or more of members of the House. So, in this case reasons of expediency even would have dictated the nomination of a Southern man as the issue developed.

The day is past when the South can longer be flouted. The Democracy must recognize the claims of the bloc on which its fortunes are builded, else the bloc is likely to dissolve. Ways might be found to handle the one great issue that has bound the South hand and foot to one party. It is not necessarily true that that one question will always shackle this section to Democracy's chariot.

Tenessee has broken away, and the whole South will watch the Volunteer State's flirtation with the G. O. P. Wards and counties and parishes in other Southern cities and states returned Republican majorities for the first time.

All this is fraught with meaning to the observer. If the South is to be held together as the foundation stone upon which the Democratic party expects to build its structure for the future, the South must name the standard bearer in 1924. This is plain talk, but it is the time and the place for plain talk. The Birmingham News serves warning now on the Democratic party that the South will not forever labor in the vineyard without hope of reward.

The time is not yet ripe to talk of candidates. Nineteen-twenty-four is a long way in the future, but when one talks of a Southern man for president, his mind naturally turns to the South's most distinguished son, Oscar W. Underwood, who stands like a giant among Southerners, the foremost son of the South, one of the few real statesmen of the nation.

Oscar W. Underwood not only could have kept the South solid this year, but he could have added the border states, and he could have drawn thousands of votes in the North because of the confidence in which he is held by the business interests of the nation.

As the leader of the Democratic forlorn hope in the Senate for the next four years Underwood is going to loom bigger and bigger, and the time will come when he must be considered for the Democratic nomination.

But the point The Birmingham News strives to make clear is not wrapped up in the personality of any one man. On principle the South is entitled to name the next standard bearer of the party, and if the party must resort to expediency and ponder over geographical conditions, then expediency and geography alike demand the selection of a Southern man in 1924. —The Birmingham News.

A CALL TO DUTY

Washington, Nov. 9.—"The Republicans of the country will be guilty of self-delusion from which they will later suffer if they look upon the result of the recent election as a party victory," declares the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued today through the president of that organization, Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "It is a party victory only in the sense that Republicans will be restored to control of both the legislative and the executive branches of the government, but an analysis of public sentiment as manifested in political discussion leads to the conviction that the course pursued by thhe voters in making their ballots was determined by their dissatisfaction with the Democratic party and its administration of the afafirs of the government, rather than by the implicit confidence in the Republican organization. More than ever before in its history the Republican party it now on trial before the country.

"The situation which confronts the United States is a critical one. By many it is believed to be one of the most critical in our history. However, that may be, none will gainsay the assertion that th problems which confront the nation are not only most difficult but most oppressing.

"For eight years we have had an administration of watchful waiting, of surrender to foreign rivals, of internationalism rather than Americanism, of personal government rather than govenment by law, of extravagance and inefficiency rather than economy and high stadards of public service.

"We are assured by the successful Republican nomines that they propose a return to the government of the Constitution, a representative government with each of the three co-ordinate branches exercising its own functions in co-operation with but not subjection to the others. We are assured that there will be conference by the head of the administrative branch of the government not only with the members of congress but with citizens everywhere who are in a position to render valuable advice and assistance. The problems of the day are not, therefore for solution by the president and by congress alone, but all citizens are invited to perform their duty as such by making such suggestions as they can to aid in that reconstruction process through which the government will encourage individual initiative, build up a permanent industrial prosperity on a solid basis, and assure the perpetuity of government of, by and for the people.

"From beginning to end of the campaign, Senator Harding manifested his full appreciation of the seriousness of the task he would assume if elected to the presidency. The rank and file of the Republican party should emulate his example and in the hour of victory should not permit their rejoicing over partisan success to blind them to the fact that the election is a call to duty and responsibility rather than a bestowal of the rewards of political victory.'

MONEY IN HOGS

We call attention of the farmers of Chilton County to the article in the paper signed by the committee on hog raising in which they point out the exceptionally favorable conditions that confront those who will prepare hogs for the market now and in the future. The price of hogs has not come down like the price of cattle, while the cost of materials that go into the fattening of hogs has fallen much lower than it has been in the past.

Right now farmers would find great relief from the cotton stringency if they each had two or more fat hogs which they could put on the market at the present prices.

We think it a good plan for farmers to begin this winter to plan to prepare as many hogs for the market as they can carry over next summer and fall so they may have them to sell next winter.

Now is the time to begin your plans for doing this. Then when the hogs are ready for the market they can be sold co-operatively right here in Clanton. If you are interested we urge you to see one or all of the committee which is composed of J. D. Collins, W. I. Mullins and J. N. Dennis, and arrange to carry the proposition out on a systematic and business basis.

EIGHT MILLION TO BE SPENT

It is said that the Alabama Power Company plans to spend eight million dollars in the construction of their power plant and new dam at Duncan's Riffles. The thought has occurred to us that the farmers of Chilton County might find it to their advantage to arrange to work with this company at their construction works and make more money than they can hope to make in the next two or three years out of cotton.

An enterprise of the magnitude of this one will necessarily demand the labor of thousands of workmen. Of course many of these laborers will be brought from distant regions. But there will be a chance for every working man in Chilton County to get a job there if he wants it. The men who live close by in Chilton County can be the first on the ground with their applications and can get the work if they want it.

It will be a job worth the while of any laboring man, and it seems to us that the opportunity is more attractive than is now offered in the growing of cotton.

There will be work enough here for the next two years to employ every farmer and laboring man in Chilton County, and many hundred more besides. We would be glad to see our people in Chilton County get their part of this eight million dollars.

WEST CHILTON

November has been regarded as the saddest of the year, but the present beautiful autumn days do not quite sustain that thought.

W. R. Redden went over in Bibb Saturday to attend the burial of Mr. Frank Walker at Antioch.

Rev. Bailey of Minooka has been called to the pastorate of Union Springs Church.

Mr. Charley Cost of Pleasant Grove fell dead October 30th.

Rev. W. P. Lowery has been called to the pastorate of Macedonia.

The voters, both male and female here turned out liberally on the 2nd inst.

Rev. Waldrup and Mr. Sorrell attended the burial of J. C. Edwards son, who died in France, at Isabella Cemetery October 30th.

Mr. Barber of the I. B. S. A. came down from Birmingham and conducted the funeral.

The election officials at Macedonia on the 2nd were honored with a rich treat in a bountiful and nice dinner and supper given by Mr. J. Proctor Nix and his noble wife. It was all that could be desired and was duly appreciated by the officials. We doubt if the occasion was equaled any where in Alabama on that day. Mr. and Mrs. Nix are fine people and this noble act proved it abundantly. The election officials hereby tender them their hearty thanks and best wishes.

Already the Wilson Cabinet members are seeking other jobs to take up after March 4th . That is one of the things that the voters will be pleased to come as a result of Hardin's election. We suspect that many a man and woman cast their votes against Cox because they knew his defeat would mean the rout of Mr. Wilson's worthless cabinet.

CONFESSION OF THE NEWS.

We are especially anxious for our readers to notice carefully the editorial copied from The Birmingham News and appearing on this page of The Union-Banner. There is a whole lot of truth in what is said in this article, and we take it as nothing but a confession on the part of The News to the very condition that we have been trying to get the people to see for a long time regarding the political slavery of the South. The South has got nothing for its loyalty to the Democratic party, and the confession of the fact by such a newspaper as the News means that somebody has waked up.

Since last spring more than 500,000 workers in the United States have been thrown out of employment by the closing of factories and curtailed industrial operations.

About the "whitest" Democrats in the country have been placed on the "blacklist" of that party; and likewise, about the "blackest" of the whole gang are enrolled on the so-called "white list." It looks this way from the names on the different lists as announced by the National Democratic Committee last Sunday.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

GOOD LOOKS COUPLED WITH GOOD PERFORMANCE

Let your eyes dwell upon the clean and shapely design of the DORT.

Observe how pleasing the body lines are, viewed from any angle.

You will note there are no distressing angles, no harsh corners.

All lines are smooth lines that give a flowing graceful effect to the general appearance.

No less effort was expended by the DORT engineers in seeking attractive appearance than was put forth toward achieving for the motor and mechanism mechanical excellence.

The satisfaction that you feel in the smooth, competent, trouble-free performance of the DORT is further supplemented and strengthened by your justifiable pride in its outward beauty.
Closer inspection serves to confirm the very first impression.

Painstaking care has been lavished upon even the the smallest details.

The doors are wide to permit easy egress and entrance. Yet they close tightly and firmly.
The instrument board is compactly and conveniently arranged.

The seats are comfortable and leg space ample.

And beneath these exterior charms, hidden to the eye, is the rugged simply designed DORT chasis upon which the DORT reputation is solidly based.

Right now we can make immediate guarantee deliveries. But we can't guarantee that for long. Come in—or phone us at once—about your DORT.

SEWING CLUB

On last Thursday the Sewing Club enjoyed a lovely spend the day party with Mrs. R. E. Luckie. At the noon hour an elaborate luncheon was served; a vase of white and yellow crysanthemums adorned the center of the table. Places were laid for Mrs. McSwain, Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. J. Watts Moore, Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Clyde Jones and Mrs. Hugh Simpson.

In the afternoon various kinds of needle work was done.

Embroidery Club Meets.

The Embroidery Club held its regular meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Gerald. Ferns and chrysanthemums used in quantities to make the apartments attractive.

The club is having the inside of the grammar school refurnished and plans were discussed for the bazaar to be given before Xmas to finish raising funds to complete this work.

Mrs. Gerald assisted by Mrs. Horn and Mrs. Broadhead, served a most delicious plate luncheon to the following ladies: Mesdames T. A. Curry, McDavid, Chandler, Hugh Jones, Eric Hart, Splawn, Plier, Wyatt, Hayes and Johnson.

Mrs. Philip Horn will be hostess to the club today.

Mrs. E. E. Upchurch was hostess to the Polly Anna Club on Wednesday. The apartments were made most beautiful with ferns and cut flowers. The afternoon was spent in playing "42."

Mrs. Upchurch, assisted by Miss Latham, served a most delightful salad plate to Mesdames McDavid, Pipes, Hayes, Broadhead, Alverson, Cox, Hinkle, Roberts, Littlejohn, Misses Thomas, Wesley and Rogers.

Master Sam Upchurch favored the ladies with several piano solos. The club will meet with Mrs. H. T. Pipes next Wednesday.

Young Matrons Bridge Club

Mrs. T. C. McSwain was a gracious hostess on last Wednesday evening entertaining the young matrons card club. In the spacious living room, which was made attractive with ferns and cut flowers were placed four tables for the game of Bridge.

The club prize, a pyrex pie plate, was won by Mrs. Hugh Simpson, and the consolation, a similar gift, was presented Mrs. Eric Hart. Chocolate and cake were served during the afternoon.

Those enjoying the game were, Mrs. Grady Reynolds, Mrs. Heard, Mrs. Macy Jones, Mrs. Hugh Simpson, Mrs. Hance Alred, Mrs. Hugh Jones, Mrs. Watts Moore, Mrs. R. E. Luckie, Mrs. Guy Higgins, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Eric Hart, Mrs. Guy Roberts, Mrs. John Bridges, Mrs. John Van-Derveer, Misses Roberta Curry and Bettie Mullins.

The Study Club held its regular monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Eric Hart. As this was the business meeting of the club, there was no literary program. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. M. VanDerveer; Vice-President, Mrs. N. S. Johnson; Secretary, Mrs. L. F. Gerald; Treasurer, Mrs. H. F. Chandler; Federation Secretary, Mrs. Victor J. Heard.

Afterwards a delicious salad plate was served.

The Civic Improvement Association will conduct a story telling hour at the court house Saturday, November 13th at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Miller will tell "The Pet Lamb." Mrs. Broadhead will be in charge.

The Embroidery Club will have a bazaar at the court house Thursday, December 9th. All kinds of fancy work dolls, cakes and candy will be on sale. Remember the date, and purchase your Christmas gifts at this bazaar. Proceeds to go to the Grammar School.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts will spend this week in Montevallo.

Mrs. W. A. Reynolds was a visitor to Birmingham Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White have returned from a motor trip to South Alabama.

Mrs. Ruben Reynolds left Monday for a visit to Lafayette.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Gore have returned home after a pleasure visit to Columbia and Troy.

Mr. John M. Bridges arrived last week for a few days visit to relatives here.

Mrs. Guy Higgins spent a few days with friends in Deatsville.

Mr. Grady Reynolds and Mr. Marion Foshee made a business trip to Birmingham.

PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE

A meeting of the pastors, deacons and workers of the Unity Association of the Baptist Churches is called to meet at Clanton on Monday, November 15th, for the organization of a Pastors and Workers Conference to meet monthly for the purpose of discussing the work and problems of our churches and for mutual fellowship and encouragement. It is probable that the monthly meetings will be held at different places in the Association, but the first meeting is called to meet at Clanton, as the most accessible. Please notice that all the brethren and sisters of the churches as well as the pastors and deacons are cordially invited to participate in the conference. The meeting will commence about 9:30 or 10 a.m.

Rev. W. A. Goss, Chairman.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Two nice congregations were present last Sunday both morning and evening. There will be no morning service next Sunday as the pastor was excused to take part in a Sunday School Convention at Pleasant Grove. There will be preaching at night at 7:15, p.m. The subject will be "The Confessional of Romanism." Everybody is cordially invited to attend the services of the church. Baptists living in the community are cordially invited to attend the services of the church.

The attendance last Sunday was 101. With our present equipment we can take care of about thirty more. Sunday School is one of the greatest moral agencies for the coming generations. Most people never forget the early influences of the Sunday School. If you desire your children to become good christians and noble citizens you cannot do better than send them to Sunday School.

The Baptist State Convention meets at Decatur on the 16th, and it is hoped a goodly delegation will be present from the church. It will be a very significant convention as many very important matters are to be considered and determined such as, the building of a hospital, the moving of Howard College, the moving of the Orphans Home to Troy, and the location of a summer encampment. The leaders of our State convention need the prayers of all God's people. The pastor desires to be of service to the people of the community regardless of creed or profession whenever needed. Let him know your needs.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

Dr. and Mrs. Hayes and Miss Hattie Jones motored over to Montevallo to see Mr. Heath Jones Tuesday.

Mr. M. Y. Luckie of Birmingham is visiting his brother, Mr. R. E. Luckie.

"I'VE SUFFERED AGONIES BUT DRECO RELIEVED ME".

ONE PERSON AFTER THE OTHER KEPT TELLING OF THE GOOD DRECO WAS DOING.

Relieved Constipation, Stopped Gas Forming, Eased Kidney Trouble Strengthened Vital Organs.

"It seemed like the good news of what Dreco was doing spread fast, for I kept hearing people talk about what it was doing until I decided to get a bottle also," said Mrs. Sallie C. Bragg, of Newmarket, near Huntsville, Ala.

"I've sufefred agonies from gastritis. My food soured in my stomach filled me with gas, and caused griping pains and a choking feeling in my throat. My bowels were constipated sso that I had to take medicine almost every night. I had been under treatment for kidney trouble for months—seems like I had taken everything but the right thing. I was losing hope of ever being well again.

"When I started taking Dreco I was truly in a bad condition. I could eat but very little solid food. Dreco acted in a soothing manner on my stomach, and stopped the gas almost at once. My food began to nourish me and my nerves got steady. My bowels acted in a normal way each day; the headaches sstopped and my sleep became restful, and I'd rise in the morning feeling refreshed. Dreco has proven a wonderful tonic to my vital organs and made a new woman out of me."

Dreco is made from the pure liquid extracts of many herbal plants, which act on the stomach, kidneys, liver, bowels, and enrich the blood.

All druggists now sell Dreco, and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Co.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since . . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

REPUBLICANS OF THE SEVENTH TO DECIDE ON COURSE.

GADSDEN, Nov. 6—Republican leaders of the Seventh Alabama District will meet here on Nov 17 to finally decide whether to contest the election of Congressman L. B. Rainey according to announcement here today. Oliver D. Street, former United States District Attorney at Birmingham, is in charge of the interests of C. B. Kenemar, the defeated Republican candidate, and he will really make the decision, it is said.

Gordon Ashley, Kennemar's campaign manager, frankly stated that he would rather air the alleged irregularities in registration in the federal court, than to contest the election, although in a conference of leaders here Friday night he stated that he had about reached the point where he would advocate cuting down the state representation in congress if it takes that to get a square deal at the hands of the Democrats of the Seventh District. Mr. Ashley also stated that he spent less than $3,000 in the campaign. The committee, he said, did raise $25,000 among the manufacturers of the state, but it was sent north and was used in the national campaign.

Democratic leaders say that the contest will be for the purpose of forcing Alabama to allow negro women to register and vote, and that when the case gets to Congress it would open the flood gates of sectionalism and race prejudice. They deplore what they call the lack of sportsmanship of the Republicans in refusing to accept the defeat gracefully, but are willing to let them go the limit in stirring up the race question along the lines indicated.

LEGAL NOTICE

To Owners Unknown; and to Callie Zimmerman and Rowena Bruemmer, who reside in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois:

You are hereby notified that Alabama Power Company, a corporation, has filed its written application in this Court for the condemnation of the lands, waters, rights and interests therein described and that among said lands described in said application are the following lands situated in said County which are owned by you, to-wit:

Ten acres off the north side of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section nine, township twenty-one north, range sixteen east. The owners of the land described in this paragraph are unknown to the applicant.

The east half of the southeast quarter of section five and ten acres in the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section five, all in township twenty-one north, range sixteen east, Callie Zimmerman owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

All of fractional section six, township twenty-two north, range sixteen east lying west of the Coosa River. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the lands described in this paragraph.

The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twelve, township twenty-two north, range fifteen east. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

The fractional northeast quarter of section one, township twenty-two north, range fifteen east. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

Said application avers that said Alabama Power Company proposes to construct a dam across the Coosa River between a point in the fractional northeast quarter of section fifteen and fractional section ten, except 38 acres off the west side thereof, all in township twenty-one north, range sixteen east in Chilton County, Alabama, and all that part of fractional section fourteen, township twenty-one north, range sixteen east, lying east of the Coosa River in Coosa County, Alabama, and thereby impound the waters of, and back them up, said river, and by so doing a certain portion of said lands above described, of which you are the owner, will likely be flooded or covered by the impounded waters or the pool created by the erection of said dam, and you are further notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the Court for the 15th day of December, 1920, at 10:00 o'clock, A. M., and notice of said application and of the day so appointed for the hearing thereof is hereby given to you.

Witness my hand this the 8th day of November, 1920.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of the Court of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama.
11-11-3t.

Supt. of Education, Howard L. Foshee, attended the Teachers Reading Circle at Maplesville last Friday. He will attend the meeting of the Jemison group this Friday, and the following Friday the Clanton Group will meet here.

A DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Thorsby Institute and the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute have each undertaken the formation of a local development program to cover a period of five years. The proposed program will mean much to Thorsby and vicinity and we take pleasure in giving you below just a phase of the program tending the erection of the following buildings:

Two dormitories for girls, each to accommodate at least fifty; a large kitchen and dining room, fitted up to give students the best of service; one large dormitory for boys; a large new school building, fitted to better take care of the increasing enrollment of students; a large community house or hall ample and fully equipped to serve the people as a community center; one house for the president of Thorsby Institute.

Concerning the program as announced, the president's house is nearing completion. It is a six room bungalow and of very attractive appearance.

We can also announce that the ground has already been broken for the erection of one of the dormitories.

The citizens of Thorsby should feel proud of the Thorsby Institute and the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute, for the proposed building program that they have already begun to put into effect, and their efforts in this direction should receive the hearty co-operation of the whole community.

THANKS FOR HELP.

Mr. W.H. Goodgame wishes through these columns to express his gratitude and appreciation to the people of Thorsby who so willingly labored and worked in saving his lumber, warehouse and cotton in the mill and gin fire. He realizes the valuable help rendered him, and is deeply grateful.

Rogers, State Supt. and Treas.; Rev. J. P. Bean, Newell.

Tuesday, November 9th was set aside as Congregational World Movement Day.

Wednesday, Nov. 10th, as Educational Day.

Full reports as to the meeting could not be given at this time, but will appear later.

PERSONALS

Misses Jennie and Edith Robinson, two popular girls of Thorsby, spent Saturday and Sunday in Helena, where they visited with Mrs. Taylor, former resident of this city. During their visit a party was given honoring Miss Edith on her birthday. A general good time was shown them by their many friends in Helena.

* * *

Mrs. J. O. Johnson and little daughter, Edith, returned Saturday night from Gary, Ind., where they have been visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Nels Peterson returned Saturday, after a two weeks visit with her parents.

Mrs. Wood and daughter, Miss Mamie Woods, of Clanton, are here visiting Mrs. E. R. Piper.

Mesdames W. J. and M. D. Billingsley, are leaving this week for Mobile, where they intend to visit relatives and also attend the W. M. U. Convention, which is to be held in that city.

* * *

Mr. Robert Wood, of Texas, who has been visiting his brother, Dr. S. C. Wood, left Sunday afternoon for Mt. Carmel, where he intends to continue his medical course.

Miss Geneva Gray of Deatsville, who has been the house guest of Miss Carrie Billingsley, has returned to her home .

A number of our Thorsby girls who are employed in Birmingham spent the week end with their parents. Among them were, Miss Lucile Adams of the Travelers Insurance Co., Miss Nolia Robinson, a teacher at the Spencer & Ellis Business College, Miss Hazel Woolley, a stenographer for the T. C. I. Company.

Rev. Graham has just returned from a few days visit to Woodbury, Ga., where he has been attendnig the Georgia State Conference of Congregational Churches. Mr. Graham was there by invitation of the Georgia Conference, to address the meeting on Rural Organization and Religious Education. He reports that he had a very pleasant trip, and the Georgia people expressed keen interest in the progress of Thorsby in development.

* * *

Last Saturday night the Christian Endeavor of the Thorsby Congregational Church gave a social at the girls dormitory. A large number of young people were present; games were played and delicious refreshments were served.

On last Wednesday night a large number of friends met at the home of Mr. J. L. Foss and gave him a big surprise, honoring him on his birthday. Mr. Foss is a leader in the Lutheran Church, has been superintendent of the Sunday School for years. There were about 75 guests present to enjoy the party. A number of intereting talks were made, music was rendered by some of the girls and delicious refreshments were served.

Those who were present at Sunday School at the Baptist Church last Sunday could no doubt notice what a large attendance they had. It is said that the attendance numbered about 92, which is the largest number they have ever had. The Baptists of this town have been up and doing and they are surely getting results.

THORSBY FIRE

The most disastrous fire since the burning of the town several years ago, occurred last Saturday at noon, when the planing mill and gin owned by W. H. Goodgame, were totally destroyed. The origin of the fire was said to be in the boiler room, and when first noticed had gained such headway that it was impossible to stop its progress into the mill room and gin, the latter being at the time in operation. Those present at the time stated that it spread so fast that an atempt to save eiher mill or gin was useless, and they centered all efforts to keeping the fire from getting to the lumber pile and cotton warehoue near by.

It was most fortunate that it happened at that time of day, because as soon as the alarm was given scores of people arrived from town and by their hard work and assistance the fire was kept from spreading. It was also fortunate that the wind was blowing in a northerly direction, as otherwise no work could have saved the warehouse and lumber piles on the south side of the mill.

Mr. Goodgame stated to the Union-Banner reporter that his losses would amount to between $13,000 and $15,000, which is partly covered by insurance. He also stated that just as soon as he can make arrangements, he will rebuild the planing mill and also the gin.

We are certainly proud to know that Mr. Goodgame is coming right back, and we know his friends will stand by him.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Baptist Sunday School wishes to announce that next Saturday night, November 13th, there will be an Oyster Supper for the benefit of the Baptist Church. Thus supper will be held at J. G. Billingsley's store and they will be ready to serve supper at 5 o'clock, p.m.

Now, if you like good things to eat, you better not miss this, but be sure and come. Buy a supper and help a good cause along.

On Saturday evening, November 13, at Bates Hall, the Public Health program will be given by the Helen Keller Literary Society of Thorsby Institute. Miss Jessie L. Marriner, director of the bureau of public health nursing and child hygiene, on the state board has been secured to give a talk on public health work. Miss Marriner is one of the vice-presidents of the national organization of public health nursing, and a woman of national reputation in her chosen work.

A playlet entitled "The Imps and the Fairies" will be given by members of the societies, assisted by boys and girls from the public school. Every one is cordially invited.

MELODY MAKERS COME FROM FAMOUS ISLE OF KAHULAUI

Kahulain Quartet, Talented Hawaiian Musicians, to Sing Here.

If there is one particular spot in fair Hawaii where there is a preponderance of music, mirthland melody, that spot is the sunny island of Kahulaui Here, almost in the shadow of the famous Mt. Haleakai, is the fountain head of the alluring, fascinating music of the Hawaiian people.

From Kahulaui come these four clever native musicians who make up the Kahulaui Male Quartette. They have won considerable fame for themselves in their native land and they are clever musicians,—masters of the steel guitar, ukelele and other native instruments. The Kahulaui Boys have beautiful voices. They charm with the sweet melodies of the island and they sing them as only unspoiled native Hawaiian musicians can sing them. The members are G. Keolha, A. Nawaho, Victor Loa and Joseph Koalikini.

The Kahulaui Hawaiians will appear here on the evening of Nov. 17th, at Bates Hall, under the auspices of the Thursby Lyceum and Entertainment Bureau.

THE UNION-BANNER

VOL. IX. CLANTON, ALA., NOVEMBER 18, 1920 NUMBER 34.

REYNOLDS THANKS VOTERS

Editor Union-Banner:

I intended to write last week and thank the people for their votes, but as I was in County Court and Commissioners Court practically all the week I was unable to write before your paper went to press. So I want to take this means of thanking all who voted for me and especially thank the ladies who voted the Republican ticket.

We had a great county and national election. The people's cause has triumphed and we once more have a government of the people. I want the ladies to have an equal show with the men in the councils of the Republican party, for they are just as much responsible for the citizenship as the men and their responsibility is just as great as the men's; they are entitled to hold office if they are qualified, and I think they would make as good officers as a large part of the official work in this county is now done by ladies, and I am sure they are just as efficient as men.

I want to call the attention of the ladies who are under 45 years of age that they will have to pay a poll tax or they cannot vote. It is a good idea for you to never miss one year, for it is harder to pay two year's taxes than one. There are some men in this county who missed paying poll tax for a year or two and thought they would pay it in the future, but the accumulation was so much that did not pay it and thereby they have lost their citizenship. I sincerely hope the ladies will never get in this condition. I hope all the white ladies in this county will remember that they will have to pay their poll tax by February 1. 1921 or they cannot vote next year. No woman is due any back poll tax, but every woman who was under 45 years of age on October 1, 1920, will be due a poll tax, which must be paid between that date and February 1, 1921.

All Republicans should feel proud of the vote we received in the State; I think it will total nearly 75,000. Four years ago we received about 22,000. We have a Republican party started in the State and I hope we will continue improving and increasing it Now is the time to start for a campaign for the election to be held two years from now. We must have two political parties in Alabama if we have a good government; for we can never expect our taxes to be lowered until we have some opposition in politics. What kind of business men would we have if there was no opposition or competition?

I hope to see the Republican party organized in this State on a basis of votes and not Federal office holders. I want to see the organization in the counties recognized and I think all recommendations for State appointments should come through the State organization, for this is the only way we can get a Republican party organized in Alabama. I hope that those that are appointed will be persons who will try to build up the party. Of course I think that the Republicans should be apopinted to the offices, but I do not think that appointments are all that there is to be considered, but we must try to have people appointed who are qualified and who will do the work and help the party.

I want to thank those who helped me financially in the State campaign. I received the following contributions: M. D. Foshee, $25; Grady Reynolds $100; W. M. Wyatt, $15; J.D. Collins, $10. I received the above from citizens of this county, and received $180.00 from citizens throughout the State, making a total of $330. I spent $616.16, and gave six weeks of my time speaking and going almost day and night. I did the best I could to help up a Republican party in the State, and I find the people ready for two parties and all that we need is for some worker to go out and work from now until the campaign to be held two years from now.

I want to say just a few words to the people about our local condition. We have a few who are anxious to keep up a factional fight from now until the election to be held two years from now. They seem to think that there is no other way they can be noticed; but the people had better keep their eyes on the knockers, for I have never seen any one kick into a party, but many have kicked out. "A Texas pony never can kick into the harness, but can easily kick out of the harness."

We have seen the result of kickers in this county and we know what it leads to. If party officials do not do what you think they should, it is much better for the party to go to them and tell them than to try to stir up confusion in the whole party. We have had several kickers in this county for the last twenty-five years and not a single one has ever had hopes to help the party. All have finally proven themselves enemies and have wanted to destroy the party.

I want to say for my part that I will do in the future as I have in the past, and that is, do what is right as near as I can and treat all the people right; and if ever anyone sees where I could do better I shall at any time be glad to listen to their advice.

Let's all try to do our duty as we understand it and work for the Republican party's future, and when any one in this county wants a federal appointment let them ask for the endorsement of the county committee. We have a good committee and one that will represent all the people. I hope the ladies will feel that they are as much entitled to appointment as men are.

I hope everyone will keep an eye on the person who tries to keep up confusion in the party, for now is the time to put an end to party strife for now there is no campaign on.

Again thanking the voters, and assuring them that I am always ready to do anything I can for the interest of the Republican party, I am,

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

SAM PATE THANKS VOTERS

Thorsby, Ala., Nov. 15, 1920.
Editor Union-Banner:—

Will you allow me a short space in your paper to extend my thanks to the voters of Chilton County. Mr. Wyatt briefly expressed our thanks through the paper last week, but I feel that I ought to personally state to the voters that I appreciate the confidence you have in my as shown by your votes which elected me as your Tax Assessor on Nov. 2.

I especially want to thank the ladies who participated in the election. I feel like they did their part in helping us elect our ticket. I am going to try to show my appreciation of the office by doing right by every citizen of the county.

Thanking everyone who voted for me, and hoping no one will ever have cause to regret doing so, and with best wishes for four years of peace progress and prosperity, I am

Yours truly,
S. M. PATE.

POLITICAL COMMENT

PAYS AS HE GOES

The refusal of president-elect Harding to accept a battleship to carry him in regal state to Panama comes as a refreshing comparison with the actions of Bos'n Jo Daniels and Roosevelt the Lesser. The former, it will be remembered ordered a superdreadnaught, fully manned and equipped to take him to the Democratic convention at San Francisco at a cost of thousands of dollars to the American taxpayers. The latter found it quite impossible to reach his summer palace, after his nomination, without a large American war vessel to boss around and take him there. Daniels and young Roosevelt have carried on for some time as if they thought the American Navy was their own particular yacht club, without regard to the cost to the people. But the time is swiftly approaching when those two worthies will have to pay for their sea voyages out of their own pockets, hence, quite likely, they will stick around home, unless Henry Ford puts a peace ship at their disposal.

A SANE COUNSELLOR

Reports from center of political activity during the campaign give a great deal of credit to the political sagacity and tireless activity of former Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, who was in charge of the New York headquarters. It will be remembered that in 1916 Weeks surprised the country by making a very close race for the Republican nomination for the presidency. Although not having a very wide personal following at that time, he made a preconvention campaign that won him the confidence of a very wide circle of friends among the more substantial people of the country. He is of the deliberative type, not seeking the lime-light, and his judgment is held in high regard by men in business and in public life. Hs plan for a joint Congressional Commission on Reconstruction, had it not been defeated by President Wilson, would undoubtedly have saved the country billions of dollars.

TO EACH HIS SHARE

The message which Senator Harding sent to his running mate is indicative of a new policy in national administration. Said Senator Harding: "My heartiest congratulations over the great Republican victory to which your strength added so materially. You are to expect to play a full part in the coming Republican administration." All through the campaign Mr. Harding indicated his intention not to try to make his a one-man administration, and following the election he has reiterated this idea. It is expected that Coolidge will be invited to participate in cabinet meetings and will be called into conference on other important occasions. In this manner Mr. Harding will be able to lighten his own burdens, and, moreover, the vice-president will be kept in constant touch with public affairs so that he will be ready at any time to undertake any work that may be assigned him.

A "GOOD MIXER"

Tasker Lowndes Oddie, the newly elected Senator from Nevada, is a mining man, in private life. He studied law and was graduated from the law department of the University of the State of New York, but he entered active business pursuits instead of following that profession. Nevertheless, he practiced law to some extent and served as district attorney of his country in 1900. He was one of the early operators in the Tonapah mining district in Nevada, and, during the war, rendered especially valuable service to the government as a member of boards dealing with problems in connection with metal production and conservation. He served in the Nevada state senate from 1904 to 1908, and made such a creditable record that he was elected governor for the term 1910-14. He is known as a "good mixer."

MR. RATLIFF RECOVERED

Mr. Wesley Ratliff has been dismissed from the Clanton Infirmary after recovering from an operation for appendicitis performed by Drs. Gragg and Marcus. The patient has returned to his home near Pletcher. He is the father of the little Ratliff girl who was operated on at the Clanton Infirmary for appendicitis last summer.

ALA. BAPTIST CONVENTION IN SESSION

Ninety-Ninth Annual Conference — Will Spend Vast Sum for Big Hospital—Birmingham Man Presiding.

Decatur, November 17.—The second session of the ninety-ninth state convention of Alabama Baptists now in session here at the First Baptist Church, was held Tuesday night. It was exclusively devoted to the hospital report of Dr. J. R. Hobbs, chairman of the hospital commission.

The report recommended that ten committeemen, one from each congressional district, be appointed with authority to name seven men and women to determine the location of one or more hospitals. It also was recommended that one large hospital be built at once, and later several smaller branch hospitals. The initial expenditure is to be $750,000.

At two o'clock this afternoon W.H. Smith of Birmingham was re-elected president of the convention. The vice-presidents are A. D. Smith and A. F. Smith. Rev. W. M. Wood of Birmingham was re-elected secretary for the sixteenth year. Secretary-Treasurer B. F. Green read his lengthy report, a synopsis of which already had been publicly announced at the afternoon sesion. The report was referred to a committee.

Thousand Attend.

The convention sermon by Rev. W. M. Murray this morning marked the opening session of the convention. Nearly 1,000 delegates are in attendance, representing more than 2,000 churches and a membership of over 225,000. The executive council last night received reports for presentation to the convention which show that Alabama Baptists raised $4,150,000 toward the Baptist 75 Million campaign, an amount in excess of the state's apportionment by $150,000.

Questions of great interest to Baptists of the state to be dicussed at the meeting will be the enlargement of Howard College, enlargement and removal of the orphans home and the establishment of a hospital in the state. Judson college, it is stated, will receive consideration also.

Wednesday's programme will be devoted largely to missions and education. At the morning session missions in Alabama will receive first attention. Secretary Green will lead the discussions for the first 20 minutes. Missions in southern states will be reported and discussed by Dr. J. R. Hobbs, a representative of the home mission board. Dr. J. W. Phillips, a representative of the foreign misison board will make a report upon that branch of Baptist work .

Notable Speakers.

The afternoon session will include an address upon Christian Education by Dr. W. C. James, of the Southern Baptist educational board. Ministerial education will be discussed by Dr. J. C. Stivender. These two addresses, it is understood, are being expected with much interest and an overflow attendance is assured.

The evening session has been announced as "College Night." The entire question will be covered. Among those who will speak are Dr. Charles B. Williams, president of the Howard College, Dr. Paul V. Bomar, president of Judson College, and Dr. J. A. Lowery, president of the Baptist Collegiate Institute.

The churchfolk of Decatur are extending every possible hospitality to the visiting Baptists. The local Baptist congregations are receiving such assistance as is required from their neighbors and friends of other denominations. The social plans, arranged by the people of Decatur, are extensive and indicate a decided cordiality.

PIONEER, BORN AND RAISED

Peter Norbeck, who will succeed Edwin S. Johnson as Senator from South Dakota, on March 4, is a pioneer. He was born a pioneer. According to the records, he was born at Vermillion, South Dakota, in 1870, when sod shanties were thte most common habitation, and buffaloes still roamed the plains. He was one of the builders of the industries of the state, contributing his part largely by drilling wells to supply water for a region where water was difficult to secure. He was educated at the University of South Dakota, served three terms in the State Senate and four years as Governor. He is one of the new Republican members of the Senate who may be classed as a "business man."

HEATH JONES

G. Heath Jones, former well known and popular citizen of Clanton, died at Montevallo last Friday after a brief illness with pneumonia. The remains were brought here Saturday and buried in the Clanton Cemetery Sunday.

For the past three years Mr. Jones had lived in Montevallo, where he held a position with the Latham Mercantile Co. During his residence of many years in Clanton Heath was connected with some of the most prominent mercantile houses of the past, among them being W. Kanter & Bro., and E. M. Pinckard & Co. While in the employee of these firms he had dealings with great numbers of people both of Clanton and various parts of the country. His number of friends always grew as his acquaintance widened, for he was a man whom to know was to love and admire. He as kind, courteous and honest and his conduct toward his fellow man was always governed by his strict adherence to the golden rule, which he lived day by day.

True to his friends, thinking and practicing nothing of harm to anyone made for this man a place in many a heart that will feel the void that is created by his departure from the walks of life.

The deceased was the son of Mr. Andy Jones of Mulberry Community, where the family was reared, all of whom survive to mourn the loss of the first member of the family circle to cross the river of death. Besides the father and mother the other members of the family are: Hugh and Spann Jones, Mrs. J. P. Hayes, Misses Hattie, U. L. and Irene Jones.

Funeral services were held at the Clanton Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Ogletree of Montevallo, an dwas attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives.

REV. J. D. HUGHES WILL PREACH AT FRIENDSHIP

The announcement has been made that Rev. J. D. Hughes of Coopers will preach at the Friendship Baptist Church just north of town on next Sunday night, beginning at 7:30, p.m. Rev. Hughes is well known around Clanton as a splendid preacher and a very good man with it. Everybody who can is urged to come out and hear him preach.

CANE CREEK

Health of this community is fine. Our Sunday School is progressing nicely. Our singing Sunday afternoon was fine.

Miss Ressie Miner spent Saturday night with Miss Zora Miner.

The funeral and burial services of Heath Jones here last Sunday was attended by a number of his friends from Montevallo, including Rev. ..... from Montevallo, including Rev. Ogletree, who conducted the ceremony.

TOM ROCKETT THANKS VOTERS.

Cooper, Ala., Nov. 15, 1920.
To the Republican Voters of Chilton County:—

I wish to express my thanks to you who voted for me on November 2nd, and elected me as your Tax Collector for the next four years. I wish to assure the people of the county that I appreciate the confidence bestowed in me as shown by your votes. I will pledge here and now to use my best efforts to perform the duties of the office to the credit of the county and to the satisfaction of each and every citizen. My purpose shall always be to do right in the execution of my duties, and I hereby solicit the co-operation of every citizen of the county to the end that I may be a worthy and competent official.

I wish especially to thank the women voters for the favorable consideration shown me and other Republican candidates. It is a source of gratification to me to know that I was the recipient of the first vote cast by so great a number of Chilton county's worthy women. I would now urge each and every woman voter in the county to make a wise and judicious use of their suffrage in the future, seeking always to cast their good influence on the side of right and the best interests of our county.

With many thanks to one and all, I remain, as ever,

Your humble servant,
J. TOM ROCKETT.

ANOTHER POTATO.

Uncle Mose Robinson of Beat 16 has been telling us all the fall that he was going to bring us a big potato when "diggin' time" came. According to promise he walked into our sanctum Monday morning with the said potato tucked under his arm. It weighs six and a half pounds, and in point of size is a tie with Ben Duke's presentation of a few weeks ago.

The challenge of Thorsby still stands against Clanton for the organization of a commercial club. What are we going to do about it? Shall we get busy and show our neighbors that we have some life in us or shall we sit down on the job and thereby tell them that we have lost our pep?

When we go to the post office on one of these rainy days that nice bit of muddy sidewalk between Upchurch corner and Downs Hardware Store makes us wonder what has become of a certain paving ordinance which was promulgated by the Town Council once upon a time. And we suspect foot passengers to and from the Exchange Hotel are prompted to musings on the same subject after they have made the stretch that lies between Chandler's Store and the hotel front.

The merchants are pleading and begging their customers to buy their goods, offering all kinds of reductions in prices. As one Clanton firm has put it, "The bottom is out of prices already." But buying seems to be going rather slow, we suppose owing to the inactivity of the cotton market just now. We don't know what is going to be the result of the present spell of tight times. But one thing is sure, somebody is going to have to sacrifice before things get back to normal, and we look for the farmers and local merchants all to come out with a certain proportion of the loss registered against them.

We learn that the committee on drainage of the swamps around Clanton have something to report on the proposition tending toward the initiation of the work. By next week we hope to get in touch with them and give our readers a detailed report of the progress of the plans. We hope that all the people who own swamp lands around this town will be ready to get up behind the scheme and let's push it through. Other places in the state are reclaiming their useless lowlands from the snakes, frogs and mosquitoes. Clanton must do likewise. We have more wealth tied up in untillable swamps than we have on the surrounding hills. We must get it in shape to put our hands on.

THE SALEM CEMETERY

Now that it is assured that the new dam at Duncan's Riffle is to be built by the Alabama Power Company, the question of what will become of the cemetery at Salem, is an interesting one. It is said that when the waters are backed up by the new dam the pond will cover the ground to a depth of several feet at the cemetery.

Can a cemetery be moved? It might be removed under some circumstances, but we doubt if those circumstances exist at this burial place. There are many bodies that were buried in this cemetery many years ago, the dust of which could not be separated from the native clay. These bodies were not buried in vaults nor enclosed in metal caskets. They were laid away in the cheap wooden coffins made by the community blacksmith and long since coffins, bodies and all have been reduced to the clay from whence they came.

Doubtless not a few of those people who have relatives buried in this sacred lot will be averse to having it submerged; and the river is going to be damned up so that water will cover the earth at Salem. All of which makes us interessted in seeing what is to be done about the matter. There will be some way around the question, for the power company is not to be puzzled by any proposition that stands in front of such a gigantic program is this one.

TELL THE EDITOR.

Every newspaper editor is desirous of printing all the legitimate news of his subscription field. That is the object of his paper

But unfortunately an editor is partly human—he is at least moulded in human form. He does not possess a dozen pair of hands, or legs, or eyes, or ears, for the collection of this vast fund of information.

That is why the editor urges you to tell him what you know—to keep him informed of the doings of yourself and family, of your friends, or of the community in general.

It is the only way to make a good paper—and a good paper is one of the prime requisites to a good community in which to live and do business.

Tell it to the editor.

He'll tell others—if it is tellable. —Exchange.

We intend to publish the figures of the Republican vote in Alabama if they are ever announced at Montgomery. The official count there is due to have been made this week, but has been delayed owing to the fact that one county has not sent in their returns. We are anxious to give our readers the vote that was polled by the Republican ticket in the state and will do so as soon as we can.

NO PROTEST FILED AGAINST THE DAM WORK.

Up to the closing hour Tuesday evening the Alabama Public Service Commission had not received notice from any source that there would be any objection made to the request of the Alabama Power Company for permission to construct a huge dam and electric power plant on the Coosa River at Duncan's Riffle below Lock 12. The request filed by the Power Company a week ago will be heard by the Public Service Commission Wednesday.

The proposed development will be known as Mitchell Dam in honor of the founder of the Company, and will involve the outfitting of a huge electric generating plant estimated to cost between 10 and 15 million dollars, and ultimately will be a larger plant than Lock 12.

HEFLIN SAYS COTTON PRICE WILL ADVANCE

Senator-Elect Declares that Staple Will reach 30-Cent Mark By January 1st.

Thirty cent cotton by January 10 is the prediction of our Senator-elect Thomas Heflin, who spent a few hours in Montgomery Tuesday.

Senator Heflin was en route to Tuscaloosa, where he will speak for the American Cotton Association. He is optimistic over the outlook for the cotton man, and believes that the market is upward bound at an early date.

The Senator's prophesies on the course of cotton have in the past been uniformly accurate, and his present views on the project are cheering news to the man who is stocked up with the staple.

MRS. PARRISH DEAD

Mrs. Birdie Parrish, widow of the late G. W. Parrish, died at her home in Clanton at six o'clock Wednesday evening. She had been sick with pneumonia since last Sunday.

The deceased is survived by the following children: Clarence Parrish of Birmingham, Evan, Leonard and Howard Parrish of Clanton, Mrs. Grady Borland of Albany, Ga., Sallie and Inez Parrish of Clanton. All the children were with their mother when she died.

At the time we go to press funeral arrangements have not yet been announced. She will most probably be buried with her husband at Concord Cemetery.

FLORIDA GAVE 44,800 VOTES TO THE G. O. P.

Jacksonville, Nov. 16—The Official count of the vote in the general election in Florida as announced here tonight is as fololws:

President, Democrats, 90,516; Republicans, 44,803.

Henry W. Pond of Rockford was in Clanton last Friday on a business visit. His visit to the Union-Banner office was much enjoyed by the editor. Henry broke the news to us that he was married last week to Mrs. Crawford, widow of the late Judge Crawford.

WHY YOU SHOULD HELP STOP THE CIGARETTE CURSE.

Teachers are more in demand now than ever before, but the country is spending far more for the abominable cigarette than is being paid the untiring instructors of the young. The Son of God said: "Go ye into the world and preach My Gospel to every creature." but more money went up in tobacco smoke in 1918 than the Christians of America had invested during a hundred years to evangelize the balance of the lost and sinful world.

Awful as this was, cigarette smoking increased 47 per cent.

Now when nearly all young men are confirmed cigarette smokers, when older men are taking to the habit by leaps and bounds, and the medical director of the U. S. government saying that one of the worst tendencies of today is cigarette smoking among women, when little boys are taking to the habit like ducks to a pond, and their teachers saying that when they smoke cigarettes they destroy brain cells and thereby make it impossible to accomplish what they ought to in life, when officers of the law say practically all criminals are cigarette smokers, while successful soul winners tell us that often the whiskey drinker and gambler are easier led to a saving knowledge of Him who did salvation bring, than is a lost man who smokes cigarettes, on account of the insidiousness of the enslaving habit. Won't you for God's sake and for the love of humanity, write your representatives in the National Congress and the Senate, asking for a law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of cigarettes?—International Anti-Cigarette League.

COUNTY HAS NOT REPORTED VOTE: COUNT IS HELD UP

Because returns from the recent general election in Alabama have not yet been filed with the secretary of the state from one county in the state, the canvassing board, which was to meet at eleven o'clock Tuesday morning to make an official check of the returns, was unable to hold the meeting. It is not known when they will hold the session, everything being held up until the returns from this city is filed.

The board is composed of the governor, secretary of state and attorney general. They will make an official count of the votes in the state, and issue certificates of election to the successful candidates. One of the results of this count will be the definite decision regarding the Seaport amendment.

CHILTON COUNTY ABSTRACT CO

M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Abstracts of Title Promptly Prepared at Reasonable Charges.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

. . . I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

PROMINENT ALABAMA MAN PUBLICLY ENDORSES DRECO

HAD ACUTE INDIGESTION, LIVED ON EGGS, MILK AND TOAST. COULD EAT NO MEAT AT ALL. DIZZY SPELLS ATTACKED HIM.

Now Declares that Dreco, the Herbal Remedy, has Given Complete Relief.

"I have suffered from a severe case of acute indigestion and gastritis a long time; was living on milk, eggs and toast, when I started taking Dreco, and I am better now than I have been in a long time," says Mr. F. M. Dunbar of 213 Washington Ave., Montgomery, Ala., in a signed statement for publication. Mr. Dunbar is in the charge of telephone maintenance for the A. & W. P. R. R., and one of the most substantial citizens of the city. He makes this open statement, believing that it will benefit others who are sufferng as he did.

"I was afraid to eat meat and many other things I craved, for I knew I would suffer agony afterwards. I often waked up during the night with shortness of breath and pains in the region of my heart. I had dizzy spels at times I was afraid I would drop in the street from them.

"I was so badly constipated that pills and such medicine had no effect on me and I had to take enemas for relief.

"I have now taken two bottles of Dreco and the change in my condition is little less than marvelous. I can eat almost anything I want, and never have any bad after-effects. I have not had a dizzy spell recently, and best of all my bowels act regularly every day, without a pain and no straining. I feel better than I have in a long time, and I give all the credit to Dreco, which I strongly recommend to every one who suffers as I did."

All druggists now sell Dreco, and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Co.

The NEW EDISON as a Xmas Gift

WOULDN'T you like to know why the family will get more enjoyment out of the New Edison than out of any other phonograph? Come in and ask for the "Personal Favorites" Realism Test. We've said that listening to the New Edison is the same as listening to the living artist. We've said you get the same emotional thrill when you hear your favorite music RE-CREATED by the New Edison, as when you hear it by the living artist.

The Realism Test will help you test these claims for yourself.

If you find what we've said is true, you will know the New Edison is the phonograph your family wants for Christmas. You know they'll get more enjoyment out of the New Edison than out of any other musical instrument.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The regular services of this church will be held next Sunday morning and evening, the night service commencing at 7:15 p.m. Owing to the inclemency of the weather on last Sunday night the sermon on the Confessional of Romanism was postponed until next Sunday night, when it is hoped more will be present to hear it.

The Sunday School meets at 10 a.m. and the Sunbeams at 2 p.m. The Junior band will meet at 3 p.m. Mrs. Broadhead is leader of the Sunbeam Band and Mrs. D. C. Alred of the Junior Band. At the close of the morning service the regular church conference will be held.

On Thursday, November 25th the church will co-operate with the Methodist brethren in a Thanksgiving Day service, commencing at 10 a.m. The pastor of the Baptist Church will preach the sermon, and the members of the Methodist Choir will furnish the music. The time of the service has been arranged so as not to conflict with other events of the day, so it is hoped that a large number of the churches will make an effort to attend this great annual occasion to render their thanks unto God for all His goodness to us during the past year.

The pastor will give his illustrated lecture on the Wonderland of New Zealand on Tuesday the 22nd at the court house in the interests of the new building fund. This will be given under the auspces of the ladies aid of the church. There will be over 100 views of the country and of the natives thrown upon the sheet which will make the lecture of interest to all. The lecturer has resided in this charming and beautiful country for eight years, so will know whereof he speaks. The entire proceeds will be given to the building enterprise. The ladies are asked to co-operate n the selling of the tickets and in helping us to make it a financial success. It will also be given during the week at other places in the county.

The pastor will be absent from the city the greater part of this week attending the State Convention at Decatur. P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

AUCTION SALE

LEGAL NOTICE

Alabama Power Company vs. Robert S. Teague, et al., in the Court of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama.

To Owners Unknown; and to Callie Zimmerman and Rowena Bruemmer, who reside in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois:

You are hereby notified that Alabama Power Company, a corporation, has filed its written application in this Court for the condemnation of the lands, waters, rights and interests therein described and that among said lands described in said application are the following lands situated in said County which are owned by you, to-wit:

Ten acres off the north side of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section nine, township twenty-one north, range sixteen east. The owners of the land described in this paragraph are unknown to the applicant.

The east half of the southeast quarter of section five and ten acres in the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section five, all in township twenty-one north, range sixteen east, Callie Zimmerman owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

All of fractional section six, township twenty-two north, range sixteen east lying west of the Coosa River. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the lands described in this paragraph.

The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twelve, township twenty-two north, range fifteen east. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

The fractional northeast quarter of section one, township twenty-two north, range fifteen east. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

Said application avers that said Alabama Power Company proposes to construct a dam across the Coosa River between a point in the fractional northeast quarter of section fifteen and fractional section ten, except 38 acres off the west side thereof, all in township twenty-one north, range sixteen east in Chilton County, Alabama, and all that part of fractional section fourteen, township twenty-one north, range sixteen east, lying east of the Coosa River in Coosa County, Alabama, and thereby impound the waters of, and back them up, said river, and by so doing a certain portion of said lands above described, of which you are the owner, will likely be flooded or covered by the impounded waters or the pool created by the erection of said dam, and you are further notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the Court for the 15th day of December, 1920, at 10:00 o'clock, A. M., and notice of said application and of the day so appointed for the hearing thereof is hereby given to you.

Witness my hand this the 8th day of November, 1920.

Things Worth Thinking About.

Have you ever thought how nice our town would appear if we kept our walks and streets clean, our parks in good shape, to strangers who pass through during the day? Then also if we had electric lights that our streets and buildings could be lighted at night, it would add another drawing card to the outsiders as an up-to-date clean and healthy town to live in. Now is the time to do things, through our chamber of commerce, which welcomes the co-operation of every citizen of the town.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid met last Thursday, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Reagan, an unusually large crowd attended and an enjoyable afternoon was spent.

The oyster supper which was given by the Baptist Sunday School Saturday night resulted in a grand little sum of money, which is to be given to the church .

IT CAN'T BE DONE

How often is this not the answer, given by citizens of the town, when approached on subjects relating to some movements for the building up of the town. There is no doubt that this statement holds true with regard to the individuals who make statements like this, for surely no proposition ever so small can be successful among an individual or individuals who hold this view of things, and because of this would turn neither mind nor hand in the direction of progress. If we say things can't be done, they surely will not be done, but on the other hand, if our motto be "They shall be done," or "We will know the reason why they can't be done," we shall find in most cases that our objection will have become accomplished facts, and our doubts will have vanished. Which shall your motto be?

Mr. G. C. Walker of Clanton made a visit to our city last Friday p.m.

CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE OF ALABAMA.

The readers of the Union-Banner were told last week something of the speakers at the annual meeting of the General Congregtaional Conference of Congregational Churches in session at Thorsby, and were promised some additional facts about the same in a later issue.

The speakers mentioned last week were all present except Dr. Bloom, and the correspondent has been misinformed when told that he was present. His place was filled by Rev. Chas. L. Fisk, the religious education expert assigned to the southeastern field. The conference program, as before stated, was made into main divisions—a world program of Missions, and Education. As Drs. Moore and Keller lifted up the world Christian Program before their hearers, they did it so powerfully as to lift their audience up with them. As they took us from point to point on the great battle line of the Kingdom forces, every one seemed to feel anew the compelling power to forget "the things that are behind and reach forth the things of the future, pressing forward to the mark of the prize of the high calling of God as it is in Christ Jesus." Perhaps few of us will be able to attain the standards set for us in these convincing appeals and picturizations, but we cannot fail to seek newer heights in Christian service since having heard them. As Dr. Fisk, with his strong array of forceful facts, presented so effectively by word and chart directed our attention to the ever present challenge of the youth of our land, showing us clearly the critical age periods in childhood and youth, we all felt as if we could not rest content until there is placed at the door of every family the best of opportunities to compell choices. We have all known and heard Miss Sarah E. Luther, secretary of Exceptional Education in Alabama, but we were never more impressed by her and her charming personality than when she was so eloquently directing our attention to the field and the program of our beloved State in her program of education for reaching and helping the illiterate and the backward among us.

Time and space will not allow a full report of the Conference, but we want every progressive minded citizen to know that the people of Thorsby have had an unusual treat, and that no matter what may be the turmoil of labor in the coming years, nothing shall be able to take from us the great riches in thought and in spirit that was brought to us during the recent gathering of these Christian workers.

THORSBY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

In spite of the rain and bad weather on last Monday evening, twenty members of the Chamber of Commerce were present at the meeting held in the Masonic Hall, when Mr. Chas. Jones, assistant secretary of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, gave us a splendid talk on the work that an organization of this kind can and ought to do, in order to build up a town like Thorsby. He said "the keynote of success to our chamber of commerce was in loyalty and work of its members who should study and picture in their minds the possibilities we have here, and then each work to gain this end. He said these things could not be accomplished in a short time, but would take months and even years, but by the continuous and hard work of this organization they would surely come." That the degree of success would be measured by the efforts put forth in obtaining the objective.

Rev. J. M. Graham, president of our chamber of commerce also put some enthusiasm in the members with his remarks. He stated that if Thorsby would show the right spirit of progressiveness, would show their willingness to cooperate in plans for the upbuilding of the community, the plans now under way for a building program as was mentioned in previous issues of this paper, calling for an expenditure of approximately one half million dollars, would be realized.

To be at a chamber of commerce meeting and hear such talks by both Mr. Jones and Pres. Graham, could not but create enthusiasm among its members. Now we know that there are a great number of Thorsby citizens who yet are not members of this body, who are needed by this organization as well as they need the chamber of commerce in the interet and welfare of Thorsby. The question is, are you doing your duty to your home town, when you are not a member? Better join now, and help put Thorsby on the map.

Last Thursday morning Mr. John Johnson met with a painful accident when he together with three other men were motoring thru from Birmingam enroute to Montgomery to attend the Masonic meeting, while coming over the mountain the driver became confused owing to a heavy fog so that he was unable to see the road plainly, and instead of turning at a curve as he should he went up a high bank causing the car to turn turtle two or three times. Mr. Johnson was pinned upder the car and sustained several injuries. He is at present in the hospital in Birmingham and seems to be doing nicely, his friends here wish for him a speedy recovery.

FOR SALE—One yoke oxen three years old and ready for work. One colt 18 months old, also 20 head of goats. Can give you good bargain. See Mrs. C. L. Forsman, Thorsby.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

There will be services at the Baptist Church next Sunday, November 21st, at 11 o'clock in the a.m. and 8 o'clock in the evening. Rev. W. P. Lowery, pastor of the church, will have charge of the services. Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. will meet at the usual hours.

On Thursday, Nov. 25th, which is Thanksgiving day, the three churches of the city will come together and have a union service. This service will be held at the Baptist Church at 10:30 a.m. Rev. J. M. Graham will deliver the Thanksgiving Sermon. Special music will be rendered by the young people. We hope that all the people of the town will attend and make this a great service.

The Ladies Guild will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Thomsen on Friday, Nov. 26th instead of on Thursrday, the 25th, that day being on Thanksgiving. So don't forget the change.

We still have not heard from the knockers, and the challenge of some weeks ago still holds good, for an open discussion of the merits and demerits of Thorsby.

The famous Legg Sausage, made at Thorsby, is known over this and other states. This fact was brought home to us by one of the Thorsby residents who on a visit to Mobile came back with the report that while there she was served at a meal with what the people said was the famous Legg sausage. Why, she said, I can get this every day at home, because it is made in Thorsby.

Not only are the Thorsby strawberries known everywhere, but we now present to the public the famous Legg Sausage, made only in Thorsby.

The famous Legg Sausage, made at Thorsby, is known over this and other states. This fact was brought home to us by one of the Thorsby residents who on a visit to Mobile came back with the report that while there she was served at a meal with what the people said was the famous Legg sausage. Why, she said, I can get this every day at home, because it is made in Thorsby.

Not only are the Thorsby strawberries known everywhere, but we now present to the public the famous Legg Sausage, made only in Thorsby.

REMEMBER to ask your grocer for Calumet Baking Powder and be sure that you get it—the Indian head on the orange label. Then forget about bake day failures. For you will never have any. Calumet always produces the sweetest and most palatable foods. And now remember, you always use less than of most other brands because it possesses greater leavening strength.

Now Remember—Always Use

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

There is no waste. If a recipe calls for one egg—two cups of flour—half a cup of milk — that's all you use. You never have to re-bake. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities, is the product of the largest, most modern and sanitary Baking Powder Factories in existence.

Gluten gives flour a good part of its food value—the element that nourishes the body. To be sure of getting it, use only pure baking powder with plain flour, (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Columbia Muffin Recipe

—4 cups sifted flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2 cups of sweet milk. Then mix in the regular way.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Pipes were attendants at the celebration of the Shriners in Montgomery last Thursday.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

SOCIETY

Mrs. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Young Matrons Card Club.

Mrs. Hugh Simpson was a gracious hostess on last Thursday evening when she entertained the members of the Tuesday and Wednesday Card Clubs.

The house was prettily decorated for the occasion in quantities of cut flowers and ferns. U. S. Flags were also used in the decorations, being in evidence on score cards and throughout the apartments. Tiny flags were given as favors of the occasion.

Mrs. Grady Reynoldss won first prize, a pyrex baking dish. The consolation, a jar of cream, was awarded to Mrs. R. E. Luckie. At the conclusion of the game a deliciouss ice course was served.

Armistice Day Program.

Armistice Day was celebrated in Clanton by an excellent program by the Grammar School and the County High School jointly at the High School building. The program consisted of several patriotic songs; and an interesting lecture by Major Lamar Jeffers of Anniston. His subject dealt with the various phases of the war. Several war heroes were present. After the program the school enjoyed an exciting foot ball game, Rook Party for Visitors.

A social event of unusual pleasure marking the passing week was a rook party given by Miss Wesley and Miss Mayne Rogers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Simpson on Saturday night given for the attractive visitors from Montgomery, Misses Hayess, Wesley and Tyner.

The apartments were made attractive with a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. Progressive rook was played at four tables. The score prize, a box of correspondence cards, was awarded Miss Annie Gragg and the "booby" a kewpie doll, was presented Miss Willie May Tyner.

After the game an ice course was served. The list of guests included Misses Willie May Tyner, Willie Jewel Wesley, Bertha Hayes, Annie Gragg, and Messrs. Otto Jones, Leon Kemp, Clifford Mullins, Joe Calloway Grady Heflin, Zell Pope and John Wesley of Thorsby, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, and Mr. and Mrs. Alversson.

Prayer Week Closes.

The week of prayer which has been observed by the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church came to a close on Wednesday when an interesting session was held with Mrs. H. Chandler.

A very nice offering for the week was made and will be divided between the Collegio Ingles at Satillo, Mexico and the Vashti School in Georgia, which are supported by the Methodist Church.

Dance Enjoyed.

The young people of Clanton enjoyed one of the early fall dances on last Thursday night at the Exchange Hotel. A five-piece string band furnished music for the afternoon.

Misses Willie Mae Tyner, Willie Jewell Wesley and Bertha Hayes of the Womans College spent the weekend in Clanton with Misses Wesley and Rogers.

Mrs. Grady Borland of Albany, Ga. arrived Wednesday to attend the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Birdie Parrish, who is critically ill with pneumonia.

Miss Alice Stanfield and her mother, accompanied by Mrs. Eric Hart, motored to Montgomery last Thursday.

Mr. Watts Moore attended the celebration of the Shriners in Montgomery on Armistice Day.

Mr. Arden Allen is spending a vacation of one week with relatives at Coopers and Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White were visitors to Montgomery last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Singleton spent several days in Anniston visiting relatives the past week.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins left for Decatur Tuesday morning to attend the Baptist State Convention.

All Society Locals and Personals sent in will be appreciated. Please make notes sof same and mail to the Society Editor of The Banner, P. O. Box 51, Clanton, by Tuesday night.

MONTGOMERY TO GET NEW EXPERT ON DRAIN WORK

Alabama will have another drainage expert of the United States government assigned for work in the state, and headquarters will be established in Montgomery at the federal building after December 15. This was announced at the National Drainage Congress held at Atlanta, Ga., last week and the news brought to Montgomery by J. M. Moore, head of the state department of pure food and drugs.

After Mr. Moore, in a speech to the congress, told of the drainage work in the state, S. H. McCrory, director of the United States Bureau of drainage investigation announced that he would assign a man from his department to be at the disposal of Alabama farmers in draining matters.

The man is at present located in the western part of the country, and is an expert on farm drainage.

Mr. Moore stated that this meant a great deal to the farmers of Alabama and would give an impetus to drinage work in the state.

Buck Gore and Oscar Jones look much wiser than they did before their trip to Montgomery last Thursday. If you are a shriner you probably understand their unusual display of wisdom.

SAYS CHEMIST IS PUBLIC BENEFACTOR

"Being a doctor and suffering for many years with stomach trouble, I feel I cannot do justice to so great a public benefactor in writing. Mayrs Wonderful Remedy is everything you hace claimed for it. I cannow eat and nrelish victuals I have not dared to eat in many years. Am feeling like newly born." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicts. One dose wll convince or money refunded. Sold by Alred Drug Co., and all good druggsts every where.

Walter Gillespie was in Clanton last Saturday. He is employed under Sheriff Jackson of Shelby county as a guard in the strike district at Roebuck's Mines. Mr. Gillespie was very exultant over the splendid success of the Republican ticket in Chilton County in the recent election.

Who was it that said that there were going to be three eclipses in the U. S. this year?—a partial eclipse of the sun and moon and a total eclipse of the Democratic party. We have not seen the first two, but the last one has come true to prediction.

McKee's Meat Market

Will buy your Chickens, Eggs and Country Produce, and pay you the highest market prices. Will also buy a fat dressed hog now and then. See us when you are in Clanton. We will also sell you the best kind of Steak, Chops, Sausage, Hams, and other meats—and don't forget that we sell GROCERIES at the right prices.

You have a standing invitation to call to see us, both for selling and buying.

Eruptions of the Skin Cause Torturous Itching

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disorder, you are well acquainted with the flaming, burning itching that these diseases produce.

Skin diseases are caused by an impurity or disorder in the blood, and there is no real and genuine relief within your reach until such impurities are removed.

S.S.S. has given great satisfaction in the treatment of these disorders, because it is such a thoroughly satisfactory blood purifier. It cleanses the blood of all impurities, and thus counteracts the effects of the germs that attack the skin.

Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical adviser will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 158 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Editor Union-Banner:

I want to say a few words about the Sunday School Convention held at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church No. 1, on Second Sunday in November.

The meeting was called to order by District president, Mr. H. R. Oden, at 10:30 o'clock. After song and prayer Prof. J. L. Johnson was introduced as first speaker. He made several interesting impressions about how to stop the leaks in Sunday Schools. We were sorry that more of the older people were not there to hear them.

Next speaker on program was Rev. P. G. Carter of the Clanton Baptist Church, who spoke eloquently on the Sunday School work and its products.

After dinner Miss Della Williams, our county secretary, was introduced. She spoke about 30 minutes on equipment. She gave us many methods and interesting plans how we might get these equipments, especially for teaching the beginners as they should be.

Last on program was Miss Ethel Bean, a state worker from Montgomery. Well, if you have ever heard Miss Bean you know more about how rapid and interestingly she talks than I can tell. I am sure every one present felt very much inspired by her speech on Sunday School work.

We feel fortunate indeed in having such good speakers and workers with us. Am sure all who were present feel much inspired. If the cool weather or any other justifiable cause hindered you from being with us we are indeed sorry. But for those who just did not care to take part in making the day a success I want to say it may be a long time before you have another opportunity to such a treat as this one. Mr. Oden promised us good speakers and he certainly did do his part.

All together now, to do the best we can this winter. Instead of thinking the weather gets too bad to go to church and Sunday School just try it and see how much better you will feel by having done your duty.

Myrtle McAfee, Secretary.

REYNOLDS VOTE IN MORGAN

The vote of Judge Reynolds for U. S. Senator in Morgan County was as follows:

Reynolds, 1254; Underwood, 3793.

Harding received 1201 votes and Cox 4057.

The vote for the Republican County ticket was about 1039.

Rev. D. D. Head, pastor of the Marbury Baptist Church, was in Clanton on Monday morning enroute to the Baptist State Convention at Decatur. Mr. Head wanted some printing done for his church before he went away, so he stopped over in Clanton to have that fixed up and to wait for the fast train that would carry him right into Decatur.

MAJOR JEFFERS HERE

Major Lamar Jeffers of Anniston was in Clanton last Thursday as the speaker for the Armistice Day Celebration. His many friends here were glad to see him. His address was most interesting and was listened to with great delight by the pupils of the schools and many visiting citizens.

Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of Clanton Baptist Church, left on Monday morning to attend the Baptist State convention a Decatur.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

Our singing society met on last Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Had a nice crowd present. We had some very good singing.

Directors for the afternoon were: Mr. T. G. Wyatt, Mr. W. O. Rich and Miss Mary Duke. Organists were Misses Alice Wyatt and Mary Duke.

Sunday School is progressing fine, and we have a very good attendance. Prof. W. T. Bean is teacher of the Bible class, and he always has a fine explanation for the lesson.

Sveral from here attended the Box Supper at Poplar Springs Saturday night. A fine time was reported.

Miss Ruth Teel gave a singing at her home in Clanton last Saturday night. It proved an enjoyable event.

After prayer meeting next Sunday night Rev. J. D. Hughes will preach. We are sure he will have an interesting message, and we urge every one who can to come. Singing and prayer meeting at 6:30 and preaching at 7:30.

A big sale at the New York Store, where you can buy your winter needs cheaper than elsewhere.

Mrs. Hugh Jones went to Montgomery Tuesday night to attend the Federation of Women's Clubs.

GLAD OF THE VICTORY

Mr. W. Y. Nix of Maplesville was a visitor at the Banner office Monday expressing his great delight at the splendid victory for the Republican ticket in the recent elections. He said he was so delighted over the result that his short leg has outgrown the long one, and now instead of having one leg shorter than the other he has one leg longer than the other.

Telephone for Sale—I have a good telephone for sale, on account of having moved. Also share on line No. 28. If interested see me at Pleas-U Barber Shop, Clanton. N. A. Gray.

Money to Loan

I represent a loan company and can perfect farm loans of $300 to $10,000 for 5 to 40 years time at less than 8 per cent. Now is the time to have farm lands inspected. The growing crops will help to show loan values. I can give same advantages as the Federal Farm Loans.

GLAD OF THE VICTORY

Mr. W. Y. Nix of Maplesville was a visitor at the Banner office Monday expressing his great delight at the splendid victory for the Republican ticket in the recent elections. He said he was so delighted over the result that his short leg has outgrown the long one, and now instead of having one leg shorter than the other he has one leg longer than the other.

Money to Loan

I represent a loan company and can perfect farm loans of $300 to $10,000 for 5 to 40 years time at less than 8 per cent. Now is the time to have farm lands inspected. The growing crops will help to show loan values. I can give same advantages as the Federal Farm Loans.

Record Republican Vote In Alabama on Nov. 2nd

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES POLL HIGH WATER MARK OF OVER 75,000 VOTES IN ALABAMA ON NOVEMBER 2ND.

Shattering all previous records, with the aid largely of their women folks and siezed doubtless with the contagion that swept the United States on November 2, the Republicans as a party in Alabama polled the impressive total of 74,690 votes (the high mark) for its national electoral ticket, and in one race, for the United States Senate (long term) polled 77,337 votes.

Offsetting this vote the Democrats polled 163,254 votes (the high mark) for its national electoral ticket and in the Senatorial race (unexpired term) the party's candidate secured 160,680 votes. Higher figures than those for the unexpired term were polled for the party nominees for several State offices, the Republican candidates in opopsition failing to keep pace with the ticket of electors and nominees for the Senatorial posts.

Meeting to consolidate the votes from the 67 counties of Alabama as cast in the election of November 2, the general election board of the State worked until after 7 o'clock last night before its work had been completed, and at which hour Governor Thos. E. Kilby began signing his official proclamations declaring the results of the balloting for the several offices.

The meeting of the board definitely settled the status of the three proposed constitutional amendments which were submitted at the time of the general election, the report of the board showing that each had been decisively defeated in the State. Proposal Number 1, by which the State would have been authorized to lend its credit for the development of Mobile harbor polled 77,480 votes against 89,071, losing by a majority of 11,591 Proposal Number 2 by which the people of Jefferson county would have been enabled to vote for or against the issuance of bonds for the development of Birmingham, polled 70,198 votes with 91,698 against, the majority in defeat being 21,500, while Proposal Number 3, which would have authorized counties to levy a special tax for good roads after elections thereon, was defeated by a vote of 58,109 for to 99,070 against, or a majority of 40,961 against.

Tabulated figuress reveal the fact that the Seaport Amendment was given a majority in twenty counties of the State including the Big Three, the Birmingham amendment carried in 17 counties, including the Big Three, while the Special Good Roads proposal was favored in only 9 counties, and again Jefferson, Mobile and Montgomery voted favoraably.

A significant feature in connection with the Republican raid on the Democratic strong-holds of Alabama lies in the fact that by polling the impressive vote that fell to the party, under the laws of Alabama it is entitled to conduct a Republican primary at the next election at the expense of the State. The section of the election law making this provision stipulates that whenever a political party shall poll 25 per cent of the total vote cast in any election in the State, it shall be given the privilege of holding a primary in the next election year at the expense of the State

Roughly the G. O. P. polled an average of 74,600 out of a total of 239,000 cast.

Not since the days of 1860-65 have the Republicans ever approximated the vote their candidates received in the recent election, and while the vote cast therein was practically double that usually cast in presidential years, the party of Harding and Coolidge more than doubled the vote the G. O. P. ticket headed by Hughes in 1916 received in Alabama, when the vote was slightly under 30,000. The inroads of the Republican party, however, is not only foretold in the figures relative to the national electoral ticket and Senatorial candidates, but is further to be found in the fact that their candidae for circuit judge in the Eighteenth circuit was successful over the Democratic nominee, while a large number of county officials in Fayette, Chilton, Shelby, St. Clair, Walker, Winston, and Franklin counties will be Republicans during the next four years.

The Republican national ticket was successful in ten Alabama counties, its Senatorial ticket for the long term in eleven, the county of Walker turning its back on Senator Oscar W. Underwood, (successful in the primaries of 1920 against one of her wealthy citizens) after having given the electoral, unexpired Senatorial and congressional tickets fair majorities.

The showing of the Socialist and Prohibition tickets was, perhaps, considered very poor, for while the former polled approximately 1,000 more votes for its ticket of national electors, its candidates for the Senate, congress and judicial seats in Jefferson county trailed miserably, the high man on the party's electoral ticket received2369 votes. Tally, on the prohibition electoral ticket, led the field with 757 votes, no candidates being offered by the party for any other positions.

The consolidated vote as to various other offices which the people of the State or districts were required to fill, shows that aside from the congressional fights in the Fourth, Seventh and Tenth districts and the race for judge of the Eighteenth circuit, opposition to the Democratic candidates was practically nil.

In the Fourth congressional district Fred L. Blackmon was returned to congress by a majority of 3981 over Judge Longshore of Shelby; Wm. B. Bankhead was returned from the Tenth by a plurality of 1728 over Chenault, Republican, and a majority of 1541 over Chenault and Walker (socialist.) In the Seventh L. B. Rainey's plurality over C. B. Kennamar, (republican) was 1039 while his majority of Kennamar and Meadows (socialist) was 806.

W. L. Longshore of Columbiana, defeated E. J. Garrison for judge of the 18th circuit by a vote of 5797 to 5540, a majority for the former of 257.

The official vote for all candidates before the electorate in the election, as announced by the board, after its work was completed, follows:

South is Growing More Friendly to Republicans

RECEPTION GIVEN TO HARDING IN NEW ORLEANS IS POINTED OUT BY MARK SULLIVAN IN THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS.

New Orlenas, La., Nov. 20.—When Senator Harding was addressing the open-air crowd in New Orleans Thursday just before sailing for Panama, I stood on the city hall steps behind him with the owner and editor of one of New Orlean's newspapers, a man who not only is a Democrat by conviction, but is so tied to that party by tradition and official association that it is possible to speak of him as a Brahmin among Democrats.

The remark which occurred to this man as we watched the upturned faces was this: "The significant thing about that crowd is that there is hardly a negro in it. On former occasions when Republican presidents visited New Orleans the occasion was regarded by the negroes as their particular day and more than half the crowd was colored.

"That crowd that has come to hear Harding," he continued, "is representative of the people who voted for him. They are as good as any people in our city. In some respects they are the best people in our city.

"The people who voted for Harding include most of our banking people, most of our mercantile people, and most of the people connected with our leading industries. Actually two-fifths of the people of this state voted for Harding, and most of them were people of this class.

"The negro element in the vote that Harding got was a negligible fraction, not over 3,000 or 4,000 at the outside. With the votes of people of the best class, Harding carried several districts of this city, and came close to carrying the city as a whole. If the Republicans had been well organized and had made a real fight, or if the Democratic vote had not been stimulated by the fact that a proposal for a new constituion was voted on the same day, Harding might well have carried Louisiana."

All these things and others to the same effect, this Democratic editor said, and he said them not with bitterness or regret, but with satisfaction, and this satisfaction with the prospect that the South may soon cease to be a solid unit politically and may become a normal section, like every other part of the country, doubtful as between the parties and with both parties contending for it in each election.

Satisfaction General

The satisfaction over this prospect is general with the class of Democrats of whom this speaker is typical. In some parts of the South this satisfaction is put on the ground that it is more wholesome for a community to have two parties contending for its votes than for one party to have a monopoly of them. They cite the educational value of political campaigns, political delegates and political pamphleteering.

In Louisiana the satisfaction over Republican victory is not entirely altruistic. Louisiana is less a cotton state than the other Southern states. Louisiana is a sugar state, a rice state and a lumber state. And all three of these industries need, or think they need, protection.

When Sentor Harding crossed the state from west to east on his way from Texas to New Orleans he passed through no community that is not a sugar or a rice community.

All this satisfaction with Republican victory on the part of those Southerners who enter into that satisfaction includes one important assumption. It includes the assumption that the Republican party, if and when it becomes equal in power to the Democrats in the South, will take the same attitude that the Democrats take toward negro voting.

Regarding Negro Vote

It goes on the assumption that wherever the negro population is half or close to half of the whole, that element shall not be solicited to vote and become a balance of power between two white factions. If the South thought the Republicans would be likely to do in the future as they have in the past to stimulate the negro to vote so as to give the many pawns to unscrupulous politicians to bribe the negro and buy and sell his power in the national elections; if the South thought the Republicans were going to continue these practices the Republican party would have no better prospects here in the future than in the past.

But the South has come to feel that nearly everybody now agrees about what is best to do about the negro as a voter in communities where he is so numerous that his vote would be the determining factor.

Aside from the satisfaction of the sugar people, the rice people, the lumber people and the other commercial and financial classses with his election, Senator Harding at New Orleans made the same impression of simple friendliness that he has made elsewhere in the South and received from the audience a tribute that was clearly intended to make him feel that he had their good will and good wishes.

FINAL SETTLEMENT NOTICE

SWAMP DRAINAGE PROJECT TO BE PUSHED.

Definite steps are already being taken to push forward the drainage project that will mean the reclamation of hundreds of acres of the finest kind of lands lying right around the gates of the city of Clanton. It will mean that instead of having low and wet soggy swamps lying all round the city on every side save one—the west side, we shall be surrounded by broad acres of the most fertile lands in the county, lands that will, when drained by the big ditch, produce fifty to a hundred bushels of corn to the acre without a bit of fertilizer.

The application has already been prepared by an attorney to get the matter before the Court of Probate of Chilton County. The necessary papers have all been fixed up, and it is now down to a matter of putting your name on the dotted line. Many of the owners of this low swamp land have already signed up. There are many others who will sign up as soon as they get a chance at one of the applications. Mr. W. W. Fox, Mr. P. D. Wilson, and Mr. J. D. Collins each have one of these application blanks, which any land owner within the proposed drainage district may sign.

The applications that are now being made are to go to the Probate Court calling for survey of the lands and swamps to be drained. The survey will be made by a competent civil engineer appointed by the Court to make the investigation and report the same to the Court. Upon the report and findings of the engineer, the Court of Probate shall decide as to whether the project will be worth carrying out under the provisions of an Act of the 1915 Legislature providing for the organization of drainage districts and paying for the costs and expenses of installing and maintaining drainage systems so as to promote the public health and for the reclamation of low lands that have heretofore been unfit for cultivation, and putting them into a state of usefulness and profit to the owners.

It is estimated that the cost of the court in having the preliminary survey made will be about a dollar an acre for the lands proposed to be drained. This amount is pledged by each man, that is one dollar an acre for as many acres as he has in the swamp, when he signs the application. If the drainage district is declared by the court and the drainage association is untimately declared and put into operation, this initial payment of one dollar per acre will be refunded to those who paid it in.

There is no use in talking about what an advantage this project will be to the people who own lands in these swamps. That is a matter that can be seen by a blind man. What we want now is to get the matter on foot and going. Whether you nave any land to be drained or not, if you 'ive in Clanton or anywhere near Clanton, you ought to get busy and do some talking for this project. Let's get rid of the swamps. Let's banish the mud, water, frogs, snakes and mosquitoes, all at one fell swoop. Let's clean up this country around Clanton. Then maybe somebody will start to Clean up Clanton.

BUSINESS MEN SHOULD ORGANIZE.

The letter of our worthy and well qualified Mayor which appears on this page prompts us to editoralize some more on the subject of a commercial organization for Clanton.

For some weeks past we have been saying something on this subject, because we were moved to do so by the open challenge delivered to Clanton by the Town of Thorsby through Mr. Legg, their Commercial Club Manager. But we will leave the Commercial Club subject right here and take up Dr. Gragg's letter in the order which he writes.

His reference to the building of roads under the State bond issue raises a timely question. Many people have been asking themselves (and others) what the State is doing under the provisions of the bond issue for building roads with Federal aid. Many citizens asked that question before they voted on the road tax amendment on Nov. 2. Failing to get an answer to their question they voted against the amendment. The result was an overwhelming defeat for the proposition of more tax privileges for road purposes.

People would like to see more being done in the way of road building under the State Bond issue. Possibly the state is doing all it can. And as Dr. Gragg says some counties are getting roads built. There is a way to get roads under this system. Why can't Chilton County get some of them? We could at least start a movement that would determine what steps we would have to take to get some of the work done in our county.

Now as for the organization of business men. Right now is the opening of an era of great progress and develpment. Clanton is right in the pathway of this enterprise. There are many things that we need to have done in order to take care of our interests. Those things cannot be done without an organization of business men. We need a Commercial Club. Why can't we have one? We can if we will.

REPUBLICAN PROGRESS IN ALABAMA

In another column of this issue of The Union-Banner we are publishing the figures of the recent general election in Alabama, showing the votes as cast for the different political party candidates.

On the whole these figures show a tremendous gain for the Republicans in the state, which is cause for much gratification to those who have labored and fought under adverse circumstances for the establishment of a Republican party of some consequence. The one significant thing about the result and the favorable consideration given the Republican party on Nov. 2 is the showing of what can be done by making a fight.

If the Republican party in the state had sat down and done nothing in the past campaign we would have been yet right where we have always been, a negligible quantity in the state's politics. But by taking some advantage of our opportunities we see a total of over 77,000 votes cast for our candidate for United States Senator. Judge Reynolds made a vigorous fight for his cause and the cause of the party and he was rewarded by a vote that is something like twelve thousand ahead of the average of the other Republican candidates.

The vote cast for the Republican ticket in the state on Nov. 2 will entitle the Republicans hereafter to a primary election at te expense of the State, a privilege that has not heretofore been enjoyed, because the present state primary laws require a party to poll 25 per cent of the total vote of the state in order to have a state primary. This accomplishment alone is worth all the effort that has been made in the past.

ABOUT PUTTING UP THE BARS

Democrats over Alabama have become greatly alarmed at what they are pleased to call double-dealing on the part of a great many people in Alabama in the recent election and the primaries that preceded the same. The Montgomery Advertiser, Mr. J. T. Gorman of Mobile and Mr. G. T. McCullough of Cherokee County are especially drastic in their remarks concerning those who are alleged to have voted in the Democratic primaries and then in the general election turned and voted for Republicans. Here is a paragraph from the editorial of the Advertiser that savors of reason broad and consistent, especially in its treatment of the standing of Republicans.

It would be useless to deny that following reconstruction for many years a social and business prejudice existed in certain sections of the State against Republicans. In the passing of years this prejudice has passed; a man loses nothing of his standing in the community by being a Republican. It is his right to be a Republican, if he prefers that party, and he can become one without any consequence to his position in the community. If he prefers the Republican party, let him by all means affiliate with it. But if he becomes a Republican let him stay out of Democratic primaries. Let him wear one uniform or the other not a hybrid affair in which he can deceive the fighting force of one or the other parties.

We would remind these gentlemen that in the future the Republicans in Alabama are going to have a primary of their own. This will eliminate much of their double-dealing. It will give Republicans a chance to vote Republican in primaries as well as General elections. And too, we might suggest that the Republicans may consider putting up the bars to keep Democrats out of their primaries, but we hardly expect to see them doing it.

Don't you suppose that the main reason Democrats want the bars put up is to keep the Democrats in, rather than keep the Republicans out?

ALOES AND A HAIR SHIRT

Unless the Democratic party purges itself of the forces that have been dragging it to destruction, it can never hope to wield any important influence in American politics again. The outstanding lesson of the elections is that the voters are first of all Americans. They will support that party and that candidate who most strongly concentrates his efforts to the welfare and growth of his own country. The Democratic party has been drifting away from that policy. The first few years of the Wilson administration the party was dominated by men who put partisan considerations before attention to the country's welfare. That alone was sufficient to bring ultimate defeat, but soon after the outbreak of the European war it became evident that the President and his party lieutenants were determined to add internationalism as an object to which the nation's welfare must be sacrificed. The combination of gross partisanship and Europeanism as the objectives of Democracy, to the practical exclusion of all that tended to make America supreme, brought the defeat which an outraged electorate administered on November 2nd.

The Republican party has always been the party of America. In its very first platform (1856) it declared "That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution are essential to the preservation of our republican institutions." On those principles it has stood ever since. In spite of the efforts of the Democrats to wreck the sort of government planned by the forefathers, first through endorsement of the Confederacy in the Civil War and now by efforts to effect a surrender to foreign control, the Republicans have kept the nation intact, and our marvelous pre-Wilson prosperity is evidence of the remarkable efficiency of their administrations.

Economists differ as to the best means for promoting American trade and industry, and it is along those lines of difference that political parties must be formed if they are to keep a place in our councils. International relations should never enter into politics at all. Of two diverse opinions on a foreign question, one is bound to be more American than the other, and behind the former all shades of political thought should unite. The sooner the Democrats realize and apply that basic principle of American politics the earlier will they regain some of their lost prestige.

WESTERN FARMERS DEMAINDING AID

We note with interest a United Press Dispatch from Washington appearing in the Birmingham News Monday, which has the following to say about the demands that are being made by the western farmers:

"Party lines are to be obliterated and forgotten by mid-Western and Western members of the House and Senate this Winter in an effort to do something about the situation which has stirred resentment among farmers and live stock raisers, it was learned here today.

Informal conferences already held among Republican and Democratic members from Western states have resulted in a decision to hold a formal conference of all senators from Western states soon after the Democratic session begins, Senator Hithcock, of Nebraska, stated today.

At this conference a working program is to be mapped out if possible for concerted action by senators from farm and live stock states regardless of party in the interests of producers."

You see what a stir has been created among Congressmen and Senators when the Western farmers get in the pinches and call for help. Every one of the Western Representatives is getting busy seeking something that he may be able to do to help the farmers out there get the right kind of prices for their cattle. It is not recorded that any of those farmers have gone to Washington to demand help. They must have only sent the word along that they needed help and their representatives are getting busy.

Now, let us turn about and look at another beloved, though sadly neglected portion of the U. S. A. How about our Southland, "where by night the cotton whitens beneath the stars, and by day the wheat locks the sunshine in his bearded sheaf?" What is the conditions with the cotton growers?

What about the small farmer who raises two bales of cotton to pay his debts with, and hopes to have a few dollars left with which to buy the kids a pair of shoes? Now the cotton will not even pay the debts and the kids are shivering in their bare feet.

What about the appeal that these Southern farmers made this fall in order to have their cotton crop saved? Did their appeal create any sensation at Washington? Did Tom Heflin and Osker Underwood and Bill Oliver and Ed Almon and our other famous representatives start anything up there seeking to get relief for Alabama and other Southern cotton growers?

Did W. P. G. Harding and Dave Houston, those mighty Southerners, throw the Federal Reserve System and the Department of Agriculture into fits when the Southern farmers called upon them for help?

If they did we don't recollect anything about it.

What was the matter then? Are not the Southern Represenatives as zealous for the interests of the South as the Westerner for the West?

Yes, that may be true. But the difference is that the politician from the West has got to do something for his constituents if he holds his job at Washington. While in the South all the politician has to do to hold his job is to swell up in his importance and look big, going about the country blowing the flames of prejudice between the north and the South on the race question, and telling the people if the country goes Republican, hell will be to pay generally.

Tom and Osker and Ed and Bill all knew last fall that Alabam would elect them to Congress again, whether they did anything for the Southern farmers or not.

The Western Congressman or Senator knows that he has got to dance when he gets to Washington, for his calling and election is not so sure as in the South.

In the West if the Democrats don't do it, the Republicans will. The result is that everybody does it; and when the Western farmer gets in bad with his wheat and cattle he is helped out at Washington.

In the South if the Democrats don't do it, the Republicans won't have a chance. The result is nobody does it; and when the Southern farmer gets in bad with his cotton, he has to stay in the rut and wear himself out against fate, while his Congressmen and Senators sit in their easy chairs at Washington glorying over the great and magnificent "Solid Democratic South."

ECRASEZ L'INFAME

Washington, Nov. 22.—"As the echoes of the Republican landslide of November 2nd grow fainter the propaganda urging league membership on the United States once more waxes in strength," asserts the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonothan Bourne, Jr. "A dispatch from Geneva states that the general view of the Europeans and Latin Americans is that unless the United States accepts membership the League of nations will not survive. Probably because they find no one else who will agree to pay the bills. Information via cable arrives almost daily that the present members of the league, which is now taking stock of itself in Geneva, will agree to almost any reservation which we see fit to make, if we will only come in. But they are reported as objecting to the adoption of a new scheme. And why? Because Mr. Wilson, succeeding in his intention of so interweaving the league with the treaty that they could not be separated, has made it impossible for us to become a member of the league, whatever may be our reservations, without at the same time accepting the responsibilities to be found in the Peace Treaty itself. Those responsibilities include membership on a large number of commissions charged with re-drafting European boundaries, holding plebiscites, allocating raw materials, government over certain defined territories, the apportionment of rolling stock, the working of mines, the numerous other financial, governmental, and economic features with which the United States has no immediate concern, and which, were we a party to the disputes engendered, would engage us in constant bickering and the taking of first this side and then the other.

"Meanwhile certain international banking interests are hoping against hope that President-designate Harding may be induced to place at the head of his Cabinet some man who will represent their views and who might be able to exert an influence which would write us into the league, even with reservations. Their chief desire is evidently to place the United States in the position of having to guarantee their foreign investments, at the sacrifice of the lives of American soldiers, if necessary. The attitude of the league members and of these banking interests seem to be that if they can only get a reservational slip-knot over Uncle Sam's head they will be able to tie his hands and draw it snugly later on by way of amendments to the league covenant. They smirkingly term this a compromise. It would ultimately be a surrender.

"The answer of this country to the league of nations idea was loud enough to be heard down the aisles of time for a century to come. If certain interests are by self-seeking so deaf to that answer that they must continue their vicious propaganda in the face of its nation-wide repudiation, it is probable that the agitation will continue until Mr. Harding has taken his oath of office and, with the aid of the Senate, has put the eternal quietus on this persistent endeavor to internationalize the United States. A Congressional joint resolution to establish peace can come none too quickly for the American peace of mind. Following that, if the nations of Europe, Asia, and South America wish to cooperate with us in drafting a measure to prevent a resort to arms before there has been a resort to right reason we will be glad to meet them half way. But there must be no fettering of American independence, no possibility of coercing the American will to act. If foreign powers insist on the preservation of the league, inextricably interwoven as it is with a treaty which is satisfactory to none, they thereby insist on our remaining outside the compact, and such a situation would be properly chargeable to Mr. Wilson's handiwork. It was sure the purpose of the reservationists that if the United States had to go into the league, it would go in under proper safeguards, at least. But the people have spoken, and we are not compelled to go in. The people have now trusted the nation's safety to Mr. Harding and an overwhelming majority in Congress, and that trust will not be breached, though the world howls and the international banking interests ring their pieces-of-eight on the marble floors of the national legislature."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MAYOR URGES ORGANIZED EFFORT

Clanton, Ala., Nov. 24, 1920.

Editor Union-Banner:—Through your paper I wish to say that as a citizen of our Town, I feel that our business and professional men are to some extent neglecting their duties to our town and county. It has been quite a long time since our State voted the bond issue for good roads; yet I see very little effort on the part of our leading men to get busy and see that we can get some benefit locally from the bonds. Other sections of the state are getting roads. Why not Chilton County?

We are on the eve of additional industrial developments of gigantic proportions. That of itself is calculated to stimulate business and relieve the present depression that we are now experiencing locally.

It seems to me that a Commercial Club, or some such business organization should be fostered, and by going after these things with an organized effort we could accomplish much good both for Clanton and Chilton County.

Can we not arouse some interest in this matter?

Yours for a better town and county.

V. J. GRAGG.

SHAKE HANDS WITH

HON. JOSEPH D. BECK.

Washington, Nov, 23.—One of the numerous farmer members of the next Congress will be Joseph D. Beck of Viroqua, Wisconsin. Mr. Beck will also come to Congress with a very extended practical knowledge of labor and industrial affairs. He was born on a farm, educated in the common and State Normal schools and graduated from the University of Wisconsin. He taught in district and high schools, was Commissioner of Labor and Industrial Statistics and Chairman of the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin, his service in these two latter capacities extending over a period of sixteen years. He also served as President of the International Association of Labor Bureau officials 1908 to 1910. As a farmer he gives his chief attention to live stock and is a breeder of Guernsey cattle.

HON. CLARENCE D. COUGHLIN

A new Republican Congressman who combines the qualifications of a lawyer and a business man is Clarence D. Coughlin of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, who was a successful candidate in the recent election. He is from what is known as the "Progressive" element of the Republican party and was Secretary of the Roosevelt organization in his county in 1912. He was one of the organizers of the Public Safety Committee of his State and was appointed by the Governor on a special committee to revise and codify the criminal laws of the State. He is interested in various industrial enterprises in his section of Pennsylvania.

HON. MANUEL HERRICK

In the Republican victory which made inroads in the heretofore Democratic State of Oklahoma, one of the effective workers was Manuel Herrick who was elected to Congress over his Democratic rival. Mr. Herrick is strictly a self-made man and the training he received while achieving his own personal success undoubtedly went far to win him the confidence of his constituents in his campaign for Congress. During the campaign one of the arguments made against Mr. Herrick was that he was lacking in education. Herrick admitted this, and asserted that his lack of education was due to the want of opportunity and the adverse conditions of his childhood. Nevertheless he worsted his rival in the discussions on the stump during the campaign. He is a vigorous debater and has taken an interest in all public questions since his childhood. He will be one of the interesting characters of the next Congress.

HON. I. CLINTON KLINE

The Sixteenth District of Pennsylvania is one of the Districts that has turned from Democratic to Republican in its representation in Congress. The man who won the District over to the Republican side is I. Clinton Kline of Sunbury, Pennsylvania, and an orator of more than local renown. He is a college-traied man and prior to his entering the practice of law had some experiences as a schoolteacher and a farmer. His District which had heretofore been Democratic by about four thousand votes has now become Republican by a similar majority.

CHILTON COUNTY ABSTRACT CO.

M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Baptist L. A. S. Meets.

On Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. I. Mullins the Baptist Ladies Aid held a most important business meeting. An excellent report was given by Mrs. Grover Harris on the W. M. U. held at Mobile. Mrs. Renfroe Mullins also gave an interesting report of the Baptist Convention at Decatur.

After the business session delicious sandwiches with grape nectar was served to about 25 members.

Pretty Birthday Party Given

One of the loveliest juvenile affairs recently was the party given Saturday evening by Messrs. William and Moses Simpson, entertaining in honor of their twelfth birthday anniversary. Yellow and white were the chosen colors and quantities of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns were used in beautifying the living and dining room. The dining table was especially attractive with a tiny Christmas tree adorned with twelve lighted candles forming the center piece. Music and games were enjoyed throughout the evening. Each guest was given a box of sparklers as favors of this happy occasion. They were entertained by Misses Rogers and Wesley. Hot chocolate and cake was served to about 25 guests.

Mrs. Alex Richards and children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vanderveer.

Mr. Clay Marcus of Montgomery spent Sunday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Marcus.

Mr. Arden Allen returned to Birmingham Sunday after a weeks visit to his parents at Cooper.

The E. C. Maye Sunday School Class will hold their last business meeting for the year at the home of Mrs. T. C. McSwain on Friday evening at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. Marvin Luckie of Birmingham is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luckie.

Mrs. Earl Gowan visited Montgomery Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Atkinson had as their guest Sunday Mr. Atkinson from Sylacauga.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Gore and sons, Earl and Elvin, motored down to Montgomery Sunday.

Mrs. Macy Jones hes returned home after a visit to her mother in Montgomery.

Mrs. Wade left for a week's visit to Stafford Springs last Monday.

Mrs. Luther Jackson of Evergreen is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. A. Mullins.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hart are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart.

Prof. Clarke left Tuesday for Opelika and will return Sunday, bringing with him his bride who was Miss Modesta Edwards of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will be at home at the Exchange Hotel.

A WEDDING OF INTEREST.

One of the most interesting bridal affairs of recent date among the people of this section is involved in the marriage of Mr. Ivy Blalock to Miss Jamie Taylor, which occurred this afternoon (Thursday), about 4:00 o'clock. The happy young couple left Clanton shortly after noon, and proceeded by automobile to the home of Rev. J. S. Kelley, where they underwent the sacred and solemn rites, uniting themselves together for all time to come.

After being married they left for Falakto, where they caught the 5 o'clock north bound train for Birmingham. They will visit friends in that city for only a few days, and return to Clanton to make their future home.

Mr. Blalock is an enterprising young barber of Clanton. He has practiced his profession in several cities of the State, also he served in the army during the recent war.

Miss Taylor is a very successful school teacher. Her home is in Clanton, but for two or three years she has been giving her services as a teacher in the rural districts of the county. She is at this time first assistant in the Poplar Springs school. She is a lovable teacher and a competent instructor, being a graduate of the Chilton County High School.

The many friends of the young couple will learn with pleasure that they are married and will wish them long and uninterrupted happiness.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

There was a splendid Sunday School attendance last Sunday of 117 pupils. The night service was also well attended to hear the sermon on the "Confessional of Romanism."

The regular services of the church will be held next Sunday both morning and evening. Please note that the evening service begins at 7:15.

There was a very fair attendance at the B. Y. P. U. and the music at both services was good.

We cordially invite the public to worship with us.

P. G. CARTER,
Pastor.

Miss Jewel Ratliff, daughter of Mr. Seabe Ratliff of near Pletcher, was operated on by Dr. Gragg and Dr. Marcus at the Clanton Infirmary Tuesday for appendicitis. This is the third one of the Ratliff family that has been operated on for appendicitis at this infirmary in the last few months.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The Seniors have already selected their class ring and are expecting to receive them before Christmas.

We regret to say that Lillian Mims is out of school on account of the illness of her mother. We hope she can return soon.

Both Literary Societies are rendering exceedingly good programs every week. Exceedingly great spirit manifest between them. We hope to have a joint meeting soon.

ATHLETICS

The C. C. H. S. boys went over to Plantersville last Friday and played a game of foot ball, but owing to the heavy weight of the Plantersville boys we were defeated by a score of 13 to 6. They reported the C. C. H. S. boys the hardest fighters they had encountered.

On account of Thanksgiving holiday at the end of this week school will be suspended Thursday and Friday.

SINGING NEXT SUNDAY AT FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

There will be a singing at the Friendship Baptist Church next Sunday, both before noon and after noon. Singing will begin at 9:00 a. m. and continue till 10 o'clock, when Sunday School will be held. After Sunday School the singing will be resumed, which will last till the noon hour. The services will begin in the afternoon about 1:30. No public dinner will be spread, but those wishing to carry their lunches may do so.

Prof. James Franklin of Thorsby, will be there, together with other prominent singers of Chilton County. All are invited to attend.

WIDOW PREFERRED TO MEET DEATH AT HOME

"For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped me but little. All said I would have to go to hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it more than a year ago have not had a single pain in my stomach, have good appetite and can eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Alred Drug Company, Clanton, Ala.

AUCTION SALE OF HOGS

Mr. Fox, the auctioneer, went down to Verbena Tuesday to pull off an auction sale of hogs for the Estate of D. I. Deramus. The event was very successful and resulted in the sale of 58 of the finest pure bred Poland China hogs. There were not very many people at the sale but those who were there meant business. When Mr. Fox began to put the hogs up the people bought them. Some were bought for breeding purposes and some for meat.

All who are interested in the breeding of hogs should see the male and female breeders that are kept by the Deramus Estate. There are two each of males and females, Poland China, Registered, each one weighing over 750 pounds.

Fox, the auctioneer, is a very successful salesman on the auction block. If you have anything you want turned into cash, see him. If he can't get results, just consider you have a dead proposition on your hands.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart motored over to Selma Sunday to meet Mr. Hart's mother who is their guest.

Mr. C. Y. Holly and Miss Autie Crawford of Birmingham spent Sunday with the formers parents.

W. J. Moates of Pletcher was in Clanton Thursday.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E.68

Mrs. Robert Powe and children spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Vanderveer.

Mrs. L. H. Reynolds spent Friday in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Monroe spent the week-end with Mr. and and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch.

Mr. Tom Jones spent Sunday in Clanton.

JUST GETTING ALONG FINE SINCE STARTED TAKINC DRECO

Well known Mobile lady suffered from stomach disorder, constipation, kidney trouble and dizzy spells.

Declares her relief is complete since taking Dreco, the root and herb juice remedy.

"I am getting along simply fine now, and don't have to take an enema each day, as I formerly did, since Dreco, the great remedy has done so much for me," says Mrs. John T. Fred, 109 Government Street, Moible, Ala.

"Dreco is the greatest medicine I even encountered in my life. It has done for me what nothing else has done, and that is why I want every one to know about it, so they too, may get well.

"For a long time I have suffered from constipation and kidney trouble; severe pains in my back and limbs caused much suffering. I could not stoop over for the pains, and my joints were very painful. My appetite failed and I was growing very weak and falling off in weight.

"Two bottles of Dreco have relieved me of all pain and my bowels act regularly as a clock. My appetite has returned and I have gained in weight. Does and one wonder that I am happy over my deliverance from pain, and that I should want every one to know and profit by my experience?

Dreco is a vegetable compound made from the pure juices and extracts of many different roots, herbs, barks and leaves, it acts on the bowels and relieves constipation, increases the appetite induces sound restful sleep, quiets the nerves, stimulates the kidneys to full healthy action, thereby ridding the system of poison which causees catarrh and rheumatism.

Dreco rouses a sluggish liver to healthy action thereby relieving headaches, giddy spells, biliousness, foul breath, bad taste in the mouth, sallow complexion, heartburn and as a general tonic and syetem builder it is unexcelled.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Co.

OUR BATTERY SERVICE IS FREE

How it Pays us—and YOU.

PHILADELPHIA DIAMOND GRID BATTERY

OF COURSE we're in business to make money. You have probably wondered why we mention the expense of free inspections for batteries & starting-lighting systems. We have two reasons:

1. It enables us to get acquainted with auto owners.

2. It gives us a chance to demonstrate our exceptional ability to care for and repair batteries.

In a word, this free inspection is the best advertising we can possibly do.

It pays you to avail yourself of this service, because it will help you to get longer life from your battery; and prevent battery troubles on the road.

Sound Business Judgment absolutely demands this fearless resolution to turn this stock into cash at once. Market conditions are such that we deem it advisable to take a loss now instead of later and we will give our customers the benefit of our loss.

THIS IS THE REASON!

A CALL to THE THRIFTY
A few words of explanation are herein necessary

So that the people will realize and appreciate the importance of this Sale—a sale that will startle the entire community. Unsettled market conditions are such that we think it adviseable to THROW our entire Stock on Sale at prices that will sell it immediately. We must, we will close out one-half or more of this high grade stock no matter how GREAT THE LOSS.

In this Sale you will find no Special so called leaders bought especially for this Sale. We have plenty of the reputable merchandise we have already carried, on hand awaiting you at BONA FIDE CUT PRICES.

CONDITIONS DEMAND QUICK ACTION

For this reason The Clanton Mercantile Company has found it necessary to turn this MAMMOTH STOCK over to Geo. W. Tryling, the Wholesale Broker and Selling Agent with offices in Chicago, Cincinnati and Birmingham, so that this great Stock may be TURNED INTO CASH regardless of COST or VALUE, in order that we may resume business with an entirely new stock. This Stock will be SACRIFICED.

THORSBY INSTITUTE

A play entitled "The Pilgrims and their Journey" will be given Saturday night, November 27th, by the Helen Keller Literary Society in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims.

The first scene is laid in the office of the city officials in Leyden, Holland in 1619. The English embassador asks the Dutch Burgomaster for the arrest of William Brewster, the puritan pastor, because he had been sending books back to England, which glorified the puritan faith.

The second scene is laid at the Puritan quarters in Leyden. Master Robinson presents to the people the difficulties in the way of making Holland their permanent home. While discussion is going on orders are received for the arrest of William Bewster. The Puritians decide that it is best for them to leave Holland.

The third scene is laid in New Plymouth in America in 1621. The Puritans have suffered much during the winter andhave lost many of their number. They have lived in fear of the Indians, but their fears are set at naught, by the friendly visit of "Samoset."

In the fourth and last scene, Samoset brings the chief Massasoit to the colony and the Indians and Puritians draw up a peace treaty. The Mayflower then leaves the colony and starts on its return to England. The cast of characters in the play are:

Dutch Burgomaster....Clayton Sharpe
English Ambassador..Chester Maddox
Elders in the Church
William Brewster.....Arthur Male
William Bradford.....Zell Pope
John Carver, Governor of Plymouth .....Arthur McCary
John Robinson, Pastor of Plymouth church .....Yancey Kelley
Samoset, Indian.....Porter Lee Music
Puritians and other characters: John Wesley, Lily Smith, Gresham Lowery, Mattie Scott, Eura Hughes, Theo Brackin, Robert Sheppard, Elliott Lyon, Jennie Woodham, Eugene McCrary and Herbert McClain.

We were unable to report the splendid programme given by the Helen Keller Literary Society assisted by the pupils of the public school, illustrative of the modern Health Crusade, in our last issue. Songs and recitations by pupils of the public school were rendered, after which Rev. J. M. Graham gave a very forcible address on the work of the Health Crusade. The playlet entitled "The Imps" given under the direction of Mrs. Loveland very effectively illustrated how indifferent the parents as well as school board sometimes are to the vital questions concerning the health and proper care of the children until they see what harm these Imps (of ill health) can do. The scene of the play portrayed the Imps awaiting the coming of the children to the school ground, when they could then mingle with and touch them while in their play. There are so many of these Imps that a trained nurse to care for the children is unable to cope with their number, and the children become affected with various ills. The school board, deeply engrossed in its business affairs fail to take notice of this serious situation until they are called upon by the Doctor and nurse as well as the parents of the children, who through much argument make them see the true situation, and prevail upon them to take vigorous action in ridding the school and grounds of these dangers.

Before the close of the program Prof. C. M. Williams of the Public School, reported the findings of the State Department of Public Health resulting from the examination of the public school children and Institute students. The report showed that many were in need of medical attention, especially on account of deseased tonsils and hook worm infection. He urged parents to take steps necessary to bring their children to full physical fitness.

JEMISON LOCALS

Miss Juanita Atkinson, Norma Attaway and Mrs. Paul Ousley spent the week-end in Elmore.

Mrs. C. H. Robinson and mother, Mrs. J. W. Sorrell, are spend this week in Birmingham with relatives.

Mrs. H. M. Eagle has returned from her visit in Virginia.

Mrs. Annie Lee Waldrup and children and sister, Ida Mae Cross, of Birmingham, visited Mrs. W. F. McNiel Sunday.

A large crowd attended services at the Baptist church Sunday and Sunday evening which was conducted by the pastor, Buford Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Nix are now residing in Jemison.

Mr. and Mrs. Ensley Lowery of Bessemer visited their father, Dr. Johnson Sunday.

SOCIAL AND PERSONALS

An interesting social event of last week was a dinner given at the home of Mrs. J. E. Biggs on Wednesday night honoring the members of the Hawaiian Quartet. Mr. C. R. Foss met them at the station and brought them over to Mrs. Biggs' home, where eloborate preparations had been made for them by several young ladies. A delicious four course dinner was served and covers were for ten. Mrs. Biggs was assisted by Marjorie Fox, Emily Ellsworth, Ethel Loveland and Nannie Lindquist. After dinner music was enjoyed and a general good time was spent after which all went to the Institute where the entertainment of the Hawaiians was given and greatly enjoyed by a vast audience. These young men were very appreciative of the splendid hospitality which was shown them in the little town of Thorsby.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

The State of Alabama,
Chilton County.

Whereas a mortgage was executed on the 6th day of April, 1916, by Wm. M. Adams and wife, Annie D. Adams, to F. A. Gulledge, conveying certain property hereinafter described, to secure an indebtedness therein mentioned, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record Book 154, page 234; and whereas default has been made in the terms of said mortgoge and the same is now past due and subject to foreclosure:

Now, therefore, I, the undersigned, will sell at public outcry for cash to the highest bidder, in front of the court house door of said county, in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, on The 11th day of December, 1920, during the legal hours of sale, the following described property, conveyed in said mortgage, to-wit:

Lots One (1) and Two (2), Block "B", according to C. A. Pickett's Plat of William M. Adams' Lots in the Town of Clanton, Ala., recorded in the ofifce of the Judge of Probate in Book 136, page 279, and in Plat Book One (1), page seventeen, (17), and situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

Said sale is to be made for the purpose of paying the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and the costs and expenses of foreclosure, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

This, the 10th day of November, 1920.

It may be interesting to the citizens of Thorsby to know that daily shipments of the "Legg Sausage," made in Thorsby, are leaving the packing plant. Only last Saturday evening a shipment of over five hundred pounds went to Mobile. We are informed that this is only the beginning. We would suggest that the farmers get busy and raise hogs to supply the growing industry.

The friends of Henry Erdahl, who has just returned home from North Dakota and who has been sick for some time, are glad to learn that he is back home and seems to be improving in health. He was brought back home by his mother and sister, Ainna Erdahl, who have been with him during his illness. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

On last Friday night Mrs. A. E. Reagan entertained a small number of guests at her home. Games were played after which hot chocolate and other refreshments were served. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Reagan's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs J. E. Biggs and Mr. W. M. Parnell.

In the interest of Thorsby and its page in The Union-Banner, we again call on its citizens to leave at the bank all items of news and amusements that will help make this page interesting. Then also we can take your subscriptions and renewals to The Union-Banner, as well as figure with you on advertising or printing of any kind. Come in and see us.

Don't forget the lecture which is to be given by Rev. P. G. Carter of Clanton next Thursday night, November 25th.

PERCHED ON A HIGH STOOL IN AN OFFICE
Many a Brain Is Trying to Work With Weak, Thin Blood
MORE RICH, RED BLOOD NEEDED
Pepto-Mangan Gives You the Health To Tackle Your Daily Work With Vigor
If you sit at a desk all day in an office, whether you are perched on a high stool or seated in an upholstered chair, your body is inactive. You can't get much fresh air and outdoor exercise. Your blood becomes poor. You look pale and feel weak.
The great tonic, Pepto-Mangan, is what you need for awhile. It makes rich, red blood. It restores your vital energy. Your color comes back.
When your blood is good, full of red corpuscles, you are better able to resist disease. You go about your daily work with the optimism of good health.
Try Pepto-Mangan and notice how you improve.
Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. Both have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should be on the package. Advertisement.

We realize that merchants, farmers and everybody will have to take a big loss, owing to the reduction that has come in the prices of everything. We are planning now to take our part of the loss. Our stock of general merchandise must be reduced and we are making a sacrifice of a large sum of money just to get our goods down to the level, and share the loss with our customers.

BEGINNING

Saturday, Nov. 27th

And Continuing Through

Saturday, Dec. 11th

We want to "tote" square with our customers. We don't want to get all the money and leave you broke. A slump in business has come and we are ready to share the burden with those who come here to buy goods. We have crushed prices to the bottom on Dry Goods, Ready to Wear for the entire family, Underwear for Men, Women and Children.

FESS TAUNTS DEMOCRATS FOR "SOLID SOUTH" LOSS

Greatest Gains in Election of Republican House Members Are from Dixie Land

Washington, November 22.—That the Republican party has been encouraged by the unprecedented majorities in the election to invade the solid South and in the future wage a systematic campaign there is evidenced by a statement of Representative Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee. He says:

"The election offers many suggestions for the student of political campaigns. The election of a President by an overwhelming majority unlike anything in the history of elections, backed by a Senate majority in a contest in which the Democrats claimed good chances to win eight seats, but in which they won nothing and lost ten, giving the Republican a majority of 22, and a House by the incredible majority of 176, is an interesting episode in campaigns.

"Since the Civil War the partisan line of demarkation has been the Mason and Dixon line, the old dividing line between the free and slave states. Democracy's hold upon the Southern section has ever provided its chief support. Not infrequently the North and West are strongly Republican so that the contest is often referred to as the Solid South against the United North and West.

"This election has shown a smaller number of Democratic members of the House from the North and West than Republican members from South of the dividing line. In the border states, neutral in Civil War, Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri, Harding carried all but Kentucky, three of them elected Republican Senators and they returned 24 Republican members of the House and only 10 Democratic members. In addition, Harding carried Tennesssee with 5 out of the 10 Congressmen. He seriously reduced the Democratic majority in the other Southern States.

"The Republicans chose fifteen districts in the South in which to make contests. These were taken as tests to ascertain the feasibility of attempting to break the "Solid South." The list included 3 in Virginia, 3 in North Carolina, 1 in Alabama, 3 in Tennessee, 2 in Texas and 3 in Oklahoma. These were in addition to the border states. Of the fifteen tests we won seven, and made remarkable showing in the other eight. We did not enter either Georgia or Arkansas, both of which were represented as very good fields for Republican policies. The result demonstrates the possibility of disintrigating a minority rule in the Southland which would not only be a valued result to the nation at large, but a good thing for the South as well.

"In the vast country North of the Ohio River and west of the Mississippi save Texas, the Democrats have elected less than a score of members to the House, and not a single Senator. They hold only two members on the Pacific Coast, First and Second Districts of California; not a member on the Canadian border, save four in New York; only two in New England, the Tenth and Twelfth in Boston. Republicans won solid delegations in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, all the states west of the Mississippi and north of Oklahoma, except in California. They won all but one in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Missouri, and all but four in New York.

"The outcome of the election carries an interesting story. It spells in unmistakable terms the rebuke of Wilsonism as an un-American effort to override by autocratic methods American rights safeguarded by Constitutional limitation in our organic law. It is a repudiation of Wilson's effort of group control in which entire blocks of votes were sought through official favor as in the Adamson Act. It demonstrates the keenness of the voter to the danger of sovietizing of our industries under the captivating caption of democratization of industry, the best example of which was the Plumb Plan of rail control. It also demonstrated that American labor is not only sound at heart, but independent of dominations from labor officialdom. No man has ever yet delivered the labor vote in this country, nor is it likely ever to be so delivered.

"The enormous Republican plurality was largely due to the woman vote, not altogether because of Republican policy toward woman suffrage or toward progressive measures which appeal to the woman instinct and sense of right, but, in addition, the pronounced dislike of the character of the Cox campaign which was an offense to the refinement of the womanly sense of public service. The composition and character of all Republican meetings which displayed an intelligent enthusiasm and tone of refinement unknown to political campaigns foreshadowed the drift of the woman voter.

"The tremendous vote of confidence given the new administration is not confined to positive favor toward Republican administration. It included a vast mass of our citizenry who were woefully tired of Wilson and demonstrated an ending of the Wilson regime. It also included a pronounced conviction of business America, not confined to employers of labor, who have become properly alarmed over the fateful disintegration of American enterprise, and to an official suspicion that every man who succeeds must be more or less dishonest. It includes a respectable portion of labor which knows that the best insurance against unemployment and low wages is sound business methods where both the rights of labor and capital are respected. In addition, it was a woman's protest against undignified methods of campaigning and to their sense of leadership in America.

"The problems involved in this election are both imminent and commanding. The electorate is not committeed to any particular party. It demands devotion to the country's welfare rather than to party fealty. Parties are mere means to be employed to reach definite ends. The support today may be opposition tomorrow, dependent upon how the party in power treats the problems committeed to it.

"Our first duty is to secure relief from war taxation. This can only be done by getting away from war conditions. Formal peace must be established at the earliest moment, and war laws discontinued. Taxation can be reduced only by reducing the cost of government. The executive and legislative must cooperate to cut this costs to the bone. The war machine must be dismantled by eliminating every war agency not absolutely necessary in peace time.

"The persistence of the frightful government expenditures, which is at least seven or eight times what it was before the war, demands immediate attention and reorganization. If we succeed in saving in the short session what was saved in the earlier sessions of this Congress, we can most probably repeal the excess profits tax and may be able to reduce the upper ranges of the surtax. It is to be hoped this can be done without the substitution of any new form of tax.

"Steps will most likely be taken at an early moment to create a commission composed of members of Congress together with well-known experts on the taxation question, not members of either House to investigate and report on the needs and possibilities of tax revision.

"One of the earliest measures to be enacted and inaugurated in practice is the Budget System, which was vetoed by the President at the close of the last session."

AN APPEAL

To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aided Them:

The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurated with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause.

This success is the partnership accomplishment of all Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of past party affiliations.

To all of those we now appeal, because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government.

The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unmortgaged.

It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change the method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more that that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 50,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all of our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving put the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, men or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the corner stone of a sturdier political structure, upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may as Republicans and patriots be justly proud.

Most earnestly we urge that this aid be given quickly, that your committee may be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to furthur constructive work in behalf of party and country.

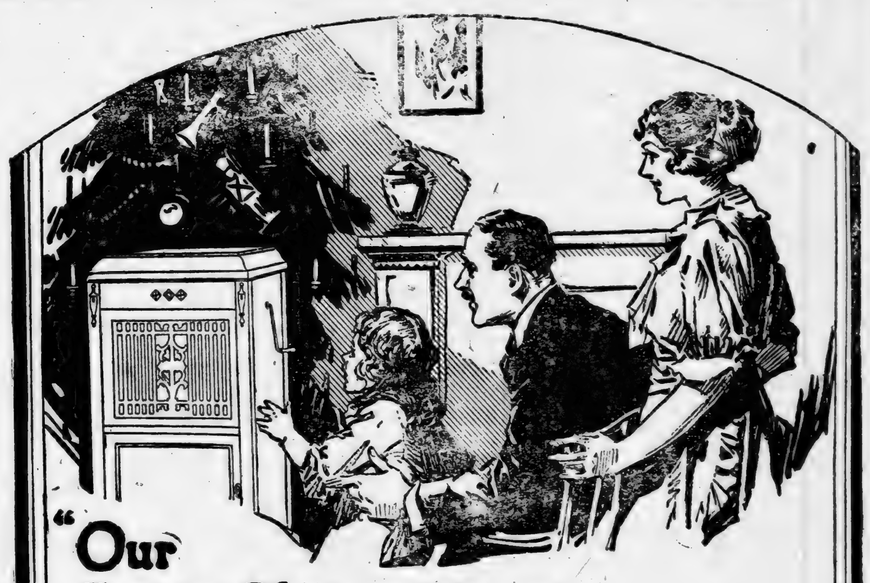
YOU never got such cigarette-contentment as Camels hand you. Camels quality and expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic Tobaccos make this goodness possible—and make you prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Camels mellow-mildness is a revelation! Smoke them with freedom without tiring your taste! They leave no unpleasant cigaretty aftertaste nor unpleasant cigaretty odor!

Give Camels every test—then compare them puff-for-puff with any cigarette in the world!



"Our Budget Plan will bring the New Edison this Xmas!"

THIS is the time of the year when our Budget Plan is most helpful. You ought to come in right away and find out what it can do for you.

In the first place, it will put a New Edison beside your Christmas tree, (how the family will rejoice!)

In the second place, it will stretch your Christmas dollar so that you'll hardly feel the purchase.

The Budget Plan treats the New Edison as an essential of life, such as a home, and arranges payments on the sound "time" principle. It combines modern business practice with thrift.

This way of treating a dollar actually makes it go farther. Let us explain how the Budget Plan brings the longed-for New Edison for what an extremely ordinary gift would cost,—and makes 1921 thrift pay for the balance.

FALAKTO

Mr. Grover Gilliland, a popular and talented student of the Clanton High School is suffering from an attack of pneumonia at his home south of Clanton.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sandlin deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their little daughter, Verrie, who died last Sunday afternoon. It is deeply sad because Mrs. Sandlin is at Gragg's Hospital and could not be with the little girl during her last illness.

In an automobile wreck on the highway recently when two cars almost collided, Mrs. J. P. Stonecipher sustained a broken collar bone and other injuries. The car turned completely over spilling the five passengers in the ditch on the road-side. The other passengers were unhurt.

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Erby Lewis and Miss Jettie Adams, not wishing to be any trouble to their friends slipped quietly away to the residence of a neighbor, who happened to have the proper legal authority, and had the solemn ceremony read which created for them a new existence in the holy bonds of matrimony. Immediately they drove to a cozy little home of their own in the neighborhood of Mr. H. W. Lewis', father of the groom.

OAK GROVE COMMUNITY

Dave Williams is visiting relatives in St Clair County.

Jim Cobb is working in Birmingham.

Sunday School here is progressing.

Our Singing Society met last Sunday and singing was led by the following, using the 1920 books: Opening song No 141 by little Carl Wilson. Prayer by J. B. Northcutt. Lessons led by Prof. Grant, Prof. Dooley, Maxie Boswell, Lee Grant, L. D. Murphy, Paul Wilson, Miss Lesta Cobb, Miss Flossie Cobb. A beautiful duet was rendered by Messrs. Dooley and Boswell. Then the other directors led lessons again.

The organists were Misses Esta and Eva Atkinson, Annie Boswell, Lee Grant, Ralph Grant, Claudie Murphy, Flossie Cobb.

When we meet to sing God's praises in the right spirit we shall be blessed, for right shall conquer wrong.

SHOULTS

Last week it was impossible to write from this place as the correspondent was away from home the latter part of the week.

We were indeed glad to see the facts concerning the Sunday School Convention held at Pleasant Grove church on the Second Sunday last. Sorry such a few of the people were present. We need more Sunday School Boosters and less Fault Finders.

On last Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence, Miss Drucilla Lawrence entertained about 30 of her friends in a most delightful manner at a singing. Miss Myrtle McAfee and Mrs. W. P. Hicks were organists during the evening. After many beautiful songs, games were played and every one seemed to have enjoyed the evening so much. Miss Drucilla with her family will move to the Collins Chapel community this week. The many friends and neighbors of this family regret very much to see them move. They will be missed in Sunday School at this place, also missed in literary school. We wish them much success.

Mr. John Mitchell of this community has sold his farm to Mr. Fred McGee, and is going to move near Lawley.

Mr. George Hamerick will move this week near Stanton if his wife, who has been sick for some time, still improves. We are sorry to see so many families moving away, and hope the vacant houses will soon be reoccupied.

Sunday School and literary school are still progressing nicely.

Next Sunday the singers of Pleasant Grove church are requested by the Supenintendent to meet early for a 15 minutes song service before Sunday School and preaching service. Everybody be present for preaching Saturday afternoon and Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Miss Betsie Lawley of near Lawley spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hicks. Miss Betsie is 88 years old and works all the time. She is the only member of her family living, except a few relatives in Arkansas. She makes her home with Mrs. Celia Hicks near Lawley.

Miss Eliza Hall spent the last two weeks with her niece, Mrs. T. C. Sneed of Centreville.

Owing to the Teachers Institute held at Bibb County high school last Thursday and Friday, Mr. Hort Walker, Mr. Alsie Maness and Miss Myrtle McAfee, students of this school were at home from Wednesday night until Sunday. They will also be home this week from Wednesday until Sunday on account of Thanksgiving.

We should this year celebrate Thanksgiving as we have never celebrated it before, not only with a feast of Turkey, cranberry sauce and many othr exciting things, but with prayer and thankfulness for the numerous blessings we have received in the past year. Let's be thankful also for those who are toiling every day in the interest of a better world. We have more this year to be thankful for than ever before. We must remember that we can be thankful this year for the accomplishment of the thing that Susan B. Anthony and the heirs of her opinion worked so hard for, and that is political equality —now a thing we enjoy. It is a delightful new version for hundreds of women in the United States, while for hundreds it is nothing but a name.

PILGRIM'S REST

Plantersville, Ala., Nov. 22, 1920.

Dear Editor:

Will you please allow me space for a few lines in your paper? Just telling a few things that have been going on in our country.

One thing worse than all is the poor old farmers with the blues knowing everything they have to sell is so cheap, and knowing how much it cost to produce what little they have got, but it never pays to worry.

We have got a good school at old Pilgrim and good teachers.

Had a box supper at the school house Saturday night, November 20. The crowd was small but anyway everybody had a good time. Mr. Bud Abbott thought he would get a certain box, but he missed it and got two more which cost him some money.

Mr. Martin Chandler and his brother, Frank, have planned a nice trip for Thanksgiving. Going to see some of their old friends at Wetumpka.

NEW HARMONY NEWS

Health of this community is fairly good at present.

Mrs. T. G. Culp has returned home from Montgomery where she underwent a serious operation and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Monroe Headley was a visitor at W. B. Cooper's Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Surles is visiting relatives in Birmingham.

Mr. George Meeks of Montgomery is visiting friends here.

Mr. O. F. Bates and family visited at F. A. Bates Sunday.

Miss Willie Mae Sheppard visited Miss Rosa Bates Sunday.

Our new school house will soon be completed.

We have an evergreen Sunday School at this place. Everybody is invited to attend.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Genuine Ford Service---and Parts

Insist on genuine Ford parts for your Ford car. Mail order houses, stores and many garages sell imitation—counterfeit parts which have not the quality of the genuine Ford parts, but the Authorized Sales and Service Dealers sell only the genuine Ford-made Ford parts. You are safe with them, while your car is mighty unsafe if repaired with imitation parts. The real Ford parts are made from the same properly heat-treated steel as their counter parts in the Ford car. Every part is heat-treated according to its use. Depending upon the service they perform, Ford parts are tempered to insure the longest life. Tested after almost every operation while being manufactured under Ford supervision. Counterfeit parts range from thirty to seventy-five per cent below the quality of the Ford standard. Don't take chances; demand Fod parts, they're safer. Bring your Ford to us and thus make "assurance doubly sure." If you want a Ford car, truck or Fordson tractor, leave your order without delay, as now we can make fairly prompt delivery—Touring Care, Coupes, Sedans, Runabouts, Trucks and Fordson Tractors. HARRELD STRIKES LUCK IN OKLAHOMA

Interesting Story Gathered On Early Career of Senator-Elect.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Politically speaking, the Republican senator-elect from Oklahoma has veritably "wallowed in luck" considering that only 14 years ago he settled in the new state with but $75 in his pocket. John W. Harreld went to Oklahoma from Morgantcwn in Kentucky and first located in Ardmore which is the home town of Democratic Congressman Charles D. Carter and where he practiced law for 11 years with no success to brag of. He then moved to Oklahoma City where fortune began to smile upon him through a connection with an oil company, in which he obtained a holding that proved to be most profitable, even though Harreld was not able to put in a large sum of money.

Last year Joseph B. Thompson, who was representing the district in Congress, died and a special election was called to fill the vacancy. Although the district was normally Democratic by about 5,000 Harreld obtained the Republican nomination and was elected over Claude Weaver, his Democratic opponent, by a majority of 708 votes. Harreld ran on an anti-League of Nations platform.

This year to the surprise of his friends, Representative Harreld announced himself a candidate for United States senator against Scott Ferris who had defeated Senator Gore for renomination at the Summer primary. It was generally supposed that Ferris was the one Democrat in Oklahoma who could not be defeated not even in a presidential election year. At any rate it is said that Harreld was about the only Republican in the state who had a hankering to try conclusions with a Democrat as popular as Ferris had heretofore been with the voters. The friends of Ferris thought he was simply invincible after defeating Senator Gore, and they looked upon Harreld with something akin to pity for daring to make the senatorial race against one who had represented his district in Congress for almost 14 years.

Every Drop of Your Blood Should Be Absolutely Pure

Any slight disorder or impurities is a source of danger, as every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct result of a bad condition of the blood. Among the most serious are Rheumatism, with its torturing pain; Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas and other disfiguring skin diseases; general debility, which makes the strongest men helpless, and many other diseases are the direct result of impure blood.

You can in a large measure avoid liability to disease by the use of S. S. S., the wonderful blood remedy that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

LEGAL NOTICE

To Owners Unknown; and to Callie Zimmerman and Rowena Bruemmer, who reside in Chicago, Cook County, Illinois:

You are hereby notified that Alabama Power Company, a corporation, has filed its written application in this Court for the condemnation of the lands, waters, rights and interests therein described and that among said lands described in said application are the following lands situated in said County which are owned by you, to-wit:

Ten acres off the north side of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section nine, township twenty-one north, range sixteen east. The owners of the land described in this paragraph are unknown to the applicant.

The east half of the southeast quarter of section five and ten acres in the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section five, all in township twenty-one north, range sixteen east, Callie Zimmerman owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

All of fractional section six, township twenty-two north, range sixteen east lying west of the Coosa River. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the lands described in this paragraph.

The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twelve, township twenty-two north, range fifteen east. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

The fractional northeast quarter of section one , township twenty-two north, range fifteen east. Rowena Bruemmer owns an interest in the land described in this paragraph.

Said application avers that said Alabama Power Company proposes to construct a dam across the Coosa River between a point in the fractional northeast quarter of section fifteen and fractional section ten, except 38 acres off the west side thereof, all in township twenty-one north, range sixteen east in Chilton County, Alabama, and all that part of fractional section fourteen, township twenty-one north, range sixteen east, lying east of the Coosa River in Coosa County, Alabama, and thereby impound the waters of, and back them up, said river, and by so doing a certain portion of said lands above described, of which you are the owner, will likely be flooded or covered by the impounded waters or the pool created by the erection of said dam, and you are further notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the Court for the 15th day of December, 1920, at 10:00 o'clock, A. M., and notice of said application and of the day so appointed for the hearing thereof is hereby given to you.

Witness my hand this the 8th day of November, 1920.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of the Court of Probate of 11-11-3t. Chilton County, Alabama.

CARD OF THANKS

Lawley, Ala., Nov. 22, 1920.
Editor Union-Banner:

As I led the county ticket I feel that it is my duty to thank the voters of the county. Especially do I want to thank the ladies for casting their first vote for me. I consider the Board of Commissioners no more than servants of the people, it is my desire to serve them well.

Yours truly,
C. T. WALKER.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

There was a good Sunday School last Sunday considering the weather conditions, as 100 were in attendance. The preaching services were only fairly well attended. The word of God is needed here as elsewhere, "Forget not the assembling of thyselves together." Services will be held next Sunday as usual morning 11:00 A. M., evening 7:15 P. M. The Sunbeams and B. Y. P. U. Bands will meet at their usual hour.

The Union Thanksgiving service was fairly well attended. A good service was enjoyed by all who were present. The sum of $8.20 was taken up in the collection which was equally divided among the two orphan institutions of the Methodist and Baptist Churches. For the number present this was a creditable collection.

We cordially invite the general public to all of our services.

P. G. CARTER,
Pastor.

FRIENDSHIP

Health of this community is good at present and everyone seems to be enjoying life. The weather is kindly unpleasant but that doesn't stop our service at Friendship.

Our singing was simply grand Sunday. Rev. W. P. Lowery delivered a very interesting sermon which was enjoyed by everyone present. Mr. James Franklin sang a few songs in the morning, but on account of the preaching hour we didn't sing much untill the afternoon. W. O. Rich opened the singing followed by prayer by Mr. J. Z. Mims.

The directors for the day were W. O. Rich, James Franklin, Akins Collins, J. Z. Mims and Tom Wyatt. Organists were Misses Alice Wyatt and Thelma Farley.

A very large crowd attended, and we give our thanks to those who so kindly helped us in our singing.

There was also a very large crowd at the service Saturday night.

Miss Lona Thompson spent last week with her parents in Selma.

Miss Mattie Dorminey has been visiting relatives and friends here this week.

Misses Mary Duke, Mattie Dorminey and Mr. J. D. Collins visited Misses Bertha and Nettie Dennis Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Blankenship spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Duke.

Miss Bertha Dennis took dinner with Mrs. Collins Sunday.

Miss Lona Thompson spent the noon hour with Miss Mary Duke Sunday.

Mrs. John Gore is visiting relatives in Georgia.

Mr. Lee Wilson from Montevallo was in this community Sunday afternoon.

IN MEMORY

The death angel visited the home of Mr. G. N. Mims Friday night and gently wafted the spirit of his beloved wife home to God who gave it.

She was nursed with the tenderest care, but alas! mortal hands could not relieve her pain but God whispered unto her softly, saying "Come unto Me and I will give you rest."

The earth was adorned with this beautiful flower for only thirty-nine short years when it had to drop and die. Now sorrow and disappointment over shadow this community like a mid-winter's cloud.

How sweet the thought though that a life so pure, full of innocence, full of love, now living happily in the home above.

She leaves a husband, six children and many relatives and friends who will greatly miss her presence here for she was loved by all who knew her.

Rev. M. J. Parrish conducted the funeral services. Her remains were laid in the cemetery at Temple Church to await the resurrection morning when friends and loved ones will all be reunited to part nevermore.

Cheer up Father and Children
Wipe your tear-dimmed eyes,
For Mother is sweetly resting
In her home beyond the skies.

SHOULTS

Rev. J. D. Martin on last Saturday afternoon and Sunday at 11 o'clock, preached in a very impressive manner two sermons. On account of the inclement weather not many were present. Rev. J. D. Martin will not be here next fourth Saturday and Sunday as usual on account of Xmas. He wishes to spend the Christmas holidays at home.

Mrs. W. P. Hicks entertained the members of her Sunday School class at her home on last Saturday afternoon. Many entertaining games were played after which cake and ambrosia was served. Many others with the class were present. All seemed to have a delightful time.

Last Saturday night at about 10 o'clock the residence of Mr. Howard Oden of this community caught on fire and burned down. He saved only a very few things as the greater part of the house was burned up before they were awakened by the roaring of the fire. This is a big loss to Mr. Oden as he had just completed some new additional rooms. We indeed do sympathize with Mr. Oden in this loss. The origin of the fire is unknown. We hope every one that is visited by the committee will send Mr. Oden some help. We should not wait for a committee, but go and take something.

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

L. A. S. Meets.

The Womans Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held their regular social business meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Elbert Littlejohn. Quantities of chrysanthemums were used in the decorations of the home. After the business meeting and study period a tempting salad plate was served.

Maye S. S. Class Entertained.

The E. C. Maye Sunday School Class held a most enjoyable meeting on last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. T. C. McSwain. A very interesting program was enjoyed as follows:

Song by the Class, "Holy, Holy, Holy." Scripture reading by Mrs. Roberts. Prayer by President, Mrs. Roberts. Solo, "What Will Your Harvest Be?" Miss Willie Belle Sartor. Thanksgiving Thoughts, Mrs. Maye. Solo by Miss Curry.

This Class is very active and has pledged one hundred dollars and given more to missions during the year, and many interesting plans are being made for activity during the coming year.

Following the business discussion a luncheon plate with hot coffee was served to twenty members and visitors.

Mr. A. S. Prince left Wednesday morning for Decatur to visit his parents there.

Mr. Mallie Armstrong visited relatives here this week.

Mrs. Guy Higgins has returned to her home after spending Thanksgiving in Birmingthm.

Mrs. M. A. Mullins and Mrs. Luther Jackson went to Birmingham on Wednesday.

Mrs. V. J. Heard and mother, Mrs. Kyle, made a trip to Montgomery on Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson returned to her home in Clanton Tuesday after a visit to her parents in Owensville, Indiana.

Mr. Bob Keenan was a visitor to Clanton Wednesday.

Tuesday Bridge Club Entertained

The Tuesday Bridge Club was delightfully entertained on last Tuesday by Mrs. Eric Hart. The home was made attractive with quantities of fall blossoms and ferns. At the conclusion of the game a lovely salad plate was served to the club members and the following invited guests: Mrs. Sam Johnson, Mrs. Kyle, Mrs. Watts Moore, Mrs. Luther Jackson, and Mrs. Grady Reynolds.

The guests prize was drawn by Mrs. Grady Reynolds.

Mrs. Woods Hostess.

Mrs. Tom Woods delightfully entertained the Embroidery Club on last Friday evening at a special business session. Discussions and plans were completed for the bazaar to be held at the court house Thursday, Dec. 9th. The Club will have a very pretty line of fancy work for Xmas gifts, and cakes, candies of all kinds. Hot chocolate and sandwiches will be served in the afternoon.

After the business meeting the members were served a salad course and adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Guy Roberts.

Mrs. Watts Moore, Mrs. Luckie and Mrs. W. I. Mullins were visitors to Montgomery Monday.

Miss Alice Stanfield spent Monday in Montgomery shopping.

Judge and Mrs. L.H.Reynolds were visitors to Birmingham during the past week.

Mrs. Heard has as her guest, Mrs. Kyle from Albany.

Dr. and Mrs. Upchurch, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Hester, motored over to Marion last Thursday.

Mrs. Sam Johnson is at home in Clanton for a few weeks.

Mrs. T. C. McSwain and little daughter Elizabeth, visited in Birmingham during the week.

Mr. J. R. McDaniel of Montgomery was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simpson.

Dr. Will S. Wilson of Fairfield came down home Wednesday night to spend a few days hupting.

FALAKTO

Dr. A. D. Scott, a competent veternarian has bought a part of the Greer place and contemplates improving it at once.

Mr. J. P. Stonecipher is erecting a new home just across the highway from his residence which will be occupied by Mr. Geo. Williamson and family.

The enterprising citizens 2 miles south of Falakto have filed a petition with the L. & N R. R. Company asking that Hawkin's Crossing be made a flag station. This is a much needed convenience to the thickly populated community and will greatly facilitate shipping from there to distant markets and give many added advantages in convenience and comfort. The new station is christened "Glendale."

The day before Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. Joe Looser invited their friends and neighbors to their home for a "spend the day party." All around the yard could be seen great stacks of oak shingles, kegs of nails, hammers and saws. Very soon they were put to use by a score of men who knew their business, while their wives were busy in the kitchen. A table fairly groaning with good things was spread for them at noon and when the shadows lengthened they fell on a completely covered roof that sheltered thankful hearts beneath. All present enjoyed the day and a feeling of good fellowship strengthened by thus being associated together and a good old custom revived.

Mr. E. D. Hand and family are visiting the home of Mr. J. R. Taylor at Cooper.

Mrs. T. V. Miller is slightly indisposed.

Mr. German Sandlin of Birmingham is visiting his parents this week.

ALL MERCHANTS OF EVERYWHERE, ATTENTION

I will be at the Wilson Hotel from 2:00 to 4:00 P. M. Sunday, December 5th. Will be glad to meet General Store, Clothing, Hardware, Furniture and Jewelry Store Merchants.

I know I can show you how to overcome any of your merchandise problems that confront you today.

And will be glad to give you the benefit of my years of experience with merchants from coast to coast without the least obligation to you.

MR. S. M. HOVERSON.

Representative of the T. K. Kelly Sales System. The world's largest sales organization. Backed by half a million dollars of net responsibility. Endorsed by thousands of merchants and all the leading wholesale houses the country over.

BAKER SCHOOL HOUSE

There will be a box supper at this place Saturday night, December 4. Every body cordially invited.

DEVAUGHN - TAYLOR WEDDING

The marriage of Mr. Sanford DeVaughn and Miss Eudora Taylor occurred last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. J. W. E. Gulledge, just south of Clanton.

Mr. DeVaughn is a resident of the Poplar Springs Community, and Miss Taylor is the daughter of Mr. T. G. Taylor of Clanton.

The big sale of Pate Bros. at Thorsby comes to a close next Saturday, when they will give away the $100 Luxatone Phonograph. Be there with your tickets. You may be the lucky one.

The sun disappeared behind the hills in a blaze of glory. . . . . A lone bird winged its way overhead homeward bound. Two girls stepped out of an office building, the joy of youth in their faces. . . . . An automobile horn honked. . . . . A street car came to a grinding stop. . . . a dozen workers whose duties for the day were over, climbed aboard. . . . . A newsboy yelled "Fi-nul 'Di-shun—All about the Guv'ners speech—Fi-nul Di-shun!"

Martin Crosby paused for just a moment to enjoy it all. He loved it—every honk of the automobile horns—the newsboy's cry—the last ray of sunshine. It was good to be alive at the close of such a day.

A sudden gust of wind tore around the corner of the big office building and whistled down the street. Martin Crosby instinctively buttoned his light overcoat and thrust his right hand in a pocket. This was the first cool day of Winter, and a little woman with the light of love shining in her dark brown eyes had brought Martin's light overcoat out from the land of moth balls, and insisted that he don it.

Martin had smiled as she handed him the coat. He usually smiled when the little brown-eyed woman made suggestions. . . . . She was always making suggestions and always —Martin found them good.

As Martin's hand explored the dark recesses of the pocket, his long, tapering fingers came in contact with a small sticky piece of paper. Slowly the hand brought it to the light. Then a brief smile flickered for just an instant across his face.

Hardly knowing why he did so, he replaced the sticky paper in his pocket. . . . Three minutes later he was on a car—homeward bound—where a brown-eyed woman awaited his coming. Tomorrow he must see about her Christmas present—Christmas was only a short ways off.

Martin knew that he would find the little woman very happy on this nnight, for he had already telephone her the good news. . . . it was too good to keep all those hours. It was her right to know at the earliest possible moment, for it was as much to her credit—possibly more—than his, that good fortune had at last come their way.

For years Martin had struggled upward. . . . fighting. . . . planning . . . . dreaming. . . . and for years a brown-eyed girl had believed in him—pushed him on when he would have faltered—cheered him up when the world appeared dark and unfriendly.

Finally they had married and the girl helped him still more. She, more than anyone else in the world realized the strength in Martin Crosby. . . . She, more than anyone else knew that he had it in him to succeed.

Starting out in life with a frail body, a very limited education, the road to success had been a hilly one for Crosby. Ofttimes the peaks appeared too steep for his physical strength. . . . But somewhere within the man there was a soul that was just as strong as his body was weak—a soul filled with sunshine—hope and faith. Both in himself. . . . Faith in God. . . . And this coupled with love for the little woman, who believed in him, had driven him on and on from the lowest position in the office of the city's largest wholesale machinery company until just this day at a meeting of the board of directors he had been elected General Manager.

Martin's eyes became suspiciously moist as he thought of what that little woman waiting at home would say as he held her in his arms and told her that his good fortune was due solely to her unswerving faith in him. . . . to her help. . . . He knew that she would insist that the credit was all his own. . . . And he knew that it wasn't. . . . That made it all the sweeter. . . . her unselfishness. . . . never claiming credit for herself—always insisting that he was the greatest man in the world.

Martin knew that he was far from being the greatest man in the world, but he knew she thought he was. . . . And that was good. . . . Somehow he liked that. . . . Just as he knew that deep within her heart she rejoiced in the knowledge that he knew her equal so far as he was concerned, could not be found in any other woman.

Arriving home it all happened just as Martin knew it would. There was the little scene which other eyes would have profaned. . . . There were the soft, tender words of love intended only for each other's ears. . . .

Morning came. . . . Martin Crosby stirred uneasily on his pillow. . . . For some strange, unfathomable reason his dreams had not been pleasant. . . . He raised his head slightly to glance at the clock. . . . Something on his pillow caught his eye. He gazed more closely. . . . A bright, red spot. . . . Blood!

Amazed and frightened Crosby glanced at his wife. . . . She was sleeping peacefully. . . . Martin coughed. . . . A horrible thought quickly flashed through his mind. . . . He had coughed a great deal lately. . . . especially at night. . . . Once a long time ago a doctor told him he must be careful. . . . "You have a dangerous chest, my boy," the man of medicine had said.

The little brown-eyed woman saw the bright red spot. . . . Of course it frightened her. . . . She insisted that Martin see a doctor. He laughed at her fears, but something within him shrieked a warning.

He saw the doctor. . . . The doctor tinkered with strange instruments. . . . He thumped his chest . . . . He shook his head. "You must have an X-ray made," he said.

The X-ray confirmed the physician's suspicion — tuberculosis. . . . The long, hard effort to succeed. . . . the night work. . . . hasty eating to get back to work. . . . inattention to minor health details. . . . And now Martin Crosby with success in his grasp found himself in the toils of the most merciless of all diseases —the Great White Plague!

Martin Crosby was stunned. Stunned as a man is who sees all he has worked for taken away without warning or without apparent cause. . . . A picture of his struggles flickered through his brain. . . . the encouraging words of little brown-eyed woman rang in his ears. . . . And now it had all gone for naught!

Martin informed his employer of the physician's decision. . . . His employer was a kind-hearted man. . . a man who was very fond of Martin, but the young fellow saw a sudden fear in his friend's face, and he knew of what the other man was afraid— he was afraid that the disease might be transmitted from Martin to himself. Martin Crosby suddenly felt himself to be something unclean—something of which men were afraid as they might be of a leper. . . . He went nome to his wife. . . . And as he told her the story, he knew he was talking to the one person in all the world who would remain by his side, no matter what the odds. . . .

The telephone rang. . . . Martin's employer was at the other end of the line. . . . He had talked the matter over with the other members of the firm. . . . Martin should go West and remain until cured. . . . perhaps two years. . . . then they would see what they could do for him in the store when he returned. . . . There would be a place. Maybe not the place he had worked so hard for—but a place.

Martin shuddered as he heard the words "Go West!" He had heard of the hundreds who had gone West, and out there—far from friends—far from those they loved, had died from loneliness—from wretchedness. His blood ran cold at the thought.

Someone else heard of his trouble. And this someone had a suggestion. The thing for Martin to do was get a job on a farm. Martin knew that the idea was absurd. In the first place there was nothing he could do on a farm, by which he could earn enough to live on. And besides —he knew there were no "light jobs" such as the friend mentioned on farms. He knew that his frail body would not stand the hardship.

There is a certain thing that men do when their backs are to the wall, the reason for which has never been explained. Nine times out of ten when the last hope has fled, most men will pick up some garment which has been cast aside for the time being and rumage through the pockets. . . . Don't ask me why they do this. . . . I don't know. . . I only know that they do it. . . . The ordinary man may not think he does, but the chances are if he ever feels the solid foundation of hope slipping from beneath his feet, he will unconsciously do that very thing.

And so, Martin Crosby walked to the closet, where his light overcoat was hanging and without any apparent reason ran a hand in one of the pockets. When he withdrew the hand, there was clutched tightly between his fingers a small, sticky paper. He gazed at this for a moment. . . . then turned and said something to his wife. . . . Five minutes later he was on a street car cityward bound.

The kindly-faced gray-haired man leaned slightly forward in his chair and touched Martin Crosby on the arm. "There's nothing for your to worry about," he said, "Our physician says your case is in its incipiency. . . A few months in the sanitarium up on the mountain will put you all right. . . . There is no need for you to go West. . . . You can remain right here near your friends. . . . Your wife can see you as often as she desires. . . . You can be cured. . . easily. And by exercising the proper precautions there is no danger of your transmitting the disease to anyone else."

A few months later Martin Crosby left the mountain Sanitarium of the Tuberculosis Association. . . . A well man. . . . His health better in fact than it had ever been. . . . He had been taught how to live. His little brown-eyed wife was the happiest person in the world as they made their way down the mountainside . . . together.

And in the city his job was waiting for him. . . . The place as General Manager for the machinery concern. . . . Martin's employer had gladly agreed to hold the place for him when he learned that it was only a matter of months, instead of years. . . . And now Martin was going back to claim the prize for which he and his wife had labored all these years.

Martin Crosby turned in his chair as the door opened and a little girl entered. Without waiting for him to speak, she opened the conversation. "I am selling Christmas Seals," said she, "The money goes to the Tuberculosis Association you know. It's a great work. . . . Thousands are cured of tuberculosis every year through the work of the Association."

Martin smilingly interrupted her. "You bet they are!" he exclaimed enthusiastically. "And it's nearly Christmas again too! A much brighter, happier Christmas this year than last. Things looked pretty dark then, little girl. Sure I'm going to buy seals. I'm going to buy all I can. My wife and I are going to spend all our Christmas money that way this year—and some more besides."

When the little girl had gone Martin took his watch from his pocket and carefully opened it. Securely fastened on the inner lid was the little piece of paper he had taken from his pocket the afternon he left his office to go home to his wife with the good news. . . . the same little piece of paper he had taken from his pocket the day in his despair he had rummaged through the pockets of his overcoat. . . . A Christmas Seal! A Christmas Seal bought at some time, dropped in his pocket and forgotten. . . . Forgotten until the time came for it to play its part in reminding Martin Crosby of the great work of the Tuberculosis Association.

The wind whistled around the corner of the big office building. . . . Street car bells clanged. . . . Automobile horns honked. . . . Newsboys called their papers. . . . The sun was disappearing behind the Western hills. . . .

Christmas was near again. . . . Happiness had already arrived. . . .

As Martin Crosby boarded a homeward bound car, he was whistling a merry little tune. . . . A brown-eyed woman would be waiting for him. . . . A little woman in whose eyes was the light of love and happiness. . . . No longer did either of them fear the Great White Plague.

Martin Crosby opened his watch and again looked at the little paper therein. . . . And his lips uttered a prayer of thankfulness.

The End.

GOOD HEALTH AND.

Tune—"Dixie Land."

I'd like to live in the years hereafter,
Tears will then be turned to laughter.
What a day, what a day, what a day
That will be—

When there is no tuberculosis
And no one takes the doctor's doses,
What a day, what a day, what a day
That will be—

CHORUS:
Some day there'll be no T. B.
Hooray! Hooray!
The T. B. germ can squirm and squirm.
He's doomed to get the G. B.
Hooray! Hooray!
Some day there'll be no T. B.
Hooray! Hooray!
Some day there'll be no T. B.

CLUB WOMEN AID IN CHRISTMAS SEAL AND HEALTH BOND SALE. . . . .GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

Now as always, the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs are taking part in anything which has to do with bettering living conditions for the State, and every woman's club in the State has organized its committee to take part in the sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds. . .

The women entered the fight the minute it opened, and there will be no let up on their part until the sale closes.

The people of Alabama know from past experiences that when the women start after anything they get it, and they also know that this time will be no exception.

Mrs. H. E. Pearce, of Birmingham, is well pleased over the manner in which the women throughout the state have taken hold of the work, and is confident that they will break all previous records. This is the first time the womens clubs, as a whole, have undertaken the sale of Christmas Seals, but it is known that they have been successful at everything they have ever undertaken, and equally as well known, that they will make a wonderful record on this occasion.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICERS.

Doing Great Work In Modern Health Crusade. Assisting in Putting It In All Schools.

Alabama may well be proud of her excellent County Health Officers who are assisting in every way possible in putting the Tuberculosis Association Modern Health Crusade in all the schools, . . . While it is true that this work comes under the supervision of the County Superintendents of Education and the teachers, they are glad to have the assistance of the County Health officers whose advice to the children in the carrying out of the program is very essential. . . . Many of the County Health Officers have not only devoted considerable time to placing the Crusade in the schools, but have aided materially in the organization of committes for the sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds.

The County Nurses are also doing a wonderful work, and it is the plan of the Association to have a nurse in every county of the state within a short time. Many counties already have these nurses and once a county has such a nurse, that county will always have one, for it only takes a short time for a nurse who understands tuberculosis to demonstrate her worth.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION PLAYS NEEDED ROLL IN HEALTH WORK.

Illinois which has for some time past been devoting considerable attention to health conditions within its borders finds that the Tuberculosis Association is a great power for good as is evidenced by the following article by Mrs. F. L. Stevens, Secretary-Treasurer of the Champaign County, Illinois, Tuberculosis League published in the Urbana (Illinois) Daily Courier.

Antiquated ideas and unfounded beliefs about tuberculosis began to give way to intelligent thought and practice in this country about the year 1911, when an educational health campaign was inaugurated, having particularly to do with tuberculosis. Lecturers, teachers, literature and exhibitions were used fully and freely to spread the knowledge that while tuberculosis is one of the most prevalent, it is also, in its early stages, one of the most easily cured ailments.

It was during this period of nation wide activity in health matters that the Champaign County Tuberculosis League was organized. Its officers, Judge J. O. Cunningham, president; Dr. C. W. Johnson, vice-president; Supt. W. W. Earnest, secretary and treasurer, were men whose breadth of view, keen sympathies and intelligent purpose gave to the organization an impetus that has made it an important factor in all health and allied problems in the county.

Started With Visiting Nurse.

The league is still enriched by the devoted services of Dr. Johnson, who has also served as its president and board member, and by Superintendent Earnest, but the splendid labors of Judge Cunningham are now an invaluable memory. The officers of the league have ever been men of broad vision, who have devoted time, skill and energy to public welfare. Of these, special mention should be made of Prof. T. J. Burrill, whose community service will ever be a rich heritage; of Prof. S. A. Forbes, James Boland, Prof. H. A. Harding, Prof. E. J. Townsend, Dr. W. F. Burres, at this time president of the organization, and Dr. W. E. Schwengerdt, vice president.

From its beginning, the organization has maintained a visiting nurse, whose aim has been to detect unsuspected cases of tuberculosis in time to ceck and cure the disease before it has reached the period of infection; and to teach those affected how to care for themselves so as not to become a menace to their families and associates. Dr. Carrie Noble White, visiting inspector, was the first appointee of the board of managers. In 1916 Dr. Maude E. Nichols, a trained nurse and a graduate in medicine, was appointed to succeed Dr. White. Dr. Nichols' devoted service is recognized and appreciated by both those who have benefited by her care and by those who have followed the results of her labors.

Movement For Sanitarium.

In 1916 the needs of a tuberculosis sanitarium, where consumptives may have scientific care and treatment, became a matter of public interest. By a vote of the people a tuberculosis sanitarium for Champaign county was decided upon and the following appointed to a sanatorium board: Dr. Charles B. Johnson, James T. Boland and Prof. Stephen A. Forbes. The sanatorium is not yet realized, but progress has been made. The board of supervisors for the county have made generous appropriation from time to time—special mention may be made of an appropriation of $10,000 for a sanatorum site; of the maintenance of a visiting nurse, and of an appropriation for a tuberculosis survey. A special committee on tuberculosis from the board of supervisors recently elected consists of Messrs. Gray, Mohr, Singbusch, Holl, Van Vleck.

During the entire existence of the league, and the latter in co-operation with the sanatorium board, a dispensary and clinic has been maintained. Miss Florence A. Pinkston and Miss Alice Barnham, both registered nurses, hold clinics at the dispensary, Imperial Building, Champaign, on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week from 1 to 2 o'clock. Since June, 1918, 109 patients have been examined by city doctors who have given volunteer service. Since June 1918, the sanatorium board has sent five patients at county expense to state sanatoriums for treatment. The nurses have made 1891 calls upon tubercular patients, which added to other visits made a total of 2,631. Special mention should be made of visits to mothers of young children, with instruction in the care and feeding of babies.

Work Extended.

The distribution of literature pertaining to tuberculosis, care of the child and parental care has been a feature of the work of the visiting nurse. Fully 40,000 paper napkins have been furnished to patients who are expectorating.

The county survey shows 254 cases of tubercular disease, 125 of which are located in Champaign and Urbana. The 254 cases discovered give only a partial view of the prevalence of the disease since 33 cases were reported by the Urbana exemption board in the medical examination of the first draft. Since none of the names of this group of cases were on any of the other lists of patients gives rather conclusive evidence that there is a large amount of latent or incipient tuberculosis in the county not known to physicians and not reached by survey method.

Wasted Lives

Tuberculosis kills producers—chiefly men and women between the ages of 15 and 45.

It claims workers—active men and women in the homes, the office and the shop.

It causes 150,000 deaths in the United States every year.

It costs the United States in dollars and cents about $500,000,000 annually.

More than 1,000,000 persons in this country are suffering from active tuberculosis right now.

Most of this waste could be prevented.

Tuberculosis menaces every community, every home and every individual.

And yet it is curable and preventable.

It is spread largely by ignorance, carelessness and neglect.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its 1200 affiliated state and local organizations wage a continuous winning war on tuberculosis.

The work of these organizations is financed chiefly by the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE TO BE SUCCESS.

Workers Eenthusiastic—All Records to Be Broken.

All records will be broken in the Christmas Seal Sale put on by the Alabama Tuberculosis Association, commening December first, in the opinion of those who have studied the situation and it is anticipated that every person in the State will buy the Christmas Seals and Health Bonds.

People have now come to realize that in buying Christmas Seals they are not giving anything. They are merely buying health insurance for themselves and families and the Christmas Seal Sale should not be considered in the nature of a drive to raise money for unfortunates across the seas, for it is nothing of the kind.

There isn't a man, woman or child in Alabama who isn't in danger of contracting tuberculosis so long as there are people in the State who have the disease and it is to cure those who already have it and prevent others from having it that this money is being raised.

Every penny a person pays out for Christmas Seals is just that much of a guarantee against himself or some dear one being caught in the clutches of the Great White Plague.

Alabama was away down the list last year in the sale of Christmas Seals. It is felt that the State will make a better showing this year.

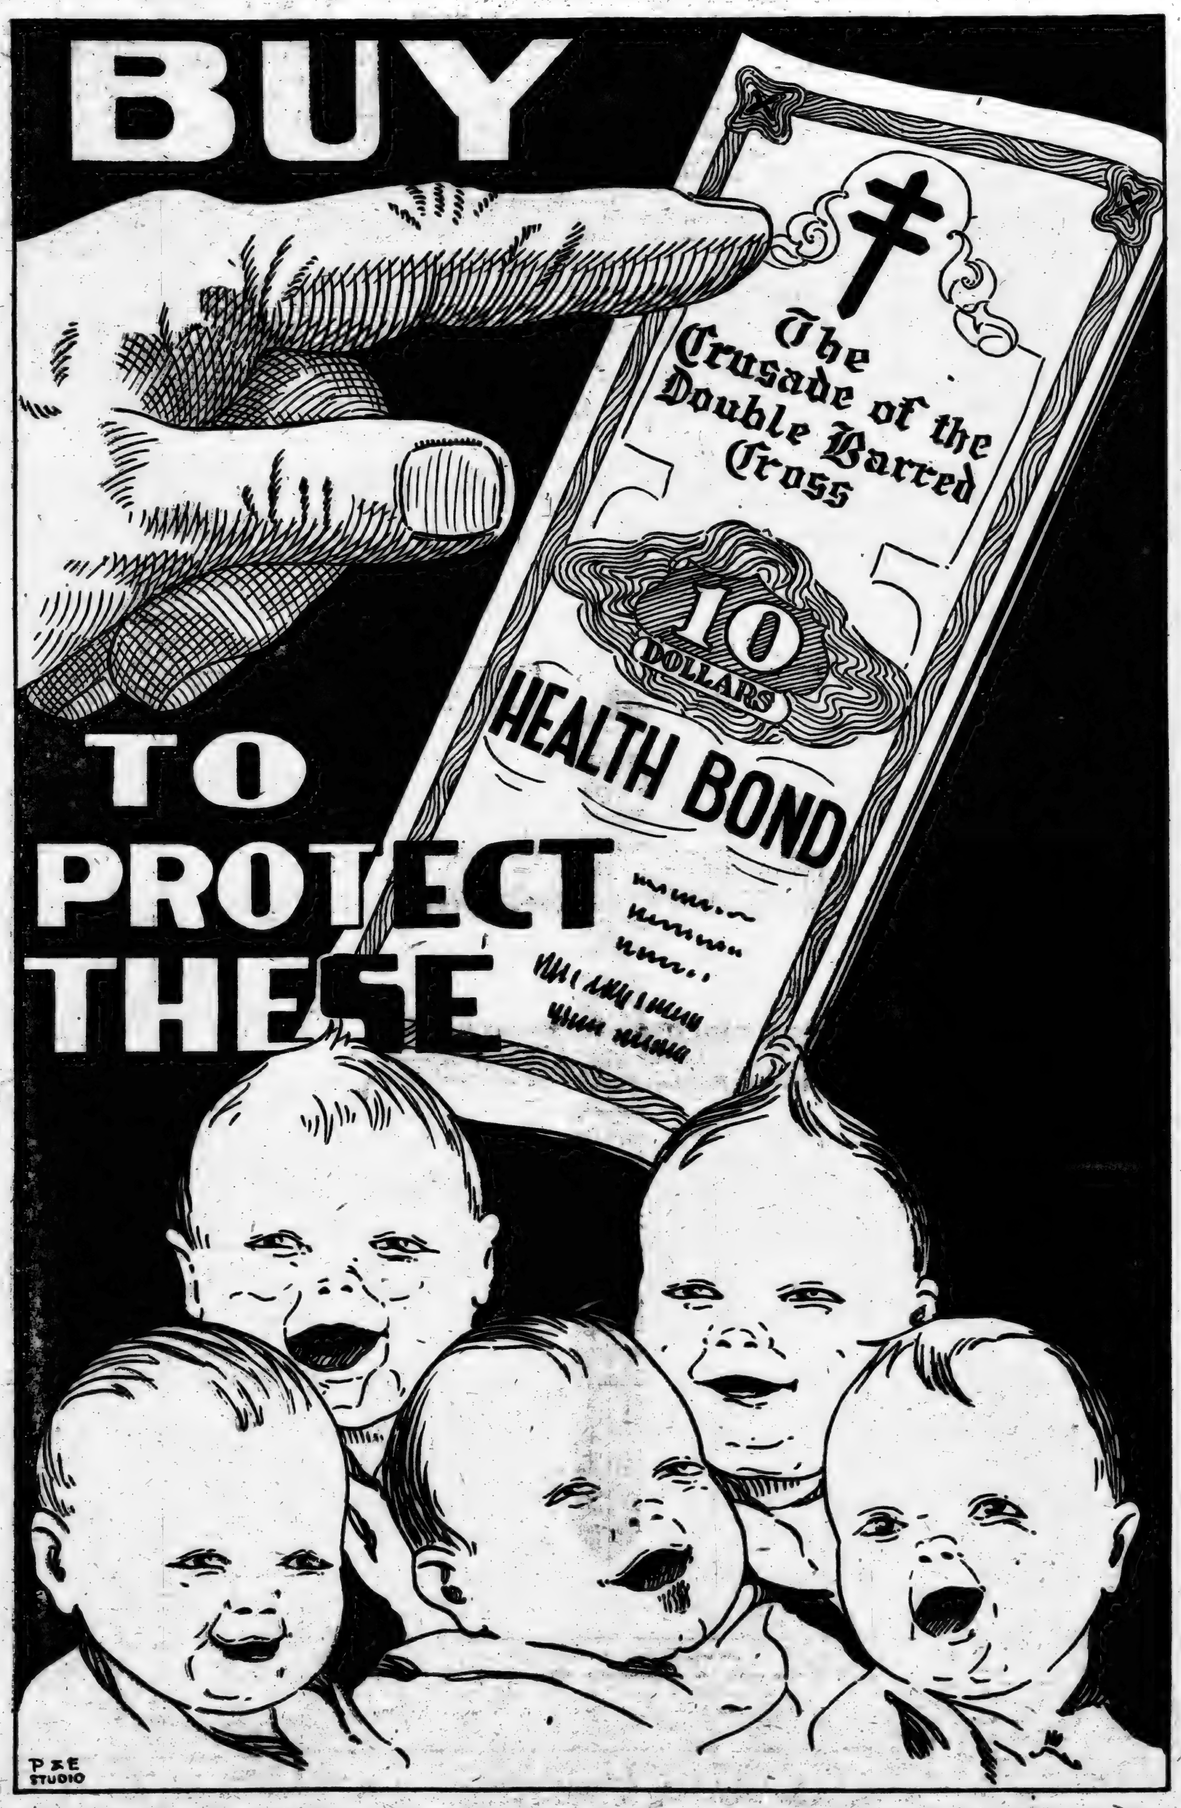
Christmas Seal Sale Now on Buy!



COMMANDER BOOTH INTERESTED

Salvation Army To Aid In Seal Sale.

The Salvation Army ever ready to assist in all worthy causes has agreed, according to Dr. George Eaves, to aid in the 1920 Christmas Seal Sale. In speaking of this Dr. Eaves said:

"We are pleased to announce that the Salvation Army will cooperate in a definite way with the Christmas Seal Sale in every city where they have a corps or outpost.

"Commander Evangeline Booth, of the Salvation Army, has issued instructions to all officers, staff members, cadets and other salaried workers of the Salvation Army from the Atlantic to the Pacific, numbering between 30,000 and 40,000 men and women, to participate definitely in the Christmas Seal Sale. The participation of the Salvation Army is as broad and general as the individual local situation in each community will warrant.

"In general, however, Commander Booth has definitely stipulated that Wednesday evening, December 8, and all day Thursday, December 9, shall be set aside as periods when the Salvation Army forces shall lay particular stress upon tuberculosis and the Christmas Seal Sale. Throughout the United States the Wednesday night street or open-air meeting of the Salvation Army Corps in all of the more than 600 cities in which the Army operates will be devoted to tuberculosis and to the sale of seals.

"On Thursday the paid personnel of the Army will be at our disposal in any other way we may wish as, for example, the manning of booths, the distribution of literature, personal solicitations, etc. These men and women in uniform are ours to serve. Detailed arrangements for service in each community should be worked out with the particular staff officers in command. These officers are being instructed from headquarters in New York and from provincial headquarters in Chicago and San Francisco, and are also being urged and directed in every way possible through the "War Cry."

"In addition to this co-operation Commander Booth is definitely requesting each member of the Salvation Army to set aside 25c a week for a suggested period of a month or so to be used for the purchase of Christmas Seals. Considering that the workers in the Salvation Army are generally paid very meagre salaries, the sacrifice incident to the fulfillment of this request from the Commander is conspicius and should set an example to others."

"DEAR SANTA: PLEASE MAKE MOTHER WELL."

Christmas morning this year will dawn bleak and gray for thousands of little kiddies, whose only Santa Claus will be the stalking spectre of Tuberculosis, exacting his toll of 150,000 lives this year in our country alone.

Can we—can you—reflect on our Christmas Spirit with a leaven of righteousness if we have failed to include Christmas Seals with our gifts?

Tune—"Smiles"

There are germs that make you sniffle,
There are germs that make you sneeze,
There are germs that bring you influenza,
And that spread all kinds of dread disease,
There are germs that steal away life's roses
And that lie in wait for you and me,
But the germ, whose special scalp we're after
Is the germ that they call T. B.

There's the cent you spend for candy,
There's the cent you spend for gum,
There's the cent you put aside toward thrift stamps,
By and by you'll have a tidy sum.
There's good sense that makes you save your pennies,
For the things that have a value real
And the cent that has the greatest power,
Is the one spent for a Christmas seal.

Forces Organized and In the Field

Work of Selling Christmas Seals and Health Bonds Under Headway.

The Christmas Seal and Health Bond Sale is fully organized in this section of the state and reports drifting in indicate that more seals will be sold this year than ever before.

The sale of the Health Bond is somewhat of a new departure, but it is understood that these are being rapidly disposed of, many people wanting one or more of the bonds in addition to the stamps they purchase to put on their letters.

It has possibly occurred to but few people that their letters which go out over the country to other people at this season of the year are more or less an index to the writer's character. . . . Yet such is the case. . . . It may be that some good people will not buy the stanps . . . but if any good man or woman fails to buy Christmas Seals it will be because he or she has not had the opportunity, and, to dig right into the soul of the matter—and it has a soul; a big one—there isn't a person in the state who hasn't an opportunity of buying the seals, and a Christmas Seal on a person's letter is a pretty good recommendation to the person to whom that letter is sent. . . . It shows that the writer is a person with a heart. . . . and that is the kind of person most people want to receive letters from. . . . And, if the party receiving the letter hasn't brought the Christmas Seals, when he sees them on the letters coming to him, he will at once remedy that defect by buying some to go on his own. . . . Thus the good work goes on. . . . Every person, therefore, who buys Christmas Seals will, by putting the Seals on his letters, help the Tuberculosis Association to sell more. Everyone is therefore urged to buy Christmas Seals and put them on every letter they mail—put them also on Christmas packages. . . . There isn't a man or woman in the world who won't feel better over receiving your package if the Christmas Seal is on it . . . live testimony of the fact that the person who remembered them also remembered humanity . . . which after all is about all we are put here for. . . . Christ lived on this earth . . . suffered on it, and finally died on the cross for humanity. . . . Surely we can spend a little money for the same cause, especially when every cent we possess or ever will possess comes from the Father whose children we all are.

Nothing we possess is ours. . . . It is only entrusted to our care and the manner in which we handle it should be given careful consideration.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS AND HEALTH BONDS.

Keep your conscience clear.

Do your duty. . . . And no one else will have to inform you when that has been done. You will know!

ALABAMA NOW BUYING CHRISTMAS SEALS AND HEALTH BONDS — ENTIRE STATE ENGAGED IN GOOD WORK.

Reports from Alabama Tuberculosis Headquarters in Birmingham, are to the effect that the Christmas Seal and Health Bond Sale is now on throughout the State . . . .People appear more enthusiastic this year than ever before, says State Headquarters, and it is felt that every man, woman and child in Alabama will not fail to take advantage of this opportunity to aid in the fight against tuberculosis.

There are 50,000 cases of tuberculosis in Alabama. This plague must be wiped out. It takes money to do it. And it is to get this money that the Seals and Bonds are being sold.

Every county is fully organized for the sale. There is a strong rivalry on among the various counties as to which shall sell the greatest number. This section of the State might as well have that honor as any other. It's entirely up to the people living here.

PRESIDENT WILSON ENDORSES CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE.

Believes In Work Of Tuberculosis Association.

President Wilson expresses himself in no unmistabeable manner as to whether or not he believes the people of America should assist the Tuberculosis Association.

His letter follows:

25 October, 1920.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

My dear Doctor Hatfield:

I cannot too often express my profound interest in the work being done to check tuberculosis. My interest in the movement is very great and lasting and I wish for it the most complete success. I hope that the little stamps that you are seeking to sell will find millions of purchasers.

Cordially and sincerely yours.

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON.

HOPE FOR THE BETTER.

We ask our readers to kindly indulge with us in the shortcomings of the paper in respect of news and editorial matter now. We trust that when all the merchants get through with their sales we will have more time to devote to gathering and publishing news of current and local happenings and adding our editorial discussions of same. Meanwhile, read the ads and content yourselves with the advantage of buying goods at the low prices which are being offered.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE.

The Christmas Seal Sale of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association for Chilton County will be started in a few days. It is hoped that the people will co-operate in the buying of Seals and thus lend their aid to the splendid work that is being done in fighting tuberculosis in Alabama.

W. M. Wyatt, Editor of The Union-Banner is the Seal Sale Chairman for Chilton County. The Ladies Clubs of Clanton have agreed to help in the Sale campaign, and committees from among those ladies will be organized and ready to start the sale in a few days.

Committees and boosters for the sale will be organized in the Towns of Thorsby, Jemison and Verbena, in order to give the citizens there a chance to co-operate in this good cause.

Readers of the Union-Banner this week will find a great amount of the space given to a description of the work of the Tuberculosis Association. We urge you to take special note of those articles, and lend your help in bringing Chilton County up to a full measure of her duty in supporting the work through purchase of the Christmas Seals.

J. Stealey Jones of Cooper was a visitor to Clanton on Monday. Mr. Jones is rather a pertinent talker, and we don't suppose he ever heard or saw anything in his life which he could not readily match with a story or some remark fitted to the occasion. While here Monday he called on the Editor. As this was the first time we had seen him since November 2, we naturally drifted into a discussion of the results of the election. Mr. Jones said he blamed the Democrats themselves for their overwhelming defeat, which he stated reminded him of this story: A young man had been regularly and faithfully courting his sweetheart for many evenings. The courtship had reached the advanced stage, getting him into deeper water than he had ever been before. Finally one evening as they were parting after their tryst, he thought he must surely have a kiss. He had never kissed a girl in his life. He drew his loved one up close, planting a fervent kiss upon her rosy cheek, whereupon he was overcome and fainted. After he had regained his normal poise his girl looked at him rebukingly and said: "You needn't blame me John. You did it yourself."

Come-hear Rachmaninoff
on the New Edison

RACHMANINOFF has not only made RE-CREATIONS for the New Edison. He has also made recordings for one of the standard talking-machines.

We are glad to announce that these talking-machine recordings may now be heard. We want you to hear them—and compare! Determine for yourself which gives you the real Rachmaninoff.

Let us play Rachmaninoff's Edison RE-CREATIONS for you. Mark how clear, how true the piano tone. See how every note in his runs, every accent in his interpretation, every shade in his pedalling is perfectly RE-CREATED.

This was proved by a test made at Mr. Rachmaninoff's home in New York City. He played the Second Hungarian Rhapsodie (Liszt) in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his performance by the New Edison. The absolute fidelity of the RE-CREATION to the artist's original peformance astounded the listeners.

Make the Rachmaninoff comparison. It will guide you right in selecting your Christmas phonograph.

Ask also about our Budget Plan

It brings your New Edison for Christmas without squeezing your pocketbook. Remember, too, that, in buying a New Edison now, you are virtually buying a before-the-war-value with an after-the-war-dollar. The price of the New Edison has increased less than 15% since 1914, and a portion of this increase is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of every one who loves beautiful music.

Miss Margaret Wood, a former popular teacher in the Clanton Grammar school, was a visitor to friends here last Sunday.

IN MEMORY

On November 14 the death angel visited our home and took from us my dear grandmother. She was only sick a short time. All was done for her that loving hands and physician could do, but God saw best and had prepared a better home for her and His will must be done.

She was the mother of seven children. One was taken from her ten years ago to that glorious home and now she has gone to meet her darling son there where there will be no more parting with them. She leaves a husband, six children, forty grandchildren, five great grandchildren and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss, but we know she is at rest and we must try to live to meet her in that greater world where we shall part no more.

Grandmother was 73 years 2 months and 24 days old and had lived a member of the Methodist church for 30 years. Her body was layed to rest at New Salem cemetery on Monday, November 15, at 2:00 P. M., the funtral services were conducted by Rev. A. C. Wells.

A loved one from us is gone;
A voice that is still
A chair is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.

Sleep on dear grand mother, weep not for her dear grand father for she is at rest in that heavenly home above where there is always peace and joy and love.

Her loving grand daughter,
ATTICE FARRIS.

Ex-County Treasurer, J. Bice, now of Montevallo, was among the visitors to Clanton Monday. Some months ago Mr. Bice was seriously injured by an accident at his saw mill in which he was run over by a heavily loaded lumber wagon. His recovery has been slow but he is about to get back to normal now. For the past few weeks he hao been visiting at Ensley. He is now at home with his sons at their mill near Montevallo.

CANE CREEK

There will be a box supper at this place Wednesday night, December 22, 1920.

Everybody invited.

W. R. BAKER.

Newton Aldridge of Montgomery was in Clanton Sunday visiting his mother, Mrs. G. P. Aldridge. Mr. Aldridge is working for the Western Union Telegraph Company.

CHILTON COUNTY ABSTRACT CO.

M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Abstracts of Title Promptly Prepared at Reasonable Charges.

PERSONALS

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Owens of Oriskany Falls, N. Y. arrived at Thorsby Monday P. M. having driven all the way from northern New York in their car. Your correspondent is advised that Mr. and Mrs. Owens will make Thorsby their home. Mr. Owens is a Congregational minister and will be engaged in Sunday School work, covering the States of Alabama and Georgia. Again Thorsby has cause to congratulate herself. Of all the fine places of residences in Alabama and Georgia Thorsby stands out upon investigation as the most desirable place for the good people to locate in. We extend to them a most cordial welcome to our state and county and to Thorsby. Rev. Owens was a schoolmate, class mate and room mate of Rev. J. M. Graham some years ago in Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. R. W. Owens, stated that he found a piece of road in Chilton County to be as good as any he had traveled on while some of the road in Autauga County was as bad as any he had seen.

On last Saturday night Mrs. J. E. Biggs entertained a number of guests at cards. The prize for the highest score was awarded Mr. C. S. Howard, while the Booby prize was won by Mrs. Biggs. A delightful time was enjoyed and delightful refreshments were served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hanson, W. M. Parnell, and Miss Naemi Turnquist.

Last Friday afternoon the Ladies Guild of Thorsby, enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. C. H. Thomsen. Quite a number of members and friends of the guild were present. Several new members were taken in at this meeting and several applicants to be voted in at the next meeting. We hope that all the ladies of Thorsby will join this splendid orgnization and help boost the work which it is doing.

Mrs. Stephen Pittman of Montgomery, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Horn.

Mrs. Emma Adams of Birmingham made a visit to our city Sunday.

The big sale of Pate Bros. at Thorsby comes to a close next Saturday, when they will give away the $100 Luxatone Phonograph. Be there with your tickets. You may be the lucky one.

On Tuesday last the members of the Ladies Guild, with some friends, met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Goddard and completed three quilts. One a nice wool quilt which is to be sold at the bazaar that the ladies will hold on Satiurday, December 11, at the Thorsby Hardware Store .

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WORK IN THORSBY

The Congregational Church of Thorsby boasts neither numbers nor wealth, but it has some things worth while, and one of the things of which it is proud is its Young Peoples Society. The meeting last Sunday evening was the best we have had this year. The topic was Home Missions.

Reports were given by the young people of conditions and needs in every section of this great land of ours. Talks were made on the immigration problem of the East, West and South Many other needs were brought before the meeting in a very vivid way. We believe that more such meetings should be held in every church. For we know that the future holds in store great problems for our young people.

If we want the young people of our Southland to take on the task with zeal, courage and faith we must help them on in their endeavor to get the vision and inspiration. Surely in these societies of theirs is the one place where we, by work and prayer, can aid them and cause them ever to feel that we are with them in all good work.

PROGRAM

Parent Teacher's Association of Thorsby City School, City School Building, Friday evening, December 3, 7:30.

1. Devotional Exercises, Rev. J. W. Davenport.
2. Betttr Sanitation for our school, Miss Mae Stoddard. General discussion.
3. Recent Health Inspection of our school children and some findings, Mr. C. M. Williams. General discussion.
4. How many parents give better cooperation with teachers? Discussion led by Rev. J. M. Graham.
5. Some values in organized play, Miss Bertha Littleton.

All parents and friends of our school are earnestly solicited to be present.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

The State of Alabama,
Chilton County.

Whereas a mortgage was executed on the 6th day of April, 1916, by Wm. M. Adams and wife, Annie D. Adams, to F. A. Gulledge, conveying certain property hereinafter described, to secure an indebtedness therein mentioned, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record Book 154, page 234; and whereas default has been made in the terms of said mortgoge and the same is now past due and subject to foreclosure:

Now, therefore, I, the undersigned, will sell at public outcry for cash to the highest bidder, in front of the court house door of said county, in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, on The 11th day of December, 1920, during the legal hours of sale, the following described property, conveyed in said mortgage, to-wit:

Lots One (1) and Two (2), Block "B", according to C. A. Pickett's Plat of William M. Adams' Lots in the Town of Clanton, Ala., recorded in the ofifce of the Judge of Probate in Book 136, page 279, and in Plat Book One (1), page seventeen, (17), and situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

Said sale is to be made for the purpose of paying the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and the costs and expenses of foreclosure, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

This, the 10th day of November, 1920.

F. A. GULLEDGE,
Mortgagee,
By F. B. COLLIER,
Attorney and Agent.

THE HELEN KELLER LITERARY SOCIETY GIVES PLAY.

The Helen Keller Literary Society gave a very interesting and instructive entertainment last Saturday night, November 27th, entitled, "The Pilgrims and Their Journeys."

The entertainment was opened by a grand march led by "Liberty" (Miss Bessie Hughes) followed by all the cast in costume. The cast included Indians, Pilgrim men and women, and children also such celebrites as Pastor Robinson, Governor Carver and Miles Standish. We were shown in the first and second acts, the scenes being laid in Leyden, Holland, where the Pilgrims were leading a quiet and peaceful lives of work and industry. They were endeavoring to keep their children from copying the Dutch manners, customs and ideals. It further pictured how they were printing and shipping books of their religion back to England, who then demanded the arrest and imprisonment of these usurpers, as they called it, of religion. The government of Holland regretfully conceded to the stand England took in the matter, to the amazement and alarm of the Hollanders, who resolved to go to America where they can worship God as they pleased. The next scene pictured the very interesting life they lead in America and closed with a tableau of all the cast, with Liberty in the center. As final they sang "America, The Beautiful."

The play was under the direction of Miss Emily Elsworth.

The big sale of Pate Bros. at Thorsby comes to a close next Saturday, when they will give away the $100 Luxatone Phonograph. Be there with your tickets. You may be the lucky one.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson of Marbury spent Sunday in Thorsby visiting their parents.

THANKSGIVING AT THE COUNTY ALMS HOUSE

For several years the people of Thorsby have remembered the inmates at the Chilton County Poor farm on Thanksgiving day, and following the custom of past years, Mr. Miller, the manager, last Wednesday afternoon, took away with him from here, a large goods box filled with food, apples, oranges and candy for the inmates of the farm. Following on Thursday afternoon a company of some sixty or more, made up of students and teachers of Thorsby Institute, and the Sunday School class of Mrs. G. F. Harper, visited the poor farm, and there held a song and prayer service to help gladden their hearts. We hope that the gifts and visit made the day a little brighter for those people who cannot receive all the blessings of life that we do.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE

This service was participated in by all the churches of Thorsby, being held at the Baptist church. All the ministers of the town took part in the programme, the sermon being delivered by Rev. J. M. Graham. He again in his masterly way presented to the people thoughts to inspire each and every one. A special musical program was prepared and rendered under the direction of Mrs. Nottage. An unusually large gathering was in attendance. An offering for the suffering Armenians was taken, which totaled almost twenty dollars.

Mr. Albert Anderson, who is at present located at West Point, Ga., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Magne Anderson.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Ladies Guild hereby wishes to announc that on Saturday, December 11, a Bazaar will be held at the Hardware Store. Several Committees have been appointed, and are making the necessary plans that this might be made one of the most successful bazaars the Guild has ever had. Besides trinkets that are to be sold, refreshments will also be served at a low charge. This will be a good place to buy your Xmas. presents, so don't fail to come around to the bazaar, December 11th.

The Parent Teachers Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at Bates Hall, next Friday night, December 3. A special program of pecular interest to parents and teachers, has been planned, and we wish to see a large attendance at this meeting.

* * *

Miss Helen Jenkins, Principal of Thorsby Institute, wishes to announce that next Saturday night, December 4th, her Sunday School class will give an entertainment at Bates Hall.

All are invited to attend.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Chas. Peterson, Thursday, December 2nd. A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the town.

The big sale of Pate Bros. at Thorsby comes to a close next Saturday, when they will give away the $100 Luxatone Phonograph. Be there with your tickets. You may be the lucky one.

ENTERTAINMENT

On Saturday night, December 4th., at 7:45 o'clock, at Bates Hall, an entertainemnt will be given by the Queen Esther Sunday School Class of girls, of the Congregational Church.

The program will consist of music, a reading, tableau, and a play entitled "Captain Anne of the Red Cross."

Admission to this entertainment will be 20 cents for all over twelve years of age and 15 cents for those under twelve. Tickets will be sold this week and it is hoped that as many as possible will buy the tickets and will help the young ladies in raising the funds which they desire for the Church and School work.

We are informed that Mr. W. H. Goodgame has purchased another outfit of machinery for the planing mill that he is rebuilding. The reconstruction work is now in progress, and it will not be very long before the wheels will again hum and lumber will be moving in and out of Thorsby as before. We told Goodgame that one could not keep a good man down, and "Bill" is proving himself to be the good man.

The large storage and cold plant has been completed and filled with ice. Hogs are being bought from all over the county and we are informed that Mr. Legg has been in Nashville where he purchased several cars of hogs to be shipped here. As soon as the hogs arrive here they will be killed and placed in the cold storage plant, awaiting their shipment in the form of sausage, Hams, Bacon, salt sides, etc. We hope, in the future, to be able to give the readers a full report of the activities of this growing concern.

DRECO GETS OUR SINCERE THANKS

Mother and Daughter are Relieved of Stomach Trouble, Indigestion Gastritis, Constipation and Dizzy Spells.

"Both my daughter Kate and myself have been taking Dreco, the root and herb remedy, and we are very thankful for the benefits it gave us," declared Mrs. S. J. Byers, the highly esteemed lady of Route No. 4, Birmingham, Ala.

"Our troubles seemed to be just alike, for both of us were constipated, and had to take pills or salts all the time to keep the bowels moving. If we would forget to take something every night, the next day we would be bound up, and have headaches and dizzy spells. Our food lay heavy and gave us a lot of pain, and the gas would bloat our stomach terribly, and gave a very uncomfortable feeling. Backache often caused me much suffering and it was an effort for me to bend over.

"Three bottles of Dreco have given positive relief to both of us, for we now eat anything we want and never have that gas nor pains in the stomach, nor dizzy spells. The headache has all gone and I have gained ten pounds. Dreco sure did the work for us alright."

Dreco does not contain any iron, potash, mercury or harmful minerals of any kind. Constipation quickly yields to the Dreco treatment, even when it has been of long standing. Sluggish liver become active, and backaches and rheumatism soon disappear.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Company.

The big sale of Pate Bros. at Thorsby comes to a close next Saturday, when they will give away the $100 Luxatone Phonograph. Be there with your tickets. You may be the lucky one.

Mr. J. M. Potts was carried to a Birmingham Infirmary last Sunday for treatment. He has been in ill health for several weeks and has been constantly confined to his bed.

REMEDIAL LAWS ARE BEING URGED ON CONGRESS.

Washington, Nov. 29—Although Congress does not reconvene until a week from to-day, its leaders, now assembled here, are being bombarded with demands for early remedial legislation by agricultural and business interests.

Representatives of those interests have been informed by Republican and Democratic leaders alike that there is little likelihood of Congress finding time during the next three months to do much more than pass appropriation bills.

Until they have consulted with the President-elect upon his return from Panama the Republican leaders will not attempt, however, to complete their program for the approaching short session, they say.

A number of Republican Senators are planning to introduce bills after Congress opens which they state are urgently required by the country's agricultural interests.

Several Senators from the midwest declared they intended to support the Kenyon-Kendrick bill for the regulation of the packers. Thi measure is a hold-over from the last session, is on the short calendar as unfinished business, and will therefore have the right of way when the Senate begins the consideration of legislation. Senator Kenyon, Republican, of Iowa, one of its authors, declares he intends to press it to a vote, despite the opposition he anticipates it will incur.

Unless the Treasury Department asks to revive the War Finance Corporation to facilitate movement of the country's crops and to relieve the financial situation about which farmers are complaining, Senator Calder, Republican, of New York, will introduce a resolution calling upon it to do so, he says.

Senator Capper, Republican, of Kansas, who states he will accept the Kenyon-Kendrick bill, has prepared a bill "to stop gambling in bread and other essential food suplies," he announced.

"I will shoot this bill on the first day of the coming session," Senator Capper says.

"We must put an end to grain gambling on boards of trade. I am not advocating, and never have advocated, doing away with the exchanges and thrair legitimate activities. What I am after is to stop the gamblers and protect producers of farm products."

The Senate Finance and House Ways and Means Committees are planning to give attention to the taxation and tariff questions, members said, but aside from conducting hearings they indicated they did not believe anything could be done to place the situation until the next Congress meets in March or April.

How a prospective mother prepared for baby's coming

Of all the vital adventures in life, the birth of a baby is the climax of nature's most wonderful evolution.

During this period, nature is supposed to be preparing the internal organism of a woman for a safe and speedy delivery; but it is more the exception than the rule when nature, unaided, performs her part at the crisis in a manner to relieve pain and contribute to comfort.

"I was afraid," writes a prospective mother, "until an experienced mother told me about MOTHER'S FRIEND,"

"—but now I cannot recommend MOTHER'S FRIEND too highly for I know it helped me wonderfully, and I can almost say my baby was born without pain. At the present time I am using it again, as I do not want to go thru the ordeal without it."

Three generations of prospective mothers have used MOTHER'S FRIEND. When gently applied, during the period of expectancy, it soothes the fine net-work of nerves, lubricates the broad, flat, abdominal muscles and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery.

For valuable booklet—"MOTHERHOOD and The BABY"—free, fill in coupon below and mail direct to the makers of MOTHER'S FRIEND.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good

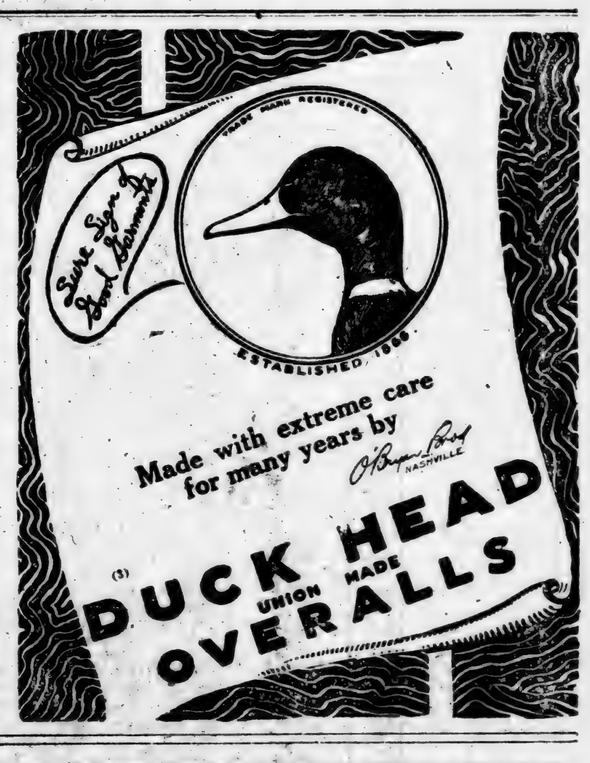
Women and Health

Too many women, unfortunately, suffer in health, hence in loss of happiness, thru conditions or irregularities peculiar to their sex which might easily be relieved, with a consequent restoration of health and all that it means. To every woman suffering from such troubles we advise the use of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, as a tonic of great value. This remedy, for women only, has been sold for more than 50 years, and is today, as always, depended upon for good results. At all druggists in $1.00 bottles. TRY IT.



WEAK, NERVOUS

Mr. Enoch Moore, of Oconee, S. C., tells how Ziron helped him: "I was nervous, and my limbs seemed to ache as though I was scared—or some such feeling. I can hardly describe it. I would have weak "trembles." I was sallow, had a draggy, worn feeling; didn't rest well at night. I read of Ziron and thought if it had helped others it might do the same for me. I knew I could at least try it. I began using

ZIRON

and very shortly I felt better, ate and slept more, and the weak, nervous feeling gradually left me. It was a tonic—a builder—I needed, and Ziron seemed to hit the spot."

If Mr. Moore had not been benefited by the first bottle of Ziron he took, he could have gotten his money back, for Ziron is sold by reliable druggists everywhere on a money-back guarantee.

Ziron Saves Strength From Toxin. When you need Ziron, there's nothing else on earth can take its place. Substitutes and imitations.

Ask your druggist for Ziron. Accept no substitutes. Z1-3

Rotary Endorses Christmas Seal Sale.

The International Association of Rotary Clubs, an organization second to none in its public-spirit has endorsed the work of the Tuberculosis Association. The following letter is self explanatory:

INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ROTARY CLUBS,
910 South Michigan Ave,
Chicago, Ill.

13 November, 1920.

Dr. Philip P. Jacobs, Asst. Secy.,
ational Tuberculosis Association,
381 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

My dear Dr. Jacobs:

We are now in position to advise you that at the recent meeting of the Board of Directors f this Association, the week of December 5, 1920, was designated as "Public Health Week" for Rotary Clubs. This information may be a little late to be of use to you, but we send it along hoping it may be of some use.

With kindest regards,
Yours very truly,

"THE PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE."

By Jessie L. Marriner.

One of the most valuable assets of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association in its campaign against the spread of this dread disease is the work of the public health nurse. She visits reported cases at the request of the Health Officer and gives instruction to the patient and family on methods of caring for the afflicted person in suca a way as to avoid spread of the disease to those in daily contact with him. She supervises the hygienic treatment of the patient, shows how to build a suitable fresh-air shack or transform a second-floor bedroom window into a fresh-air sanitarium; she advises as to diet and may demonstrate methods of preparation of digestable and appetizing meals for the sick; she keeps a watchful eye up the other members of the family and urges all of them to seek the service of a physician for expert examination and advice as to the best means of keeping up to par physically and thus increasing their powers of resistance of the tubercle bacillus and all other predatory germs.

At the first appearance of lassitude, loss of weight or disturbance of the digestive processes these daily contacts are brought under still closer supervision by physician and nurse, their occupation investigated and so far as humanly possible the entire round of their daily routine regulated with a view to ensuring their well-being.

The care of babies and young children in the same house with a tuberculous person is properly made a major concern of the visiting nurse since it is the opinion of scientists that in a very high percentage of all cases the seed is sown in infancy or early childhood and awaits only favorable conditions for its development; common examples of such conditions are lowered vitality as a result of undernourishment or faulty condition of the blood due to the ravages of parasites like the hookworm or infections such as malaria and syphilis.

At a recent conference of the American Child Hygiene Association in St. Louis, discussion of this subject brought from an eminent authority an account of the infection with tuberculosis of a baby in his family who was exposed for only one-half hour upon the lap of a person suffering from the disease.

The protection of infants from accidental exposure to infectious material from the bodies of their grownup care-takers is both a science and an art which has been too long neglected by our system of public education; every boy and girl in the Grammar School should know the facts brought out in a government report during the war, namely that, "being a baby" is a far more dangerous occupation than that of a soldier on active service in the fire line of battle. In the absence of any attempt to impart this vital fund of information to the individual in his impressionable years the public health nurse appears as an eleventh hour aid to the ignorant and attempts to teach the family the very things that are nevessary to the present and future well-being of its youngest. This means individual instruction for every member of the family or rather conversion of each to the modern doctrines of baby culture frequently the efforts of the nurse are rendered futile and of no avail because of failure to successfully proselyting the grandparents of the baby and win them over to enlightened methods of feeding, bathing, airing and protection from unnecessary handling of contact with grown-ups. Nor even so the Public health nurse is the most effective agent we have for spreading the gospel of a new creed of our state compares with that of other states and learns that all this life and death bookkeeping has been so poorly done in our state that the U. S. Census Bureau cannot include our figures with those of the "Registration Area" from which figures are taken to represent this entire country, civic spirit is at once aroused and a demand is heard that "something be done about it"; this furnishes an opportunity to tell of recent legislation which requires complete and accurate reporting of births and deaths and prescribes rules and regulations for its enforcement and to emphasize the necessity of more interest and participation on the part of the citizens in the enforcement of these laws; the benefits of which acrue first to the state by providing a guidepost for guardians of the public health and ultimately to the individual and the family.

Important as he is the family baby does not come in for all of the attention of the public health nurse for the school child will have had a physical examination by the County Health Officer or County Nurse and record of defects will have been sent to the parents; inquiry with regard to this point will remind parents of Johnny's defective teeth which they have been intending for a long time to bring to the attention of their dentist or perhaps the nurse will be able to interpret to the mother the aims of the Domestic Science department or health supervisor in demanding that she come hardeff and bring Johnny to a nutrition class because of his being underweight for his height.

If the varied bits of service suggested here do not seem to justify the visit of a public health nurse to the family of a tuberculous person we will admit that she might dress the varicose ulcer on grandmother's leg and report her condition to the family physician or advise the mother as to the best method of dealing with a wayward or incorrigable daughter, in fact there is no spiritual or physical néed which may not properly be the subject of consultation between the family and the nurse. In the words of Florence Nightingale: "Can there be a higher work than this? Can any woman wish for a more womanly work? Can any man think it unworthy of the best of women?"

"To make an art of life. That is the finest of all the fine arts."

As a means of furthering as rapidly as possible its plan of promoting and establishing public health nursing in every county of the state, the Alabama Tuberculosis Association has become affiliated with the Bureau of Child Hygiene and Public Health Nursing, of the State Board of Health; it employs a field nurse for promoting and pioneer work and places her on the staff of this bureau, her activities to be co-ordinated with those of the American Red Cross which are delegated to the same state agency.

All local efforts to discover and bring under supervision persons in the various stages of tuberculous disease will be made under the direction of the County Health Officer wherever full-time health units have been inaugurated by the State Board of Health; while in counties not provided with such units public health nursing activities when undertaken will be under the auspices of the County Board of Health and directly supervised by the Bureau of Child Hygiene and Public Health Nursing of the State Board of Health.

I'LL BE AROUND TO SEE YOU SOON. I HOPE I'LL FIND THAT YOU'VE DONE YOUR PART TOWARD WIPING OUT TUBERCULOSIS BY BUYING CHRISTMAS SEALS AND HEALTH BONDS.

JEFFERSON COUNTY WORK AMONG CHILDREN IN THE HOMES OF TUBERCULOSIS PATIENTS.

My work with the Anti-Tuberculosis Association of Jefferson County represent seven years of service in the homes of the people where Tuberculosis is the special problem. I have long since come to know that many things besides instructing the patient how to get well and how not to make others sick, are included in Health education. I soon learned to know that the child in the home is one of the most important factors there, and since he is so susceptible to infection from Tuberculosis, I began very early in my career here to center my efforts on him, insisting that all children who are exposed have repeated chest examinations and all such defects as diseased tonsils, adenoids, defective eyes and bad teeth be remedied, for all such defects lower a child's resisting power, and may lead to Tuberculosis.

We have insisted that good food, and fresh air be given freely, not only to the patient, but to all members of the family, especially the children, for what makes the sick well, keeps the well well.

Our invariable rule of having all contracts to Tuberculosis examined, has lead to finding many early cases among children, and we have been made happy many times by seeing these little ones restored to health.

Here is a story of how we do constructive health work in a home: In 1919 there was reporter to the Association, a man, Mr. E., very ill with Tuberculosis, living in a rural district. A visit from the nurse revealed the uselessness of removing the patient to Red Mountain Sanatorium. He died one week later, leaving a widow and six children. The nurse brought the mother and all the little ones to the clinic. The first examination showed on signs of Tuberculosis, but all had diseased tonsils and large adenoids, and three showed positive hook worm—all were undernourished and anaemic.

The mother was anxious to keep the children together, and the nurse realizing that the best social service can be rendered if this can be done; interested other agencies to assist in the relief and supply the proper food. The children were beginning to look well when the Flu epidemic came along. All of them had it and resistance was lowered again. After this signs of very early Tuberculosis manifested themséves.

As the signs showed, the children were taken to the sanatorium. At this writing five of them have been treated and entirely restored. Some are back in school, and homes have been made for some. One boy of seven years is still at the Sanatorium. It became necessary for the mother to obtain employment, so she could not keep the family together as the nurse had hoped, but she and the oldest son look forward to, and are working toward the day when the family can be re-united and the Anti-Tuberculosis Association is still keeping watch over them.

This is only one family, but similiar service has been rendered to many others. The problems are not always alike, but we face whatever problem there is and work it out.

In our work for children, we have been wonderfully aided by two or three dentists, who have given their service freely to those not able to pay. The Children's and Hillman Hospitals have always been ready to help in the nose and throat work, and a generous Optica Co., has supplied glases to our poor cases. I do not mention the names of these friends, as they want no advertisement, but I feel that with their aid, we have saved many a kiddie from Tuberculosis.

INTERESTED IN SEAL SALE.

Modern Woodmen of America Will Assist Tuberculosis Association.

J. G. Ray, Head Clerk of the Modern Woodmen of America, recently filed the following telegram to the National Tuberculosis Association headquarters in New York City:

"Executive Council Modern Woodmen of America cordially endorse movement of National Tuberculosis Association Christmas Seal Sale. Our organization vitally interested in conservation of life and in full sympathy your work."

The Modern Woodmen of the World has always supported such worthy causes as the Tuberculosis Association and are expected to do a great deal during the present Christmas Seal Sale.

Samuel Gompers Champions Christmas Seal Sale Cause

Labor Leader Heartily Approves of Tuberculosis Association Work.

That Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is one of the real level headed men of the country everyone will admit. No one has ever heard of his endorsing anything which he did not in his heart believe to be right.

"AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR
"Washington, D. C.
"November 13, 1920.

"Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, Managing Director, National Tuberculosis Association, 381 Fourth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

"Dear Sir:

"I trust that complete success may attend the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. The work of the National Tuberculosis Association is particularly valuable to the working people of America and I heartily commend your good work to them for support.

"Very truly yours,

HEALTH CRUSADE WORK PROGRESSING IN ALABAMA,

Teachers And Children Manifest Intense Interest.

Miss Felta McWhorter, Crusade Director of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association is responsible for the statement that the interest of both teachers and children throughout the entire state is daily increasing in the Modern Health Crusade work. This program is rapidly being placed in the school of the State, and it will be only a matter of a short time until every school has taken it up.

The children are given certain wards for performing the work—banners and scales are offered the schools having the highest percentage of efficiency in the carrying out of the program and the movement is growing like a prairie fire.

Dr. B. F. Austin, County Health Officer of Morgan County, assisted by the County nurse, is co-operating in putting the program in the schools as is Dr. Carl A. Grote, County Health Officer of Madison County assisted by Miss Mastin, County Nurse—Lamar County is out for a record. Dr. A. A. Kirk is putting the program in the schools of Tuscaloosa County. Dr. W. H. Storey Superintendent of Education of Pickens County has made the work compulsory in that county, and others are expected to follow his lead. In Hale County, Miss Martha Young the well-known writer is doing great work. The State Normal Schools have endorsed the work and have put it in their model schools. All schools in Jefferson County are adopting the work, and Miss McWhorter will assist Jefferson County in this work during the month of January. Mrs. E. B. Erwin will serve as part time Crusade Supervisor for Jefferson County.

Save Telegraph Poles.

Of 1,558 telegraph poles in the Montgomery-New Orleans line, which were pressure-treated with a light creosote oil, 1,040 poles were still sound after 16 years, says the American Forestry Magazine. In 91 per cent of the cases of decay, the fungi had entered the wood through checks and shakes.

HERBERT HOOVER BELIEVES TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

Thinks Everyone Should Support Christmas Seal Sale.

Herbert Hoover, former Food Director and who has probably done more suffering than most any other man in America, shows in the following letter just what he thinks of the Tuberculosis Association and the Christmas Seal Sale:

"HERBERT HOOVER
"42 Broadway, New York City
"November 6, 1920.

"Dr. Charles J. Hatfield,
National Tuberculosis Association,
381 Fourth Avenue,
New York City.

"My dear Dr. Hatfield:

"I am very glad to avail myself of the opportunity you give me of expressing my opinion in regard to the coming sale of Christmas Seals for the National Tuberculosis Association. There is, perhaps, no problem of health nature that we have to face as a nation that is more serious than that of tuberculosis. The National Tuberculosis Association has been and is still making a superb fight against the ravages of this disease and deserves the support of every man who wishes to see a real improvement in the health statistics of our community and this nation.

"I wish you every success in the sale of Christmas Seals and in the splendid effort which the sale of these seals will allow you to conduct.

"Yours faithfully,
(Signed) "HERBERT HOOVER."

School Children of Alabama Have Special Program For Week

Modern Health Crusade Being Pushed In the Schools.

The Modern Health Crusade of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association of which Miss Fleta McWhorter of Birmingham is director is putting on the following program in the schools of Alabama during the week, December 6-10. Special emphasis is being given to the program for Friday of that week and it is expected that many parents will be present on that day.

The program has been officially approved by Dr. John W. Abercrombie, State Superintendent of Education, and Dr. O. C. Bird, Physical Director.

The program follows:

DO YOU VALUE YOUR HEALTH?
Facts About Tuberculosis That Everyone Should Know.

Monday.

Question—What is tuberculosis?

Answer—Tuberculosis is a disease caused by the growth of your lungs, or, sometimes, in other parts of your body, of a very small germ. This germ, as it grows and spreads, produces and throws off poison which, unless it can be checked, will finally kill the person in whom it is being produced.

Question—By what other names is this disease sometimes known?

Answer—Lung trouble, consumption, "T.B.," the Great White Plague.

Question—Where may these tuberculosis germs be found?

Answer—In the bodies of people, cattle, hogs, chickens and birds. Also in dust and in dark damp places where the sun seldom shines.

Question—How do people get tuberculosis?

Answer—By getting the germs in the mouth or nose through eating them or breathing them and by getting them in broken places of the skin.

Question—Why are people afraid of tuberculosis?

Answer—Because every third person between fifteen and sixty die of it. It kills about one in ten of all people who die at any age. In our own country over 150,000 people die every year from tuberculosis. That is 400 a day, one every three and one-half minutes.

Question—Why should you bother yourself about it if you are not sick with it?

Answer—Because you, or some of your family, may develop it at any time; therefore, by knowing something about it, you can greatly lessen the chance of getting it, or should you get it, can lessen its danger to yourself and your family. Further, every man, woman and child worth the name wants to help others who are in trouble.

Tuesday.

Question—How may we keep from having tuberculosis?

Answer—By building strong bodies.

Question—How may we build strong bodies?

Answer—By having plenty of good food and sleep, and by working, playing and sleeping in the open air.

Question—What must I do if I get tuberculosis?

Answer—Get rest, fresh air, sunshine and plenty of food.

Question—How may I know if I have tuberculosis?

Answer—You may not know. You should be examined by a good doctor every year.

Question—Who, besides the doctor can tell us about tuberculosis?

Answer—The Health Department and the Tuberculosis Association.

Question—How will the Modern Health Crusade help me fight tuberculosis?

Answer—By helping you to form good health habits.

Wednesday.

Question—How many people in Alabama has tuberculosis?

Answer—Sixty thousand (60,000).

Question—How many people in the United States have tuberculosis?

Answer—One million (1,000,000).

Question—Why do so many people have tuberculosis?

Answer—Because people who have it are careless about spitting, coughing, sneezing, and kissing.

Question—Should only those who know they have tuberculosis be care

Grote, County Health Officer of Madison County assisted by Miss Mastin, County Nurse—Lamar County is out for record. Dr. A. A. Kirk is putting the program in the schools of Tuscaloosa County. Dr. W. H. Stone Superintendent of Education Pickens County has made the work compulsory in that county, and others are expected to follow his lead. Hale County, Miss Martha Young the well-known writer is doing great work. The State Normal Schools have endorsed the work and have put it in their model schools. All schools in Jefferson County are adopting the work, and Miss Mary Whorter will assist Jefferson County in this work during the month of January. Mrs. E. B. Erwin will serve as part time Crusade Supervisor for Jefferson County.

Save Telegraph Poles.

Of 1,558 telegraph poles in the Montgomery-New Orleans line, which were pressure-treated with a light creosote oil, 1,040 poles were still sound after 16 years, says the American Forestry Magazine. In 91 per cent of the cases of decay, the fungi had entered the wood through checks and shakes.

HERBERT HOOVER BELIEVES TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

Thinks Everyone Should Support Christmas Seal Sale.

Herbert Hoover, former Food Director and who has probably seen more suffering than most any other man in America, shows in the following letter just what he thinks of the Tuberculosis Association and the Christmas Seal Sale:

"HERBERT HOOVER
"42 Broadway, New York City
"November 6, 1920.

"Dr. Charles J. Hatfield,
National Tuberculosis Association,
381 Fourth Avenue,
New York City.

"My dear Dr. Hatfield:

"I am very glad to avail myself of the opportunity you give me of expressing my opinion in regard to the coming sale of Christmas Seals for the National Tuberculosis Association. There is, perhaps, no problem in public health nature that we have to face as a nation that is more serious than that of tuberculosis. The National Tuberculosis Association has been and is still making a superb fight against the ravages of this disease and deserves the support of every citizen who wishes to see a real improvement in the health standards of the community and this nation.

"I wish you every success in the sale of Christmas Seals and hope the splendid effort which the sale of these seals will allow you to make.

"Yours faithfully,
(Signed) "HERBERT HOOVER."

School Children of Alabama Have Special Program For Week

Modern Health Crusade Being Pushed in the Schools.

The Modern Health Crusade of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association of which Miss Fleta McWhorter of Birmingham is director is putting on the following program in the schools of Alabama during the week, December 6-10. Special emphasis is being given to the program for Friday of that week and it is expected that many parents will be present on that day.

The program has been officially approved by Dr. John W. Abercrombie, State Superintendent of Education, and Dr. O. C. Bird, Physical Director. The program follows:

DO YOU VALUE YOUR HEALTH?
Facts About Tuberculosis That Everyone Should Know.

Monday.

Question—What is tuberculosis?

Answer—Tuberculosis is a disease caused by the growth of your lungs, or, sometimes, in other parts of your body, of a very small germ. This germ, as it grows and spreads, produces and throws off poison which, unless it can be checked, will finally kill the person in whom it is being produced.

Question—By what other names is this disease sometimes known?

Answer—Lung trouble, consumption, "T.B.," the Great White Plague.

Question—Where may these tuberculosis germs be found?

Answer—In the bodies of people, cattle, hogs, chickens and birds. Also in dust and in dark damp places where the sun seldom shines.

Question—How do people get tuberculosis?

Answer—By getting the germs in the mouth or nose through eating them or breathing them and by getting them in broken places of the skin.

Question—Why are people afraid of tuberculosis?

Answer—Because every third person between fifteen and sixty die of it. It kills about one in ten of all people who die at any age. In our own country over 150,000 people die every year from tuberculosis. That is 400 a day, one every three and one-half minutes.

Question—Why should you bother yourself about it if you are not sick with it?

Answer—Because you, or some of your family, may develop it at any time; therefore, by knowing something about it, you can greatly lessen the chance of getting it, or should you get it, can lessen its danger to yourself and your family. Further, every man, woman and child worth the name wants to help others who are in trouble.

Tuesday.

Question—How may we keep from having tuberculosis?

Answer—By building strong bodies.

Question—How may we build strong bodies?

Answer—By having plenty of good food and sleep, and by working, playing and sleeping in the open air.

Question—What must I do if I get tuberculosis?

Answer—Get rest, fresh air, sunshine and plenty of food.

Question—How may I know if I have tuberculosis?

Answer—You may not know. You should be examined by a good doctor every year.

Question—Who, besides the doctor, can tell us about tuberculosis?

Answer—The Health Department and the Tuberculosis Association.

Question—How will the Modern Health Crusade help me fight tuberculosis?

Answer—By helping you to form good health habits.

Wednesday.

Question—How many people in Alabama has tuberculosis?

Answer—Sixty thousand (60,000).

Question—How many people in the United States have tuberculosis?

Answer—One million (1,000,000).

Question—Why do so many people have tuberculosis?

Answer—Because people who have it are careless about spitting, coughing, sneezing, and kissing.

Question—Should only those who know they have tuberculosis be careful about spitting, coughing, sneezing and kissing?

Answer—NO; everybody should be careful.

Question—What should people do when they have to spit, cough or sneeze?

Answer—Spit where people do not have to sit or walk and where the sun will shine and kill the germs, or spit in something that can be burned.

Question—How should people kiss?

Answer—We really should not kiss at all because kissing passes disease germs from one person to another. Certainly we should never kiss a person directly on the mouth.

Thursday.

Question—What is the Seal Sale about which we hear the people talking?

Answer—It is selling Christmas seals, known as the Tuberculosis Seal.

Question—Why are these Seals sold?

Answer—To raise money to fight tuberculosis.

Question—How is the money used in fighting tuberculosis?

Answer—It pays the expenses of the Tuberculosis Association in telling the people what to do.

Question—What has been done in Alabama?

Answer—Nurses have been sent among the people to teach them. Places have been provided where doctors give people free examination, and the Modern Health Crusade has been put into the schools. Besides all this, many books, papers and letters are sent to people telling them about tuberculosis. When there is enough money, special hospitals are built for people who are sick with tuberculosis.

Question—Who should buy these Tuberculosis Christmas Seals?

Answer—Everybody should buy as many as they are able.

Question—What should people do with the Christmas Seals when they buy them?

Answer—They should put them on all Christmas letters, packages and postcards, but they are not postage, and should be put on so as not to touch the postage stamp. In this way we show everybody that we are fighting tuberculosis.

Friday.

General program here suggested:

1. Song by Audience.
2. Reading, by teacher or an older pupil—Foreword by Dr. Abercrombie (page 3).
3. Song, "Over Here" (from "Stories, Songs and Rhymes for Health Crusaders") by School.
4. Song, "Good Health Land," by School.
5. Reading by an older pupil, "Do You Want to Keep Well?"
6. Recitation, "Open the Window."
7. Dialogs given on previous days may be repeated.
8. Song, "Christmas Seals We'll Buy," by School.
9. Recitation, "Something in a Bottle."
10. Health Playlet.
11. Song, "A Selling Song." by the School.

THE MODERN HEALTH CRUSADE. WHAT IT IS.

The following reproduction of a circular sent out by the Alabama Tuberculosis Association explains briefly the modern Health Crusade being placed in the schools:

(N. B.—this Circular and the folder, "Record of Health Chores"—which must be read to supplement this circular—explains the fundamental and necessary part of the Crusade program. Every leader should also have the certificate of enrollment and the circular, "Second Field of the Cloth of Gold." The latter is the guide to the Crusade tournament. It is important to give the children the stimulus of national and local competition. For the complete program, to be taken up in whole or in part as the leader may choose, the "manual" must also be secured.)

The Modern Health Crusade is a movement that has enlisted more than 3,000,000 American children. It is essentially a system of teaching and of acquiring good health habits and interest in public health. Through elements of play and romance, and various appeals suited to child psychology, it gives children the motive needed for the practice of hygiene. Under the Crusade system pupils DO the duties which are explained in books of physiology and hygiene but too often left undone.

The results of the Crusade are physical improvement and prevention of disease among children and their families, moral discipline and the awakening of community responsibility.

Who Crusaders Are.

Children from 6 to 16 years of age may become Modern Health Crusaders by doing the official health chores and agreeing to pledge on the certificate of enrollment. The certificate states that the boy or girl named "has agreed to TRY (1) to keep the Crusaders' health rules until the end of 1920, (2) to do nothing that may hurt the health of any other person, and (3) to help keep home and town clean; has done at least 75 per cent of the Crusaders' health chores required during the second fifteen weeks.

Tournaments.

Crusade tournaments are competitions between schools or classes for the best average record by pupils in the performance of the health chores. The Second National Tournament of Health Knighthood is conducted during the school year 1919-20. The tournament consists of two tourneys of fifteen weeks each. The victors in each tourney will receive banners and win national recognition and publicity. Any class or school is eligible and may choose its own fifteen-week period between September 7th, 1919, and January 31st, 1920, and between January 11th and June 12th, 1920. Thus, the period for the first tourney may begin as late as October 19th for a school holding session in January. (See "Second Field of the Cloth of Gold.")

Crusade Adaptable to Every School.

Most of the health chores are performed out of school hours. They are largely "home work" and as such are given credit in hundreds of schools.

If a school allows no time for Crusade work, the teacher may nevertheless give the pupils its benefit by distributing health chore folders, after a short explanation, for each pupil to take one home. After the number of weeks required for each title the pupil brings his folder to the teacher. She then issues to him a second folder and at her leisure inspects the first one and awards the certificate or badge, if earned. The teacher will find it helpful to ask the children prompting questions from day to day. Crusade work can be carried on at any time. Participation in a tourney is not necessary but is a powerful aid.

For schools that make a place in school hours for practical health instruction, the Crusade offers a program to fit the amount of time allowed. All or part of the following features may be carried out: Daily prompting and hygienic inspection on the health chores, collateral instruction in hygiene, supervised recreation, exercise and athletics, development of correct weight and posture, Crusade club activities, entertainments with playlets, knightings and motion pictures, and Order of the Round Table. For explanations, secure the "manual" of the Modern Health Crusade from your state association affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association.

Statement of Chores.

1. I washed my hands before each meal today.
2. I washed not only my face but my ears and neck and I cleaned my finger-nails today.
3. I kept fingers, pencils and everything likely to be unclean or injurious out of my mouth and nose today.
4. I brushed my teeth thoroughly after breakfast and after the evening meal today.
5. I took ten or more slow, deep breaths of fresh air today. I was careful to protect others if I spit, coughed or sneezed.
6. I played outdoors or with windows open more than thirty minutes today.
7. I was in bed ten hours or more last night and kept my windows open.
8. I drank four glasses of water, including a drink before each meal, and drank no tea, coffee, nor other injurious drinks today.
9. I tried to eat only wholesome food and to eat slowly. I went to toilet at my regular time.
10. I tried hard today to sit up and stand up straight; to keep neat, cheerful and clean-minded; and to be helpful to others.
11. I took a full bath on each of the days of the week that are checked (x).

ALABAMA PEOPLE ALWAYS INTERESTED IN ANY GOOD CAUSE—WILL PUT SEAL SALE OVER.

The people of Alabama have never failed to respond to any worthy cause, and those responsible for the success of the Christmas Seal Sale feel that the present occasion is going to be no exception to that rule.

There are no people on earth more willing to help their fellow being than the people of Alabama, and further than this, they realize that in buying Christmas Seals they are not only helping someone else, but are buying health insurance for themselves. So long as anyone in the State is afflicted with tuberculosis just that long is any citizen of the State in danger of contracting the disease. Therefore, it behooves everyone to do his or her part in wiping out the Great White Plague and make the world a better place to live in.

Everyone should buy Christmas Seals; everyone will buy Christmas seals, and they will buy them to the limit of their ability. A few dollars spent at the right time has saved many a life—they will save many others. Now is the time for everyone to do his duty, and his duty is to buy Christmas Seals and Health Bonds.

He's Worth It—

Little Tim—counterpart of thousands of helpless little children, rich and poor alike—struggling to live against the savage attacks which tuberculosis makes upon his frail little body. If we fail him—but we must not fail. He's worth saving.

Buy Tuberculosis Christmas Seals

Each penny Christmas Seal you buy provides added strength to your local tuberculosis association in the fight against this preventable and curable disease.

WORK OF THE TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION IN MORGAN COUNTY, ALABAMA.

At present there is no Tuberculosis Association in Morgan county. However, since a meeting of some of the officials of the State Tuberculosis Association with the county health officer, chairman of the County Board of Health, chairmen of the Home Service section, American Red Cross, Rev. Davenport of Decatur and the chief sanitary inspector, a movement is on foot for the early organization of a real, live, wide-awake tuberculosis association in Morgan county. This organization is not to be completed until a mass meeting is held in order that a greater number of people may take part in this new but greatly needed endeavor.

At the meeting, mentioned in the preceding paragraph, which was held during the latter part of October, Mr. H. D. Cullen, executive secretary of the State Tuberculosis Association, explained to those present a series of programs that might be undertaken by a county tuberculosis association, these programs varying according to the amount of money available. Mr. Cullen also spoke of the Christmas Seal Sale, explaining that by mutual agreement between the National Tuberculosis Association and the American Red Cross the seal this year is distinctly a Tuberculosis Seal and not a Red Cross Seal. He emphasized the importance of the sale of Health Bonds.

Modern Health Crusade Introduced.

It was about this time that the County Health Officer was in search of a suitable health program to be carried out in the schools of Morgan county, when Miss McWhorter came to the rescue with the "Modern Health Crusade." It was arranged for Miss McWhorter to return and present the "Modern Health Crusade" to some of the schools. Eight schools were visited, all of which manifested an interest in the crusade. Upon her return to Birmingham, Miss McWhorter sent a supply of crusade material. To date, the crusade has been introduced into seventeen schools, where the children have taken it up with enthusiasm that is most gratifying. The work is not introduced into a school until the teacher has expressed a desire to assist in carrying out the program. It might be appropriate to state here that one school has already rendered a splendid health program, using "The Stories, Songs and Rhymes for Health Crusaders."

In his address at the teachers' institute the County Health Officer presented the "Modern Health Crusade" and was pleased to note the great amount of interest shown by so many of the teachers.

Plans for Seal Sale Nearing Completion.

The supply of Christmas seals and Health Bonds has been received by the chairman of the seal sale committee for Morgan county. Sub-committees and chairmen have already been appointed in the chief towns of the county. A meeting of these committees is to be held Saturday, Nov. 27, for the purpose of formulating the final plans for the beginning of the sale Dec. 1. Trinity is planning to open the sale with a box-supper on the night of December 1.

The seal sale has been endorsed by the Kiwanis Club, Albany Chamber of Commerce and all of the ladies' clubs. The ministers have been requested to make a special reference to the Tuberculosis Seal Sale on Sunday, Dec. 5. They have promised cooperation in this worthy movement. All the newspapers of the county have been very generous in giving space for publicity. The managers of the moving picture houses have agreed to use the slides advertising the seal sale in their respective theaters.

THE LITTLE RED CROSS SEAL BEST KIND OF INSURANCE POLICY.

The growth of the insurance business in all its phases has developed more rapidly in the United States than practically any other line of commercial or business activity during the past few years, and is destined to develop even more rapidly during the next ten years than it ever has before, in the opinion of Judge William E. Fort, of Birmingham, one of the most eminent jurists in the South.

"It is enough to make a man gasp in astonishment," said Judge Fort when questioned as to his opinion of the growth of the insurance business of various kinds. "It hasn't been so many years since insurance companies in this country were few and far between. There was an occasional life insurance company—and only a few fire insurance companies of national reputation. Insurance premiums were high.

"Now you can get insurance for any legitimate purpose—You insure your car, if you are fortunate enough to own one. You insure your show windows if your are a merchant. You insure against the activities of the industrious burglar. You insure your fine horse—yourself—your wife—your babies. Pianists insure their hands—Singers their voice. There is hardly anything that you can't insure."

"And you believe in insurance?" he was asked.

Judge Fort nodded vigorously. "I most certainly do, but there is one kind of insurance, that we all have an opportunity to secure, that a great many of us seem to know very little about, or, knowing, hesitate to take advantage of, and it is about the best insurance I know of." "What kind of insurance is that," the interrogator asked in some surprise.

Judge Fort spoke with slow precision, the sincerity he felt showing in his voice—"Insurance against tuberculosis—for years the greatest menace of the human race. We can get insurance against that plague—insurance that guarantees gradually to wipe it out—insurance that it will be carried day after day, by skilled physicians, nurses and educators, until those already afflicted are cured—until those who haven't it are in no danger of contamination from those who have it; because this insurance provides for teaching care; teaching those who have it now to protect others—teaches those who haven't it how to avoid it—and if they should contract it, how they may be cured easily, quickly and safely, at home with their friends and loved ones."

"And this insurance—"

Judge Fort smiled. "All you have to do to get this insurance is to purchase the Christmas Seals and Health Bonds, which the Alabama Tuberculosis Association will put on sale December first, they will be sold throughout the state. And you want to remember that when you buy the stamps and bonds, you are not giving a cent to any one—You are giving nothing—You are simply buying insurance against tuberculosis. So long as the disease exists in the State, you or some loved one are liable to be the next victim. By furnishing the Association with money to wipe it out, you are only protecting yourself.—You are buying insurance. And you are buying it at an exceedingly low rate—the lowest rate I know of. All successful business men believe in insurance— Ask them if they don't. I wonder if many of them have thought of the Christmas Seals as insurance? I wonder if the housewife who employs a cook, has thought of the fact that if she does her part in the Christmas Seal sale, she lessens the chances of her cook contracting the disease and bringing its blighting effect into her own home

"We owe it to ourselves to buy this insurance. We must get rid of the idea that we are giving something to somebody when we buy the stamps and health bonds. We know that neglect has caused the spread of this obligation. The man or woman who pays out money for the eradication of tuberculosis is giving nothing and has given nothing, so far as money spent for that purpose is concerned. . . They have simply bought insurance for themselves and their loved ones."

The Spitting Habit

"Do you thoughtlessly or intentionally spit upon the sidewalks and pavements?

If so—stop it! It is a filthy and vulgar habit.

Why should you multilate the appearance of your town?

Besides being a disgusting sight to every paser-by, this is one of the most prolific means of spreading disease germs. No one who has a degree of civic pride, of a right conception of "personal liberty" will indulge in this dangerous practice."

Mrs. Lonza Srader is visiting home folks this week.

Mr. Henry Robinson has recently moved from our community and is greatly missed.

Mr. James Dorminey spent Thanksgiving with mother and father.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Honeycutte have returned home after a few days visit.

Union Grove and Oak Hill have organized a singing society to meet every Sunday, and we hope to have a good attendance next Sunday to elect officers.

The singing at Oak Hill last Sunday was grand. The directors were Mr. A. H. Glasscock and others.

Finds Unexpected Sometimes Happens

"I suffered for 10 years with stomach trouble and doctored away a lot of money before I found a medicine that was a real benefgit to me. Since taking one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy 14 weeks ago, I have had more real joy of living than I have had in 10 years before." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refuunded.

OKLAHOMA SPLIT LOOKS HARD FOR DEMOCRATS

Washington, Nov. 30—If the [illegible] of Aldrich Blake correctly size up the situation, the split among the Democrats of Oklahoma is a serious one and not likely to be closed up for several years. Mr. Blake managed the primary campaign for Senator Gore, who was defeated for renomination last Summer by Representative Scott Ferris, and he in turn was beaten at the November election by Representative Harreld, Republican candidate for United States senator. Evidently there is a "pretty howdy do" down in Oklahoma, a state that has been so reliably Democratic until now.

Although Senator Gore [illegible] followers not to knife Mr. Ferris, it would seem that they did not follow his advice, for Manager Blake, in a published interview in Washington has "let the cat out of the bag," and according to his tale of woe, the Gore followers not only had a stormy time in the campaign, but they are very sore and are threatening to make trouble at the next election.

Mr. Blake's view may not be pleasing to the Democrats of Alabama and other Southern states, but the following extracts from an interview with Blake published by The Washington Post may prove interesting:

"The election of Representative Harreld over Scott Ferris by 30,000 votes was due to four things. First, the departure of Mr. Ferris from the principles of the party to follow blindly President Wilson; second, the revolt of the people against the methods used against Senator Gore by a majority of the Democratic newspapers of the state and by the Ferris Campaign committee. Although Senator Gore had for him hundreds of soldiers who went overseas and fought the Germans, he and his entire organization was branded as traitors, pro-Germans, Bolsheviks and what not. Our speakers were stoned or egged from platforms on numerous occasions. I was slugged in the course of a speech and left unconscious. We could not get our side of the story into the news columns of the papers, and many Democratic papers even refused to take it as paid advertising.

"The opposition of the people to the League of Nations and the drop in the price of cotton are the two

Washington, Nov. 30—If the views of Aldrich Blake correctly size up the situation, the split among the Democrats of Oklahoma is a serious one and not likely to be closed up for several years. Mr. Blake managed the primary campaign for Senator Gore, who was defeated for renomination last Summer by Representative Scott Ferris, and he in turn was beaten at the November election by Representative Harreld, Republican candidate for United States senator. Evidently there is a "pretty howdy-do" down in Oklahoma, a state that has been so reliably Democratic until now.

Although Senator Gore urged his followers not to knife Mr. Ferris, it would seem that they did not follow his advice, for Manager Blake, in a published interview in Washington, has "let the cat out of the bag," and according to his tale of woe, the Gore followers not only had a stormy time in the campaign, but they are very sore and are threatening to stir up trouble at the next election.

Mr. Blake's view may not be pleasing to the Democrats of Alabama and other Southern states, but the following extracts from an interview with Blake published by The Washington Post may prove interesting:

Our speakers were stoned or egged from platforms on numerous occasions. I was slugged in the course of a speech and left unconscious. We could not get our side of the story into the news columns of the papers, and many Democratic papers even refused to take it as paid advertising.

"The opposition of the people to the League of Nations and the drop in the price of cotton are the two other causes which contributed to Republican victory in Oklahoma. After Senator Gore was defeated I aided in organizing the Jeffersonian Club, composed of men and women who believe in the fundamental principles of the party. I believe that more than half of the Gore strength went to the Republican candidates for all offices. There is a demand for Senator Gore to run for governor, and should he run I am confident that he will be elected."

REPUBLICANS GAINED 51,736 VOTES IN ALA.

Nine Counties of the State Gave Majorities For Harding and Coolidge On November the 2nd.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 4.—Out of 155,994 votes polled for Gov. Cox and 74,605 for Harding, in the Nov. 2 general election in Alabama, Jefferson County cast the highest vote of any Alabama county for the Republican candidate, when Harding was given 7,124 votes.

The next largest county vote for the Republicans was 4,825 in DeKalb County. In Wilcox and Bullock counties, Harding received 2 votes each, while Lowndes County cast only 6 in his favor.

The Republican ballot was sufficient to permit the holding of a Republican primary at the expense of the state for the next election.

The Democrats gained 56,583 votes over the election four years ago, and the Republican gained 51,796 votes in Alabama.

THE BRYCE HOSPITAL

The Christmas holidays are approaching. We desire to make the occasion one of enjoyment and pleasure to the Patients and therefore ask you to remember them by sending something for anyone in whom you feel interested or to the Patients generally. Please call the attention of others to this request. Christmas with the hope of remembrances from home and friends is a source of pleasant anticipation to the Patients. We trust none will feel disappointed.

Suitable gifts are: clothing, money, books, pictures, fruits, nuts, confectioneries, subscriptions to local newspapers, illustrated magazines, etc.

All packages should be addressed to "The Bryce Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala.," pre-paid with the name and Postoffice address of sender. When intended for any particular Patient the name should appear distinctly on the package.

Thanking you for and in behalf of the Patients.

Sincerely,
W. D. PARTLOW, M. D.,
Superintendent.

Jim Grant of Roebuck Mines in Shelby County, was in Clanton Monday attending county court. Mr. Grant is a guard in the Shelby county strike area.

WOULD NOT CONFIRM WILSON'S SELECTIONS

Republicans Urge the Senate to Turn Down Wilson Appointees and Leave Places for Harding to Fill.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Urging rejection of all pending and future Federal appointments by President Wilson, the Republican Publicity Association, in a statement issued through the President of that organization, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., says:

Almost incredible waste and extravagance marked the training, equiping, and maintaining of our army in France. It all took place under the eye of Secretary of War Baker and other appointees of President Wilson. The unspeakable mess in the Shipping Board occurred under the supervision of men whom Mr. Wilson had selected to look after the interests of our merchant marine. The impotence of the Department of Justice to bring relief to a country suffering from profiteering, radicalism, and open defiance of law is notorious. Again Mr. Wilson's appointees must be held responsible. The list might be lengthened to include other costly burdens that the people have been compelled to endure because of the men whom Mr. Wilson placed in responsible positions and kept there after their incompetency had been proven.

"Gross mismanagement of public trusts by Wilson appointees was one of the principal causes that rolled up the hugh majorities against Wilsonism on November 2nd. An explicit command came from the people to put new men in charge of affairs at Washington, whose concern for the public welfare would be paramount. A man was elected to the Presidency, who, the voters believed, would make appointments of that character.

"The Senate has before it thousands of so-called recess appointments made by the President—appointments to vacancies occurring since the adjournment of the last session on June 5th. Under the Constitution, all the civil appointees in that long list automatically go out of office at the close of Congress on March 4th unless they receive the confirmation of the Senate before that date. Included in the list are several new members of the Shipping Board. The country has no reason to believe that they are of a higher character than those other selections of Mr. Wilson under whom enormous wastes were perpetrated. It is announced by Mr. Tumulty that the President has offered him the chief justiceship of the Court of Customs Appeals, a life job at $10,000 a year. What his qualifications are for the position are not manifest. Fifteen thousand promotions have been made by the President among the officers of the Regular Army. It is openly charged that favoritism is apparent in many of the selections.

"Now, what is the lesson to be learned from all this? Would not the United States Senate be grossly recreant to the mandate of the people at the polls if it permit those Wilson appointees to be confirmed? The country has decreed that on March 4th Wilsonism shall end, and is it not the plain duty of the Senate to make that decree a reality? If those appointments are confirmed it will mean that the baleful influence of Wilsonism will be continued through a period of several years. President Harding would enter upon his administration with a handicap that he could never shake off. He would be forced to deal through agencies established by his predecessor, owing no allegiance to him, and whose treachery might at any moment bring disaster to his policies.

"The long list of army promotions are hardly less important than the Wilson civil appointments. The officers in high command have it in their power to bring success or failure to a military program for which the Republican party is responsible. Every man promoted should first receive the endorsement of President Harding, who is to be the Commander-in-Chief of the Army for the next four years. He will be denied the right of passing upon his subordinates if the selections which President Wilson has made shall receive the approval of the Senate."

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT MAKING PROVISIONS FOR T. B. EX-SERVICE MEN.

In connection with plans for the expenditure of a considerable portion of the $46,000,000 appropriated by Congress in July to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, the Director, Colonel R. G. Cholmeley-Jones, has called upon the National Tuberculosis Association for consultation and expert advice in the development of plans for first class care and treatment of every man and woman who served in the War under the United States' flag, and who is disabled on account of tuberculosis.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance is planing to appropriate or utilize institutions already existing or being constructed under the direction of the U. S. Public Health Service, the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and the Army and the Navy. Patients will also be cared for in local private and public sanatoria in various parts of the country where sufficient beds cannot be found in existing federal institutions.

The plans worked out by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and the National Tuberculoscis Association include:

1. The construction of first-class sanatoria, and proper care and treatment of every man and woman who needs it and can be induced to take it.

2. Provisions in sanatoria for occupational therapy and pre-vocational training.

3. Utilization of state, county, municipal and private sanatoria where the best interests of the patients require it.

From data furnished by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance it is estimated that nearly 12,400 tuberculous men and women need treatment at the present time as beneficiaries of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, and by 1924, when the peak load is expected, this number will be increased to 13,800.

The Mountain Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Johnson City, Tenn., has just been opened as a 100 bed sanatorium for tuberculous ex-service men. It is now known as the Johnson City National Sanatorium, and is located in the hills of eastern Tennessee. Dr. Glenford L. Bellis who has recently returned from France, where he was Medical Director of the Princess Eugenie Tuberculosis Hospital at Lyons, has been made medical director and Superintendent.

Rev. J. M. Graham and Rev. Owens of Thorsby were visitors to Clanton last Friday. Rev. Graham complimented The Union-Banner on its liberal allotment of space to the Tuberculosis Association in last week's issue. Mr. Graham is an authority on Tuberculosis relief work, having been in the past in charge of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association. To his splendid foresight and capacity for organization is due a great deal of the systematic management with which the 1920 campaign against tuberculosis in Alabama is being carried out so successfully.

National Republican—The Southern Democrat still votes the straight ticket and receives the reports of a Republican national victory with a thankful heart.

COM. ALLGOOD VISITS FARMING DISTRICTS

Planters In Several Counties Well Provided For, Commissioner States

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 27—Miles C. Allgood, comissioner of agriculture who for a week or more has been making a tour of the southern portion of Montgomery County, as well as the counties of Crenshaw and Blount, states many farmers asked his opinion as to when the downward trend of cotton prices would end. To this query he says he replied that in his opinion, prices would cease to go down when the farmers stop selling cotton.

So far as living conditions are concerned, Commisioner Allgood says the farmers in the territory which he recently visited, appear well provided for. Potatoes, syrup, corn, peas, beans and peanuts, he says are plentiful and there are a good many hogs, but there is at present, the commissioner states, no market for farm produce of any kind. Buyers of cotton seed and peanuts are out of the market and there is no demand for cotton, according to the commissioner.

Mr. Allgood says there is a great deal of moving going on, from county to town and from farm to farm.

It is his opinion that there will be a tremendous reduction of the customary cotton acreage in Alabama when the time for Spring planting arrives, and that at about the same time there will be a reaction in the present market for farm products, which will bring better prices. By that time however, he states, the greater part of the 1920 cotton crop will have passed out of the hands of the producer and into the hands of the speculator.

NOW, WHAT?

Germany is understood to have declared that she is no longer bound to yield her colonies in accordance with the peace treaty, on the ground that mandates for them were to be distributed by the league of nations, which was not done. This will be a sad blow to England, which got about four-fifths of them, parcelled out by the Big Four in Paris.

"Ziron Did Us Both Good," Writes Mr. Gentry, of Norene, Tenn.

It is a well-known medical fact, that iron is a necessary constituent of the blood, and that blood lacking iron is the cause of many troubles that only iron will cure.

Ziron, a scientific compound of iron with other valuable ingredients, is the remedy to take when your blood needs more iron, and your system requires a tonic. Ziron is mild and harmless, does not stain the teeth, and is good for children as well as adults.

Mr. P. G. Gentry, of Norene, Tenn., writes: "Ziron Iron Tonic has made good in my family. I have used it to a very great advantage to myself and my 14-year-old boy. It did us both good. I think it is a good medicine for what it is recommended."

If you are pale, weak, tired, feel down and out, take Ziron. It will put iron into your blood, and should help build you up.

Get a bottle from your druggist today, and give ZIRON a fair trial. Sold by him under a money-back guarantee.

Ask him about it. He will tell you.

FIVE CHARGED WITH KILLING DRY AGENT

Pitched Battle Fought Between "Shiners" and Prohi Men at Colby Springs.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 7—Five warrants charging murder and violation of the prohibition laws will be sworn out by N. L. Pierce, state prohibition officer, in connection with the killing of Richard D. Griffin, a federal agent, near Colby Springs late last night by alleged moonshiners, while he was chasing an escaped prisoner.

Federal officers have been scouring the woods for miles around the spot where Griffin was killed, all day, and have collected enough evidence to warrant the issuance of warrants, according to Mr. Pierce.

Luther A. Whitley and Will Whitley, who were under arrest when the firing began, are in the Jefferson county jail here. No charges have been placed against them.

One of the prisoners attempted to make his escape. Griffin gave chase. Immediately a shot rang out from the darkness and Griffin fell to the ground. The shot struck him in the abdomen. Half a minute later a second shot was fired. This time the bullet struck the already mortally wounded man in the foot.

Forced to fight for their lives the other officers W. E. Eubanks, and Jack Horton, who were with Griffin, let the four other prisoners escape and ran to where Griffin lay upon the ground. None of the officers had much ammunition and after exchanging a few shots, their supply was nearly exhausted.

Realizing that it was out of the question to try and defend themselves against larger numbers, Horton left Eubanks with Griffin and started for the officers automobile to call to Birmingham for help. The moonshiners, firing their pistols, failed to hear the automobile and Horton was able to make a safe get-away. A few minutes later he was at a telephone and had informed Pierce of the fight. Reinforcements were rushed to the scene. Griffin died while he was being brought to Birmingham.

MICKIE SAYS

Alabama Religious and Educational Institute

A New Approach to An Old Task—Religious, Educational, Social.

What is the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute?

It is an organization representing certain well established Religious and Educational institutions. It emphasizes the fundamental things of the Gospel, upon which we may all agree, and seeks to serve in the name of our common Lord.

Whence came the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute?

It came out of the minds and hearts of men who, consecrated to God, and dedicated to the highest possible service to humanity, have spent much time in prayer and in the study of the word of God in its message of love, and its guarantee of power over all evil.

Who are its directors, and what institutions do they represent?

Lewis H. Keller, D. D., representing the Congregational Extension Board; Frank E. Jenkins, D. D., representing the Board of Trustees of Thorsby Institute at Thorsby, Alabama; Rev. Chas. L. Fisk, representing the Congregational Education Society; Rev. Chas. T. Rogers, representing the General Conference of Congregational Churches in Alabama; Rev. Elmer W. Butler, representing the United Protestant Church at Thorsby, Alabama.

How is the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute financed?

Primarily by the Congregational Extension Boards. It is our understanding, however, that communities, to which the Alabama Religious and Educaitnoal Institute shall apply itself directly in service, will be expected to contribute to its support, and that at the earliest possible date some way must be found to finance the work other than by the Congregational Extension Boards.

Is it a Denominational Agency for Sectarian Purposes?

Positively not. It is definitely religious and educaitnoal, but absolutely non-sectarian in its purposes and its activities. It will seek to serve all classes along all legitimate lines, for the development of the highest and best phases of community life. It would seek to make the Church or the School, or both, the center of the community activities, and the service will be given to the community, and under the auspices of the Church that is willing to strive for the biggest and best things. We positively will not spread denominational propaganda in a narrow, sectarian way.

What is its program?

The program of the Alabama Religious and Educational Institute, as written into its Constitution and By-Laws, and unanimously adopted by the Board of Directors, and now being carried out by its Superintendent, is divided into five sections as follows:

1. To help communities, churches, schools, and other organizations to see and grasp the larger opportunities for service to all types and conditions of human life.

2. To encourage and develop friendly relations, social intercourse, and community pride among the people of given communities and to cause the communities to develop unity of purpose and action for the good of all.

3. To help the churches to reach that great number of people not now being reached by organized forces.

4. To assist churches, schools, fraternal organizations and other religious, educational, social and welfare agencies, in the making and working out of programs of community development.

5. To promote the expression of the true Christian spirit in all life-relations.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION OF THORSBY

To the Parents of Thorsby:

As you know there was organized some weeks ago the Parent Teachers Association of Thorsby. The object of this organization, as you are doubtless aware, are numerous, and all leading directly towards the highest interest of all our children, and the proper development of our school facilities.

Unless we have suitable school facilities we cannot secure for our children the best training; without the best training, we have no grounds upon which to base hopes for the best advantages for our children. We cannot have the best facilities, and secure for our children the best advantages unless we, as the natural providers, and protectors of our children, think together and work together.

The Parent Teachers Association can and will prove to be a distinctive help to us all if we will only give to it our attention and sympathetic co-operation. In its meetings we are supposed to discuss the many problems confronting the parents and teachers of the community, and in so doing we shall come to understand and to love each other, and the school life of our children will mean more to us all in every way. If you do not attend the meetings and help with the work, you will miss much that is in store for you, and your children will necesarily suffer as a result of your own forgetfulness. We must have a community conscience, community program, and our children must come to know that we regard their interest as the first and the highest good. We cannot make them know that by simply telling them. We emust show them.

A special meeting of the Parent Teachers Association will be held at Bates Hall Friday Evening, December 10th, beginning at 7:30 sharp. Your presence will be a blessing to all, and if you should be absent, we shall all feel it keenly, but you will be the chief loser. We feel confident you will come. There will be business of vital importance to all, and you should have a part in it.

Yours for progress,
BERTHA LITTLETON,
C. M. WILLIAMS,
Committee.

The merchants of the town are beginning to place on display in their windows, their line of Christmas goods. It is hoped that in spite of the present depression due to low price of cotton, the trade of the Holidays, will prove good.

Not Much to Ask.

The landlady bustled up to her new lodger as he came down to breakfast the first morning.

"Good morning sir," she wheezed.

"Good morning," said the lodger.

"I hope you've had a good night's rest," said the landlady.

"No," said the mild-mannered little man. "Your cat kept me awake."

"Oh," said the landlady, tossing her head, "I suppose you're going to ask me to have the poor thing killed."

"N-no, not exactly," said the gentle lodger. "But would you very much mind having it tuned?"

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be curbd by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists 75c.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

On Sunday night, December 26th, a Christmas program will be held at the Baptist Church.

This program will be kown as White Christmas. Announcement to this effect is being made early, that nothing might conflict with this program, but that everyone may be able to attend, as we are promised a treat in music and various other things.

All are invited to attend.

The annual Christmas program of the Lutheran Sunday School will be rendered on Monday night, December 27th. The children are already being prepared for this, and again we promise a full evening of entertainment that we feel sure will justify your attending the same. So don't forget the date, Dec. 27th.

It is almost time for the Ladies Guild Bazaar, and don't you forget it, the committees have surely been up and doing, in order that this might be one of their biggest events. So be there next Saturday, December 11th, beginning at 9:00 A. M. and continuing throughout the day.

You'll be sure to be pleased.

Mr. Kenslar Farrell who before the war was attending Thorsby Institute has returned and has again taken up his studies in that school. We are all glad to have Kenslar with us again.

Mr. C. R. Foss and family made a pleasure trip to Birmingham Sunday.

Mr. Rucien Gibbons was the winner of the Victrola which was given away by Pate Bros. last Saturday.

At 4 P. M. next Saturday Bean Bros. will give away the $25 prize closing their Big Sacrifice Sale. You may hold the lucky ticket. Be there and see.—Adv.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Queen Esther Class of the Sunday School of the United Protestant Church gave an entertainment at Bates Hall Saturday evening, December 4th, which was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The program follows:

Opening Chorus, Entire Class.
Piano Solo ....Your Eyes Told Me So. Miss Fox
Tableau ..... The Three Rings.
Piano Solo .... The Song of the Lark. Pauline Gray
Tableau .....
Protection of The Women and Children.
Playlet .....
.....Captain Ann of the Red Cross

The music was excellent throughout and the tableaux were very clever. "The Three Rings" represented the three wise men who came to worship Jesus on the night of His birth. "The Protection of the Women and Children" represented Columbia protecting the American Homes through the agencies of the army, navy, Red Cross and Christian Church.

The playlet was a light farce depicting some exciting adventures of a Red Cross Captain during the war. The acting of Miss Wood as "Captain Ann" and of Miss Music as the German Housemaid stood out preemintly among the excellent services rendered by the others of the class.

The playlet was under the direction of Miss Helen C. Jenkins, teacher of the class. The tableaux were directed by Mrs. Nottage and Mrs. Loveland.

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.
Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. "I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.
"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."
Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

ANOTHER CATHOLIC JUDGE—TUMULTY.

Hon. Joseph Patrick Tumulty, who has for the past ten years been the right hand bower and Private Secretary to President Wilson, has been tendered the position of Judge of the United States Court of Customs Appeals by Mr. Wilson. Mr. Tumulty is, like the majority of the other appointees which Wilson has elevated to high positions, a high degree Knight of Columbus, and full fledged Roman Catholic.

While Wilson was Governor of New Jersey, Tumulty was his private Secretary, and during his two terms as President of the United States this same sentinel of the Pope has stood between the chief executive of the United States and the people of the country. His hand has ever been on the throttle of the public touch with the President, and the result has been Wilson, one of the most secluded and inaccessible Presidents this country has ever seen.

The new job which Mr. Tumulty has been offered is a life time position with a salary of $12,000 a year. In this position Mr. Tumulty would have time to work with the President along the literary lines which he plans to pursue after his term is out in the white house.

This appointment reveals the fact that President Wilson is as loyal to the Catholics as he goes out of office as he was when he came in. He has used every opportunity in the past eight years to put the reins of government in America in the hands of the Pope. Tumulty has been his private Secretary in order that nothing unfriendly to the Catholics might ever bother his Presidential dignity. All that sort of stuff was consigned to the waste basket under Tumulty's censorship.

Now that the usefulness of Mr. Tumulty at the White House is about over, Mr. Wilson wants to further serve the cause of the Catholics by putting him in a life-time government job at good pay, with plenty of spare time to use the rest of his days serving the interests of his only master, Pope Benedict XV.

FINEST LODGE TEMPLE IN THE WORLD.

The Union-Banner has received a copy of the Detroit News, of Nov. 26th, in which paper appears a great feature news story concerning the erection of what is to be the finest lodge temple in the world by the Masons of the city of Detroit.

The beginning of the temple was staged on Thanksgiving day when 20,000 Detroit Masons assembled and with appropriate ceremonies, broke ground for the stone building which is to cost $4,000,000. A silver spade inscribed with the names of Detroit Masons who lost their lives in the world war, was used to lift the first earth in the work of building in Detroit the finest temple on which Masons have labored since Solomon's first Masons built THE temple. Twenty thousand voices sang "America," as the work was begun.

The copy of The Detroit News, telling the story of the Temple, was sent to us by Mr. G. L. Crosby, now of Detroit, a former resident of Chilton County. He is one of Detroit's Masons who is interested in the great temple, is a member of Ashlar Lodge, No. 91, having attained the 32nd degree.

EDGAR LYNCH ARRESTED WHILE MAKING WHISKEY

Early last Monday morning while County Court was in session Sheriff Gore and Deputies Culp and Curlee went up to the Mars Hill community and located a wild cat still in full operation, being tended by a white man named Edgar Lynch.

The plant was just a quarter of a mile from Mars Hill church, and was only about 40 yards from the back door of the house in which lynch lives.

The officers walked right up on the man and caught him in the act of making liquor. His still was a good copper outfit. He was brought to Clanton and placed in jail.

TAKES TWO FOR AN ISSUE

A prominent business man in Texas asks "Will the South never realize that the tariff question is strictly an economic one" and he intimates that the question is not political. He is only partly right. The issue is not only economic, but has been made political by the Democratic party. The usual and most successful policy of the United States is in the maintenance of a protective tariff. Protection is peculiarly an American policy. But the Democratic party has opposed that policy and in two instances since the Civil War has been able to overthrow the protective principles and commit the nation to free trade.

By their declaration in their platform every four years that a protective tariff is unsconstitutional, the Democrats force the tariff question into politics. There is nothing left for the Republicans to do, in support of their "America First" program, but to declare for the protective tariff, and thus the issue is made political. If the Democrats, either North or South,, desire to take the tariff question out of politics, all they have to do is cease declaring for free trade.

The Republican party has never been a party of surrender. It does not believe in surrendering nationality to a league of nations. It does not believe in surrendering our right to manage the Panama Canal in any way we see fit, consistent with our international undertakings. It does not believe in surrender of American shipping to foreign rivals. It does not believe in surrendering American markets to the cheap labor of Europe and Asia. Therefore, although national indepencence, the Panama Canal, the merchant marine, and the tariff, are not necessarily political questions, they become political whenever the Democratic party adopts a platform or pursues a policy that indicates an intention to surrender America's interests. The Republican party stands always to spring to the defense of American rights and American welfare.

Any question becomes political whenever one party takes one side of the question and the opposing party the other.

SOME PERTINENT POINTS

The tabulated vote by counties in the recent Presidential election for the State of Alabama shows some interesting points for the student of politics.

There were nine counties that gave majorities for the Republican Presidential candidates. Some four or five other counties elected Republican local officers and gave a majority for Cox for President.

Judge Reynolds, the Republican candidate for the long term in the U. S. Senate carried more counties than the total of those that Harding carried for President combined with those that went locally for Republicans and for Cox for President. The vote received by Reynolds was the highest on the Republican ticket, exceeding that of Harding by about 3 or 4 thousand.

The counties of Bullock and Wilcox together cast only four votes for Harding. Lowndes county alone gave a total of six Republican votes.

Jefferson county cast the largest vote for Harding rolling up a total of 7,124. Judge Reynolds received about 500 more votes in Jefferson county than the national ticket.

Walker county gave a small majority to Cox, while some of the local Republican candidates were elected, and Judge Reynolds ran ahead of Underwood in that county.

Chilton, Cleburne and Shelby counties of the Fourth Congressional District went Republican. Calhoun, Dallas and Talladega counties in the same District remained unshaken for the Democrats.

Republicans made great gains over in Marion county. Harding received 1865 and Cox 2461.

On the whole the gain of Republicans in the State in the four years from 1916 to 1920 was 51,796. The gain of the Democrats for the same period of time was 56,583.

TWO BOYS ARRESTED WITH WHISKEY IN POSSESSION

Last Sunday night Will Giles and Albert Thompson were celebrating out in the neighborhood of Pinedale Church, when the Sheriff and Deputy Curlee happened along and broke into their fun.

The boys were spreading joy in a Ford car which was taken in possession by the officers. There was about a pint of booze in the car. The sheriff says he thinks they had plenty more but it was in them.

Bean Brothers sale will close next Saturday with the drawing for the $25 prize to be given the lucky holder of the ticket. Be there and see if you are the winner.—Adv.

JUST SOME THOUGHTS

Mr. Editor:

How long do you suppose the tax payers of Alabama are going to stand for the increasing burdens put upon them by a legislature that boldly tells them, by implication at least, that they are too idiotic to know what they want, too ignorant to vote and too dishonest to be allowed to attend to their own business?

This seems to be the exact state of affairs now.

For instance: This imperialistic conclave of solons are upon record as having refused to allow the people an expression at the polls of their wishes on great social and political issues. They are also upon record as having absolutely ignored the overwhelming expression of the wishes of the people upon other vital questions. They also imply by their legislation that every tax payer in Alabama would wilfully perjure himself for 30 cents.

No use, I judge, to elaborate these statements for I imagine almost every reader will be able to correctly place them, if not, the data can be furnished later.

Now, in arrogating to themselves all the wisdom, all the brains, all the integrity, all the sublime attributes of a paternalism that even surpasses the Prussian regime in its palmist days, they meet from time to time and give us great tomes of "laws" that, in absolute disregard of all the State and National Constituaional rights of the people, are epics of gall and egotism and great commentories upon the lengths of which an unbridled and unrebuked lust after money, power and jobs will carry a set of politicians who regard themselves in the light of being the Alpha and Omega of all things.

Then, such laws!

For instance, the State Constitution provides in each county for a Sheriff and other officers to enforce the law, collect the taxes, etc., and no more. There is no constitutional right on earth to twist $50,000 to $100,000 per year out of the depleted pockets of the tax payer to keep Conrad Austin and a few of his satellites in a soft job. Connie, you remember, has made a most glorious and successful failure at everything he has undertaken before. Such as former Chief of Police of Birmingham, head of a great (?) detective agency, kind of helper at the Jefferson County jail, etc., so he was signally qualified to head a State Law Enforcement Bureau, spoken into existence by our illustrous solons, as an additional burden and insult to the long suffering tax payers of Alabama.

Another glorious example of the imperialistic and paternal tendencies of these latter day Caesars is the Compulsory Education Law. That kind of Kaiserism, as we all know, was originally sired and brought forth under the dispotic Prussian rule in a land that only recently almost rent the earth in twain in an effort to paternally govern the world. We have seen its legitimate fruits, and a quarter of a million of our boys are dead today because we professed our abhorence to such a system. Still, a certain element of modern "high brows" hug this ghastly dream of the despot to their bosoms and rave and tear their hair if any one presumes to even suggest a weakness or a possible evil tendency in an arrangement that is wholly wrong, utterly unnecessary, and viciously strikes at the very foundations of the hom and fireside itself. It has a thousand faults and not one redeeming feature. But space forbids. The arguments can be given against this pernicious innovation almost ad infinitum.

Did you mention the "Dog Law?" Even the paternal synod itself found that wire a little too hot recently when they held their junket in Montgomery. In passing let me say that it is patent to every one that the dog law was only a bluff to fleece the innocent tax payer. Less than 15 per cent of the people of Alabama are interested in a half-hearted attempt to raise wool. Still the other 85 per cent has a dog tax fastened on them ostensibly to protect the wool grower. Oh! ye Gods and little fishes! How sublimely rediculous.

Then, the over burdened tax payer is being filched out of $4,000 per day and has been for several months to furnish an armed guard to the coal barons in the Alabama district in their fight against organized labor. I have no brief for the coal miners, but it is a palpable fact that under the guidance and management of Gov. Kilby and Col. Steiner the people of Alabama have paid out, perhaps, $200,000 to kill organized labor in that district, and by jingo, they have just about done it. As far as having sent the militia up there to "protect the peace and dignity of the State" is concerned, the records show that there never has been such a wave of crime there before as during the past two months. This is no reflection either on the noble young men who are being held there against their will NOT to ferret out and punish crime, but to guard the property of non-resident millionaires while they cut down wages, put in force onorous working conditions and crowd in a foreign element of ignorant bolshevik and anarchistic labor.

Pardon me, Mr. Editor, but this subject is fraught with so much imminent peril to the rights, freedom and prosperity of the people of Alabama that to be brief is impossible. There are hundreds of things that could be and should be said to arouse the people to their danger. Another and complete about face is necessary in State affairs unless we expect to see the star of prosperity sink for ages beneath the horizon of the future.

Can nothing be said to induce the people to "stop, look and listen?" Wake up and lets get back to bed rock. Clean up the slate of foolish facts and pernicious money grabbing schemes and elect the next State legislature from among the ranks of the farmers and safe and sane business men, and forever retire the professional politician to merited oblivion. This is the accepted time. Wake up NOW before it is everlastingly too late.

Yours for fewer laws and honest government.

PROGRAMS NEW and OLD

By Rev. J. M. Graham

In this, the good year of our Lord, when all good Americans are turning our thoughts towards the New England shores, and joining in fitting celebrations of the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, it is very much worth while to try to learn what it was that made the Pilgrims great. We are glad that so many are agreeing that it was the Bible that made them great, but if we would understand that, we must see how they interpreted the Bible and applied it to their lives, individually and collectively.

Social workers of today will admit that the Pilgrims had a program of social service that appears even today to be rather advanced. It was the belief of the Pilgrims that their citizenship began here, and led to heaven—they thought the laws of God for the Spirit world, were also operating in the earth, and that Christians, by living in the world, would make it a better place. Let the reader bear in mind that we are considering a program of religious and social service that was working three hundred years ago, and it is our privilege and profitable task to compare it with our present day program for the same kind of work.

The Pilgrims stood strongly for individual freedom in religious and in civic relations, but their chief concern was not for the individual but for the community as a whole. Religion to them was more than salvation for the individual, it stood ror the salvation of society. Religion was a public matter, and they saw no reason for unrighteousness in public office, nor would they listen to excuses for such. Religion gave them an ideal for social and civic action, and it commanded rigid obedience. The Kingdom of God was to include civic as well as religious activities, and it was the business of the church to establish that Kingdom on the earth. They believed with Calvin and Knox of long before, that a city or country should be taken for God in order that He might be its ruler. It was their interpretation of the Bible in its bearing upon their lives, individually and collectively, that brought down upon them the wrath of the King of England and his associates. The King accepted the theory of the Sovereignty of God, but when that theory was translated into action among his subjects, he trembled. He could not agree with the Puritans that a common man, with an open Bible, would be capable of saying who should be the ruler of the land.

As the Pilgrims thought things over while sailing along in the Mayflower, they drew up the immortal "Compact," and when they landed in America, they established an actual Commonwealth, based upon the provisions of their "Compact" and that in turn was an expression of their interpretation of the "Social Gospel" of the Bible.

We rejoice in the fact that today the "Community Church" is being very vigorously advocated by modern religious leaders. We are hearing today that the Church of Jesus Christ should be the "Community Center," and in it we should feel free to think and to talk of all legitimate interests of the community. There are those who do not accept the idea, but they need only turn to the history of the Pilgrim Fathers, and they will see those saintly souls believed the Church to be the center of community life—religious, social, economic and political, and they behaved themselves accordingly. They preached a virile doctrine, and men heard their message gladly. No human interest was too unworthy for the consideration of the people of the community, and they often remained after the regular service and talked over community problems. We are bearing in mind that those people had broken away from all that was dear in life to them in order to establish a Commonwealth in which there should be no interferences by king, priest, bishop, or other ruler. Theirs was a real democracy, and they found it in the Bible.

While the Pilgrims were intensely interested in the civic and political welfare of their people, they felt they must apply the principles of their religion to all social, economic and other problems confronting them, and they used the same principles in their international relations. Their individual consciences were made stronger by the social conscience, and then it was translated into law, and that law had its footings in religion as they understood it, and there was no thought of making the Church and the State one, as they had seen it before.

We are coming to see the necessity of the moral element in social work, and in the discussion and enactment of local and national legislation. We are learning, with some of the labor leaders, that the labor question is a moral issue, and the differences between capital and labor can never be adjusted on any other basis than that found in the Bible. This is to many a new idea, but it was the ruling belief of the Pilgrims three hundred years ago.

The best social workers long ago saw that the doctor and nurse were handicapped in their treatment of patients, because when they have told the patient what to do and what not to do, the question then came as to whether the patient had in him that character that would enable him to follow instructions. Both the social worker and the religious leader are essential to the best work of the doctor and the nurse.

Every question that arose among the Pilgrims was "discussed, disputed and cleared up by the word of God," for it must be "agreeable to the Holy Scriptures." The Bible was their guide in practical ethics and conduct. When we talk of "community development" we are talking about a Bible truth and doctrine, which may be properly called "New and Old." A study of the teachings of Jesus the Great Saviour of men and of nations, will reveal our duties in regard to the full life relations of the men and women about us. Religious, Social, Economic, Political—all for God and God in all.

CLANTON'S NEED OF A COMMERCIAL CLUB

By Rev. P. G. Carter.

Prompted by the challenge of the enterprising and progressive little town of Thorsby who are justly proud of their Chamber of Commerce something has been said in the columns of The Union-Banner concerning the need of such an organization for the city of Clanton. The suggestion is both timely and practical. As a commercial center we are losing out on every hand for the lack of such an organization which does more to build up and increase the commercial interests of a community than any other kind of an institution. As one who has had some experience in organizing and successfully fostering such an organization may I suggest some of the benefits of a Chamber of Commerce for Clanton.

The coming of the Alabama Power Company in our midst opens the door not only for good lights but should make it possible to build an electric railroad connecting Clanton with Maplesville on the M. & O. Railroad.

Among the numerous benefits of such an enterprise would be a much better market for our cotton.

New enterprises could be encouraged to locate here. With all the electric power that we need, with plenty of sites to offer as inducements, with the central location of the city, and splendid railroad facilities there is no reason why many new enterprises of one kind and another should not be induced to locate here.

Our educational interests could also be fostered by the club. We now have a splendid High School, but it could be better, and by the erection of a good Boarding House, and the proper efforts being made, the present institution could soon become a fine Agricultural HighSchool thereby enabling Clanton to cater to its rural constituency in a way that will repay itself many times in the near future.

The time is very near also when a Junior High School will be an absolute necessity. The High School Building is now filled to its utmost capacity. Notwithstanding the new addition that has been added to the Public School in another year it also Prompted by the challenge of the enterprising and progressive little town of Thorsby who are justly proud of their Chamber of Commerce something has been said in the columns of The Union-Banner concerning the need of such an organization for the city of Clanton. The suggestion is both timely and practical. As a commercial center we are losing out on every hand for the lack of such an organization which does more to build up and increase the commercial interests of a community than any other kind of an institution. As one who has had some experience in organizing and successfully fostering such an organization may I suggest some of the benefits of a Chamber of Commerce for Clanton.

The coming of the Alabama Power Company in our midst opens the door not only for good lights but should make it possible to build an electric railroad connecting Clanton with Maplesville on the M. & O. Railroad.

Among the numerous benefits of such an enterprise would be a much better market for our cotton.

New enterprises could be encouraged to locate here. With all the electric power that we need, with plenty of sites to offer as inducements, with the central location of the city, and splendid railroad facilities there is no reason why many new enterprises of one kind and another should not be induced to locate here.

The time is very near also when a Junior High School will be an absolute necessity. The High School Building is now filled to its utmost capacity. Notwithstanding the new addition that has been added to the Public School in another year it also will be filled. Where then shall we put the rapidly increasing number of scholars between the grammar age and High School Period? Yet as a County Seat we ought not to fail to make sufficient provision for the scholastic needs of our county. Good schools as well as good churches help to build up a community. I have been informed on good authority that the great State School now located at Montevallo could have been located in Clanton according to the expressed wishes and desires of its promoters, if the citizens of Clanton had pulled together and worked to that end.

A Chamber of Commerce is also a great booster for good county roads, for obviously the better the roads leading to the county seat the greater by far the amount of business transacted. The roads of Chilton County are a standing disgrace to civilization and to progressive America of the Twentieth Century, and this in the face that probably no county of its size in the state has as many automobiles that pay as many taxes for good roads as are found in this county. Other counties improve their roads why not us? A Chamber of Commerce through its prestige brought to bear on the right authorities or by other methods adopted can do much to remedy this situation.

What is true of the condition of the roads is to some extent true of the condition of the city itself. We need sidewalks all over the city, which not only are beneficial to keep the pedestrians out of the mud but which create an appearance of regularity, beauty and progressiveness to the city.

A Chamber of Commerce would also help to encourage and provide better markets for the farmers produce. It could devise means for increasing the business of the merchants, such as Special Sales Days and other occasions. In addition to this how beneficial to have a recognized organization or representative body to consider and determine matters of a commercial or civic nature that frequently occur in the life of every community. Eeven though but few new industries were located as the result, its influence in bringing the merchants together with one purpose and aim to build up the community in a proper progressive enterprising manner would alone justify its existence.

The organization would consist of a Board of Directors, and the payment of a nominal fee of perhaps $1.50 per month would be sufficient in the beginning to pay a capable man for a part of his time as secretary of the club, and defray all necessary office expenses.

The writer knows from successful experience in the past that this can be done. Why not call a mass meeting of the merchants, business and professional men and do it?

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Ewell Robinson

The Music Class of the High School enjoyed candy making Thursday afternoon. They had the faculty as their guest. Quite a pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. G. L. Clark was a visitor to the school Thursday.

We were glad to have Miss Sallie Parrish, a former pupil, to visit us Thursday.

The Senior Class regrets that Miss Lillian Mims has retired from school.

Lee Ray was recently elected as Vice-President of the Freshman Class.

Now that the foot ball season is over we are planning for a good basket ball team. A very enthusiastic meeting was held Thursday afternoon. Balls and equipment will be ordered and practice will begin at once. Chilton has some good basket ball material and should put out a good team.

The Expression Department of the Shelby County High School presented "The Adventures of Grandpa" at the High School Auditorium last Friday evening. This was a splendid play and was rendered exceptionally well. They reflected much credit upon their school. Nothing bespeaks the intelligence of a community more than an entertainment of this sort. It is regretted that the attendance was so small.

Whereas, the Senior Class of the Chilton County High School has learned of the death of Mrs. G. N. Mims, mother of Lillian Mims, a member of the Senior Class, therefore be it resolved by the Senior Class that we extend to our fellow class mate our heart felt sympathy in her sad bereavement.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be recorded on the minutes of the Senior Class, and that a copy be sent to Miss Mims. Also a copy furnished the local paper.

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Dinner Party.

One of the most delightful social affairs of the week was a dinner party given by Mrs. Bama Cox entertaining at a luncheon complementing her daughter, Miss Eloise Kemp's birthday.

An eleborate six-course dinner was served and place cards marked the names of Misses Mayme Smith, Anice Kemp, Birdie Teel, Agnes Kemp, Clara Crumpton, Ruth Moore, Edna Kemp, and Ruth Robinson.

Mrs. R. E. Lucky spent Wednesday in Birmingham shopping.

"Pollyanna Club"

Mrs. Bama Cox delightfully entertained the "Pollyanna Club" at the home of Mrs. M. L. White on last Wednesday evening.

The afternoon was spent sewing and music on the Edison was enjoyed.

Delicious Fruit Jello was served by Miss Eloise Kemp and Mrs. M. L. White to the following:

Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, Mrs. P. T. Hinkle, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Mrs. H. T. Pipes, Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Barney Roberts, and the visitors were: Mrs. J. B. Atkinson, Mrs. D. S. Wingrad, Mrs. John T. McElaine.

Miss Leona Pipes spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Macy Jones left for Birmingham for a few weeks on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Q. Wade has returned home after a couple of weeks stay in Stafford Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Parrish left Monday for Thorsby. Mr. Parrish will be in the employ of the L. N. Railroad at that place in the future.

Mr. M. A. Gore spent Sunday in Montgomery.

Mrs. Luther Jackson returned to her home in Evergreen after a weeks visit to her mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Marcus left for Birmingham Monday morning after a visit to Dr. and Mrs. Marcus in Clanton.

Mrs. M. L. White spent Monday in Birmingham shopping.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson left Sunday evening for Owensville, Ind., where she was called on account of the death of her father.

Mrs. S. H. Brown of Birmingham visited Clanton Sunday.

Color Blind.

"How is your sick husband?"

"Oh! He isn't very good and I discovered last night that he is color blind."

"Tell me about it."

"He got delirious and talked about his little girl with the blond hair."

"What makes you think he is color blind?"

"Why, my hair is black."—Froth.

Right One to Switch.

Irate Parent—I warned you boys and now I'm going to switch you for making such a racket.

Bobby—Well, switch Johnny; we're playing train and he's the locomotive.

Mrs. Splawn Hostess.

The Study Club held its regular monthly meeting on last Friday when Mrs. W. P. Splawn was hostess at the home of Mrs. N. S. Johnson.

The home was adorned with quantities of yellow chrysanthemums and the program was as follows:

Paper, Alabama laws concerning Women, Mrs. Grady Reynolds. Reading of Act IV, Taming of Shrew. Discussion led by Mrs. John Thomas. "Snowbound," Mrs. Earl Gowan. Current Events, Mrs. Chandler, leader. Mrs. Chandler presenting also the Haley Gavel which was won by this, the Fifth District of Women's Federated Clubs.

The study meetings of this season have proven of excellent benefit, being the results of earnest effort put forth by those illustrating with program numbers.

Late in the afternoon a lovely plate luncheon with hot coffee was served by the hostess.

Birthday Party Given.

Joe Luckie was host to a few of his friends on Saturday evening, celebrating his ninth birthday.

Pink and white were the chosen colors and cyrstal roses of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums adorned the apartments.

The central table decoration was a tiny cake holding 9 lighted candles.

Favors for the girls were little handkerchiefs and the boys boxes of sparklers.

Dr. E. C. Maye left Tuesday morning for Panama City, Fla., to attend the annual conference.

YOU never saw more exquisite cabinets.

The world has never produced any more exquisite cabinets.

These cabinets are descended out of the Golden Age of Furniture.

This was the age when Europe built its most luxurious palaces, created its greatest works of art, developed its finest types of craftsmanship.

Mr. Edison's designers went back to the furniture masterpieces of this period. They adapted 17 of them for the modern American home. They made every Edison Cabinet a period cabinet,—even the least expensive.

You must see these cabinets. Only then will you appreciate what wonderful richness and atmosphere one will add to your home.

Ask about our Xmas Budget Plan. It manages your money economically. It makes 1921 help pay; and that's a good business.

A Word About Prices

In 1914, as you can ascertain through practically any investment banker, the Edison Laboratories were selling phonographs on a narrower margin of profit than the other manufacturers. Since 1914, the price of the New Edison has advanced less than 15%—and a portion of this is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

"Several years ago I was under treatment of a stomach specialist for 5 months, 3 weeks of which were spent in a hospital. Another stomach specialist told me I had gall stones and that an operation was necessary. I did not want to have this. I lost 45 pounds in weight. Talking with a brakeman one day he told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and since taking it I have gained 16 pounds and am feeling fine. I am advising others to try it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays inflamation which cuses practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Almost Invalid for Years Dreco Brings Happiness

Stomach Trouble, Constipation, Pains In the Back and Limbs, Nervousness and Dizzy Spells made Life Miserable.

Now Declares That the Root and Herb Remedy Dreco Has Given Relief.

"My wife has practically been an invalid for thirty years," are the words of that well known and highly respected citizen Mr. W. J. Feyason, of 635 Locust Street, Gadsden, Ala.

"She kept going down hill al the time, losing strength until she became weak, pale and very nervous and excitable. She lost her appetite and what food she did eat didn't seem to nourish her nor give any strength. It often fermented and caused her stomach to fill up with gas. Her bowels were very constipated and she was forced to take some kind of medicine mose every night for them. Her breath became foul and she hardly knew what a good nights rest was like. Dizzy spells often struck her and she would almost go blind from them.

"I've spent lots of money buying medicine for her and for doctor bills but nothing ever gave more than temporary relief. I've always put a lot of faith in the old time root and herb medicines so when I read about Dreco, I went right away and got her a bottle. It seemed to go right to the bottom of her troubles and now she is like a different person, both in looks and feelings. Her color has returned, eyes cleared up, and I've neve seen anyone gain strength so fast. She gets arfound now like she used to when a young woman. Her appetite is huge and what's more, the food agrees with her, never has gas and hasn't had a dizzy spell since she started on Dreco. We surely recommend Dreco."

All drugists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Company.

Bean Brothers sale will close next Saturday with the drawing for the $25 prize to be given the lucky holder of the ticket. Be there and see if you are the winner.—Adv.

SHOULTS

Hr. and Mrs. Allen Seeley from Pittsfield, Mass., arrived Friday night at the home of the latters parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Walker. After spending several weeks with relatives and friends here they expect to make their future home in Montgomery. Mrs. Seeley is pleasantly remembered by friends as Miss Lettie Walker, and is hartily welcomed by all.

Mr. Howard Oden is now making preparations to rebuild his dwelling house that as burned a few days ago.

Miss Nora Wallace is spending a few weeks with relatives in Birmingham.

Mr. Hinton Lawrence from Selma was at home Sunday.

Mr. Emmett Lawrence has rented his farm and has moved to Lawley. We regret very much to see this family move away.

Mrs. Alice Rhodes from Selma has been spending a few days with relatives here.

IN MEMORY

On July 28, 1920 at the home of Rev. J. S. Kelley, God in His wisdom saw fit to take from our midst little Odell, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kelley. Odell was born December 4, 1918. His suffering was great yet he bore it with patience wonderful to witness, and died without a struggle, conscious to the very last breath. In Jesus' arms he fell asleep to wake with God.

Dr. Eiland rendered skillful medical aid but all in vain. Relatives and friends did all in their power for the little sufferer, but God was ready for this jewel and gathered it home.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Joe Howell in Bethel Church, the remains being laid to rest in the Bethel cemetery.

We mourn his loss, but God knows best and we must submit to His will and wait in meekness of heart for Him to send the comforter to our broken hearts. Father, mother remember God doth all things well. Yes, little Odell is at perfect rest, safe with God never to suffer pain or sorrow, and no trouble shall ever roll across his peaceful breast. But perfect rest, joy and happiness is his forever more. At the great and final judgment day he will be standing arrayed in spotless white with crown and harp before the throne of God and our blessed Saviour and the Holy Ghost of Heaven. Yes, he will be standing among Holy angels singing praises to the Lamb that was slain. In that house not made with hands, he will dwell forever while endless ages roll.

Republicans Have Clean Field, Underwood Says

Democrats Not to Propose General Legislation in Present Session of Congress.

Washington, Nov. 27—"The Republicans are paddling the canoes and the Democrats are only passengers therefore, the Democrats will not propose any general legislation at the coming session," according to an authoritative statement made today by Senator Underwood, of Alabama, the minority leader, upon his return to the capital.

Inasmuch as Republican leaders already have announced that they will not undertake to consider any general legislative measures until the advent of the Harding administration, Senator Underwood's announcement makes it a certainty that the short session will be devoted exclusively to the passage of the supply bills and that consideration of all other proposed legislation will go over.

Senator Underwood made clear that the disposition of the minority will be to give the Republicans a clear field and permit them to fix the amounts of the appropriation bills at whatever figures they may see fit.

Regarding Treaty

So far as action on the treaty is concerned, Senator Underwood shares the opinion of Senator Hitchcock and other leading Democrats that the president is not likely to send that document back to the Senate. While Senator Underwood refuses to believe that the defeat of the Democrats was due solely to the league issue, he is of the opinion that President Wilson, himself, will realize the futility of submitting the treaty again to the Senate, where it inevitably would be pigeon-holed by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Although the Democratic minority in Congress has thus indicated its intention of holding off from attacks on the Republican program for the short session, this purpose does not apply to the extra session which will be called very shortly after Senator Harding takes office. When the session opens and legislative measures are proposed by the majority, the Democrats intend to "have something to say," according to Senator Underwood. Every item on the Republican program will be most carefully scrutinized and subjected to attack if in opposition to the principles upon which the leaders of the minority hope to rebuild their party.

Senator Underwood uttered a word of caution to the Republicans in this matter of precipitate action toward revision of the tariff. He pointed out that conditions in all the European markets have undergone marked changes since the Underwood-Simmons tariff law, which is now on the statute books, was written. Aribitrary changes in the rates now in force will not necessarily produce more revenue, Senator Underwood pointed out, because of the danger that the rates may be raised so high that importations will be cut off entirely and the result will be less instead of more revenue. The senator said:

"With the knowledge I now have of tariff conditions, I would be unwilling to undertake to change the rates without very thorough study of markets abroad. If we put a 30 per cent tax on shoes, for instance, no shoes would come in and then we would get no revenue. The tariff rates must be adjusted to the industrial and financial conditions in the countries from which the flow of imports come, and it will be very easy to so tinker with the tariff as to cut off many of the important sources of revenue now available."

Disagrees With Curtis.

Senator Underwood does not agree with Senator Curtis, Republican whip, who has advanced the proposal of raising the ad valorem taxes high enough to produce $1,000,000,000 annually from the customs. In the opinion of Senator Underwood, this plan is not practicable; he does not believe it will be possible to find a sufficient number of articles upon which the rates can be raised to produce anything like the figure named.

There is considerable agitation in parts of the South for tariff revision on staples produced in that section, Senator Underwood said. Louisiana wants a higher rate on sugar and Texas and other states would like protection for the cotton industries.

In these cases, as in the others mentioned, Senator Underwood said there is danger in putting the rates too high, thereby shutting off all imports on which the tariff is collected.

Smoot Plans Fight.

Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, who is expected here next Tuesday, will launch a fight to have an embargo placed against all wool importations in order to give Western wool men a chance to adjust themselves to changed conditions due to the war.

It is understood also that the wheat growers of the Northwest will ask for an embargo against Canadian wheat, which has been underselling the home product in the American markets.

The filing of those requests probably will lead to a general movement to shut off imports on a great variety of articles in order to afford protection to the Americans interested in those particular industries.

The happiest Christmas is obtained by buying the best gifts. The best are at Upchurch's. A look will convince you. Prices right.—Adv.

THUMBS DOWN FOR FUTURE APPOINTMENTS.

Washington, Dec. 7—"The people want a clean sweep," declares the Republican Publicity Association, thru its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., in the following statement:

"By a plurality of more than six millions—a plurality unprecedented in the history of the United States—the people of this country, at the November elections, voted for a change of administration. The people want a change more than they ever before wanted anything in American government. They want a clean sweep from top to bottom. They have expressed in the most emphatic manner possible their dissatisfaction not only with President Wilson, but with the type of men he has been accustomed to appoint to public service.

"In view of this expression in such definite terms direct from the people, is it not the duty of the United States Senate to refuse to confirm the appointment of those men who have recently or who may hereafter be nominated by the President for important official positions? Inexperience and incompetency seem to have been determining qualifications when President Wilson has made selections for important government positions. That there have been some exceptions to the rule does not alter the fact, and the country, therefore, looks with suspicion upon any appointment President Wilson may now make. Wastefulness and inefficiency if nothing worse, have characterized almost every department during the present administration and particularly during the past four years. Things have been going from bad to worse.

"Rejection of the recent appointments to the Shipping Board is certainly desirable. A number of vacancies on the Board have existed for many months without any move on the part of the President to fill the positions. After all this delay, no great injury can be done if the appointments he has made are permitted to be temporary, and terminated with the action of the Senate rejecting the appointments.

"In instances where nominations have been made the nominees will fill their positions until the Senate has acted. Public service will suffer during that period only as it has suffered in the past, through the lack of qualifications on the part of those selected by President Wilson to perform governmental duties.

"By an overwhelming majority the people of the country expressed their confidence in Warren G. Harding as a chief executive for the nation. Mr. Harding will be responsible for the administration of government affairs for the next four years. In order that he may have power commensurate with his responsibilities and may have under him men of whose qualifications he is the judge, President Wilson's recent and future appointments should be rejected and the new President given an opportunity to surround himself with men of experience and ability who will aid him in carrying out the promises made by him when he was a candidate.

"Thus will the public interest best be served."

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

There was a good Sunday School attendance last Sunday there being 111 present. With a proper equipment we believe that we could soon have a Sunday School of at least 200, therefore in our future financial plans let us not forget to make provision for the new building which we expect to begin in the Spring.

The audiences on Sunday were not large but very appreciative, and the sermon on Jonah according to numerous expressions from those who heard it much enjoyed. The regular church attendant gets the most out of the services of the church. The casual attendant might happen to be present some Sunday when the preacher is not up to the usual mark, and be somewhat disappointed. The preachers are like all other folks. They have their off days for various reasons. The person who regularly attends the services therefore get his good sermons as well as his mediocre ones. Your presence at all of the services does more to build up the church and maintain its interest than all the money you may pay for its support. Good congregations draw the crowds and help to make visitors feel at home. Poor crowds create a chill both for the audience and the preacher. Every member of the church roll is responsible unless hindered by physical reasons by their attendance for the success of the church, and it takes the hearty co-operation of everyone to make it a great success.

Services will be held next Sunday as usual Morning and Evening. Sunday School at 10:00 A. M. Junior B. Y. P. U. at 3:00 P. M. Sunbeams at 2:00 P. M. and Seniors at 6:30 P. M.

We cordially invite every body to theses services. Come thou with us and we will do thee good. Remember the Sunday School Christmas Tree on Christmas Eve.

Mr. Jackson said he had been to Montgomery and got prices on printing, but he preferred to trade with country fellows like himself, hence he came to see the Banner force. We appreciate such a spirit in the business men of our territory. Mr. Jackson's store is offering their customers some good prices on merchandise, and we hope they will get good results from their advertising.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Abstracts of Title Promptly Prepared at Reasonable Charges.

JERSEY SENATOR SAYS SAVE AMERICAN IDEALS

Unwilling to Join League Which Does Not Subscribe to Principles Underlying Our Government

Washington, December 13.—Senator J. S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, who accompanied President Harding on his trip to Panama, continues to be irreconcilably against the league of nations in any form because opposed to the principles upon which the American government was founded. He says:

"I am for everything that really for the upbuilding and betterment this America in which we live. Fo that reason I am for the repeal of the Panama Canal toll act so that Amer ica may enable the ships of her new merchant marine to pass through the canal the people of this country built without payment of a toll to British commerce, for that is what the present law means. For the same reason I am opposed to the proposed league of nations covenant. JERSEY SENATOR SAYS SAVE AMERICAN IDEALS

Unwilling to Join League Which Does Not Subscribe to Principles Underlying Our Government

Washington, December 13.—Senator J. S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, who accompanied President Harding on his trip to Panama, continues to be irreconcilably against the league of nations in any form because opposed to the principles upon which the American government was founded. He says:

"I am for everything that really is for the upbuilding and betterment of this America in which we live. For that reason I am for the repeal of the Panama Canal toll act so that America may enable the ships of her new merchant marine to pass through the canal the people of this country built without payment of a toll to British commerce, for that is what the present law means. For the same reason I am opposed to the present league of nations covenant. Were we to enter, it we would infringe those great principles upon which our government was founded and which are the bases of all our greatness and our inventive genuis. I am opposed to all monarchies and empires, and I cannot join with the Pecksniffs and Lickspittles who would make a monarchy appear more conserving of liberty than is free America. I do not want to see the vitality of the United States utilized to maintain the dominion of empires anywhere.

"We hold that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. The people of Ireland, the people of India, the people of Korea, the people of the Philippines have an inherent right to be free. I do not desire to see the United States enter into any league with foreign powers which would even tend to with hold from them the eventual accomplishment of that right. We also consider it self-evident that church and state should be separated, each performing its function for the good of all when apart and both suffering when either seeks to control the other. We have enjoyed the blessings of this separation so long that we hardly give it a second thought. Yet this principle does not exist in the states which are members of the league now assembled at Geneva. We stated in the Declaration of Independence, we provided in our Constitution, we fought through four long and bloody years because we believed that all men are created equal in opportunity and under the law. Why should we minimize that principle by allegiance to a league which does not guarantee it? We hold that a Republican form of government, based upon equality of representation and universal suffrage of all men and women without restriction as to wealth, creed or color, based upon a system of checks and balances between the legislative, executive and judicial branches, so that no man or set of men may obtain and keep arbitrary power, is the best form of government in the world.

"The present league of nations does not even mention any of those principles. It sets forth in no glorious preamble to an immortal document that these God-given principles are for all men for all time. Yet our fathers died for these principles. They left the Old World and founded this nation in the New in order that these principles might be established and preserved. They held them dearer than peace, dearer than life without them, and so they fought and died for them. We have been told that the league will assure permanent peace, as though that in itself were to be sought for above every other good. I do not believe it will bring peace. I am of the opinion that it will do the opposite. But even if it were true, I should be as bitterly opposed to it unless it assured a peace which would perpetuate everywhere the ideals upon which America was founded."

NEW BUSINESS HOUSE

Dr. J. P. Hayes is erecting a new business building on the lot next to the Alabama Power Company office building on First Avenue.

The new place will be occupied by the Clanton Motor Car Company, the authorized Ford dealers for Chilton County.

It will be quite a large building and is being built especially to accommodate the Ford people.

Judge Reynolds made a business trip to Birmingham on Monday.

BUILDING NEW BUNGALOW

The Farley Brothers, Bob and John, are engaged in the building of a fine new bungalow for Judge Reynolds on his place just across the creek on the Highway north of town.

DOG TAX NOTICE

Circuit Clerk, M. D. Foshee, asks us to state that he has been informed by the state tax authorities that Dec. 31st is positively the last day for paying dog taxes, and that no further extension of time will be made after that date.

The public should take due notice and be governed acordingly.

HARDING PLEDGES HIS GOOD WILL TO SENATE

CONGRESS TO COME INTO ITS OWN

Washington, Dec. 13,—"Mr. Harding's speech to the United States Senate on December 6th was an assurance to Congress and to the people that the election to the Presidency of one who has served in the National Legislature was a wise proceeding," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr.

"The keynote of the President-designate's short address is to be found in his declaration:

" 'When my responsibilities begin in the executive capacity I shall be as mindful of the Senate's responsibilities as I have been jealous of them as a member, but I mean at the same time to be just as insistent about the responsibilities of the executive. Our governmental good fortune does not lie in any surrender at either end of the avenue, but in the co-ordination and co-operation which becomes the two in a great and truly representative popular government.'

"No intimation of a 'Senate oligarchy' is to be found in such a clearcut statement, while, on the other hand the address breathes the determination to do away with the dictatorship under which this country for eight years has been laboring. 'I like the freedom, the association, the patriotic sense of responsibility which abides here,' asserted the speaker. 'I am conscious of the great place which Congress holds under our Constitution, and particularly sensible to the obligations of the Senate,' and he followed this with the expression of 'the wish of a colleague for the confidence and co-operation of the members of this body in the four years which begin next March 4th.'

"Something of a similar attitude of mind was indicated by the Democratic party when in its platform of 1912, on which the present chief executive was elected, it was declared:

" 'We believe in the preservation and maintenance in their full strength and integrity of the three co-ordinate branches of the Federal Government —the executive, the legislative, and the judicial—each keeping within its own bounds and not encroaching upon the just powers of either of the others.'

"But within a very short time after his inauguration, Mr. Wilson had reduced the Democratic Congress to such pitiful subservience that it has been rightly named a 'rubber stamp Congress,' and whatever his majority might say of him in the cloak-rooms, they jumped at the crack of his lash. The consequences of his despotism were visited on the nation. Ours became a one-man government. There was little Congressional co-operation with the executive, but much sullen assent to his commands, a great deal of shifting of responsibility to his shouldres, which meant laws miserably framed or accepted as worded by an Administration whose acquaintance with the nation's needs were derived from books or lacking altogether. Hence the legislative mess in which the country finds itself today.

"Nor did Mr. Harding neglect the Opposition: 'I am sure that the necessity of wise solution will inspire us to work to gether, to take common counsel, to be tolerant of one another and give the best which is in all of us to attain the ends which become our Republic at home and will maintain its high place among the nations of the earth.' Admitting that there could not always be agreement, he hoped to find common ground in the spirit of service, or, as Tennyson puts it: 'But for some true result of good, all parties work together.'

"The President-designate's remarks were an earnest of better understandings between the two branches of government. It is safe to predict that Mr. Harding's administration will go far toward vindicating the belief that men trained in the National Legislature are best equipped for the responsibilities of Chief Executive."

PANAMA CANAL NOT MAKING A PTOFIT NOW

Washington, Dec. 13.—Much is heard in the papers of the 'profits' of the Panama Canal," says the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "In the last fiscal year it is stated that tolls collected exceeded expenses by $2,387,599. That is all very well, but it does not represent profit in any sense of the word. In every business establishment the first consideration is to earn enough money to pay interest on the investment, and the next is to put money into an amortization fund or else write off a certain amount for depreciation each year. After those items are cared for then it is time to think of profits, deducting, of course, the cost of operation. In reporting on the Canal no account whatever is taken of interest or amortization. If they were considered, the so-called fixed charges would be many times the receipts from tolls.

"The Canal was not built, however, as a money making institution, but rather as a better means of defense of the two coasts of the United States and as an aid to American commerce and to that of the world. It is succussful in those respects. In fact, it is not uconceivable that in the future the Canal may enable the rapid concentration of our fleet at a threatened point on one coast or the other and save the nation from disaster. Viewed in that light the Panama Canal venture is a big ecnomic success. It is a mistake to lead the people to believe that a few million dollars on one side or the other of the ledger in the matter of tolls and operation costs amounts to anything. They should be led to look at the project in the light in which it was conceived, and in its relation to our economic welfare and national safety."

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The threatening elements of the weather did not dampen the ardour of the Sunday School last Sunday as 113 pupils were present. Also quite a good congregation in the morning to hear the practical sermon on The Making of Man. Owing to the rain at night just a little handful of folks were present, but a very pleasant hour was spent in the company of the Apostle Paul.

The regular services will be held next Sunday. The morning subject will be "The Joy of Religion."

If you are feeling sorry and sad
And want to feel happy and glad;
Come to hear this sermon on Sunday
It will help to cure Blues Monday.

The morning topic will be helpful, practical and humorous. A full church attendance will make each one present feel better. A good way to begin Christmas week. The morning service will be followed by a brief church conference as usual on the third Sunday, and the service will be so arranged as not to keep the congregation much longer if any after the regular time for closing.

The subject for the night service will be "The Ancient and Modern Judas, or hot shot from the shoulder against "Can't and Hypocrisy."

The more popular service is at night, as what is generally known as the Popular Crowd are present at night. We would like to make this the service for the masses. Though the building is not at all elegant you can, by your presence, help to furnish it and make it look better inside if not outside. We need you, we want you, the doors are wide open, the hand of welcome is extended.

The Christmas tree entertainment will be held on Friday, December 24. We are going to make every effort to get Santa Claus to stop at this church on his way to the North.

The regular Ladies Aid meets on next Monday. Appropriate Christmas services will be observed on Sunday, December 26th.

P. G. CARTER,
Pastor.

IN MEMORY

The death angel visited the home of A. J. Gray on Sept. 26th, 1920, and carried his soul to that home beyond the skies.

Mr. Gray was born March 28th. 1860, and died Sept. 26th, 1920, being nearly 61 years old at time of his death.

He left behind to mourn his loss a wife and seven children and a host of relatives and friends. Weep not dear friends and relatives for he has paid the debt that we must pay sooner or later. He has gone to dwell with Him above who has said, Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Oh! that sweet rest in Christ Jesus that we all desire. We should all prepare for we know not when we may be called to go. We know not when we may be called to face that awful bar of judgment where no man can answer for another, but for himself alone. His will shall be done and not ours. Let us try to live in the way that God has commanded us to live, that we may meet our dear loved ones that have gone before us. There is a time coming when we must say "Farewell" and as our Redeemer saw fit to take our dear one from us we should prepare to meet him in that better world that shall never end, where sin and sorrow comes no more.

Dear friends and relatives you have my heart felt wishes. May the blessings of our blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ rest and abide with you now and forever more, is my prayer.

Written by his son-in-law by request.

A. R. SCOTT.

WILL WORK STREETS

The officials of the town of Clanton promise us some improved streets as soon as the weather opens up in the spring so the work can be pushed forward.

In this connection the Town has bought a Fordson Tractor with which to pull the grading machines.

We hope the effort will meet with success and result in better streets for Clanton.

MISS WILLIAMS WORK-FOR GOLD STAR COUNTY

On Dec. 2, we received a letter from our State Secertary saying they were very much in need of money to help meet their plans, and unless the counties responded to their call this great work would be hindered. We are glad to say that Chilton is climbing, but we are far from the top yet, and we are asked by the state that each Sunday School give as much as one dollar per class. We know that even now we havent a school in Chilton county that couldn't give that much. And we are trying so hard to get at least $50.00 before Christmas, and we urge every school that can possibly do so to send us just what they feel like they can give. The Thorsby Congregational school pledged $10.00, on Dec. 2, I received a check for $17.50, a special contribution of $7.50. Walnut Creek pledged $5.00 and paid $8.60, making it another "over-the-top" school. If a few more of our schools would contribute as liberal as these two we wouldn't have any trouble getting the $96.25 that is yet due.

We are trying so hard to make Chilton County a Gold Star County before the State Convention which will be held in Sheffield in April, and our allottment is one of the points we must reach to make it. When we reach the standard we won't have so many people reported out of Sunday school, but we will know how many are in Sunday school, and every one in Chilton will be glad to know we are doing something in this great work.

DELLA WILLIAMS,
Sec. and Treas.

On Saturday night a group of friends gave a surprise party for Edwin Howard, who is at home on a furlough. An enjoyable time was reported by all who attended this interesting event.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society was entertained last week by Mrs. G. Berlin at her home. The usual business program was carried on, after which delightful refreshments were served. Victrola music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

The many friends of Miss Agnes Gerald will be pleased to learn that she intends to spend the holidays in Thorsby. Miss Gerald is a student at Piedmont College, Ga. She has also been studying voice and piano for some time and she will be heard in several numbers at the concert which is to be given at the Lutheran Church New Year's Eve.

Remember Christmas is soon here and the merchants are all lined up with full lines of holiday goods. Buy at home, and you not only help your merchant, but you will also help your community.

On next Monday evening, December 20th, the open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held. It is hoped that all members and prospective members be in attendance at this meeting as matters for the welfare of the town will be taken up. Committees on the various activities of the chamber have been organized, and it is hoped that many benefits will result from their activities.

We understand that Mr. W. H. Goodgame is to add another feature to his planing mill in the erection of a dry kiln. Lumber that has gone through the kiln, is said to be worth considerable more. The work on the new mill is progrossing steadily, and it will be in operation before the year is up.

People on trains as well as those who pass on the highway will soon have their attention called to a large sign to be erected in town alongside the highway which reads: "For all information ask Thorsby Chamber of Commerce."

The purpose of the sign is to let people know that we have a Chamber of Commerce, which will give to people any and all information, that they may wish concerning this place and locality. It is but the beginning of an extensive plan of advertising to be launched.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

There will be services at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning and evening. The sermon will be delivered by the Pastor, Rev. W. P. Lowery. The B. Y. P. U will hold its meeting at the usual hour.

The next meeting of the Ladies Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Goddard.

The Luther League of the Lutheran Church wishes to announce that on New Year's Eve. they will give a musical concert at the church. This concert will consist of vocal duets and solos, instrumental and quartetts. Selections will also be rendered by our orchestra which you all know is always good. An unusual treat is promised to all who attend this concert. Admission will be 15 and 25c. After the concert coffee and cake will be served at the Hardware store while waiting for the New Year.

Miss Marjorie Fox, teacher of music at Thorsby Institute, announces that on next Friday night, December 17th, the pupils of the music department will give a recital at Bates Hall. All are cordially invited to attend.

On Saturday night, December 18th, the two sides of the Helen Kellar Literary Society will hold their contest. This program, which consists of musical selections, readings, debates, etc., always proves very interesting, so you can't afford to miss Saturday night at Bates Hall.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

We would like to suggest that the stock holders in the local phone system, will at their annual meeting, look into the matter of getting the lines in better shape. There is no reason why we should not have better phone service in and out of town, so that we can easily get Mr. Farmer, when we want him, and both hear and be heard by him. It will be advantageous for both the merchant and farmer that good service be maintained.

666 is a prescription for Colds, Fever and LaGrippe. It's the most speedy remedy we know.

"Well, Old Man, How Are You?"

If Your Blood Is Rich and Red You Say, "Fine."

ENTHUSIASM IS RED-BLOODED

Try Pepto-Mangan if You Feel Weak and Look Pale

Sometimes you are almost down and out. You know you are not really sick, but you have a petered-out feeling. You eat little. You drag along. In the morning you look at your face in the mirror. You feel years older when you see how pale and haggard you are.

It is your blood. It needs red corpuscles. Instead of poking along half sick, why don't you try taking Pepto-Mangan, the blood tonic? It has just the ingredients weak blood needs. With red blood your energy and enthusiasm return. You eat better. You tackle and achieve.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form. The medicinal properties are identical.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure to get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by the name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.—Advertisement.

Out of town shoppers railroad fare refunded making purchases of $50.00 or more within radius of 25 miles.—Elmore's, Clanton, Ala.

At some time after midnight Saturday night the store of Harper and Billingsley was broken into and several articles of wearing apparel and food were taken. From the nature of the goods taken it appeared to be done by some boys who were traveling incognito on a passing freight and as the train stopped at the nearby switch, they thought it time to change clothes and eat lunch. They proceeded to break the front door glass and unlatch the lock. After taking some coats, pants, shirts and overalls, also some articles of food they stopped in the park where they effected the change of rainment.

In their hurry to catch the train as it left they left some of their old clothes which they had discarded. It is reported that they had been seen leaving Calera in the early hours Sunday morning, but further clues of their whereabouts have not been received.

666 will break a Cold, Fever and Grippe quicker than anything we know, preventing pneumonia.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since . . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

GIVE US BETTER SERVICE

The stockholders of the Peoples Telephone Company will have a meeting in Clanton next Monday. It will be the annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the next year and employing some one to operate the exchange in Clanton.

It is to be hoped that some plan will be devised for the next year that will give us better local telephone service. For the past few months especially, and practically all the past year the service has been very bad indeed. In fact unless it can be improved it is not worth having. We would get along just as well and probably better without any telephone at all.

We don't know who, if anybody, is to blame for this poor service. But we do know that the telephone system can be made serviceable, and it should be done without delay. Here's hoping that somebody will present the meeting next Monday with a formula that will put the telephones back to a useful basis.

WATCHING DIPPING VATS

The men who were deputized last spring to watch the dipipng vats when the dynamite process was in action are getting considerably riled because the county has not paid them for their services. They are of the opinion that they ought to be paid for their services and we agree with them exactly.

But then there is the question of the legality of the county's right to issue them warrants for this service. The Commissioners Court, we feel sure, wants to see these men paid for their services, and would be glad to issue them warrants for same, if they only knew it was legal to do so.

A few of those men who were employed to watch vats have asked that all who rendered such service meet the Commissioners Court here on January 4th to see if some adjustment of the matter can be reached. Judge Reynolds also invites these men to come before the Court in regard to the matter.

We hope it can be adjusted without further friction, so that the men who watched vats will be paid for the service, and the county officers in turn stand in the clear in paying them out of the county funds.

PRINTERS INK PAYS

The merchants who have used the most printers ink in their business during the past four months are the least hurt by the slump in prices. They have sacrificed much money on their stock by selling it below cost. But the people who trade at their stores have got the benefit of the loss of the merchant.

Those merchants who took the first chance to reduce their goods and were liberal in advertising their reductions to the public, have met a ready response from the buyers. The result is that those merchants are now more nearly down to the level of markets, where all merchants must eventually come. Those fellows who are holding on and taking their losses reluctantly are treading on thin air with no wind to drive their sails.

XMAS GREETINGS FROM POPE

Pope Benedict XV head of the Roman Catholic Church of the world and reputed vice-gerent of Christ on earth, has sent his Xmas greetings to that great body of Catholics and Knights of Columbus in America. He especially thanks and praises his devotees in America for the splendid efforts they have put forth in the past year to make America Catholic.

We may not be surprised in a few years to see the Catholics celebrating the complete capture of America and the overthrow of our system of free government. That is what they are planning for, and if the liberty-loving free-born sons and daughters of our land don't rise up and halt the procession they will accomplish their crafty designs.

THE SERPENT HE WARMED

Reports, apparently inspired from force, are being circulated to the effect that bolshevik influences are trying to depose President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. Now it is apparent what a grave mistake Mr. Gompers made in not fighting the McNamaras, the Mooneys, the striking Boston policemen, the Foster steel strikers, and the coal strikers whom the President and the Attorney General denounced as criminal, and various other disturbing elements in the Federation.

REPUBLICANS IN THE SOUTH

With the "Solid" South broken, and the greatest wave of Republican sentiment all over this country that there has ever been, the day of opportunity for the Republican party in the South has dawned. If present existing conditions in politics do not furnish the permanent foundation for Republican strength in the South on an equal with Democratic strength, neither the present generation nor the succeeding one will ever see Republicanism established in Dixie.

There were many people in the South who fought in the Confederate armies, still believing in the preservation of the Union and at heart were Republicans from principle. But reconstruction days under radical Republican administation made of those men bitter enemies of Republicanism because it was sought to put the white people of the South under the domination of the negro. One class of people in the South were anti-Republican before secession; another class became anti-Republican because of the Civil War; a third class became anti-Republican because of reconstruction. These three classes composed all the people in the South, and hence the new era after the Civil War found nothing but Democrats here.

Various conditions and causes of course have driven men away from the Democratic party in the last few years. Other conditions and cause: have naturally attracted them to the Republican party. The net result of these workings is found in the fac that in the last four years Tennessee and Oklahoma gained enough Republican votes to land those states in the Republican column on Nov. 2. During the same four year period Alabama gained over fifty thousand Republican votes.

Now returning to the question of the negro, we might say in all truth that the South is white, whether Democratic or Republican. National Republican party leaders must recognize that Republicans in the South are going to be as insistent for white supremacy down here as their Democratic neighbors are. And upon this very important phase of the question must be builded the future of the Republican party in the South if it is going to have any future here.

The great growth of Republican favor in the South has come about because the white people here who are of Republican sentiment have come to believe that this country and the Republican leaders are not going ever to try to place the negro in the South on on equal and superior to the white man. This confidence in the broad vision and common sense of the National Republican leaders caused thousands of white people in the South to vote the Republican ticket this year. This confidence must not be betrayed by party leaders. If it is, then it will be taps for Republicanism in the South.

If the Republican leaders at Washington will demonstrate to us that the negro is going to be kept in his place in Republican Tennessee and Republican Oklahoma, the same as he would be in Democratic Tennessee and Democratic Oklahoma, it will mean the acknowledgment of other states of the South to the rightness they already know exists in Republican economic and government principles.

The negro question in the South is and should be the same,whether the state or the United States is Democratic or Republican. The negroes have got no business running things in Tennessee or Oklahoma just because those states are now Republican. If Mr. Negro wants to sit beside white people in railroad trains let him go north of the Mason and Dixon line where he does not smell offensive to Democratic nor Republicans. If those states want to regard the negro thus, let them do it. The Souh, neither Republicans nor Democrats, take that kind of a view of him.

The negro is not a party problem in the North. That is, they are not all in one party, nor the special favorites of one party. Of course both parties up there try to get their votes.

The negro must not be fastened upon the Republican party in the South. He must not be fastened upon any party anywhere.

The way of Republicanism is open in the South. Show us that the Republican leaders of the North are willing to let the Souh alone in its negro problem, just as the Democratic leaders let it alone, and more states will be Republican. But if we are to be forced to kneel to the negro again, even those in the South who voted the Republican ticket this year will very promptly take backtrack.

If the Republican party fools them this time, it will be good night for Republicanism in Dixie for a mighty long time.

Just after No. 3 ran Wednesday night, we were surprised to see an an old friend back in Clanton in the person of Jim Lowe. Jim has for several months been working in Akron, Ohio, and he returns looking fine and dandy.

BENSON AWAKES

Evidence calling for criminal prosecutions in about a dozen cases have been submitted to the Department of Justice by Chairman Benson of the Shipping Board. The chairman is careful to explain that the cases are in no sense an outgrowth of the investigation being carried out by the Congressional Committee. The public, however, is apt to suspect a pretty close connection between the two.

THE EDITOR

Being an editor is a busy business. When grammatical or typographical errors appear the editor is to blame. When an advertisement is omitted the editor is to blame. When twenty little carrier boys miss one or two patrons, the editor is to blame. When any one connected with the newspaper makes any sort of mistake, the editor is to blame. When the policy of the newspaper runs contrary to yours, the editor is to blame. When an item of news is overlooked or necessarily omitted for lack of space, the editor is to blame. When a bill is wrong, the editor is to blame. You may not believe it, but God Almighty never put a man on earth that could make as many mistakes as an editor in one single day. —"Twinkles" in Tuscaloosa News.

NOTICE

Editor Union-Banner,

The Commissioners Court has been trying to get the Attorney General and Govenor to give an order for them to pay for watching the dipping vats last spring. The Attorney General says if the Govenor will give the order the Commissioners Court can legally pass the claims.

We have not been able up to this time to get the order, and it may take a suit to determine the legality of the claims.

The Commissioners Court will be in session January 4th, 1921, and would be glad for all that are interested in getting their pay for watching the vats to meet them at 10 o'clock A.M.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

A LETTER FROM MR. LEONARD MARTIN

Talladega, Ala., Dec. 10, 1920.

To the Editor of The Union-Banner and to my friends of Chilton County:

I kindly ask for a small space in your paper to say to my friends that it being only fifteen days until Christ's birthday, no doubt many of my friends will recall to memory the ways and means by which I used to celebrate that day. I am glad indeed to inform you of the fact that being superintendent of the Sunday School at the Second Baptist Church in Talladega, we are arranging for a Christman tree for the children at this church and also arranging a program to suit this occasion. I would indeed be glad to know if all of my former associates of Chilton County would spend this one Christmas, as well as many others, in a different way from the way we used to spend it. It is a great pleasure to me to state to you most emphatically that I have now been entirely free from the whiskey habit for over two years and that I have been, according to my judgment, a christian worker for the past fifteen months. Am truly glad to say that I feel like I am still growing in grace and in the knowledge of the truth each day. I would not have you believe or feel like in the least that I am writing this for any one to think that I am praising my self—be it far from that. I am writing this hoping this will be some benefit to some of my friends who might be led astray as I once have been. I yet realize the fact that we are none free from sin because "there is none good, no not one." But, thanks be to God, that he has left a way for our escape. Had it not have been for this we would have all been lost. I am praising God for his mighty works among men because he has used other men instrumentally in his hands to save my soul from enternal damnation, woe and misery. Since he has used other men for the saving of my soul, likewise I am trying to be instrumental in his hands for the saving of others.

I hope some time in the future I may have the opportunity to take the pulpit again in Chilton County to talk to my friends in person along this line. God says in his word that whosoever believeth on him shall not perish but have eternal life, therefore let us all believe on him and lean on his everlasting arm.

Yours as a Christian worker and a true friend to the people of Chilton County..

L. P. MARTIN,
Talladega, Ala., Box 32.

Mr. Jimmie Dykes of Route 2, was in Clanton Wednesday. While here he came in and paid up his subscription to the Banner.

GOODBYE, AND GET OUT!

The people not only want to say goodbye to Mr. Wilson on March 4th, but to every Wilson appointee to a position of trust as well. They signify that desire in the huge protest against Wilsonism on November 2nd. It is entirely unlikely, therefore, that the Senate will confirm the appointments now pending before it. Rather will the appointees be permitted to go out of office automatically when Congress comes to an end on the 4th of March. By so doing President Harding will have a free rein for his own policies without being hampered by a lot of Wilson holdovers.

CAPITOL CHAT

A VALUABLE ADDITION

Washington, Dec. 15.—Honorable Samuel S. Arentz of Nevada who will be a Member of the next Congress brings to his legislative duties a very broad practical experience. After technical training in an educational institution in Chicago he worked as a machinist draftsman, as a surveyor, assayor, mucker miner and timberman. He worked in the copper mines of Lake Superior, the gold and copper mines of Montana, the Black Hills of South Dakota, and in mining districts in Idaho, Utah and Arizona. He was Superintendent of the Nevada Douglas Copper Company, Chief Engineer of the Nevada Copper Belt Railroad, and Superintendent of construction of the Salt Lake and Utah Railroad Company. He has also served as consulting engineer for the United States Bureau of Mines and in a similar capacity in the operations of his own mining properties in Nevada, Utah and California. During the war he was Captain of Engineers in the United States Army. Notwithstanding all these extensive business interests he lives on a ranch in Smith Valley, Lyon County, Nevada. His election to Congress signalizes his first venture into politics, and he has the distinction of having won Nevada's Congressional seat for the Republican party.

TAPS FOR TUMULTY

It is estimated at the Capitol that there is little likelihood of the Senate confirming any of the President's appointments made since the adjournment of the last session on June 5th. The refusal to confirm will probably extend to Mr. Tumulty should he be appointed to the chief justiceship of the Court of Customs Appeals, as it is rumored he will be. With him on the court it would consist three Democrats and two Republicans, a condition that does not apeal to a Republican Congress on the eve of passing a new Republican protective tariff bill, the final interpretation of which would rest with the court. It is understood that opposition to Mr. Tumulty would come not only from Republican Senators but from many Democrats who are outspoken critics of Wilsonism. There are already too many Catholics holding fat jobs.

OPENING COVENANTS

One of the justices of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia (a Wilson appointee, by the way) recently ruled that information contained in the draft records of the War Department should be opened to the court. The ruling arose from civil proceedings in which a soldier's wife sought to obtain certain information given by her husband in his questionnaire. It is understood that the Adjutant General will appeal from the ruling of the court on the ground that the draft records are confidential. The final outcome of the case is of interest to every man who registered under the selective service law. If the information is divulged in one case, there is nothing to prevent similar publication in all cases where the precedent may be cited.

FORERUNNER OF PROTECTIVEV TARIFF

An import duty of 35 cents a bushel on wheat is proposed in a bill prepared by Congressman J. N. Tincher, of Kansas. The measure is designed for the protection of American wheat products from competition from Canada, Australia, and other countries. The bill wil be referred to the Ways and Means Committee of the House, who will consider it in connection with other measures that will be presented for the increase of various schedules in the Democratic tariff law now on the statute books.

HEAVY RAIN—LEAKING ROOFS.

Clanton has been enjoying an epidemic of leaking roofs the past few days. It started with the heavy rain of Sunday night, continued on through Monday, and up to this writing the rain still falls and the houses still leak.

Pat Murphy says his house top acted like a sieve on Sunday night. Monday Tom Taylor and Jesse Bi ser said their store roof was pou ing water on them like a funnell.

But as the rain comes down H sea Downs smiles right on and says e ver your house with red cedar shin les and you can smile too when it ra ns.

Don't ask Hosea if his hous is covered with red cedar. It may be for all we know, but very likely the reason he says use them is because he sells them.

PRUNING KNIFE READY

The estimate by the Wilson administration of the cost of carrying on the work of the executive departments in Washington for the next year is $136,000,000 more than the amount appropriated by Congress for the same work for the present year. It is a foregone conclusion, however, that Congress will scrutinize the estimates as closely as it did those for this year, and will make as drastic cuts in the amounts actually appropriated.

CHILTON COUNTY ABSTRACT CO.

M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Abstracts of Title Promptly Prepared at Reasonable Charges.

HEADQUARTERS for CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

We believe the general public will agree with us that no one ever saved any money on their purchases by attending a special sale. It is true that there is a certain class of merchandise priced up to sell at a "PRICE" and put out as a "LEADER" in order to create attention and get the people in the store. Did you realize that you pay dearly for those 19c, 28c, and 43c articles by the time you pay for the advertising and other expense incurred in one of the special sales? This is why we have not had a special sale. We don't have this extra expense, and by this we can offer you real STANDARD MERCHANDISE, no pick-ups, at a less cost than the special sale can afford to offer it.

A pair of BEACON shoes would certainly please him. We are showing them in all new shapes and leathers. Old prices were $6.50 to $12.00, now $4.50 to $9.00.

MEN'S AND BOY'S SUITS AND FURNISHINGS.

We have a wonderful assortment of Men's and Boy's suits and we are selling them regardless of cost, and nothing you could give would appeal to his fancy more than one of these stylish Suits. Men and Boys like wearable things.

Surprise him with one of these Suits. Enclose a Silk Shirt with that Suit.

Merchandise has declined and our entire stock is marked to agree with the LATEST WHOLESALE prices. Every article has been cut to the QUICK and we go as far as to GUARANTEE prices. LET US CONVINCE YOU.

Now you are going to need some PRACTICAL GIFTS for Christmas and this big store is prepared to solve the gift problem for you. We have practical gifts that will please Mother, Father, Sister, Brother and Sweetheart most. We ask you to study the list of gifts and make up your mind what you will give. We also advise that you shop early, while our stock is complete.

Gifts for Him

LYON SHIRTS (SILK OR MADRAS), LYON COLLARS, AUTO GLOVES, UNDERWEAR, OVERCOATS, MACKINAWS, TIES, HANDKERCHIEFS, BUSTER BROWN SILK AND LISLE HOSE, PREMIUR CLOTHES, BEACON SHOES, STETSON, VELOUR AND LYON HATS, SWEATER COATS, RAIN COATS.

COME in! Let us explain how the Budget Plan goes ahead with that New Edison for Xmas.

It breaks up the payments,—scatters them through 1921,—fits them to your pocketbook.

Besides, you're using an after-the-war dollar to buy a before-the-war value. The New Edison has gone up in price less than 15% since 1914. Mr. Edison has kept prices down by absorbing increased costs himself. You get the benefit.

STORM DAMAGE MONDAY

Last Monday there was a storm of tornado proportions which hit Marengo County, doing quite a bit of damage. Thirteen houses were destroyed near Funsdale, and eight people were injured. Very heavy rains have been reported from all over the state for Monday.

Visitor Honored.

Paying a special courtesy to her guest Mrs. Percy Pitts entertained at Bridge at the home of Mrs. W. A. Reynolds on Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Walter Christian was honoree.

The apartments were made bright by vases of fall flowers. Music on the Edison was enjoyed throughout the game, after which a lovely salad plate with coffee was served. Mrs. Christian received as guest prize a box of pretty handkerchiefs while Mrs. N. S. Johnson won as score prize a box of powder. Mrs. Pitts' guests included Mesdames Christian, N. S. Johnson, Hugh Simpson, Ervin Luckie, T. C. McSwain, Grady Reynolds. Misses Roberta Curry, Alice Stanfield.

Wednesday Club Meets With Mrs. Simpson.

Mrs. Hugh Simpson proved a charming hostess on last Wednesday when she entertained the members of the Wednesday Card Club. The apartments were made attractive with baskets of chrysanthemums and potted plants. At the conclusion of the game a tempting salad plate with hot coffee was served.

Miss Leona Pipes made a trip to Birmingham Saturday.

Mrs. George Polk spent several days in Birmingham this week.

Mrs. Grady Reynolds and children left Wednesday morning to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. Morgan, in Montgomery.

Mrs. E. C. Maye went to Montgomery Tuesday evening to join Rev. Maye.

Dr. Pierson of the Clayton St. Methodist Church of Montgomery will succeed Dr. Maye as pastor of the First Methodist Church of Clanton.

You know it means something when Elmore's make reduction from their already low one price cash system.

The longer the league of nations remains in session, the more bitter become the controversies between the members.

ONLY THAT, AND NOTHING MORE

State Department officials are reported to have declared that the American mediator in Armenia "would have all the influence and prestige of the United States government behind him in his negotiations." If the report is true, the Department is being sadly mislead. The time has passed when the President or anybody appointed solely by him can go to Europe backed by the prestige of the United States Government. It takes something more than autocratic designation from the White House to create such an agency. The delegate to Armenia will represent the President and him alone. He will take with him the prestige that enshrouds Mr. Wilson at the present time, which, it may be remarked in passing, is practically nil.

Will H. Hayes, National Chairman of the Republican Party, is an Elder in the Presbyterian Church. Upon a recent visit to Marion, Ohio, he and Mr. Harding worshipped together at a Presbyterian church in that city.

Leave the house to be cleaned up later next Tuesday morning and be on time at the opening of Elmore's Pre-January clearance sale.

PLIGHT OF EUROPE'S CHILDREN STAGGERS

3,500,000 Facing Starvation Can Only Be Saved by America's Response to Joint Appeal.

It is utterly impossible for one who has not actually seen the misery of the early Autumn in Europe to visualize what the children of the Eastern and Central portions of the continent face this winter. To say that 3,500,000 children have no alternative to starvation or death from disease except American aid, is startling, but independent observers by the score and careful scientific surveys of the economic and crop conditions overseas brand the figure as conservative.

In Poland, for instance, where 1,808,000 youngsters last year subsisted almost entirely on the one free American meal a day that they received, conditions as winter closes down, are worse than ever before. The Bolshevik invasion stripped large portions of the country of all grain. Professor E. D. Durand, Food Advisor to the Polish government, after an exhaustive survey, has reported that only forty per cent is available of the food necessary to carry the population through the winter.

In the city of Vienna tests conducted in the American Relief Administration food kitchens showed that 52 per cent of the children between the ages of 6 and 14 were "seriously under-nourished." Thirty-three per cent were markedly under-nourished, 11 per cent were slightly subnormal and only 4 per cent approached the state of a normal American child. The American Relief Administration is feeding 300,000 Austrian children every day now, and there is no chance of dimunition of need before nex harvest.

The spectacle of the medical needs of Europe's children is equally appalling. Estimates reaching the American Red Cross as to needs for medical service in the destitute areas this winter include: Old Austria-Hungary, 750,000; new Poland, 1,500,000; Czecho-Slovakia, 200,000; Serbia, 150,000, and Roumania, 100,000. In the fiscal year of 1919-20 the Red Cross has reached with the veritable gift of life 1,500,000 children in the affected areas. Tuberculosis is prevalent to a terrific degree. Five children out of seven in the city of Warsaw, for instance, have been found to be tubercular. Typhus is widespread; rickets, the right hand of under-nourishment is almost universal, and cholera lifts its grim head constantly in one place and another.

The European Relief Council, comprising the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., seeks $33,000,000 with which to meet the situation. It has estimated that at least $28,000,000 must be had for food and $10,000,000 for medical service to avert absolute disaster among the threatened children. Checks may be sent to your local committee or to Franklin K. Lane, treasurer European Relief Council, 42 Broadway, New York, or to the Child Feeding Fund, Literary Digest, New York City.

Worth Saving.

The features of this girl portray the finest type of Polish childhood that now lies engulfed in hunger and disease and all their attendant miseries. Relief already administered by America has preserved her beauty and freshness, albeit her eyes betray the suffering she has seen, but literally millions in her own and adjacent countries still have no one to look to but America as another winter of horror closes in upon them. To the end that their prayer may not go unanswered eight leading American relief organizations have banded together in a joint appeal in behalf of Europe's suffering children. They are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Relief Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year.

THE LEAGUE FUNCTIONING

"The League of Nations is functioning," triumphantly chirp the battered remnant of Wilson organs, recovering consciousness after the blow dealt by the referendum and referring to the assembly at Geneva.

Functioning? So its—after a fashioning.

In the olden times the great fair at Donnybrook used to function, wonderfully, And so at Geneva, controversially speaking, the welkin rings with the thwack of the shillalah and invitations to tread on the tail of me coat.

At last Saturday's session the proceedings were specially enlivened by Delegate LaFontaine of Belgium and Delegate Rowell of Canada.

The Belgian gentleman sharply brought the deliberations down from the region of lovely resolutions in political astronomy for the ending of all wars, to the region of brass tacks by declaring it is "high time to tell the peoples (what they know already) that the time for disarmament is not yet come," and pointing out that several league nations are already walking round with chips on their shoulders, and that moreover even while the doves are supposed to be cooing and billing at Geneva, "a million Armenians are starving, while there are forey-one states with their troops and fleets at Constantinople." and doing nothing for the simple reason that their respective governments are as suspicious as cats of the ulterior purposes of each other.

So far from being chucked out by the sergeant at arms, the inharmonious Belgian was "roundly applauded" by delegates with a sense for facts.

Also up rose Delegate Rowell of Canada and fluttered the dovecote by acidly remarking:

The league must not bind itself to the fact that it is regarded with hostility in the United States.

It should be said too that across the Atlantic we have a diffenent viewpoint from that expressed here by the other members. Canada can not accept intrusion into her domestic affairs. She won't have her raw materials pooled by outsiders.

Same here, Mr. Rowell, same here!

And also beyond the shadow of a doubt in Australia which is openly and admittedly sick and tired of being dragged by the scuff of the neck into political cockpit of Europe to be bled white and taxed poor in wars for whose animus and origin she is no more responsible than the people in Mars.

Mr. Wilson's league of nations, as conceived by him, is so obviously and visibly disintegrating and is so evidently tending to resolve itself into something else, neither so utopian nor so self-cantradictory as an arrangement for permanent peace by armed compulsion, that it is morally certain the wisdom of the American electorate will be vendicated by the course of the assembly at Geneva.

Meanwhile, God speed the assembly as regards its benevolent intentions for the promotion of peace.

ATTENDING TO CHICKENS AND GARDEN

"My neighbors are surprised to see me looking so well, for they thought I would not live to see summer. I had such pain around my heart as to cause me to faint. I knew it came from bloating and from pressure of gas in my stomach. A friend in St. Louis told me to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I now feel better than in all my life. I am doing my ownu work, attending to my chickens and my garden and have cleaned house." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Adv.

STAGGERED ABOUT LIKE A DRUNK MAN

Was Dizzy, Nervous, Back was Lame, Stomach Full of Gas and Bowels Constipated. Gets unusual Results by Taking Dreco.

Dreco does its curative work in a simple, straight forward way. It wastes little time getting all its energies to work, feeding the tired, worn-out nervous tract, filling the arteries with rich, new blood, and building up the body for its fight against disease. Read what Mr. T. B. Menefee of 114 South Cedar Street, Mobile, Ala., says:

"For some time I have suffered with nervous pains in my back and limbs, especially the joints. It struck me first in the hips, then the knees got painful; then the shoulders and elbows. My back gave me a great deal of trouble, especially when I got up in the morning, and also when I would make a quick move or bend. I was also troubled with constipation, headaches, nervousness, so I did not sleep well, and my apetite was about all gone. I was attracted by the statements I read in the papers about what Dreco had done for so many other people, and decided to try it, with the result that by the time I had finished one-half of the first bottle, my pains had left and the stiffness was wearing away. I can now jump right out of bed without the slightest pain at all; can stoop about and climb stairs without any trouble! The constipation is entirely gone. I never have a headache and I have an enormous appetite.

"I feel perfectly well now but am going to keep it up until I take another bottle just to "Make sure."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Company.

GLENDALE

The much needed consolidated school continues to bring forth expressions of approbation where ever it is understood that the children will be provided with comfortable vehicles in which to ride.

Together with holding cotton for a higher price a wave of cross tie cutting is sweeping the country.

The marriage of Miss Lena Scarbrough to Mr. J. A. Forbes was quietly solemnized at the home of her father, Mr. R. E. Scarbrough last Friday evening at 7:30.

The home was tastefully adorned in Xmas. evergreens and chrysanthemums. Only a few relatives and friends were present and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Wilson.

The bride wore a becoming suit of mid-night blue with brown trimmings and accessories to match.

After a few days spent with relatives they will leave for their home in Wetumpka where Mr. Forbes is a prosperous farmer.

The bride has a sweet sunny disposition and she will be missed by a host of friends who regret that she will not continue to reside at Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hand spent the week-end with Mr. Robert Hand, who has recently bought a home at Clanton.

Scissors sharpeners, furniture polishers and insurance agents are beginning to infest the neighborhood. Surely the farmer is not the only one that is experiencing a change.

Ladies if you want to purchase real up to date wearables for your self and children you can't afford to stay away from Elmore's Pre-January Clearance Sale.

Worn Down, Out of Heart

Georgia Lady, Worn-out and Tired, Tells How She Was Helped by Ziron Iron Tonic.

THE personal experience of Mrs. Nannie Phillips, of Powder Springs, Ga., is printed below in her own words:

"I was in a worn-out condition. My stomach was out of order. I didn't sleep well. I was tired all the time. I couldn't half eat, and didn't rest well at night.

"I would get out of heart and blue. I would feel like I was going to be down in bed. Yet I kept dragging around.

"We heard of Ziron, and from what I read, I was sure it wouldn't hurt me, if it didn't help me. But after taking it, I found it really helped me, and I sent back for more. I ate better, felt much stronger. I am sure Ziron is a splendid tonic."

Many people, who are worn down and disheartened, due to stomach disorders and nervous ills, find relief by toning up their blood with Ziron Iron Tonic.

Tell your druggist you want to try Ziron on our money-back guarantee.

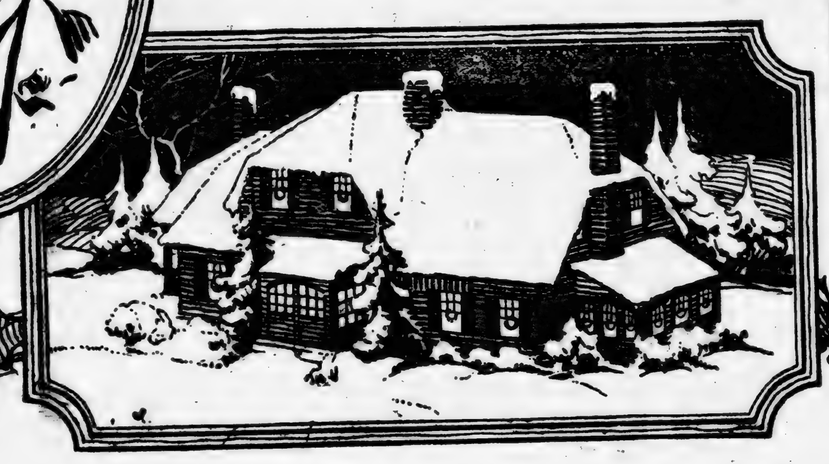
Thomas A. Edison Wants To See An Amberola In YOUR Home This Christmas!



Last year many thousands of families enjoyed an Amberola on Christmas as the result of Mr. Edison's expressed wish to bring music to every home in the land. This Christmas will witness more thousands of Edison's Amberola Phonographs in happy homes on Christmas morning, because you again have the opportunity to own an Amberola practically on your own terms! Just think what this means!

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

is the world's greatest phonograph value—perfected in every detail by the inventor of the phonograph! The Amberola has proved its superiority over high-priced "talking machines" and commercial phonographs in numerous public tests! And you can own this wonderful phonograph—you and your family can enjoy its exquisite music this Christmas right in your home—even though you have felt you could not yet afford a phonograph!

Remember, as Mr. Edison's authorized dealer, we are bound to carry out the spirit of his wish—it is up to us to make it possible for you to own an Amberola right away! We are ready and willing to do so. We know the Christmas season is a drain on your resources—at this time you cannot make any big expenditure. Well, you won't have to! You can have an Amberola practically on your own terms! Let us know just how much or how little you can pay now, and what future payments will be most convenient and easy for you—and we will work out a satisfactory arrangement. We insist on only one condition—

Act Immediately! Come to our store or write to us at once—every minute is valuable. Otherwise our stock of Amberolas may be exhausted and we may have to disappoint you. If you want an Amberola in your home Christmas morning, call or write today—tomorrow—please!

U. S. Investigated Wilson Covenant

LEAGUE BLINDLY SIGNED UP BY LESS DISCERNING NATIONS.

Washington, Dec. 21—"It appear from the proceedings at Geneva tha the United States, of all nations, wa the only one to investigate closely th effect of the league of nations upo its welfare, should it become a mem ber," declares the Republican Publ city Association today. "The glit tering generalities of the Wilson cov enant blinded less discerning nation to its dangers, and in their eagerne to turn anythig that held hopes fo world peace they rushed to its sup port. But the Geneva discussion have revealed to all the participant what one observer terms the aston ishing vagueness and obscurity of th covenant. Even Mr. Balfour of th British delegation and M. Viviani o France are unable to interpret it provisions.

"As the members have discovere statements and omissions in the co enant prejudicial to their own inte ests they have sought the adoption o amendments, only to find that ever amendment must receive the unan mous approval of the nine nation forming the league council and, i addition, the approval of a majorit of the nations composing the assem bly. In short, it is practically im possible to alter the original lan guage of the undertaking, a fac early emphasized by the debates i our own Senate. Realizing the hope lessness of revising the covenant t meet the widely divergent views o the forty or more member nation the committee appointed to conside the various amendments propose reported against them all. Thereu on cabled instructions from the home government, withdrew fro further participation in the proceed ings.

"Another disconcerting fact tha appears to have just dawned upo the lesser members of the assemb is that the covenant bestows contr of the league council in perpetuit upon the Big Five which dominate the peace conference at Paris. Qui naturally the smaller countries do n take kindly to the domination th all future time of the executive boo of the league by the very nations tha wrote the covenant. And, of cours it is quite impossible to alter that r lation through amendment, is the co sent of each member of the counc is necessary, which in this case wou never be granted.

"The notorious Article 10 of th covenant, about which revolved mo of the fight on the league in th country, has received similar denu

DILLINGHAM'S IMMIGRATION BILL

Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont is the author of a bill to restrict all immigration into this country to not more than five per cent per year of the total aliens of any one nationality now in the United States. The Senator estimates that the passage of his bill would fix a maximum of about 37,000 for immigrants from northwestern Europe, and fron southern and eastern Europe Turkey and Asia of about 256,000. Mr. Dillingham has given many years of study to the immigration problem. He was chairman of the Immigration Commission of some years ago, which collected many volumes of valuable testimony on the question. For many years he was chairman of the Senate Immigration Committee. The measure recently introduced by the Senator is the culmination of a long study of the problem.

WILSON MISMANAGEMENT

Much unnecessary loss to the taxpayers was caused by the long delay of President Wilson in appointing the new Shipping Board, according to Senator Wesley Jones of Washington, Chairman of the Commerce Committee of the Senate. The merchant marine act provides that government owned vessels cannot be sold to aliens except after thorough consideration by the Board. While the vacancies existed the Board was unable to function, and for a long period of time the government was compelled to bear the expense of the upkeep on scores of useless ships that could readily have been sold. "A vast sum has been spent on such vessels, declares Senator Jones, "and, in addition, there has been a material loss due to depreciation and deterioration."

REPUBLICANS AGREE UPON APPROPRIATION.

Leaders Will Stand For $100,000,000 Highway Measure For State Aid Works.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—Republican leaders of the House have agreed upon an appropriation of $100,000,000 for state road aid, it became known today at an executive session of the roads comittee. It has not been decided, however whether to make this amount available for work during the coming fiscal year or for that year and the year following.

A bill introduced by Representative McArthur, Republican, of Oregon, now before the roads committee would make $400,000,000 of federal funds available during the next four years, but it developed that the Republican steering committee has decided that in the interests of economy the appropriation should be limited to $100,000,000 and should not cover more than a two-year period.

OFFICERS TAKE WARNING

The filing of impeachment proceedings in the Supreme Court of Alabama against the Sheriff of Lauderdale County, and the action of the Executive Department against some other County Sheriffs for alleged neglect of their duty in law enforcement might be taken as a hint by other law enforcement officers to get busy and save themselves from arraingment on like charges.

It is evident that Governor Kilby expects the county officials of the state who have the enforcement of the laws in their hands to see that those laws are enforced.

Boston Transcript—It is estimated that Uncle Sam will need $4,653,856,759.00 for living expenses next year, but there are signs that he will manage to worry along on a sum considerably less.

TELEPHONE MEETING POSTPONED AGAIN

The meeting of the directors of the Peoples Telephone Co., which was to be held at the court house in Clanton on last Monday, was postponed because there was not a quorum present, and no business could be transacted.

Another meeting is called for Monday, January 3, 1921, to be at the court house at 10 o'clock, a.m. Every telephone line that is connected with the Clanton central is urged to elect someone to represent their line in the meeting on January 3, and see that the representative is on hand at the proper time and place.

There is no use to deplore the poor service that we are getting out of our rural telephone system, and then when the time comes to hold the business meeting nobody come. That is the reason we have got in such a bad fix with the telephones. So many of the phone holders have lost interest in the proposition and expect somebody else to look after the business. Unless we are all going to come together and devise some plan to pull the thing out of the hole, we shall continue to be without telephone service.

The organization has never been any too well perfected. And now, if what interest there has been in the past is to be lost, we had as well throw our phones out at the back door, and go after a fellow when we need him. There is no use trying to call him with the phones we have.

We urge all the phone lines to send their representative to the meeting on January 3.

IN MEMORY

Buell Smith, the son of Mr. Levert and Mrs. Rebekah Smith, departed this life on last Wednesday morning, December 15th, and he was laid to rest in the Mt. Nebo Cemetery Friday morning. Rev. Gipson conducted the funeral services.

Buell had just entered manhood, when he was called away from earth. He leaves a father and mother, three brothers and one sister. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Ewell Robinson)

In the initial game of the basket ball season Thorsby Institute defeated the High School quintet by the close score of 15 to 14. The game was hard fought and intensely interesting from beginning to end.

Rev. P. G. Carter conducted our devotional exercises one day last week, and gave us a very interesting talk on a self-made man.

A member of the Department of Education spent a day with us a few days ago. He expressed himself as being very much pleased with the progress being made by the students and spoke very commendably of the enthusiasm with which the student body entered upon their work.

A good many of former high school students have been visiting us this week, among them are Messrs. Cecil Smith, Vincent Gragg, and Misses Warnene Spigener, Margaret Hester and Mary Upchurch.

A joint program of the Lanierian and Tutwiler Societies was held in the auditorium last Friday. Exceptionally interesting programs were rendered. The Societies have become the center of interest in school and we are all looking forward to the meetings after the holidays.

The teachers were agreeably surprised by the members of their classes Friday when each were presented with presents. To Mr. Alverson the Seniors gave a pair of cuff links. To Mr. Clark the Freshmen gave a gold knife and chain. To Miss Rogers the Sophomores gave a box of Stationery. To Miss Wesley the Junnors gave a beautiful umbrella.

School closed Tuesday, Dec. 21st, for the Christmas holidays. Work will be resumed Monday, Jan. 3rd.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Baptist Sunday School of Jemison will have a Christmas Tree on Friday night, Dec. 24th, to which everybody is cordially invited. The program of exercises will be held at the Baptist Church, beginning at six thirty o'clock. The children will render a program appropriate for the occasion.

LARSON-FORSMAN.

Mrs. Marie Forsman of Thorsby announces the marriage of her daughter, Anna, to Mr. August Larson, on December 21st, 1920. Miss Forsman is a daughter of the late Mr. C. L. Forsmann. Due to the recent bereavement of the family a very quiet wedding was held at the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Larson will reside on the Forsman place in Thorsby.

CHILD DEAD

The one-year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Wyatt, died at the family home in Clanton at eight o'clock on Tuesday night. The funeral was buried in the Concord cemetery.

U. S. Investigated Wilson Covenant

LEAGUE BLINDLY SIGNED UP BY LESS DISCERNING NATIONS.

Washington, Dec. 21—"It appears from the proceedings at Geneva that the United States, of all nations, was the only one to investigate closely the effect of the league of nations upon its welfare, should it become a member," declares the Republican Publicity Association today. "The glittering generalities of the Wilson covenant blinded less discerning nations to its dangers, and in their eagerness to turn anythig that held hopes for world peace they rushed to its support. But the Geneva discussions have revealed to all the participants what one observer terms the astonishing vagueness and obscurity of the covenant. Even Mr. Balfour of the British delegation and M. Viviani of France are unable to interpret its provisions.

"As the members have discovered statements and omissions in the covenant prejudicial to their own interests they have sought the adoption of amendments, only to find that every amendment must receive the unanimous approval of the nine nations forming the league council and, in addition, the approval of a majority of the nations composing the assembly. In short, it is practically impossible to alter the original language of the undertaking, a fact early emphasized by the debates in our own Senate. Realizing the hopelessness of revising the covenant to meet the widely divergent views of the forty or more member nations, the committee appointed to consider the various amendments proposed reported against them all. Thereupon cabled instructions from their home government, withdrew from further participation in the proceedings.

"Another disconcerting fact that appears to have just dawned upon the lesser members of the assembly is that the covenant bestows control of the league council in perpetuity upon the Big Five which dominated the peace conference at Paris. Quite naturally the smaller countries do not take kindly to the domination thru all future time of the executive body of the league by the very nations that wrote the covenant. And, of course, it is quite impossible to alter that relation through amendment, is the consent of each member of the council necessary, which in this case would never be granted.

"The notorious Article 10 of the covenant, about which revolved most of the fight on the league in this country, has received similar denunciation at Geneva. The fact that the article was framed and inserted at the personal insistence of Mr. Wilson appears not to lessen the big storm against it. Members have boldly asserted that they did not care to guarantee the integrity of all other members, and Canada introduced a resolution to eliminate the objectionable language. But that amendment, like all others, was rejected, and the obligation for mutual defense among the 40-odd members still remains a thorn in the side of each of them.

"The people of the United States have renewed reason for congratulation that theirs is a republic in fact as well as in name. The assumption of obligations such as those contained in the league covenant was a question for their decision and not for the determination of authorative leaders for them. Their representatives in the Senate saved them from the pitfalls into which the individual in the White House would have plunged the nation, and the people themselves by popular vote, condemned the covenant. Had the citizens of other countries been given equal opportunity for investigation and action upon the league it is probable that the Geneva meeting would never have assembled."

KAHN ON THE JAP QUESTION

Washington, Dec. 21—Everybody should read the address to the House of Hon. Julius Kahn, of California, delivered December 9th, on the "Japanese Problem from a historical View Point." Mr. Kahn calls attention to the fact that in closing our doors to Japanese laborers we simply follow in the footsteps of Japan herself. That "it is a well-known fact that no Chinese or Korean laborer is allowed to enter any Japanese territory, for the reason that the laborers of China and Korea work for smaller wage than the Japanese laborers. . . . Japan herself, is doing to the laborers of China and Korea what she claims is racial hate or prejudice when done by us to Japanese laborers." It is not racial hatred which is behind this movement, says Mr. Kahn, it is due to a purely economic objection, and he calls attention to the fact that no objection has ever been made to the admission into this country of Japanese professional men, financiers, religious teachers, bona fide merchants, students, or travelers.

With respect to the State law forbidding Japanese to acquire land in California, Mr. Kahn points out that Japan herself does not allow an alien to own an inch of land in Japan; that while a law had been enacted by the Imperial Diet to remove these restrictions, it could not go into effect until promulgated by the Emperor, and though the law was adopted in 1910, nothing has been done in 11 years to make it effective. Mr. Kahn's address is to be published as a separate document.

"PHONEY" MONEY PLOT IN THE SOUTH UNCOVERED.

Chattanooga Banks Receive Flock of Raised Notes; Efforts Directed at the South.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 21—What is believed to be a scheme to flood the Southern states with "phoney" money was unearthed here today when the local banks were flooded with raised bills turned in by merchants making deposits, the figures "10" and "20" being pasted over Federal Reserve notes of the denominations of $1 and $2.

Bankers stated that $10 and $20 bills had evidently been secured in large quantities and numbers clipped from one corner and pasted on the $1 and $2 bills. A quantity of this mutilated currency has been secured by local banks, some of them being made to appear as if the missing numbers had been burned off.

The work of the counterfeiters is not noticeable unless close scrutiny is made, the "20" and "10" being pasted so neatly and closely on the $1 and $2 bills as to harmonize with the other engrossing.

SPECIAL MUSIC SUNDAY AT CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday being Christmas morning, interesting services will be held at this church, and some special music rendered by the choir, including a specially arranged quartet.

The subject for the morning sermon will be "A Happy Christmas Morn." It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the membership and friends present at this service.

A Sunday School Christmas Tree will be observed on Friday night, with an interesting program by the children. Santa Claus will also be present to dispense his gifts of good cheer to all the children present. The offering for the tree will be made on Sunday morning.

There will be no service next Sunday night at this church, owing to the welcome service that will be tendered to Dr. Pierson, the incoming Pastor of the Methodist Church, as successor to Dr. Maye. We trust all the Baptists of the community will join in this union service and help to make it a royal and hearty welcome. Co-operation and brotherly love will help to win Clanton for Christ and the church.

We cordially invite everybody to our services. The Sunbeam bands and B. Y. P. U. Bands will meet as usual next Sunday.

Each person attending the Christmas tree entertainment on Friday night is asked to bring an offering for the orphan's home, and thus encourage not only the spirit of receiving but also the spirit of giving.

Impeachment Case Lauderdale Sheriff

Governor Thos. E. Kilby has directed Attorney General J. Q. Smith to institute immediately, impeachment proceedings, against George W. Mitchell, as Sheriff of Lauderdale County, Alabama. Instructions to this effect are contained in a letter transmitted from the Chief Executive to the Attorney General Monday.

The proceedings the Governor directs are to be based on charges of perjury, willful neglect of duty, corruption in office and on such grounds as the evidence said to have been transmitted with the letter may justify.

The letter of instruction from Gov. Kilby to Attorney General Smith is as follows:

"Pursuant to the statutes in such cases made and provided, you are hereby directed to immediately institute impeachment proceedings against George W. Mitchell as Sheriff of Lauderdale County, Alabama, on the following charges:

1. The commission of a crime involving moral turpitude while in office, viz: the crime of perjury.
2. Willful neglect of duty.
3. Corruption in office.
4. On such ground as the evidence herewith transmitted to you in your opinion justifies.

It is understood that actual impeachment proceedings will be filed in the Supreme Court of Alabama, on Tuesday by Judge Horace C. Wilkinson, special counsel for the State. Thereafter in the regular course of procedure, Sheriff Mitchell will be tried on the charges brought before the state's highest legal tribunal, the date for the hearing to be fixed by the Court.

Mitchell is the second Alabama Sheriff against whom action has been taken by the State Executive Department in the last 48 hours. On Saturday Judge Wilkinson went to Wetumpka where after a conference with Circuit Judge B. K. McMorris, a special term of the Circuit Court was called, and a special grand jury ordered to convene to investigate alleged complaints against Sheriff John Strength, of Elmore County. In case the evidence warrants it, charges will be filed in the Supreme Court for the removal of the Sheriff, but if the evidence does not warrant such action he will be exonerated.

The special session of the Elmore County Circuit Court opened Tuesday morning, and the special grand jury will convene at the same time.

HEADQUARTERS for CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

We believe the general public will agree with us that no one ever saved any money on their purchases by attending a special sale. It is true that there is a certain class of merchandise priced up to sell at a "PRICE" and put out as a "LEADER" in order to create attention and get the people in the store. Did you realize that you pay dearly for those 19c, 28c, and 43c articles by the time you pay for the advertising and other expense incurred in one of the special sales? This is why we have not had a special sale. We don't have this extra expense, and by this we can offer you real STANDARD MERCHANDISE, no pick-ups, at a less cost than the special sale can afford to offer it.

A pair of BEACON shoes would certainly please him. We are showing them in all new shapes and leathers. Old prices were $6.50 to $12.00, now $4.50 to $9.00.

MEN'S AND BOY'S SUITS AND FURNISHINGS.

We have a wonderful assortment of Men's and Boy's suits and we are selling them regardless of cost, and nothing you could give would appeal to his fancy more than one of these stylish Suits. Men and Boys like wearable things.

Surprise him with one of these Suits. Enclose a Silk Shirt with that Suit.

Merchandise has declined and our entire stock is marked to agree with the LATEST WHOLESALE prices. Every article has been cut to the QUICK and we go as far as to GUARANTEE prices. LET US CONVINCE YOU.

Now you are going to need some PRACTICAL GIFTS for Christmas and this big store is prepared to solve the gift problem for you. We have practical gifts that will please Mother, Father, Sister, Brother and Sweetheart most. We ask you to study the list of gifts and make up your mind what you will give. It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Montgomery, Alabama.
November 22, 1920.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at a Special Session held in the year 1920, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, at a Special Election ordered by the Legislature to be held on Tuesday, February 8, 1921;

AND, WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is required by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thos. E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that a Special Election will be held on February 8, 1921, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"The Highway Bond Commission is authorized to issue and sell, with the approval of the Governor, not over five million dollars of the State Bonds heretofore authorized by the Amendment to the Constitution, known as Article XX, to bear such a rate of interest, not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, as the Highway Bond Commission may find necessary to secure the sale thereof."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 22nd day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY,
Governor.

Tobacco,	420,000
Total,	$233,520,000

ALL SHOT TO PIECES

The league of nations assembly is considering means for carrying into effect that provision of the covenant which prescribes economic blockade as the penalty to be enforced against offending countries. But even in that matter, referred to by friends of the league as the most potent weapon in the covenant for the preservation of peace, views of the delegates differ to such an extent that concerted action is practically impossible. It is understood by the public that the assembly by its action merely interpreted Art. 16 of the covenant, which prescribes that any member of the league resorting to war shall be subjected "to the severance of all trade and financial relations, the prohibition of intercourse between their nations and the nations" of any other state, as well as the prevention of "all financial, commercial, or personal intercourse" between its citizens and those of the rest of the world.

The accepted meaning of that article has been that it contemplated concerted action by the league as a whole against an offending nation, but amendments inserted by the Swiss delegate to the assembly changing the report of the committee provide that individual states shall decide whether there shall be an economic blockade or not. Of course individual states could blockade another before a league of nations was ever dreamed of. The whole object of the league was to create an invincible power through unity of action of its members, and with that gone, as apparently it is by the report just adopted the league becomes a meaningless thing.

FUNERAL OF GORDON S. JONES

The remains of Mr. Gordon Jones, who died on Friday night at the age of 45 caused from a blow on the head given by Robert Teel, were buried on Monday, December 20th in the cemetery of the Isabella Methodist Church of which he was a member from his boyhood. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. P. G. Carter, Baptist Minister of Clanton, in the presence of a large number of friends and sympathizers.

Mr. Jones was a quiet, unassuming kind of a man, and well liked by all who knew him. He leaves behind an aged father, a widow and one son. He was taken unexpectedly in the prime of life while enjoying the best of health. He was known as a good husband, a kind father and a good provider. The sympathy of Clanton is extended to all who mourn after him.

3,500,000 CHILDREN FACING STARVATION

Vast Relief Effort Launched by Eight Leading American Organizations to Avert Tragedy.

The most spontaneous as well as the largest consolidation of effort in the history of American relief and charitable organizations has grown out of the disaster which threatens 3,500,000 European children this winter. To the headquarters of every agency that dispenses American mercy overseas has come one steady cry for months past; the children, most helpless and blameless sufferers in the track of war, will perish by the thousands before next harvest unless America saves them!

When Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, returned from a recent trip abroad, his report throbbed with the need of the children. From the feeding-stations of the American Relief Administration throughout eastern and central Europe came letters, cables, pleas of every sort. The Protestant churches sent investigators into after-war conditions and every report breathed the impending tragedy of starving and diseased children. Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, the child life of Europe is threatened with heartrending misery.

The European Relief Council, with Herbert Hoover as chairman and the whole power of American charitable thought and effort behind it, has been formed. It consists of Edgar Rickard, representing the American Relief Administration; Dr. Livingston Farrand, representing the American Red Cross; Felix Warburg, representing the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee; Wilbur K. Thomas, representing the American Friends' Service Committee; James A. Flaherty, representing the Knights of Columbus; Dr. C. V. Hibbard, representing the Young Men's Christian Association; Miss Sarah S. Lyon, representing the Young Women's Christian Association; Dr. Arthur Brown, representing the Federal Council of Churches.

It is the purpose of the Council to raise $33,000,000, in an appeal centering at the Christmas holidays, to the end that the situation regarding child life may be met. In every town and community of the nation, it is hoped, local committees, representing all the co-operating agencies will be formed to secure the vitally necessary funds. Of the amount sought, $28,000,000 will be used for basic food. For every one of these American dollars the local governments and communities aided will furnish two dollars, in the form of transportation, labor, guards, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable. No children receive the free food except after medical tests showing them to be seriously under-nourished. The remaining $10,000,000 of the fund is just as urgently needed for medical service to the children.

The European Relief Council will do much more than effect economies in the raising of the childsaving fund. It will, with the inspecting forces of eight great agencies, keep a constant eye on the administration of America's merciful gift, in order that there shall be no wastage and no tendency toward pauperization.

RICKETS DID THIS.

Before this five-year-old Vienna girl was operated upon in the American Convalescent Home her leg was even more horribly deformed from rickets and she was in constant instead of intermittent pain. Now at least her leg is straight again, and by degrees she is relearning to walk. Rickets is the aftermath of under-nutrition, and it is to cut down the harrowing prevalence of such disease as this among the children of Europe that eight American relief organizations are making a joint appeal under the name of the European Relief Council for funds to succor the millions that face a winter of horror. They are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution committee, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

Tells How Ziron Iron Tonic Helped His Daughter After Operation for Appendicitis.

AFTER any serious illness, the first thing you notice when you begin to get around is your lack of strength and energy—a tired, weak feeling.

The sooner you get your strength back the better. The thing to do is to eat plenty of good, nourishing food, get all the fresh air you can, exercise conservatively, and take Ziron Iron Tonic three times a day.

Your doctor will tell you this is sound advice, and urge you to follow it.

Read this letter from Mr. J. B. Kelly, vice-president of the First National Bank, Graceville, Fla.: "My daughter had been in bad health since last April. She was operated on for appendicitis. She has been taking Ziron for two weeks. Her appetite is better than it has been. Her nerves are better, and she says she feels better . . . I know that Ziron is good for weak and feeble people."

Ziron is a scientific, reconstructive tonic, prepared from valuable strength-building ingredients, for weak people with thin blood. Druggists sell Ziron on a money-back guarantee. Try it.

A PROCLAMATION

STATE OF ALABAMA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Montgomery, Alabama,
November 22, 1920.

A PROCLAMATION:

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at a Special Session held in the year 1920, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, at a Special Election ordered by the Legislature to be held on Tuesday, February 8, 1921.

AND, WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is requird by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that a Special Election will be held on February 8, 1921, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"A person to be entitled to register or vote must in addition to the qualifications already prescribed, be of good character and must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 22nd day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

THOS. E. KILBY,
Governor.

(SEAL)

By The Governor:
Wm. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

NOTICE

STATE OF ALABAMA,
Chilton County.

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in Beat No. 15, in Chilton County, Ala., at Pletcher and Culp Schol House, the respective voting places in said Beat No. 15, on January 3, 1921, to ascertain whether or not a majority of the qualified electors of said Beat No. 15 desire or favor a law prohibiting the running at large of stock in said Beat No. 15.

Done by order of Commissioners Court Nov. 10, 1920.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

DR. KNOTT, ESCAPED CONVICT, CAPTURED IN ORLANDO, FLA.

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 20—Dr. H. B. Knott, who escaped from the Alabama penitentiary August 6th, after having served 16 months of a life sentence for murder, was arrested here today as he was preparing to board a train for Jacksonville.

Knott was recognized on the street here yesterday by J. C. Sellers, a former resident of Wetumpka, Ala. After his arrest he readily admitted his identity to the police. He said he had been in Orlando for more than two months and had been using the names of George McRae and George Wood.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people of Clanton, our good friends and neighbors, for the many kindnesses shown us in the recent sudden death of our husband and father. We are especially thankful for the nice floral offerings.

Mrs. ANNA JONES
HUBERT JONES

NOTICE

The Commissioners Court will be in session January 4, 1921 at 10 o'clock, a.m., for the purpose of electing a County Treasurer for the incoming year.

All parties wanting to make propositions to run the Treasurer's office will put their written request in the hands of one of the Commisioners Court before 10 o'clock, a.m. on the said date. The Commissioners Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
12-23-2t Judge of Probate.

OSMOND MIDDLETON HERE

Hon. J. Osmond Middleton of Mobile stopped off in Clanton Tuesday on his return home from Washington, D. C. He will spend a few days of this week with friends in Clanton, probably leaving here Friday for his home in the Gulf City.

Mr. Middleton is the same old fellow that he has ever been, with that ever-present warmness in his heart for the people of Chilton County. He says he has been all over Alabama and a part of Mississippi, and has not found a single country town that anything like comes up with Clanton, and not a county that can come within forty miles of Chilton.

He is well pleased with his law practice in Mobile, and his future there is indeed promising. His many Chilton County friends wish him much success and happiness.

When he left he expressed the hope that once again in his life he might be able to attend one more all day singing in Chilton County.

GOOD WORK BEING DONE ON CLANTON STREETS

At last we are able to point with pride to the working of the streets of Clanton, and hereby take pleasure in commending the present administration for breaking the ice and showing the public that it is not impossible after all to make streets out of the mud holes of our little city.

On Monday Mr. Guy Higgins very kindly took the editor of The Union-Banner in his car, and together we proceeded to explore the city, looking over the work that has been done, and as for the two of us we are mighty well pleased with what has been done. We believe there are likewise a great many other citizens who are glad too.

As was mentioned in these columns last week, the Town has purchased a Fordson Tractor and some scrapes with which, to work the streets, and they are working them at top speed. First and Second Avenues South have been worked from First Street to Sixth Street, First Street has been worked from the City Limits on the Lock 12 Road past the County High School to Third Avenue South. Seventh Street has been worked from Fourth Avenue North to Third Avenue South. At this writing the work is in progress on Fourth Avenue N., from Seventh Street westward, and on Sixth Street from the court house to Fifth Avenue North.

In the course of our little tour of the town and discussion of what is being done, Mr. Higgins remarked that Clanton is getting to be a town of which we can be proud, adding further that "we have already the very best lighting system to be had anywhere, our water works and sewer system is exceptionally good, and now that our streets are being put in good shape, we can hope for added improvement in the side walks of the town, all of which will ultimately make for us one of the very best small cities in the state."

We certainly hope that our town officials will have good luck with their move towards street improvement. We know they will have the best wishes and heartiest co-operation of the citizenship. Our people have waited a long time for street improvements, and though the patience of some of us must have been nearly exhausted before the signs appeared, we are now doubly encouraged by the evidences we have seen in the past few days.

We think it wise that the present officials have gone right into the work with a push. If they had hesitated in beginning, we would have fallen into further procrastination, and the final result would have been that at the end of their terms everybody would have been cussing them for doing nothing, and the only cry would have been anything to get rid of those do-nothings that have been in there for the past two years.

We hope some day to see a set of councilmen and a Mayor of Clanton that can be re-elected when their terms are out, on the strength of what they have done while in office. And we had just as soon it be the present outfit as any we could mention.

Let everybody help these officials Tell them that you are with them in their fight for better streets and a better town. Let them know that we appreciate their efforts. Talk them as a bunch that believes in doing something, and then help them do it. It is as much our business to do it as it is theirs. Then do your part.

WELCOME DR. PIERSON

The Union-Banner extends to Dr. Pierson, the incoming Pastor of the Clanton Methodist Church, a cordial welcome to our town and county. We hope his service in this community will be pleasant to himself and result in a full measure of fruit for the cause which he represents.

The columns of our paper have ever been open for the use of our churches and pastors to use in any way they see fit in advancing the cause of Christ. We hope Dr. Pierson will feel free to call on us at any and all times, and we assure him and his church now that it will be only the greatest of pleasure to us to serve.

We trust that the future may hold out a spirit of co-operation between the denominations of Clanton that will result in a more united effort among all the people to advance the cause of religious devotion and the practice of righteousness in our city.

THORSBY NEWS

Christmas Party

Mrs. Nottage, the preceptress at the Boys Dormitory, assisted by Miss Ellsworth, gave a Christmas Party to the dormitory boys Monday evening, the 20th, in the living room of the dormitory.

This being a party for boys, the usual order of things was reversed and refreshments were served first. Afterward the fellows performed various stunts, such as "clog" dances and humorous recitations.

The room was beautifully decorated with Christmas greens, and a miniature Christmas tree stood in the middle of the room, trimmed with candles and the usual ornaments.

The party was in the nature of a surprise, but was enjoyed by all of those present.

Thorsby Chamber of Commerce had an open forum meeting last Monday night when matters concerning publicity were taken up. Mr. Holt of Montgomery, a publicity man, was present and gave some splendid ideas on publicity work. Also Mr. Paul, representing the Redpath Chautauqua Circuit was present with the view of interesting the citizens here for a Chautauqua this coming year.

Mr. Chas. Carlson from Colby, Wis., is a visitor here, with the view of locating. We hope that he can find a suitable place and soon become one of us.

Leave your subscription or renewals for The Union-Banner for the coming year at The Bank of Thorsby.

(The above items from Thorsby arrived after we had printed the regular Thorsby page.—Editor.)

To Our Friends

An Appreciation

IT is the season of Christmas cheer in all the homes where subscribers to this paper dwell.

Christmas also in the minds and hearts of you good friends of ours.

Christmas, with all that term implies as to universal fellowship, bounteous unselfishness and renewed recognition of the fact that to give is actually better than to receive.

As you have put into anything, that much will you get out of it. Out of the interest you have taken in this paper during the past year we hope you have derived an equal personal pleasure. Your appreciation has made this paper's issuance a congenial work to us of the staff.

And likewise in that same spirit which makes Christmastime what it is, we take this opportunity of expressing our thanks to the business men of this community, and of the territory within which this paper circulates, for their cordial co-operation in practical ways which has made it possible for us regularly to present our best editorial efforts to the community in a creditable manner.

May the kindly glow of this holiday season color life for you and yours throughout the coming year.

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Mrs. White Hostess.

The members of the Pollyanna Club enjoyed an unusually pleasant evening at the home of Mrs. M. L. White last Wednesday. The large living room where tables were placed for the game of "42" was made bright by vases of cut flowers and potted plants. At the conclusion of the game a tempting luncheon plate was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Armstrong.

Mrs. Amzi Gowan and children, of Brewton are expected to arrive on Thursday for a week's visit to relatives and friends in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Mullins of Cuthbert, Ga., will arrive in Clanton Thursday to spend the holidays with the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mullins.

Mr. R. C. McDavid left Wednesday for a visit to Tallahassee, Fla.

Mr. Roy Griffin spent Saturday in Montgomery.

Miss Beverly Hester, who is teaching music at Quitman, Miss, is at her home in Clanton for the holidays.

Miss Bessie Thomas is at home to spend the holidays. She is teaching this year in North Carolina.

Mrs. Macy Jones has returned to Clanton after a stay of several days in Birmingham.

Mr. Tom Taylor made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Maye left on Monday evening for their new home in Hartford.

Rev. and Mrs. Pierson and children arrived Wednesday from Montgomery. Dr. Pierson will succeed Rev. Maye as Pastor of the Clanton Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson and children have returned home from a visit to Owensville, Indiana.

MICKIE SAYS

ECONOMIC CROP YIELDS NECESSARY

CHEAPEST YIELDS ARE THE LARGEST YIELDS PER ACRE, SAYS SOUTHERN AGRICULTURAL AUTHORITY

It Take a Greater Amount of Crop Returns to Cover Production Cost Now; Therefore High Yields Per Acre Are Necessary If the Farmer Is to Obtain Profits

J. N. Harper

Director J. N. Harper of the Southern Soil Improvement Committee, a widely known agricultural authority, speaking of the situation brought about by the low price of crops, recently said that deflation of prices had hurt the farmer more than any other class, and that on this account the farmer is entitled to every consideration within reason.

At such a time as this when the farmer is facing the problem of which crops to grow, and how much he can venture to spend in their production, Mr. Harper says, that he, as a farmer himself, knows that it is the most difficult situation of the kind he has ever confronted.

This is the way this agricultural authority figures out the proposition of profitable crop production in 1921:

"Grow enough food and feed crops to supply as far as possible the needs of the family, the tenants and livestock. Then pick out the kind of cash crops that seem to offer the best prospects.

"Cotton will always be one of the best cash crops that a Southern farmer can grow. No cotton farmer can afford to throw cotton aside altogether.

"But cotton should not be the only cash crop. It would only be another case of carrying all the eggs in one basket. It is better to go to market with more than one crop. Among these other crops are peanuts, legume hays, tobacco, sweet potatoes, sugar cane, sorghum, rice and perhaps other crops. In addition there should be a gradual adding, as means will allow, of more livestock, beginning with hogs preferably and taking on other animals as soon as possible.

"In facing the problem of profitable crop production for the year 1921, two facts must be considered. (1) Crop prices are low, (2) Crop producing expenses have not fallen correspondingly.

"The farmer must remember that when crop prices are low, it takes more of the crops to cover the production cost. This narrows the margin of profits. Therefore, if a farmer does not look well to keeping up his acre yields, there will be no margin left above the cost of production.

"Always, the most expensive yields are the low yields and the most remunerative are the high yields. If there are losses to be sustained, as was the case in 1920, the farmer who grew the greatest yields per acre lost least.

"A safe and sane policy that needs especial emphasis for 1921, is: 'Guard your profits with high acre yields.' This involves good preparation of the seed bed, the use of high producing seed, liberal fertilization and thorough cultivation. A neglect to employ any one of these to the proper extent may mean that the farmer will find himself poorer at the end of the season than at the beginning.

"Labor is the greatest item of cost in producing a crop yield. It must be used to the extent of thorough cultivation. Fertilizers are next in the list of cost items. Since high yields per acre are so essential in times of low prices of crops, and since fertilizers increase acre yields more than anything else, they cannot be reduced in 1921. In fact, it may be that they will have to be depended upon more than ever, to make acre yields that will be profitable.

"An investment in good seed is one of the best that a farmer can make at any time.

"In a word, this is a time for farm efficiency, faith and courage. These virtues exercised, the farmer will emerge from the post-war struggle victoriously."

CALCIUM ARSENATE TREATMENT

An idea of the benefit gained by application of the calcium arsenate treatment developed and recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture against the cotton-boll weevil is found in the experience of a large planter at Tallulah, La. With the exception of certain test plats, this man's entire acreage was dusted with calcium arsenate, the cost being $9.20 an acre. He obtained an average yield of 1,215 pounds of seed cotton to the acre on the land surrounding the test plats, while these unpoisoned test plats averaged only 300 pounds, or about 25 per cent of the yield on the poisoned cotton. Thus his net profit from poisoning on these areas on sales made before declining prices of cotton was about $120 an acre.

The Ideal Family Gift

Why Not COMBINE Your Christmas Giving In ONE Wonderful Present?

In other years Father and each of the children, as well as other members of the family, have given Mother individual Christmas presents. These gifts, especially the children's, have probably been small presents, very likely of perishable nature. While Mother has prized them all, she has had no big, lasting, handsome token of her family's love and esteem. This Christmas let all the family combine to give Mother one, big, splendid present that will last a lifetime—

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

Think of Mother's surprise and delight to find a handsome, new Amberola Phonograph in the parlor on Christmas morning, with a card saying, "To Mother, from Dad and the children!" Or perhaps Mother and the children will put their gift-money together to surprise Father in this practical, sensible way!

Just a little from every member of the family will bring an Amberola Phonograph into your home on Christmas morning, because as a result of Mr. Edison's expressed wish we can offer you this ideal Family Gift on the easiest possible terms!

Remember—you're not giving an ordinary phonograph—but Edison's New Diamond Amberola, the greatest phonograph value in the world! The Amberola has proved its marked superiority over "talking machines" and ordinary phonographs in numerous public tests. It's a gift worthy of Mother or Father, who deserve the best. And a gift the whole family will enjoy for years and years!

You haven't a minute to lose. Come at once, before our Christmas stock of Amberolas is exhausted. Select your Amberola and Amberol Records and we'll deliver them to your home before Christmas day. As to terms—you'll be surprised how easy we'll make it for you to give Mother or Father this wonderful Christmas present.

Upchurch Drug Company

CLANTON ALABAMA

It's a cinch to figure why Camels sell!

You should know why Camels are so unusual, so refreshing, so satisfying. First, quality—second, Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos which you'll certainly prefer to either kind smoked straight!

Camels blend makes possible that wonderful mellow mildness—yet all the desirable body is there! And, Camels never tire your taste!

You'll appreciate Camels freedom from any unpleasant cigaretty after-taste or unpleasant cigaretty odor!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

GORDEN S. JONES DEAD; ROBERT A. TEEL IN JAIL

Gordon S. Jones, business man of Clanton, died at an infirmary in the City of Montgomery about ten o'clock last Friday night, as a result of a blow delivered upon his head by Robert Teel in a little difficulty between the two men which occurred Friday afternoon.

Teel and Jones were both engaged in buying cross-ties in Clanton, and the trouble between them is said to have started about some timber on the railroad yards where ties were being unloaded.

In the fight that followed their dispute, Teel is said to have hit Jones over the head with a stick. Jones went to the Clanton Infirmary where an examination proved that an operation was necessary. Dr. Hayes accompanied him to Montgomery on No. 3 Friday evening. Upon arriving at the infirmary Jones died before the operation was performed.

Teel was arrested and placed in jail in Clanton as soon as the authorities here were notified that Jones was dead.

There will be a preliminary trial of the case before Judge Reynolds in the County Court to-day (Thursday).

IN MEMORY

On December 9, 1920, at the home of Mr. Green Mims God in his wisdom saw fit to take from him his dear wife, Mrs. Fannie Mims. Her suffering was great, yet she bore it with patience, being conscious to the last breath.

She leaves a husband, four children, a mother, two sisters, nine brothers, and a host of friends.

Dr. Hayes rendered skillful medical aid, but all was in vain. Relatives and friends did all they could in their power for the sufferer, but God was ready for this Jewel and gathered it home.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Till Deason in Shiloh Church the remains being laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

What Are Your Chances of Success

DO YOU STEP OUT WITH SNAP AND VIGOR? ARE YOU ABLE TO GET THINGS DONE?

People With Thin Weak Blood Have A Hard Time of It. They Should Take Pepto-Mangan.

Look at the facts of your health. So much depends on having red blood. If you stand up in front of your work with half-starved blood in your system you are standing in your own way. You are blocking your own progress.

Thin blood makes you dull. It makes you pale. You take no enjoyment out of your work. It is only half as good as it should be.

You can remedy that condition so easily. Begin taking that fine tonic, Pepto-Mangan, todoy and keep it up for a while. Your blood will become nourished. Pepto-Mangan makes red blood corpuscles. Yaou will get energy and strong power of resistance. Instead of standing in your own way you will push yourself ahead because of greater vitality.

But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Ask for the "Gude's" and be sure that the name is on the package. The tablets or the liquid have the same medicinal value.

BAKER SUDDENLY MILITANT

"Congress be damned" is evidently the spirit in which Secretary of War Baker proceeds as he recruits the regular army to numbers far in excess of the maximum for which appropriations were made. Chairman Kahn, of the House Military Committee is quoted as asserting that appropriations were based on a maximum of 180,000 men with an understanding that this would be sufficient, but now he has information that the number has been increased to 220,000, with an increased expense which will call for a corresponding deficiency appropriation.

Whether the United States shall be called upon to pay a few hundred thousand dollars of needless expense is a matter of no small importance in these days when public funds are hard to get and when Liberty Bonds are a drug at the market. It is a matter of concern to the taxpayers of the country if the burdens of the government are needlessly increased. But the difference in public expenditures is the least of the reasons for complaint in this connection.

The Constitution expressly vests Congress with sole power to raise and support armies and the Secretary of War is bound not only by the letter but by the spirit of the constitution to follow the directions of Congress. Possibly the Secretary of War can find a technical defense for his own course, but he cannot justify at the bar of public opinion the recruiting of an army in excess of that for which Congress made appropriations.

The overthrow of government by law and the establishment of government by men has been the effort of the Wilson Administration for the past seven years. That policy was rebuked by the people of the country at the election in 1918 and again at the election in 1920. Evidently autocrats never learn. "After us the deluge," has always been their cry.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

An entertainment, entitled "Following the Star," was rendered by the Sunday School on Sunday night, at the Congregational Church. The program was divided into three parts, the first part dealing with "The first Christmas," was opened by a story for the children, beautifully told by Mrs. Norton. She pictured in a simple manner the Birth of Christ in the manger, and how she shepherds and magi found him by following the star. The story was succeeded by songs and recitations about the "First Christmas," given by the tiny tots of the primary and junior departments. The second part, named "Christmas and the Pilgrim Spirit," was presented by the boys and girls of the adult classes. It showed how the Pilgrims, inspired by their love for Christ and the Star, followed the gleam to America, thus founding our nation. Part three, "Christmas and the Nation," pictured the nations awakened by the spirit of missions, also following the gleam of the Star.

The Christmas spirit was well represented by Miss Birdie Hall, the spirit of Pilgrims by Walton Brackin, the spirit of missions by Miss Mae Ward, and the spirit of Faith by Dora Brackin. The different nations were represented by Wilbur Peterson, Jerome Wilson, Arthur McCrory, Euna Hughes, Margaret Butler and Dorothy Rogers.

The parts and the music were well rendered, making the service both enjoyable and impressive.

MUSIC RECITAL

Miss Marjorie Fox presented voice and piano pupils in the Christmas recital of Thorsby Institute Friday, December 17. The younger pupils played with correctness and accuracy, and the more advanced with keen appreciation and considerable technique. Miss Fox's beautiful voice was heard to advantage in the song selected, and the audience greatly enjoyed the evening.

Program Music Recital

Solo, "The Youthful Brigader" by George Spaulding, Dorothy Butler.

Solo, "The Dancing Girl" by Carl Heins, Mattie Mims.

Vocal solo, (a) "Go Lively Rose" by W. H. Neidlinger, Pauline Gray; (b) "A Waiter Lullaby," Reginald De Koven.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Legg and little daughter spent Saturday and Sunday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Vesker Martin and children are in Thorsby visiting their parents.

Miss Leona Goodgame had as her house guest last week Miss Jewel Davis of Clanton, Ala.

Mrs. E. R. Piper, Mrs. S. C. Wood and Carrie Billingsley motored to Clanton Saturday to do some Christmas shopping.

Mrs. James E. Biggs returned Saturday night from Birmingham, where she spent last week doing her Xmas. shopping.

Mr. Harry Peterson of Prattville, Ala., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Peterson.

The recital which was given by the music department of Thorsby Institute Friday night, under the direction of Miss Fox, was a splendid success. The vocal selection rendered by Miss Fox displayed her wonderful ability and was greatly enjoyed by lovers of classical music. We were sorry to note that there were quite a number present, who couldn't appreciate good music. We do want to say to these people that they could at least behave themselves at such occasions and show some respect for the performer and those who do want to enjoy something good.

Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mrs. J. E. Biggs were visitors in Clanton Tuesday.

The many friends of Mr. Edwin Soberg will be glad to learn that he is coming to Thorsby to spend the holidays.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

. . . I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

HELEN KELLER SOCIETY

The Helen Keller Literary Society of Thorsby Institute held its Christmas Contest Saturday night, Dec. 18. Bates Hall was decorated with holly and the colors of the school, blue and gold, combined with the colors of the two divisions of the society. The committee on decorations were: Misses Louise Adams, Palma Dald and Marie Flummer, Messrs John Wesley, Olaf Larsen, and Luther McCary.

The contest was extremely close. The contestants showed careful preparation, and the judges, Rev. J. M. Graham, Rev. Owens and Mr. Rhinehart, had no easy task. The awards were finally made as follows:

Essay, Miss May Ward; Declamation, Chester Maddox; Debate, Orville Mastin; Recitation, Miss Pauline Gray.

Tableau, "With Three Kings of Orient Are."

Contest Program

Piano Duet, Lura Woods. Inga Erdahl.

CAPITOL CHAT

FROM CASE TO CONGRESS

Washington, Dec. 28—(Special correspondence.) Congressman-elect, Robert S. Maloney, of the Seventh Massachusetts District, succeeded in defeating a Democrat who has held the place for the past eight years. Mr. Maloney is a native of Lawrence, where he has demonstrated the esteem in which he is held by fellow-townsmen by five successive elections to the City government, and eight years as Commissioner of Public Health and Charities. By trade Mr. Maloney is a typesetter, a fact which he used to advantage in his campaign by coupling it with a reference to Senator Harding's proficiency as a practical printer. The new Congressman has the honor of representing the District in which is located the home of Senator Lodge, Republican leader of the Senate. The sort of Republicanism which Mr. Maloney champions is indicated by his campaign slogans: "Down with the party of profiteering! Up with the banner of protection! No Wilson League of nations! America first!"

ON GUARD.

President Wilson has purchased a magnificent home in one of the exclusive residential sections of the national capital for his occupancy after he leaves the White House on March 4th. By so doing he breaks another precedent, as never before has a retiring president continued to live in Washington. It has been suggested that as a matter of good taste, Mr. Wilson should have retired to his former home at Princeton, N. J., rather than remain in the midst of the activities of a party seeking to reconstruct the government after the effects of his eight years of rule. Whether his home will be the headquarters of Democratic opposition remains to be seen, but that Mr. Wilson intends to take a lively interest in the national affairs of the future is indicated by his selection of Washington as his headquarters.

MOSES STOPS A GAP.

An amendment has been proposed by Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshirie to the resolution passed by the House repealing emergency war legislatioin that, if adopted, will prevent deserters from the army from obtaining refuge in its provisions. It reads as follows: "Provided however, That nothing herein contained shall be construed as effective to terminate the military status of any person now in desertion from the military or naval service of the United States, nor to terminate the liability to prosecution and punishment under the selective service law of any person who failed to comply with the provisions of said act." It is reported that slackers and deserters are being treated with great leniency by War Department officials and Mr. Moses is determined that the policies of the Secretary of War shall receive no encouragement from Congress.

A. D. C. DELEGATE.

Congressman Frederiik N. Zihlman of Maryland is the author of a bill proposing to give the citizens of the District of Columbia the right to elect a delegate to the House of Representatives, commissioners to direct the City government, a public utilities commission, a board of education. In spite of the fact that 7 states, having a smaller population than the District of Columbia, are permitted to elect two Senators and at least one representative each, the 437,571 citizens of the District are denied any representation in either House of Congress and any voice in the selection of even their local officials. Mr. Zihlman is of the opinion that taxation without representation should be abolished at the national capital as it was in other parts of the country almost a hundred and fifty years ago.

WILSON'S EXPENSE SLIP.

President Wilson's expenses while negotiating the treaty of Versailles, which included the covenant of the league of nations, were $1,651,191, according to the President's final statement submitted to the Senate. Of this sum the larger part was spent at the headquarters of the peace mission in the Hotel Crillon in Paris.

The report shows that the mission became so large that additional quarters were provided at other Paris hotels. The hire and laundry of linen alone at the several hostelries costing $64,969.

When the American mission left the Hotel Crillon the account showed $125,000 was paid the owners of the hotel for damages and breakage.

Some of the other larger items were: Travel and subsistence, $28,-112; subsistence, $193,629; wages and employes at Hotel Crillon, $131,-507; rents, $176,853; food, hotel and kitchen supplies, $283,560. Purchase of automobiles amounted to $14,602 and confidential expenses of presidential party, $17,534.

Salaries of members of the mission cost the government $200,871. Col. E. M. House and Henry White, members of the mission who were not officials of the government, received salaries of $1,000 a month. Most members of the mission received a per diem allowance of $4 for subsistence, but there was a special allowance of $25 a day for this purpose to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of labor.

CONGRESS IS FACING KNOTTY PROBLEMS

TAXATION, TARIFF AND FOREIGN TRADE FUNDAMENTAL QUESTIONS TO BE DECIDED.

Washington, Dec. 28—The dawn of the new year will find Congress still wrestling with the fundamental problems confronting the country—taxation, the tariff, and foreign trade—with little prospect of a satisfactory solution being found for either before March 4th, it was predicted today.

In the judgment of Republican and Democratic leaders alike, all three of these problems will rise to vex the Harding administration and the new congress as much as the difficult question of foreign relations.

It is conceded by both sides that the omnibus tariff bill passed by the House recently will not pass the Senate unless it is amended materially. A number of commodities inserted in it by a majority of the House will be stripped from it in the Senate. Although its supporters claim to have enough votes to jamb it through the chamber, even they admit it is in grave peril from threatened amendments and debate.

Beyond the emergency tariff policy it involves, Senate leaders declare, lies the more important one of maintaining the country's trade balance on an even keel: embracing as it does, the far reaching subject of exchange.

Barriers Already too High.

Senators opposed to it, like Hitchcock, Democrat, of Nebraska, declare it is impossible to construct even a temporary tariff barrier to shut out exports to this country, if American producers are to find an outlet for exports to foreign countries.

International trade, they contend, unless conducted on terms of barter is also so hampered under existing exchange conditions that there now exist economic barriers sufficiently impracticable without the situation being made worse by the erection of tariff barriers.

It is an open secret in Congress that one of the first tasks the Harding administration will have to bend to is the solution of the exchange problem. Another vital question involving foreign trade and the merchant marine, is that of a complete and official restoration of trade relations between this country and Russia and between this country and the central powers. This of course involves the replacement of this country on an adequate peace basis, it is pointed out.

There is a well-founded report to the effect that Great Britain will suggest to President-elect Harding, as soon as he enters the White House, that he summon a world economic conference, to be held at Washington for the purpose of devising machinery for the movement of international trade and readjustment of exchange rates.

IN MEMORY

On Sunday, Dec. 19th, the death angel plucked another flower of God's creation, Mrs. Mae Bell Caton, and carried her soul home to heaven. She had been in the hospital about three months, and all hopes for her recovery were in vain. She was married on April 26, 1920. She leaves a father, mother, brother, other relatives and a host of friends to weep for her. The remains were buried in New Salem Cemetery.

THANKS

I want to thank all the people of Clanton who have been so kind to lend a helping hand and show the inmates of the County Poor House a good time this Christmas. My heartfelt thanks go out to you all, and may God bless you.—R. A. Miller.

WINTER GRAIN TAKING THE PLACE OF COTTON

IF AREAS ARE NOT KILLED BY WINTER, FLEECY ACREAGE IS CUT ALREADY.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 28—The low price of cotton has stimulated the planting of winter grains, the monthly business review of the Sixth District Federal Reserve Bank, just made public, states.

"If the areas are not winter killed, it appears as if the next year's cotton acreage is already reduced," said the review.

"The movement headed by Southern bankers, to effect a reduction of at least one-third in the acreage to be planted to cotton next year will be more than successful, it is felt," the statement said.

Industry and general business was reported holding its own as compared with conditions a month ago.

"The usual holiday buying has stimulated retail trade to some extent and bargain sales continue to be the order of the day, and retailers are widely advertising prices reduced from 20 per cent to as much as 50 per cent in some instances. Retail clothiers state they are now in position to buy considerably under the figures of two or three months ago, and are making strong efforts to rid themselves of stocks even at a loss."

Department store stocks were reported smaller at the end of November than a month ago.

"Compilation of figures contained in reports from wholesale firms throughout the Sixth Federal Reserve District show decreases in sales in a large majority of instances," the statement continued.

"In the wholesale dry goods trade an increase of 9.1 per cent in volume of sales during November over October was shown in Atlanta, decreases in all other cities bring the district average to a decrease of 9.5 per cent.

"Both wholesalers and retailers, however, are buying very cautiously and only in necessary quantities."

The wholesale hardware business in Jacksonville showed improvement, while other cities showed a decrease, the review stated.

"Practically all of the cotton crop has been harvested, but reports show that little is being sold, the farmers in a large number of instances, declining to sell at the low prices prevailing," said the review, commenting on agricultural conditions.

A considerable amount of cotton is being held on the farms, while the warehouses are said to be full.

"Farmers give evidence of much discouragement because of the low prices of farm products and the continued high cost of many things the farmer must buy."

The low price of cotton seems to have stimulated the planting of winter grains, the review stated, "and if the areas are not winter-killed it appears as if the next year's cotton acreage is already reduced."

The prolonged cold spell in Louisiana during November caused an estimated loss of about17,000 tons of sugar, due partly to the lateness of the grinding season, the review said.

A noticeable improvement in the demand for Southern pine was mentioned by the review.

THE FIRST AND SECOND MONDAYS IN DECEMBER.

Washington, Dec. 28—(Special correspondence.) Congressman Clifton N. McArthur of Oregon, is the author of two proposed amendments to the Constitution, recently introduced in the House of Representatives. Both aim to reduce the time which now elapses between the election of the President, Senators and Representatives in Congress and the date upon which they take their oath of office and enter upon the discharge of their duties. As the Constitution and laws now provide, the President assumes control of the executive branch of the government on March 4th, four months after the people have elected him chief executive. Senators and Congressmen are compelled to wait until the first Monday in December of the following year, a delay of thirteen months, before they are able to participate in national legislation, unless the President in the meantime, sees fit to call a special session of Congress.

"No other civilized country," declares Mr. McArthur, "tolerates the grotesque conditions which surround the election and inauguration of the President of the United States and the election and qualification of Representatives and Senators." As objections to our present system, he charges that often legislative and executive authority are permitted to remain in the hands of political parties and individuals who have been discredited at the most recent elections. The period of depression and uncertainty between the election and the time when the victorious party assumes control of national affairs should be prevented. As an instance of the harm which may come to the country as a result of these long delays, Mr. McArthur cites the vacillating policy of President Buchannan following Lincoln's first election. "Had Lincoln been able to take his seat in December following his election," he asserts, "the Civil War might have been averted."

The first of Congressman McArthur's amendments fixes the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November as election day, and provides that the terms of service of the Senators and Representatives shall begin on the first Monday in December of the same year, instead of on March the 4th of the following year. It automatically abolishes the short session of Congress, and makes impossible any legislation by so-called "lame ducks" or political parties repudiated at the polls.

"I am prompted to introduce these amendments," stated Congressman McArthur, "only because of my wish to bring about progressive and economical administration and legislatioin. I am not at all sanguine that they will be considered at the present session, but I am introducing them for the purpose of focusing public attention on what I consider very important questions, and trust that the resulting discussions will produce results later on."

TELEPHONE MEETING MONDAY, JAN. 3.

The meeting of the directors of the Peoples Telephone Co., which was to be held at the court house in Clanton on last Monday, was postponed because there was not a quorum present, and no business could be transacted.

Another meeting is called for Monday, January 3, 1921, to be at the court house at 10 o'clock, a.m. Every telephone line that is connected with the Clanton central is urged to elect someone to represent their line in the meeting on January 3, and see that the representative is on hand at the proper time and place.

Thre is no use to deplore the poor service that we are getting out of our rural telephone system, and then when the time comes to hold the business meeting nobody come. That is the reason we have got in such a bad fix with the telephones. So many of the phone holders have lost interest in the proposition and expect somebody else to look after the business. Unless we are all going to come together and devise some plan to pull the thing out of the hole, we shall continue to be without telephone service.

The organization has never been any too well perfected. And now, if what interest there has been in the past is to be lost, we had as well throw our phones out at the back door, and go after a fellow when we need him. There is no use trying to call him with the phones we have.

We urge all the phone lines to send their representative to the meeting on January 3.

UNCLE JOE CANNON HAS THE LONGEST RECORD OF SERVICE

Veteran Has Been A Member of the House of Representatives For 43 Years, 9 Months and 24 Days.

Washington, Dec. 28—"Uncle Joe" Cannon tied the long distance Congressional record today. And he did not even pause, but kept right on to set up a new mark for ambitious statesmen to shoot at.

To-day when "Uncle Joe" swung his 84 years onto the floor of the House he had served in Congress 43 years, 9 months and 24 days. Justice S. Merrill of Vermont, had served that long when he died, and that has been the record for years.

Tomorrow "Uncle Joe" will have beaten that record and the House is planning a celebration. There'll be speeches and "Uncle Joe" will reply. Then if events proceed as usual, "Uncle Joe" becoming Representative Cannon, will step over to the appropriations committee room and try to find out why ambitious department heads are asking for so much money. Or perhaps he'll take his place on the floor and bob up on the weak flank of some legislative proposition that doesn't appeal to him.

Any Congressman will tell you that Representative Cannon does either of these things mighty effectively. For example: About two years ago the Republicans decided they would repeal the tax on soft drinks, candies, etc. Representative Cannon decided they wouldn't. He made a speech or two about it. They didn't.

OLD SOLDIERS HAVE MERRY CHRISTMAS AT OLD HOME

The old Civil War veterans at the Old Soldiers Home at Mt. Creek are praising a celebration which was held there Christmas, which was declared to pass all previous celebrations held at the Home. A huge Christmas tree was obtained and loaded with presents for the old soldiers by the women of the Home and members of the various U. D. C. chapters over the State.

NEW COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL TAKE OFFICE JAN. 11TH.

The terms of office of J. Wiley Littlejohn and Charley T. Walker, as County Commissioners of Chilton County will begin on January 11th, 1921. The oath of office will be administered by the Judge of Probate. There will be no session of the Commissioners Court on that day. The new officers named above will succeed the present Commissioners A. P. Vinson and W. T. Herrod.

There will be a session of the Commissioners Court on January 4th, at which the newly elected and incoming Commissioners, Littlejohn and Walker will be invited to sit.

MAY PAVE SIDEWALKS

We have heard it said from unofficial sources that the Town Council of Clanton is contemplating the paving of some sidewalks from the business section of town, extending out to the Grammar School on the west side, and to the County High School on the east side. Whether or not the town officials are considering this step right now, it is a bit of improvement which ought to be made.

Students of those schools going to and fro need good paved sidewalks to walk upon instead of having to wade the mud for a long way as is now the case in winter. Then too there are many times when we common ordinary folks who are not school students (and who do not own an automobile) would like to go to the schools on special occasions at least. Sidewalks would be a great convenience in our case too.

Then aside from the above reasons, Clanton, the city that she is, should just naturally have more paved sidewalks in the residence sections than we have. We hope to see the Town Council start something that will produce more sidewalks.

TWO CABINET MEMBERS

David Lawrence, special correspondent of The Birmingham News, has announced in his Washington reports, the definite selection by President-elect Harding of two members of his cabinet, namely: Henry C. Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, for Secretary of Agriculture, and Chas. E. Hughes, of New York, for Secretary of State.

Mr. Wallace is a Progressive Republican, a former follower of Teddy and successful editor and publisher of "Wallace's Farmer." He is a member of the United Presbyterian Church and a Mason.

The selection of Mr. Hughes for Secretary of State will create confidence everywhere that the foreign policy of the United States is in the hands of a man of extraordinary capacity and fairness. Mr. Hughes is known throughout the world as a distinguished jurist. He made a brilliant record as Governor of the State of New York, distinguished himself on the Supreme Court bench, and came within only a few electoral votes of being elected President of the United States in 1916.

"SUBSCRIBER'S THOUGHTS."

At this critical period of business adjustment in our country, when everything and everybody seems to be searching for that hallowed place of yesteryear called "normalcy," there is much (but not enough) time being given to thought concerning the great many and widely varying conditions that have been, and are now, bearing upon the life and existence of our population. It would seem to us that the burden of the load is resting too heavily upon some and not heavy enough upon others as we traverse our precarious journey on our way back to "normalcy." Indeed there are many people who have been reduced even to actual want and suffering right here in the United States, and it is now vital that the unjust causes that have combined to deprive some of our people of the necessities of life should be ferreted out and corrected quickly.

One class of people should not be more favored than another. We are all supposed to stand upon the same level in the eyes of our faithful and protecting Uncle. We have all been loyal to him in the same degree and fought his battles side by side. Then who has the power to overstep the bounds of the whole category of our organization and hand out the good things to a few and turn others away with a mere pittance, or else nothing at all?

We are publishing this week an interesting article from one of our subscribers who has studied the situation and read much of the newspaper and magazine reports concerning our business transition and economic dilemma. This article presents many facts and figures that come from authoritative statistics, and they will startle those who are not accustomed to thinking along these lines.

Now, of course many will read the things which "Subscriber" has said and pass them by as idle and vague. They are not idle, neither are they vague. Minds that regard them as such are simply careless of the drift of the times. Such carelessness is the greatest evil that confronts our country. If the people of the United States were more thoughtful of their interests and more exacting upon the tremendous organizations that get by under the assumed names of "business" and "commerce," many of the grotesque fallacies that are being perpetrated upon the country would be reduced to naught, and those organizations readily turned into agencies of service, rather than continuing as gigantic blood-sucking profiteering machines.

Many columns could be written on the subjects which "Subscriber" introduces throughout his discourse. His reference to the recruiting of the army and navy to back up the organization called "commerce" in the United States and upon the ocean, is particularly striking. He says that the recruiting of the army in November was something like 17,000. A more recent figure that comes to our attention, appearing in Henry Ford's "Dearbon Independent," places the enlistments into the regular army for the month of November. 1920 at 24,308, and adds the comemnt that this is the largest peace time enlistment for one month in our history.

Whether or not "Subscriber" is correct in his suggestion that this army is being recruited to guard the traveling salesmen of our commercial interests, we are not prepared to state. But one thing sure, it does not look much like a program of disarmament for Uncle Sam when he is putting the khaki on our boys at the rate of twenty-four thousand in one regular ordinary month. Maybe our War Department is going to be prepared to take the land of "normalcy" by conquest when we find where it is.

It may not be possible for you to agree with "Subscriber" in everything he says. Some will accuse him of having socialistic ideas, and very probably others will not use terms as mild as socialistic to express their opinion of it. But that does not matter. Those are his ideas and thoughts deduced from the statistics which he quotes. If others will take those facts and figures and begin to think it matters not whether they think just like "Subscriber" or not. The main thing is to think. Study the inclinations of the signs of the times and ponder over the drift of incidents.

If the millions of people in the United States who have not been observant and alert will arouse and begin to put two and two together they will right away be able to see that it makes four. When people begin to think for themselves and act for themselves we will much sooner get a remedy by which to free the country from the merciless slavery of profiteering commercial organizations backed up by the power of a reinforced army and navy.

THE CAUSE OF WAR AND OTHER PLAGUES

We learn that there are fifty thousand active cases of tuberculosis in Alabama, and one million cases in the United States. 300,000 infants die before reaching one year of age in the United States every year. More than 1,000 miners are killed in this country each year for lack of ventilation in the mines. Ignorance or neglect (or both) is admittedly the chief reason for all of these things. Statistics inform us that there are more convicts in penitentiaries than teachers in the schools of the United States.

It cost 5 billion (50 thousand million) dollars for government expense the past year. 93 cents out of every dollar of this was for interest money on past wars, or in preparation for future wars; while only one cent out of each dollar went for educational purposes. At present six battle ships are being built larger than any heretofore known and 15 to 20 thousand boys are enlisted into the army—and still more in the navy—every month. Factories are closing and robberies and murder are epidemic in the cities. While farmers cannot sell products at cost of production. Now if you don't like these things stop tinkering with consequences and consider causes.

All of them are due principally to the manner in which goods are produced and disposed of. Before the war during "normalcy" millions of men and their wives and children labored in fields and factories, the combined product of their work often failing to provide life's essentials, an abundance of proper food, clothing, shelter and education. In this county, with 30,000 inhabitants, are only two high schools, one of them largely supported by outside contributions. According to reports, much of this comes from Boston or that vicinity. (But this bread cast upon the waters, returns to them well buttered.)

What is the South doing for Boston and vicinity? An article in the American Magazine for December, 1920, states that, when a boy, William Whitman went to Boston with four dollars of borrowed money in his pocket as his total worldly wealth. He is now head of a company that manufactures cloth, which company owns mills from Lawrence, Mass., to Calhoun Falls, S. C. These mills make use of 170 acres of floor space, all acquired as profits from growers of cotton and wool during the lifetime of one man who is still the vigorous active head of the company. Last year the company paid 23 million dollars in taxes to the government. This representing 5 percent of the profits would show a profit of 460 million dollars for one year. This is merely the profit of the manufacturer, and only of one company. Under the present plan of production and marketing, many other expenses are added to the cost. Dealers' and and drayage to mill; and again to the jobber, wholesaler and retailer. This explains why a 15 cent pound of cotton is transformed into $2 to $5 worth of cloth or $5 to $10 worth of shirts; and why 25 cents worth of hides becomes 7 to 15 dollars worth of shoes or harness or lines; and $2 worth of wool becomes a $65 suit of clothes and 2 cents worth of oats or corn rice or wheat becomes 25 cents worth of breakfast food. Now the vast majority of the population are either farmers, factory workers, clerks or laborers. It is utterly impossible to buy back the finished products which their combined efforts have produced with the small share of the selling price which they receive, and the rest of the population cannot possibly consume it. Hence the absolute necessity for a foreign market for the so-called surplus. Every modern nation is in the same desperate need of a foreign market in order to make the machine go; and generally a number of them has an eagle eye on the same customer. Therefore the army of traveling sales men must be backed by an army and navy with guns, warships, etc. So that in addition to having their labor and its products fed into an impossible contraption called commerce, which only goes by fits and starts (the fits called panics, the starts named prosperity) producers must bear the ever increasing burdens of militarism. It has bankrupted Europe, and is creating a monstrosity in this country that will destroy us unless its methods are modified. Its fruits are poverty, ignorance, disease and crime for many on the one hand and monstrous fortunes (a crime) of hundreds of millions or even billions for a few on the other. Let not the small business man think his position secure. Heretofore 95 per cent have been missing on the final count. And this nation is young yet, and has had marvelous stores of natural wealth to draw upon.

Co-operation properly applied, is the only logical remedy. It eliminates unnecessary handling and extortionate profits between producer and consumer. With the machinery for jacking up prices between producer and consumer cut out the home market can absorb the product and no foreign market is required. Two-thirds of the cotton crop has been going to Europe for years, and what have we got to show for it? Impoverished lands, many merchants and farmers are in financial distress and thousands of farmers are in actual want. Now, these former buyers in Europe are bankrupt. But intelligent co-operation will give us a better market at home than we have ever possessed.

The California raisin and citrus fruit growers, poultrymen, truckers, and other producers saved themselves from extirmination by organization and co-operative marketing. Florida growers are also making a great success, having their own box factories, fertilizer factories, and their own salesmen and purchasing agents in the large cities. But oranges are a finished product when they leave the farm, requiring no factory manipulation; and the demand is capable of absorbing the product in this country at satisfactory prices.

Cotton growers cannot expect profitable customers for two-thirds of their crop in Europe where it has been sold in the past, when the people are bankrupt and cannot possibly pay present obligations. Therefore, we must provide a home market or go broke. Farmers must build and own their own factories. By owning the factories they would own the finished product, which they could sell at a price that would pay liberally for production, and yet low enough to induce people to buy freely and thus consume the product near home.

Other industries besides cotton factories could in time be established, such as dairying with a co-operative creamery, sheep growing and a woolen mill. Then clothing and shoe factories, and factories to manufacture wagons and all kinds of farm machinery. A home market could thus be provided, in time, for everything that could be produced in the county. Other counties could do the same. Employ experts to direct the work under the supervision of a board of managers. Those who could not pay in money for a share in the industry could do so with work. It is high time to declare independence from the profiteering machine that takes so much and gives so little.

The profits which have been going to the Whitman Company and other cotton factory owners, and to the dealers speculators and railroads getting the cotton to them; and to the railroads for getting the cloth or the clothing back to the consumers, if divided equitably (not equally) between the growers, factory workers and actually necessary selling or distributing agencies, who would mostly live and work near each other, would be sufficient to furnish abundance of nourishing food, clothing and sanitary houses for all, as well as training and education for all. Such goods as could most easily or naturally be produced in one locality, could readily be exchanged (when necessary) for something of equal value from some other part of this or some other country, without passing through the hands of an almost endless chain of hold-up men, politely referred to as middlemen.

The people could, and would, buy and consume all surplus products of fields and factories; and the crop of profiteers would naturally disappear, as would their inevitable fruits of poverty and their consequences, such as tuberculosis, pellagra, etc., etc. also the bloody butcheries called war.

An authority on nutrition says: "The use of liberal amounts of milk, eggs and leafy vegetables in the diet is necessary to induce good nutrition." A medical authority (Anders) says: "In attempting to remove the tubercular tendency the physician must place chief reliance upon the most favorable environment attainable. The value of a change of residence from the city to the country (or the seaside or mountains in selected cases) cannot be overestimated. It often renders the predisposed person immune. Milk and raw eggs are excellent and should be used freely." If these means prevent tuberculosis in those having a tendency to it, by adding necessary vegetables and fruit to these, no one would have the disease. The plan suggested would give the financial means and facilities for providing all of them as well as instruction in hygiene and prevent the crowding of human beings like sardines into certain parts of large cities as is done now; and incidentally remove the tendency or actual causes of many other diseases.

Uncontrolled greed is essentially the underlying cause of all these things, including war. There should be enough altruism and manhood developed by 2,000 years of teaching the principles of the Christian religion to put a stop to these things by removing their causes.

Make the world safe for everybody, and not alone for the profiteers and their friends and supporters who help them to "cut the melon" from which they take all the good red meat, and leave only the rind for those who produce the melon.

GLENDALE

This has truly been a gala week. Plenty of visiting and a good time generally. Several have been heard to remark that they have never before had such a good time with so little money to spend.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly Franks are being congratulated upon the arrival of a baby girl at their home, whom they have named Mamie Mae.

Quite a number of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Norrell Christmas evening for an old time celebration. Holly, mistletoe and Japanese lanterns formed the attractive decorations. Frappe was served from a beautifully appointed table by Mrs. A. F. Taylor of Montgomery. The handsome silver service which was used was the gift of the Southside Baptist Church of Montgomery to Mrs. Norrell, who for five years was the faithful organist. A lively contest was on throughout the evening at the conclusion of which the prize, a box of divinity candy, was awarded to Miss Lou Ella McDowell and Mr. Mitchell DeVaughn. The booby, a couple of nuts, was awarded to Mr. German Sandlin and Miss Lera Miller.

Dizzy—Wrecked His Automobile

"Two years ago my stomach trouble got so bad that I was almost constantly filled with gas. This made me very dizzy at times. Last Fall I was almost overcome by one of those dizzy spells while driving my car, and ran into a telephone pole, badly wrecking the car. A friend recommended Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for my trouble. Since taking the first dose I have constantly improved, and feel better now than ever in my life." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all of stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton, and Druggists everywhere.

An Appeal to the American People

THREE and one-half million children in Eastern and Central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest except American aid. For months these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding-stations only if tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

One 5 cent hot American meal today has saved a thousand lives.

Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions make famine with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

America saved 6,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in scant shrinkage of child destitution during the twelvemonth just past. The response of America must now decide whether 3,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and feeding stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history so sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

The undersigned organizations, working among every race and in many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without political and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization for the $28,000,000 for child food, and the $10,000,000 for medical supplies that we seek, will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies must, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar invested in child-feeding, the governments and communities aided furnish two dollars in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be sent over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection, or sent to Franklin K. Lane, Treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

TRY TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

If YYou Feel Listless and Depressed, Your Blood is Clogged and Sluggish

Without knowing why, you find youreslf feeling unhappy. You go on around day after day half asleep. Interest in what is going on around you lags, and life becomes dull. The beauty of radiant sunshine, lovely flowers and the entrancing miracles of life you miss entirely. Living, eating sleeping become more or less a bore.

That is what clogged sluggish blood does to you. It poisons your thought and you are only half alive.

You need a good blood-enriching tonic. Take Pepto-Mangan for a few weeks and notice the big improvement. Pepto-Mangan is an agreeable tonic and is heartily endorsed by physicians.

Your druggist has Pepto-Mangan in both tablet and liquid form. Buy whichever you prefer; one has exactly the same effect as the other. Be sure you get genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and look for the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," on the package.—Adv.

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E 23

W. H. GOODGAME

WAGON LOADS OF NEED LIKE THIS IN POLAND are a commonplace sight on hundreds of roads in Europe. More than 1,308,000 Polish children received free American meals every day during the height of last winter. This winter the situation will undoubtedly be worse, as it will be in Austria and other portions left economically dazed by war. To prevent the greatest tragedy to children that the world has ever known eight great American organizations, under the name of the European Relief Council, are seeking $33,000,000 for food and medical assistance.

30,000 YOUNGSTERS VICTIMS OF RICKETS

Of all diseases that are taking a deadly toll among the children of Vienna as the result of under-feeding rickets is proving the most serious and widespread menace. Not less than 30,000 children are suffering from this painful affliction, according to official estimates.

To rescue these through providing proper food, clothing and medical attention that otherwise they cannot obtain the European Relief Council, composed of eight leading American relief agencies, is making a joint appeal for $33,000,000 for the relief of 3,500,000 destitute and suffering European children.

1,500,000 POLISH CHILDREN SICK.

One million five hundred thousand children in Poland today need medical attention. Their condition has been caused by hunger and want. To save them the European Relief Council is appealing to the people of the United States for $33,000,000 to carry on relief work in stricken Europe.

PLIGHT OF REFUGEE CHILDREN TERRIBLE

One hundred thousand Russian refugees in Poland are absolutely destitute, according to official estimates. The majority of them are women and children. The condition of the latter particularly is pitiful and they will be among the beneficiaries from the $33,000,000 fund being raised by the European Relief Council, composed of eight leading American relief agencies for a joint appeal in behalf of the millions of little Europeans who can look only to America for the food, clothing and medical care that will make it possible for them to survive the winter.

CONTRIBUTIONS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.

Contributions to the collection of the European Relief Council for the European children's relief fund are exempt from taxation and may be deducted from income tax returns, according to a ruling that has been made by the office of Internal Revenue in Washington.

FAVORS PROTECTION OF THE COTTON SEED MEN

Senator Tom Heflin Will Vote For Protection of Peanuts and Cotton Seed

Senator J. Thos. Heflin is in favor of all legislation that will afford protection to peanut and cotton seed producers in Alabama. He has so advised M. C. Algood, commissioner of agriculture, who ever since the emergency tariff bill was first proposed, has exerted every effort to have cottonseed and peanuts included in the provisions of this measure.

Senator Heflin is only one of the entire Alabama delegation in congress which has been appealed to by farmers in this state, asking that they use their influence and good offices to secure the passage of the emergency tariff act. The bill has already passed the house of representatives, but it is feared it may meet defeat in the senate unless every interest involved rallies to its support.

Commissioner of Agriculture, Allgood, himself is heartily in favor of the proposed emergency tariff bill, and urges that the question of its passage be made a matter of paramount consideration. He states in his opinion the adoption of this measure is a question of national importance, a question that is necessarily economic rather than political. "The farmer can no more afford to compete with foreign products, produced by cheap labor than can the manufacturer," Mr. Algood says.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Most of the congregation spent Christmas Sunday at home last Sunday morning, but we trust they will be at the service next Sunday, that being the first Sunday of the new year. The subject for the morning service will be "The Joy of Religion." The spirit of this sermon will help you to enter upon the new year with a bright optimistic outlook and cure the blues if you have any. Christianity is a joyous religion to those who have enough of it to make them happy. Unfortunately some have just enough of it to keep them always miserable. When we do our duty toward God and man as Christians we enjoy life much better.

At the close of the morning service the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed. We trust all the membership as far as possible will be present.

The Sunbeams, Junior and Senior B. Y. P. U. bands will meet as usual.

Visitors cordially invited to our services.

In view of the weather being so bad last Sunday night, and the impossibility of holding services, the service at our church will not be held on next Sunday night so that all the members can attend the night service at the Methodist Church and extend a hearty welcome to the incoming pastor.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you give me a little space to say to the road overseers and apportioners of the Third District of Chilton County who may wish to write me concerning roads and bridges, my postoffice address will be Lawley, Ala.

I want to suggest that I have known many small jobs that could be fixed by the overseers and road hands that would have saved the county some expense. Every little help in that way will be a help to the county.

Yours truly,

CARD OF THANKS.

Editor Banner:—We want to express through the columns of your paper our thanks and appreciation for sympathy and help extended us in replacing a portion of the things we lost on the 27th of Nov. by a fire which destroyed our home and most of the contents. We shall try not to forget this thought or lesson, that "a friend in need is a friend indeed."

May God bless each of you is our prayer.—H. R. Oden and Family.

Real Work.

Old Hilton had strong ideas on many things, and never hesitated to voice them. One day he was accosted by a healthy looking individual, who begged for a copper to buy food.

Hilton eyed the man sternly.

"Why do you waste your time in begging?" he said coldly. "You had ought to be working."

The suppliant drew himself erect. "Have you ever begged?" he demanded in return.

"Of course not!" snapped old Hilton angrily.

"Then you don't know what work it is!" the beggar retorted.—London Tit-Bits.

CHURCH MINUTES READY

There are several churches of the Chilton County Baptist Association that have not yet sent in after their Minutes of the 1920 Association. They are all ready for distribution at the Banner Print Shop. Send 10c in stamps to cover postage and they will be sent to you by mail, or they will be delivered to anyone calling for them at the office.

HOW ABOUT THE BILLS?

We got by Christmas all right and managed to get up some kind of a present for all the relatives and friends. But what is worrying us now is how we are going to pet by the first of January.

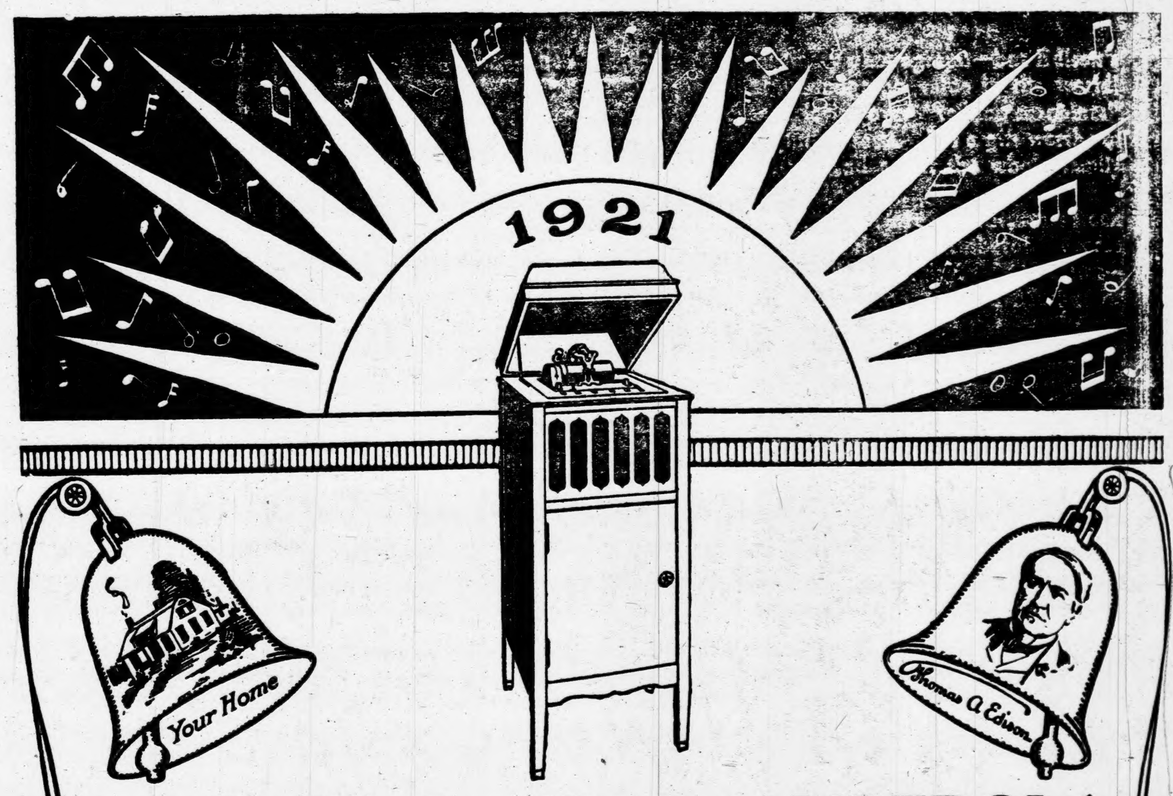
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Greer of Augusta, Ga., have been visiting friends and relatives in Clanton during the holidays.

ROBT. TEEL OUT ON BOND

The preliminary trial of Robert A. Teel, charged with the killing of G. S. Jones, was held in the County Court before Judye Reynolds on last Thursday. Teel was given bond in the sum of $2,500, which he made at once.

More than a dozen witnesses were examined as to their knowledge of incidents connected with the fight between Teel and Jones, which resulted in the death of the latter. The defendant was represented by Attorneys Curry and Reynolds of Clanton. The prosecution was in charge of County Solicitor, Walker, and Attorney, F. Lloyd Tate of Montgomery.

Dr. Will S. Wilson, dentist, of Fairfield, was in Clanton during the holidays, visiting friends and relatives.



Start The New Year With An AMBEROLA

Thomas A. Edison Wants To Bring MUSIC Into YOUR Home!

If you haven't music in your home—real music, such as only Edison's phonographs can give—you are missing one of the greatest enjoyments in life! Start the new year with a song in your heart and in your home—let Edison's Amberola phonograph sing to you at least 15 minutes every day—and 1921 will be the happiest year of your life!

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND

is within the reach of everyone—within the means of every family in the land. Edison has seen to that. The world's greatest inventor wants to bring music into your home and your daily life—so, as his authorized dealer we are able to give you an Amberola on practically your own terms! This isn't an empty statement—it's a fact, and if you will come to our store we'll quickly prove it to you.

Think of owning a phonograph which has time and again publicly demonstrated its superiority over "talking machines" and ordinary "machine" phonographs. This is the record of Edison's Amberola. Its marvelous tone, genuine Diamond Point Reproducer (no needles to change) and practically indestructible Amberol Records have never been equaled. Come in to see us today or tomorrow sure—and we predict you'll start the happiest New Year ever, with an Amberola in your home.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

A NEW YEAR RESOLUTION

We suggest as one of the best new year resolutions for Clanton that we all determine to form a Chamber of Commerce to begin with, and then have one thing enough of our time and attention to hold it together permanently, doing much good for the town and county.

Both Talented.

"Well, my little man," said the artist, patting the head of his host's son, "you have been gazing at me all through dinner and I feel greatly flattered. Would you like to have me tell you a story?"

"Not that, Mister," answered the youth. "But mamma said you had a receding chin. Won't you do it for me just once? And then I'll show you how I can wiggle my ears."—American Legion Weekly.

Mrs. Mattie Woolley of Blocton was the holiday guest of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Reynolds.

Now A Profession.

"So you're a moonshiner?" remarked the interested tourist.

The lanky mountaineer drew himself up hautily.

"Mister, you got me wrong," he asserted. "Since prohibition come in we-uns call ourselves irrigation engineers."—American Legion Weekly.

And Smile, Smile, Smile.

"There are things about the army that aren't so bad as they might be," said the incurable optimist. "For instance, they don't put burrs around C. C. pills like a chestnut."—American Legion Weekly.

Mrs. Hugh Jones returned Wednesday from Montgomery, after spending the holidays with relatives there.

Emmett C. Powell, who is now on the force of the Tuscaloosa News, was here to spend the holidays with home folks. Mr. Powell is a former Clanton newspeper man. He worked on the Banner for several years as a typesetter, and was Editor and manager of The Union-Banner while the present owners were in the army during the recent war.

Clyde J. Davis, former newspeper man of Clanton but now hailing from Greenville, S. C., spent the holidays here with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Davis. C. J. says he often recollects the days he spent at the case on the old Banner and Press in Clanton, but he finds his work with Bradstreet's far more pleasant and renumerative. He expects soon to be transferred to the Montgomery office of his company.

Dr. Calvin Wilson of Montevallo was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday.

Miss Emma Thomas spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. W. E. Thomas, in Clanton.

Billion to be Saved By the Republican Leaders

REFUSE EXECUTIVE REQUESTS WHICH WOULD LEAD TO A DEFICIT IN TREASURY NEXT YEAR.

(By Snell Smith.)

Washington, Dec. 29—Representative Frank W. Mondell, majority leader of the House, has sounded the death knell of high government expenditures.

He has announced in the House that he and the Republican party are in favor of tax reductions, but that these must be preceded by further cutting down of expenditures.

"Our people," he says, "have borne with extraordinary patience and patriotism a tax burden which has paid a much larger proportion of our war costs out of current revenues than has been paid by any other people engaged in the world war. While the war lasted, and during the succeeding period in which we were meeting our war obligations, there was comparatively little criticism or complaint of even the most burdensome, inequitable and hampering of war taxes. But with the passage of two full years since the signing of the armistice the demand for relief from the federal taxes which vex, annoy and inequitably burden the individual and which seriously interfere in the normal flow of business and the development of industry, has become well nigh universal. There is no appeal before Congress more general and more imperative than this.

Expenditures Must be Cut.

"No considerable or satisfactory relief from tax burdens can be afforded, however, until we shall have laid the foundations of such relief by a very considerable reduction in government expenditures. Fortunately the Republican Congress has in the last eighteen months made real and substantial progress in this direction. The total net ordinary expenditures of the government decreased from $18,514,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, to $6,403,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920.

Surplus Was Made Sure

"This Congress in its first session, reduced the appropriations carried by the eight regular supply bills for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, which had failed of passage in the former Congress in the sum of approximately $940,000,000 below what those bills carried when last considered by the former Congress, and $1,685,000,000 less than the administration estimates for the same services. This enormous reduction in appropriations below the estimates of the departments and the sums carried by the appropriation bills as they failed in the Sixty-fifth Congress had the effect of transforming an anticipated deficit into a surplus of $291,000,000 of ordinary receipts over ordinary net disbursements for the year ending June 30 last.

Last Year Big Saving Made

"In the second session of this Congress the total of appropriations carried by the regular supply bills was $1,474,000,000 below the administration estimates, and this stupendous saving bids fair to accomplish even more satisfactory results in government finances for the current fiscal year.

"The Secretary of the Treasury estimates our total receipts for the present fiscal year at $5,799,758,375 and our expenditures at $4,851,298,931, an excess of receipts over expenditures of $948,459,444. This sum would be available for reduction of our total indebtedness.

"The situation thus presented will under the circumstances be a very satisfactory one were we assured of a progressive reduction of federal expenditures such as we have been able to accomplish in the last eighteen months. Unfortunately, however, the estimates presented to us by the executive departments, through the Secretary of the Treasury, not only do not propose or contemplate a further reduction in government expenditures, but an increase of over a billion dollars. The total of the regular estimates for the thirteen appropriation bills are $1,098,535,805 in excess of the current appropriations for the same services. I leave it to others to properly characterize these etsimates. My wonder grows as I examine these collossal estimates after having read in his annual report the appeal of the Secretary of the Treasury, who submitted them, for the practice of rigid economy in government expenditures, and the President's reminder in his recent message of the need of economy. Such inconsistencies are measureless and unfathomable.

"The people are looking to this Congress for relief. We shall not disappoint them."

Relief for Maternity Ills.

While Congress, in the pursuit of this economy record has eliminated all "pork barrel" legislation for internal improvements, such as public buildings and rivers and harbors, it is not neglecting opportunities for the furtherance of progressive social welfare legislation. This is indicated by the passage through the Senate of the bill to promote maternal and infant hygiene by the establishment of agencies in the Childrens Bureau for co-operation with the states in the distribution of information. The immediate direction of the work is to rest with the states, and the work is to be carried out in such manner as may be mutually agreed upon by the federal and state authorities.

The information will be distributed through bulletins, public health nurses, consultation centers, lectures and other suitable methods. Whenever necessary, and especially in remote areas, medical and nursing care for mothers and infants may be provided, insofar as suitable funds may permit.

States Aided to Do the Work

A federal board of maternal and infant hygiene, composed of the Secretary of Labor as chairman, the chief of the Childrens Bureau as executive officer, the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, and the Commissioner of Education is created to represent the federal government in co-operating with state agencies. Any state may co-operate by the legislature authorizing a state board of maternal and infant hygiene or a child welfare or a child hygiene division of the state board of health to represent the state. Acceptance of the plan by the federal board qualifies the state to receive $10,000 from the United States Treasury to aid in enacting its details and also to receive a share of an additional federal appropriation conditioned upon like appropriation by the state itself.

Here are the reasons for the bill's enactment. It developed at the hearings that 23,000 mothers in the United States died from causes incident to child-birth and that 250,000 infants less than one year old perished during the same year.

New Field of Rescue Work.

It was made clear that lack of instruction and care not only led to such deaths, but reduced vitality and permanently impaired the health of many thousands of those who survived. In March, 1920, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Compeny issued a statistical bulletin, in which it was stated that even at this late date more women between the ages of 15 and 45 die from causes incident to child bearing than from any other cause except tuberculosis; that this condition has begun to interest those concerned with the conservation of human life; and that, as a result, a hitherto undeveloped field of public health work has been opened up.

Republicans May Rejoice

Republicans ought to rejoice at the control by them of so many of the legislatures of the states of the Union. The completion of the census of 1920 makes it mandatory upon Congress that there be a reapportionment of the representatives in the House. With 170 majority, the majority party will have no difficulty in putting through its program. The Republican caucus has approved an increase in the total number. This will be from the 435 at present to 483 to be voted for in the Congressional election of 1922. The present ratio is one representative to every 211,000 people in the country, except in states which have population less than that number. The future ratio will be one for every 258,979 people. Under this ratio California will receive five new members and New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio will receive four additional members each. Other than these the new members would be: Alabama, 1; Arkansas, 1; Delaware, 1; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 3; Massachusetts, 2; Maryland, 1;Minnesota 1; New Jersey, 2; New Mexico, 1; North Carolina, 2; Oklahoma, 1; Oregon, 1; South Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 1; Texas, 3; Virginia, 1; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; and Wisconsin, 1. The importance of the State legislatures lies in the fact that they will make the boundaries of the new districts, "gerrymander" them is the term which expresses the device of rearranging them so that the party will suffer no harm in voting power at the subsequent election. The last apportionment found the Republican party in sore straits as the result of the split in is ranks. This time the Democrats will be in an even worse condition.

Fess Elated Over Kept Promises.

Representative Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, relates in pride the record of the Republican House in keeping its campaign promises. After mentioning the one-year limitation of immigration, he says:

"Another platform pledge, the repeal of the war laws, was also taken up at once, considered and passed in record time. Throughout the campaign the people were told that the cost of government must be reduced from a war to a peace basis. This could not be accomplished while war laws, under which war agencies were created, persisted. To years after the war virtually ended these laws remained through the grace af a presidential pocket veto of the measure to repeal them.

"This session, in obedience to the pledge to the country the House has brought the repeal act on the floor and passed it.

"Another retrenchment act in obedience to a platform pledge was the reorganization of the departments of the government to eliminate duplication, insure higher efficiency of service, and reduce the cost to an economic basis. This measure was considered and passed in record time.

No Anti-Government Aid.

"Thus far the program of readjustment is promising:

"Steps to guard the government against foreign anti-government propaganda.

"The repeal of the war laws by which numerous war agencies are dismantled and a saving of unnecessary expense to the government.

"The first steps to reorganization of the departments in the interest of economy.

"In addition, the appropriations Committee are pruning the estimates of bureaus to the bone, and warning all department chiefs and bureau heads against unlawful creation of deficiencies.

"In addition the Ways and Means Committee has conducted hearings upon which remedial tariff legislation is promised in protection of the American producer.

"This committee is also taking the steps to formulate some relief from a war burdensome tax system.

"Both houses have taken steps looking to some relief of the agriculturist from the injuries of war legislation.

"Thus far the last three weeks of the last session of the 66th Congress augur well for the country."

Is Kahn a Lemon?

Julius Kahn, of California, who was an actor before he became a member of Congress, played one of his roles in a conference of farmer members discussing the tariff bill, and as a result one of California's products got protection in the bill reported later.

The conference was called to consider whether the bill tentatively agreed to was as far reaching as the farmers desired. Representative Miller demanded protection on salmon and was accorded it. Representative Graham of Illinois, expressed a desire to have frozen beef protected and got it.

Miss U. L. Jones of Birmingham is visiting relatives here.

Gained Ten Pounds

EVERY man and woman, who is in a run-down, weak condition, with bad complexion and poor appetite, due to lack of iron in their blood, should find Ziron helpful and strength-building.

It is a scientific, reconstructive tonic, composed of ingredients recommended by leading medical authorities.

Describing his experience with Ziron, Mr. George W. S. Lanier writes from Jones, Ala.: "Sometime back, I was in a terrible condition. I was weak and nervous, and had a tired feeling all the time. My skin was muddy. I had no appetite, and at morning I didn't feel like getting up. I was reading of Ziron and decided I would try it . . .

"Will say that Ziron is a good medicine. I have gained ten pounds in four months. Am strong and have a good appetite."

Ziron is a mild iron tonic, good for young and old. It helps to restore the system, when run-down by overwork, under-nourishment, caused by stomach or bowel disorders, or as a result of some weakening illness.

Get Ziron from your druggist. He sells it on a money-back guarantee

SCOTT PLEASED WITH RESULT SINCE SMOKE OF BATTLE IS CLEARED AWAY.

Irondale, Ala., Dec. 28, 1920.
Editor Union-Banner:

Here I come for another space in your good old paper. I want the boys all to know that I am still living yet but I had to wait till the atmosphere cleared away to rise up over the recent election, for we broke all records, especially in the South. I want to say that we had more than a landslide for the Republican party everywhere. In the place of having three majority in the House next time, we will have 151, and 22 majority in the Senate. And it didn't take ten days this time to tell who was elected.

I want to say that the Democratic party is sick unto death and they have no hopes of reviving in the next half a century. I was up in Tennesee last month, and you Alabama boys ought to hear those people up there talking Republicanism. They are the proudest people over the victory that I ever saw. They were discussing who would be cabinet members and who would be federal officers in their state. In all of my rounds I did not hear a Democratic conversation. They seem to be all dead up there.

Let us keep our eyes on Tennessee during the next four years.

Brother Republicans, I say that we need a change in Alabama also and if we will go to work and show the people why we need a change in Alabama from the Democratic rule we can get it two years from now. But the first thing the Republican party needs is some daily papers in the state as you know all the daily papers in the state now are against the Republican party. I hope we will soon have a daily paper started up in the interest of the Republican party in Alabama, for I see the need of it, and I hope others will se it also. I wish to hear from someone else on the proposition.

Wishing The Union-Banner and all its readers much success and happiness during the new year, I am the same as ever, J. N. SCOTT.

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Mullins Family Reunion.

Merry and happy was Christmas day this year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mullins, the occasionn being a reunion of the entire family. Before the dinner hour numerous gifts were distributed from a large and beautifully decorated tree.

At one o'clock a delicious dinner was served in the old Southern style. A lovely vase of carnations formed the center piece of the table. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Renfroe Mullins and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore and family, Dr. and Mrs. Amzi Gowan and children from Brewton, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Mullins and daughter from Cuthbert, Ga, Miss Kathleen Mullins, a student of Shorter College, and Frank Mullins, a student of the University of Alabama, making a total of 23 in all.

Mrs. Luckie Entertains.

Mrs. R. E. Luckie was a most delightful hostess on Wednesday at a dinner party, when she paid a special courtesy to Mrs. Newton Askins of Sylacauga. The house was effectively decorated, and the central table decoration was a growing Christmas cactus. A four-course dinner was served to Mrs. Askins, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Armstrong, Mrs. Clyde Jones, and Mr. Jim Rasberry.

Pretty Dinner Party Given.

A most elaborate dinner party was given the friends of Miss Roberta Curry at her home on Christmas evening. The home was attractively decorated with quantities of evergreens and Christmas novelties. The table was beautiful with a miniature Christmas tree and Santa Claus, while cupids used as place cards were favors of the occasion. A lovely turkey dinner was served to Misses Beverly Hester, Kathleen Mullins, Louise and Madeline Orr, Leona Pipes and the hostess.

An interesting feature of the evening was the shooting of various fireworks. Afterwards the party enjoyed one of the season's largest dances given at the Exchange Hotel.

Miss Pipes Honors Visitor.

One of the most enjoyable events of the Christmas seasaon was a bridge parey given by Miss Leona Pipes at the home of her parents, when she entertained in honor of her house guest, Miss Louise Haley of Montevallo.

Four tables were arranged in the living room and drawing room which was elaborately decorated in smilax holly and Christmas novelties. After an exciting game a lovely salad plate with hot tea was served to Misses Haley, Maud Mullins, Mary Sue Mullins, Alice Stanfield, Beverly Hester, Roberta Curry, Lessie Reynolds, Cynthia Smith, Kathleen Mullins, Willie Belle Sartor, Madeline Orr, and Annie Gragg. Miss Pipes was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. V. J. Heard.

Willing to Risk It.

Uncle Mose had put green paint on the garden seat and the boss had sat on it, ruining the new cream-colored trousers that Uncle Mose coveted.

"Ah done tried everything, boss—soap, ga'line, hot iron—"

"Did you try ammonia?"

"No, boss, no," he answered his countenance brightening. "Ah ain't tried 'em on me, but Ah knows dey'll fit."—Legion Weekly.

A Strong Race.

Just before the election Jones was canvassing his neighbors in his own campaign interests. Entering the Brown's yard he was about to ring the bell when a large and ferocious bulldog suddenly made appearance, and Jones made a correspondingly sudden retreat.

From a window a voice shouted:

"Hey there, what are you running for?"

And back over his shoulder Jones flung the reply:

"County dog catcher."

Mr. Clarence Evans was a visitor to Clanton during the past week.

Miss French Evans is visiting relatives in Birmingham.
